Funeral of Senator Foot—Arrival of the Remains at Rutland.

RUTLAND, Vt., April 1.—The Senatorial Committee, consisting of Senators Doolittle, Riddle and Poland, and A. P. Gorman, acting Sergeant-at-arms, with his assistants, together with the friends of the deceased Senator Foot, arrived here on Saturday, at four o'clock

They were joined at Salem by a Committee from this place, and upon their arrival theremains were transferred to a hearse drawn by four white horses. The cortege proceeded to the United States Court House, which was appropriately fitted up for the occasion, and upon entering which the choir sang an impressive anthem. Sena-tor Doolitile then formally handed over the remains to the Rutland Committee the remains to the Kutland Committee in the following appropriate remarks: Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Com-mitte: As my colleague on the committee has truly said, we have come upon a sad errand. We have been commissioned by the Senate of the United States to bear home to Vermont all that is mortal of Solomon West Obese remains how precious will Foot. These remains, how precious, will now pass from our charge as a committee of the Senate, to yours, as representing the people of his native State. It is no time nor place for eulogy: our hearts are too full for hat. A great sorrow has fallen upon the Senate and upon Vermont. That he was distinguished as a statesman and a Senator all the world knows; but what I desire to say, and what my heart most prompts me to say, is not that he was distinguished, honored and respected, but that he was beloved by every member of the Senate, of every political party. All were his personal friends. Enemies he had none. The oldest member of the body in continuous service, he was revered as the father of the Senate. Often called upon to be is presiding officer, and always watchful of its honor, he did more than any other to preserve its dignity and its decorum. But he has left the Senate. His place we cannot fill. His like we may not look upon. In that coffin is his lifeless body, which we commit to your charge. Our mission in behalf of the Senate is fulfilled, our last sad office is performed. Our work done, weare ready to return; but I cannot take leave of you without saying that I am here in another character, and as the bearer of another message from him, as a dying man to you the people of Rutland and Vermont; bear in mind that we had been for more than eight years in constant daily political and friendly intercourse, and a part of the time lodging under the same roof, and most of the time at the same table. He was to me like a father or an elder brother.

In these intimate relations I came to know him well, and love him more; but I did not know how much I loved him, until, standforth his hand, and clasping mine said: "Dear brother, you have always been kind to me, a dear, good brother. I can never reward you, but you know where your re-ward lies." ward lie

I could not speak; but he continued in a clear and distinct voice, while his face beamed with heavenly light, to speak of the religion of the Gospel and of its consolation in sickness and in health. Among other things, he said: "Themercy of God has been very great to me in this sickness. I have many kind friends, so many angelic ministers all around me, it seem as though a company of angels were all about me to bear my sinking spirit." Then, after a pause, he said, "I have been trying to recall if there is any human being on earth whom I have intentionally wronged or injured. I do not now remember any, but if there is one, I pray that God will forgive me!" I will not attempt to tell you all he said

From New Orleans and Texas. NEW ORLEANS, March 31.—The Missis sippi river is swelling to an alarming ex tent. The pilots report that the Pass a L'Outre is far better than the Southwest Pass. The steamer Monterey passed through yesterday without delay. The Routen Island quarantine has been removed. The steamer Peruvian sailed this morning for Liverpool, with 2,000 bales cotton. The city is full of visitors. The popula-tion is 60,000 more than it was before the war. General Scott will leave for New York on the steamer of the 17th prox. The advices from Galveston to the 29th, by steamer, report that the Texas crops are advancing. Immense cattle shipments continue.

Arrived, steamer Caroline, from Liver pool.

The Wiscousin Legislature,

MADISON, Wis., March 31.—The Wiscon-sin Assembly to-day, after a protracted struggle, by vote of every Republican member present but one, voted to instruct the United States Senator from this State to vote for the Civil Rights bill over the President's veto.

