MEETING OF THE BRISTOL CHESS CLUB. A very successful meeting of the Bristol Chess Club has been held during the past week, the great feature being a telegraphic match between the above club and the St. George's, London. Mr. Löwenthal was specially invited, and a large number of players from the surrounding districts were present. The match was a King's Gambit Refused, and was won by the Londoners.

The proceedings were commenced on Monday, in the large lecture hall of the Athenaeum, Corn street, and play once begun, was carried on with little intermission until late at night. Mr. Löwenthal gave the odds of a Knight to Mr. Pigott in the opening, which was drawn. In the evening the following simultaneous games were played: 1. Messrs. Gammon and State, odds of pawn and move. 2. Messrs. Isaacs and Lloyd, odds of pawn and move. 3. Messrs. Hornsby and Oland, odds of Knight. 4. Messrs. Boone, Bourne, Walsh and Dr. Benham, odds of Knight. 5. Mr. Sanders, odds of Knight. No. 1 was opened by the allies, who chose the Scotch Gambit, and so emerged victorious. The telegraphic attack, that at half-past nine (the play having commenced at seven o'clock) they obtained a pretty mate. No. 4 was next finished, the allies at this board resigning; the opening was a King's Gambit Refused. At ten o'clock Messrs. Isaacs and Lloyd, at No. 3, won their game. Mr. Sanders, at No. 6, won his game. Mr. Pigott, at No. 5, resigned—this was a King's Gambit Refused; and at eleven o'clock Messrs. Gammon and State, at No. 2, achieved a victory.

On Tuesday there was again a large attendance of amateurs, and play was carried on with great spirit. There were several "alternating" games contested, in which some of the latest present took part, and showed no slight skill in directing the manoeuvres of the Royal game. During the morning Mr. Löwenthal played against the following gentlemen, at the odds of a Knight to a Pawn: Holloway, pawn and move, won; Newham, Knight, won; Penton, pawn and two moves, lost; Selkirk, Knight, won; Burt, two moves, lost; both Cleland, Knight, drawn; Hibbins, Knight, won; and Prior, Rook, won—the distinguished player thus won five, lost three, and one was drawn. On Wednesday the telegraphic match between the Bristol Club and that of the St. George's, London, being then played. In the morning, Mr. Löwenthal encountered several amateurs with varying success, and from an early hour the majority of the boards were in constant requisition. As the time approached, however, for the great match, the amateurs withdrew, and the number of those present gradually increased, until there was a very large gathering. The ladies, especially, were highly excited, and thoroughly entered into the spirit of the various games. Owing to a severe cold and hoarseness, Captain Kennedy, President of the Bristol Club, was unable to attend, and the respect of all knew him, and his place in the Consultation game was supplied by Mr. D. Vines. The preliminaries having been arranged—Mr. Löwenthal acting as umpire for London, and Mr. Medley for Bristol—the play commenced, and was continued until a late hour. The result was that Bristol won two games, lost none, and seven were drawn. The amateurs of the "ancient city" of the West may well be congratulated on their victory over such redoubtable antagonists as appeared in London, and it is to be hoped that on many more occasions they will display their merited skill in the game, as well as their genial hospitality and kindness.—London Era.
