[Special Despatch to the Bulletin].

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Secretary Se ward, it is said, is preparing a proclamation in regard to the Fenian movements. He been induced to take this step at the instance of the British Minister, who maintains that some positive declaration on the part of our government ought to be immediately promulgated. Secretary Seward informed the British Minister that he regarded the Fenian movement as a most ridiculous farce. Secretary McCulloch to-day informed a Senator that he should take no notice whatever of the letter of Comptroller Clark; neither should he ask the President to remove him; in fact that he cared nothing

The last steamer from Europe brought despatches from our Minister to Paris, giving additional assurances that the Emperor Napoleon intended to carry out in good faith his declarations in regard to the withdrawal of the French troops from Mexico.

Steamship San Jacinto Burned. NEW YORK, March 15.—The steamer San Jacinto, of the Savannah line, was burned at her dock this morning, with 500 bales of cotton and 5,000 bbls. of flour. Her hull being of iron, was filled with water, but all her wood-work was destroyed.

From California. San Francisco, March 14.—It has been stated that the steamer Oriflame, which arrived on the 6th ult. from China, brought advices of an advance of from 10a15c. per lb. on tea. Upon careful inquiry it is ascertained that no public advices of this nature were received, and if such was the fact it was known only to a few private parties and not to the general public.

The files of papers brought by the Oriflame do not mention any particular change in the tea market, and the major portion of the trade discredit the reported advance.

House.—The act increasing the rate of interest to seven per cent., was considered.
Mr. Boyle offered an amendment allowing the rate of seven per cent., to be charged only in cases where special contracts to that effect are made.

The discussion took a very extended range, embracing the question of finance in slmost every form. Among the objections to raising the rate, it was urged that the foreclosure of all outstanding six per cent. mortgages would immediately take place. On the other hand, it was said that capi tal was sent from Pennsylvania to New York for investment, because the latter State allowed high rates of interest. The note-shaving business was discussed, as the effect of high rates of interest upon the laboring classes. Philadelphia was stated by Mr. Headman to be far behind Boston and New York in all commercial enterprises, but her claims for stability and energy were supported by her own members.

Mr. Lee urged seven per cent. on the ground that in New York, where the rate was seven per cent., the bank capital, deposits, circulation, etc., amounted to five hundred million dollars, and in Boston, where the rate is 73-10 per cent., to one hundred and fifty-three million dollars, against seventy-five million invested in the like market in Philadelphia, where the rate is six per cent. This was a strong reason why Philadelphia should afford equal advantages for the investment of money with her sister cities. The Africa Signaled.

After some changes in some of the standing Committees, the order of the day, namely, the call for and reception of money's collected for the worn out misisters, widows and orphan children. The responses given to the call showed that the churches had given generally fully up to the assessment, and in some cases very considerably in advance.

This fined is distributed by a joint Board of Clergy and Laity, who hear and determine each claimants necessities and govern themselves accordingly, in the amount distributed to each.

In our report of yesterday's proceedings we inadvertently omitted an important paper in reference to Dickinson College as Carlisle. This famous and useful institution has leng been persented or want of an endowment, but the time of its redemption draweth nigh. Internally the College is innost ably and successfully conducted by the Rev. H. M. Johnson, D. D., its excellent President, and during the present year it is proposed to endow the College by a portion of the funds of the centenary contributions.

A communication from the ladies of the Methodist Church of Philadelphia, was read, asking that the Institution of a Methodist Female College, in the city of Philadelphia, be made one of the objects of the centenary.

The Reading District was represented by its wordy Presiding Elder, Rev. W. L. Gray, who stated that a very considerable increase in the number of members would be reported by the Preachers. Much had been done toward liquidating church debts, and the interests of the District are healthy.

South Philadelphia District was represented by Rev. Dr. Castle, P. E. He stated that the District had been during the past year greatly blessed of God. Rev. T. J. Thompson. P. The Conference, upon motion of Rev. T. A. Fernley, ordered a session for this evening, at 7½ o'clock, for the purpose of hearing a Conference sermon, to be preached by the Rev. T. C. Murphy, upon the sudject of "The Relation of the Sunday School to the Church." Theservices will be held in St. George's Church.

After notices the body adjourned with the benediction by Rev. Dr. Durbin.

Missit nary Aminersary.—We had the pleasure of being present, last evening, at the Front Street M. E. Church, where the Sunday School was holding its missionary celebration. A more interesting or beautiful scene of the kind we never witnessed. The Pastor, Rev. T. A. Fernley, was in his element; each of the classes presented their missionary offerings for the year, and a bouquet, which was placed in an evergreen cross about thirteen feet high. The whole was surmounted by a beautiful foral crown, and pendant surmounted by a beautiful floral crown, and pendani from the floral cross were wrealls and an anchor of flowers.