The Senate had adjourned before the reso-

ENGLISH SMOKE CONSUMER.-An apparatus for the consumption of smoke has been applied to the furnaces of the North British Rubber Works by a Huddersfield firm. The apparatus is easily managed; it consists o two sets of doors; the outer or closed door is in two halves, and opens from the centre the inner door, which works on the same hinge, is perforated with hexagon-shaped holes, and is meant to break up the volume of air going into the furnace into a sort of blast. This blast is counteracted upon by an opening for air underneath the furnace dyke, the door of which is regulated by a check rod. When the fire is charged with coal the outer door and the one under the fore dyke are left open, while the inner door is kept shut until the coals are well kindled, when the outer and under doors are closed and the furnace goes on burning as if no apparatus were there. A pipe about one inch in diameter, and perforated with holes, passes along the front of the ash-pit, from which small jets of steam spread along the under part of the furnace bars, supposed to generate air and keep the bars from over-heating. The introduction of the apparatus causes little or no alteration in the ordinary furnace, except thetaking away of the usual doors, and the putting in others of the con-struction described. This apparatus as applied to the fire openings of one great furnace at the Rubber Works, proves its efficiency in burning the smoke; though, as in all cases, the efficiency depends on the apparatus being worked properly by the person in charge of the furnaces. IMPORTANT Shipping Decision.-It will will be remembered that the ship Sierra Ne-yada, of Boston, while entering one of the docks of Liverpool, with a cargo of guano on board from the Chincha Islands, broke in two and became a wreck. The owners of the vessel and the cargo sued the Dock Company to recover the value of the ship and cargo, and were successful in obtain ing decisions in their favor in every court; but the Dock Company would not pay, and finally brought the case before the House of Lords. After remaining two years before the Lords, it was recently decided in favor of the claimants, the Lord Chancellor pre or the chain and s, the Lord Chancelor pre-siding. Thus the decisions of all the law courts were confirmed by this court of last appeal. The object of the Dock Company in contesting the decisions of the Admiralty Courts was to deter others from suing them, a will not attempt to tell you all ne said before I left the room, however, he said, in the same clear voice to another: "The Lord reigns; let all the earth rejoice. It is well that he does reign, and that people have reason to rejoice that he does reign. Yes, God reigns over all. There can be no doubt of that. We do not come into the world by chance. We are not creature of valued at $130,000 in gold at the time of the disaster. She was subsequently repaired and is now as good as ever. The decision of the Law Lords was unanimous. AFFAIRS IN ARKANSAS.-Official reports received by the Bureau of Refugees and Freedmen, from the State of Arkansas, for the month of February, say that rations were issued to 4,501 refugees in Feb., against 2,310 in the preceding month, and that ra-tions were issued to 567 freedmen against 547 in the month of January. The number of destitute refugees who have been supplied from Government stores have increase from Government stores have increased, as anticipated, nearly one hundred per cent. since the month of January. It is anticipa-ted that the issues for March will be fully as great as those in February, but will be' somewhat reduced in April and discontinued in June, except, perhaps, to the few who are en-tirely unable to work. No issues are now being made to freedmen, except such as are l. as being made to freedmen, except such as are wholly unable to labor and who have no one to depend upon to supply their wants. It is stated that thus far all efforts to induce the civil authorities of a single county to make an attempt to provide for their own poor, whether white or black, have utterly failed. Some assert their inability to do so at present, and others appear to be indifferent as to the matter. VICTOR HUGO'S NEW WORK, "Les Tra-vailleurs de la Mer," is dedicated to the Island of Guernsey. It runs thus: "I dedi-cate this book to the rock of hospitality and liberty—to that little nook of old Norman land in which dwells a small noble seafear ing people—to the Isle of Guernsey, rough and gentle, my actual assylum, my probable tomb," The following is the preface: "Religion, society, nature; these are the three struggles of man. They are at the same time his three wants. He must believe, hence the temple; he must create, hence the city; he must live, hence the plough and ship. But these three problems contain three wars. The mysterious difficulty of three wars. The mysterious difficulty of life arises from all three. Man has to meet obstacles under the form-superstition, under the form-prejudice, under the form-element. A tripple ananké (fatality) presses on us-the ananké of dogmas, the ananké of laws, the ananké of things. In 'Notre Dame de Paris' the author exhibited the first; in 'Les Misérables' he exposed the second; in the present book he indicates the third. To these three fatalities which en-velope man there is added an inferior fa-tality, a supreme ananké-the human tality, a supreme ananké-the human heart."

From Fortress Monroe FORTRESS MONROE, March 20.-The steamer Eutaw, Captain Coffin, arrived here this morning from Mobile, Ala., vis Charleston, S. C., bound to New York, with a cargo of five hundred and eighty bales of cotton, short of coal. Captain Coffin reports having met a heavy gale while off Hatteras, and during last night. A fleet of merchantmen which left here on the 28th inst., mostly bound which left here on the 28th inst., mostly bound northward, were last night hove to, under reefed sails, outside the Capes of Virginia, endeavoring to get in for a harbor. The steamer Mercedita had sailed from Havana, to load sugar, The steamer. Gulf Stream, and one of the Star line of steamers were passed off Carysfort by the Eutaw. The wind blew hard here last night from the North but to day it moderated and the wind blew hard here last night from the North, but to-day it moderated and the weather became more favorable.

CHARLES DICKENS in his youth is thus described by a London journalist, who is giving his reminiscences of the repertorial craft, "First and foremost was Charles Dickension of the second secon Dickens, who was as good as a Gurney at twelve years of age. Wonderful aptitude! Charles Dickens was a better dressed may years afterwards, though still one of th dressed men about town, with his Parisian waistcoat, and the 'last rose of summer, it may be, in his coat, when he lectures Dickens, when he came into the gallery o the House of Commons, had D'Orsay wrist bands, fine linen, part and parcel of the in-ner garment—not 'Peccadilly weepers'— with bullion buttons. Wonder it was to me full many a morning at three o'clock young Phæbus gilding everything but the faces of those within the House-to see 'Boz' taking notes of Palmerston or Peel or most difficult of all, D'Israeli or Sniel the fastest speaker the world ever heard of --to see, I say, Dickens take notes of these statesmen at such an hour, with note book in one hand, sapphire-headed pencil in the other, was one of the most wonderful sight and he would leave the House the neates and best man still, while the rest were al showing the signs of the wear and tear of the night."

SAD OCCURBENCE.-On Tuesday morn ing last, an engineer named John Rankin, and a fireman, employed on a gravel train on the Lehigh Valley railroad, were poisoned under the following circumstances, resulting in the death of the engineer, and the narrow escape of the fireman from the ded to pass their time in fishing in the Hickory run, a short distance off, and taking with them a pick they commenced digging for worms, and while doing so dug up a parsnip, of which they both ate freely. Upon the fireman returning to the cars with the pick, he was suddenly taken very ill, and informing the hands on the train when and informing the hands on the train what he had eaten, they at once concluded that he had been poisoned, and immediately pro-cured some milk at a farm house close by. of which he drank freely, causing him to yomit, and thus saved his life. Upon his telling them that the engineer had also eaten of the same parsnip, immediate search was made for him, and he was found lying on the banks of the stream in an insensible condition, and while being conveyed to the train expired. THE NEW CUT-OFF IN THE MISSISSIPPI THE NEW COTOFF IN THE MISSISSIFI RIVER.—The Vicksburg Journal of the 8th instant says: "Terrapin Neck" is at last broken. The officers of the Henry Ames, which boat passed the Neck yesterday, re port the breach at that time about sixty feet in width, and being widened rapidly by the tremendous velocity of the water rushing through. This cut-off shortens the river quite tifteen miles, and while it is beneficia to the planters above, it is disastrous to those immediately below. In 1860 the Neck mea-sured one hundred and eighty feet. In 1863 Commodore Porter had a ditch dug across, but the river falling prevented the cutting through at that time, and the ditch was filled up. In September, 1865, scarce six months since, the Neck measured one hundred and forty-two feet. On the 21st of last month it had narrowed to about thirty feet, and in fifteen days it was completely broken. Should the river maintain its present height for several weeks, this will be made the main channel, and Eagle Bend will, in a few years, be a beautiful lake of 14 miles in length. "DADDY," the pauper warder of Lambeth Workhouse, described by the "amateur ca-sual" of the Pall Mall Gazette, discharged himself from the workhouse on Monday last, and tramped into the city of London. It appears that a photographer had applied to him for a sitting, and he accordingly allowed a likeness of himself to be taken, receiving five shillings for his trouble. Con-sidering that his photograph was immedi-ately advertised all over London, and had a ately advertised all over London, and had a large sale, the remuneration given to Daddy was certainly inadequate. So he seems to have found it, for, after living two days out-side the workhouse, he again applied for admission. On Friday morning, however, he again "discharged himself," and it is hinted that he either has been or will be en-gaged to exhibit himself at one of the metro-politan music halls. politan music halls. DESTRUCTIVE FIRES IN NORTH CARO-LINA.—Heavy fires have been raging in the woods in the turpentine regions across the Trent, opposite Newbern, since the 16th inst. The Newbern Times says that thou-Trent, opposite Newbern, since the 16th inst. The Newbern Times says that thou-sands of turpentine boxes have been burned, fences, outhouses, &c., destroyed, and the fire is not yet checked. It is not known how the fire originated, but it is supposed to have come from the clearing off and burning of wood and brush which had accumulated upon neighboring plantations. Farming operations have almost entirely ceased, the laborers being employed in fighting the fire,

UNION COPPER MINE OF CALIFORNIA. Twenty-five thousand tons of copper ore were shipped from this mine during the year 1865 to Boston, New York, and Swansea, Eng. The larger portion came to this city, but latterly nearly as large shipments are made to New York. This ore is of the best quality, and tests nearly 20 per cent. It is worth from 120 to 140 dollars per ton. in Boston. The mine at the present time is said to promise greater results than ever before, and the present shipments in a year or two may be largely increased. The value of its products will be much enhanced the coming season by the almost complete ces-sation of all mining operations in Chile.