NEW NATIONAL BANK.—Our readers, and the business community generally, will be pleased to learn that the elegant and spacious brown-stone building, situate on Chestnut street, above Eighth, will in a few days, be opened by a new National Banking Company. The necessary in provements and alterations are now being made, and will be completed in a very short time. The building referred to was built by Mr. Fetridge, for Levy & Oo. who occupied it for some time as a dry goods store, after which time Mr. George J. Henkels became the lessee, he having recently vacated it to occupy his new store, at the corner of Tolricenth and Chestnut streets. This beautiful building was purchased by the present owners, the National Bank referred to, for the purpose of doing a general banking business, and there can be no doubt of the success of the enterprise, located, as it is, in the immediate vicinity of our largest hotels, as well as of many of our wealthlest merchants. The character of thegentlemen connected with this enterprise must secure the Bank rery liberal patronage, and we are assured the prosposits are most flattering.

XXXIXTH CONGRESS_FIRST SESSION. WASHINGTON, March 15...
House.—On motion of Mr. Higby (Cal.) the Senate cis granting aid in the construction of a railroad and WASHINGTON, March 15.

House—On motion of Mr. Higby (Cal.) the Senate acts granting aid in the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from the town of Folsom to the town of Placer ville; in the State of California, and also for: a railroad and telegraph line from Placerville to the most feasible point of intersection with the Pacific Railroad, in the State of Nevada, were taken from the speaker's table, read twice, and referred to the Committee on the Pacific Railroad.

Mr. Fmith (Ky.) obtained leave to make a personal explanation, and he sent up to be read an article from the Pittsbureh Fazette, in reference to a resolution offered by him in December last, admitting to the privileges of the floor Col. Johnson of Arkanasa, member elect from that State.

Mr. Fievens (Pa.) said that he did not see that this was a personal explanation, and he was not willing that the morning hour should be expended in defending somebody else.

Mr. Smith replied with much excitement in a manner, that he had no doubt the pentleman from Pennsylvania thought this was rather a curious question; but he was determined to let him understand that he stood here willing and able and determined to defend a soldier of the Union, let the attack come from what quarter it may.

Mr. Fievens—Then I object to any defence of a soldier of the Union by the gentleman, unless it be a defence of himself. His remarks are not personal to himself.

himself. The Speaker stated that the gentleman from Kentucky had asked unanimous consent to make a personal explanation: that the Chair twice asked whether there was any objection, and that no objection had been made. The gentleman should, however, confine himself to a personal explanation, and not open a wide range of debate in regard to other subjects and persons.

made. The gentleman should, however, connine himself to a personal explanation, and not open a wide range of debate in regard to other subjects and persons.

The article in question was read by the clerk.

Mr. Morrill (V.) made the question of order thathers was nothing in that article relating to the gent ileman from Kentucky.

The Speaker—The gentleman from Kentucky alleges that it is intended to reflect upon him for having offered a resolution to admit a rebel representative.

He desires to vindicate himself. The Chair thinks that comms clearly within the purview of a personal explanation, and opens a wide range of debate.

Mr. Beanks (Mass.) in support of the decision of the Chair, said it had been always understood that when the House gave unanimous consent to a member; to make a personal explanation, it waived all its roies, and the member himself was the only indge of what was necessary to explain his personal position. That was the uniform ground taken, and that was in order to warn the House against giving unanimous consent.

Mr. Washburne (III.) said that had always been the understanding and he fully concurred with what the gentleman trom Massachusetts had said.

The Speaker stated that he had always instead, since he had occupied the Chair, that a gentleman in making a personal explanation must state grounds on which he is aggrieved, and must render his remarks in some degree-relevant to that subject. The Chair thinks there is reason in that, and that the gentleman in making a personal explanation must state grounds on which he is aggrieved, and must render his remarks in some degree-relevant to that subject. The Chair thinks there is reason in that, and that the gentleman in making a personal captain of the chair thinks there is reason in that, and that the gentleman from Kentucky is clearly in order while vindicating himself trom what he deems an unjust attack upon him for suffering a resolution grims the privileges of he floor to a member elect, who, as is asserted in the article, read "harpened

Mr. Smith—I did not reflect on the decision of House.

Mr. Banks—Then the question arises whether the gentleman shall be allowed to proceed in order.

Mr. Stevens—I object: we have had enough of it.

Mr. Smith (excitedly)—I suppose you have, but not so much er you will have.

The Speaker.—The gentleman from Kentucky, under the demand made that the rules shall be enforced, must take his seat. The Chair will have the rule read.

The rule was read by the Clerk.

Mr. Broomail—I demand now the enforcement of the rule. Trule.

The Speaker—The question is, shall the 'gentleman from Kentucky be allowed to proceed in order.

The question was taken by yeas and nays, and leave was refused by a vote of 55 ayes to 70 noes.

Mr, Smith, again rising—I rise to a personal expla-Mr. Smith, again rising—I rise to a personal explanation.

Mr. Morrill caused for the regular order, of business but finally the House agreed to give the gentleman from Kentucky five minutes time.

Mr. Smith said that he understood it had been observed by some member that a remark, which he had made a moment ago, was the reason why he had been refused leave to proceed.

That remark was intended for the gentleman from Ponnsylvania (Mr. Sievens). That gentleman's language was that he had enough of what I was saying, and I remarked, "very well, it may be that you have but I will give you more of it."

My object was to be personal to nim and the case.

Mr. Smith closed his remarks by a 'declaration of love to the Union and aworn hostility to secession. New York Stock Market.