NEAR CAMBRIDGE, Massachusetts, a company of gipsies has located, one hundred in number. They obtain their livelihood chiefly by trafficing in horses, although some of the women are said to gather considerable money from the credulous by telling fortunes. The band is governed by a queen. She is married and has one child, and lives in great luxury compared with the style of her subordinates. Since their the style of her subordinates. Since their sojourn in Cambridge they have had a beautiful chariot built for her accommoda-tion. The interior is provided with a bed upon which the queen can recline while tra-veling through the country; and there are also apartments provided for her husband ord obid and child. THE London Spectator says: "One of the most terribly pathetic stories connected with the sinking of the steamship London has ladies on board was near her confinement. Under the strain of that long agony her abild was near and when the abin went child was born, and when the ship went down she was seen holding it above her bead, as if striving with true maternal in-stinct that, though all must die, her babe must die the last." ALGERIAN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

accident. "We are born to eternal life," Here he paused a few moments, and then uttered that dying message which I now bear to you. "When I leave the Chamber," bear to you. "When I leave the Chamber," he said, "I wish no parade, no ostentatious demonstrations to be made, only the ordinary proceedings which custom and pro-priety impose. I desire to be borne to my friends and home in Rutland, Vermont, a people who have always been more faithful to me than I have been to them I fear, they have done so much for me. I have no house there, but they will prepare everything needful, and there, by them, amongst that people let me be buried. This is the message which I bring to you from your dying friend. I was not present when he breathed his last, but from the account which I received immediately after. from those who were present, his conscious-ness remained clear to the last and his utterance distinct almost to the very last breath. In his last words, distinctly uttered, he left another message which speaks not only to you and to me, but to all men and for all time in all history, I cannot remember to have read of a dying Christian whose words were more touching and heavenly—more triumphant over death and the grave. Feeling that his time was at hand, the words of the 23d Psalm were repeated to him by his wife. He called her to his side, folded his arms around her for a moment, and then, as his breathing became choked, he said, "What, can this be death? so easy; has it come already. No."

In a few moments after, with a face lighted up as with a soul just entering into paradise, he joyfully exclaimed, "I see it, I paradise, he joyfully exclaimed, "I see it, I see it; the gates are wide open; beautiful, beautiful," and in a very few moments after uttering these words, he expired. As a Statesman and a Senator, we honor him; as a man of noble character, we cherish his memory. As a true and faithful friend, we love him; and as a dying Christian, what a generous example to all mankind.

BITE OF A SNAKE .- Not long ago young man too tipsy to, be cautious, was poking up with a stick the cobra de capello In one of the cages in the serpent room, at Zoological Garden, London: the serpent darted and touched the man, who died in exactly ten minutes. The wound was on the nose, and was such as might have been made with the touch of a needle. The snake was killed—why, I know not—and Mr. Frank Buckland, the naturalist, who has charge of the gardens, was dissecting its body. Whilst doing so, he felt a strange sensation coming over him, and he went out of doors and talked to a workman near by asking him to drag him to charge him to charge him to out of doors and talked to a workman near by, asking him to drag him to a chemist shop, and beat him to death rather than let him fall to sleep. They did pummel him most mercilessly and dragged him to an apothecary shop, where he gasped out "am-monia !" They plied him with ammonia and water and he recovered. He does not know how the noison was communicated. know how the poison was communicated, but thinks he might have cleaned a finger nail with a knife he had used in dissection. It is a curious problem for optimists to con-sider, why such a magazine of destruction as the cobra exists. It is a sewer to drain off the poison of a whole tribe of animals, who are thereby rendered harmless? It is the favorite snake with the Eastern snake charmers.

IT is proposed to dam up the Kansas river at Lawrence. It is ascertained that the flow of water is seventy thousand barrels per minnte, affording with a six-foot dam about five thousand horse-power, and cepable of running three hundred tons of stone. The Tribune of that city says: "Large amounts of machinery are going up here this spring, including two woolen facto-ries, three manufactories of farming utensils, extensive railroad car and repair shops, and

USE OF THE BAROMETER AT SEA.-The English 'papers mention the fortunate escape of the steamer West India from the storm in which the London and Amalia foundered in January, 1866, Capt. Kiddle was warned by the barometer of an approaching cyclone, when he judiciously waited for it to pass, and thus narrowly escaped the storm, as appears by the follow ing extract from the ship's log:
