A supplement to the revenue law was passed, exempting the banks from all taxation except that imposed by the revenue act of March last, and from local real estate tax, and allowing such as comply with the law to fix their legal rate of interest at seven

The Case of a Blockade Runner.
The President has transmitted to Congress papers relative to the claim on this Government of the owners of the British ship Magicienne, captured in 1863, by the United States ship Onward, and sent into Key West for adjudication, upon the supposition that she had, in violation of the blocked sailed from the state of the s blockade, sailed from a port in the pos-session of the insurgents, pursuant to a de-cree of the District Court of the United States, at Key West, but the owners claimed damages for the capture and detention, and this claim, though as the Secretary of State says, unquestionably just in principle, seemed to him as first presented by the British Minister, to be exaggerated in amount, and the proposition was consequently made to Lord Lyons to refer the question as to the sum properly due to an informal arbitration. The proposed was an informal arbitration. The proposal was accepted, and the award of the arbitrators is eight thousand six hundred dollars. An appropriation of this amount is recommended to Congress. From Fortress Monroe.

FORTRESS MONROE, April 5.—The steamer Eliza Hancox, Captain Shutes, arrived here this morning, from Galveston, Texas, having touched at Key West and Charleston, ing touched at Key West and Charleston, S. C., to obtain a supply of coal. She reports having encountered a heavy blow in the gulf, and having passed, on the 28th, a large propeller steamship, supposed to be one of the steamers running from New York to New Orleans, ashore, about five miles below Carrysfort light, with her foremast gone and the wreckers making towards her. The Hancox was inside the reefs, and as she had no pilot on board could not find the way outside, and was consequently unable to outside, and was consequently unable to render her any assistance.

The steamer Fountain, from Charleston, S.C., bound to New York, arrived here today, short of coal.

The weather improved to-day, and a portion of the fleet of merchantmen which have been lying in the harbor sailed for their various destinations.

TRENTON. April 6.—The Legislature adjourned to-day at noon. Before the adjournent, Mr. Scovel made a speech defining his position. He said he was then and there ready to go into joint meeting, and in addition to the candidates already named, he suggested the names of ex-Governor Newell and Brigadier-General McAllister as candidates for the Senatorship, for whom he would gladly go into joint convention, even before the adjournment.

There is some talk of an extra session to

There is some talk of an extra session to choose a Senator. The Republicans held a caucus this afternoon. Both Houses adjourned with much good feeling. The Governor has not yet signed the West Basin bill.

Financial.

ROCHESTER, April 6.—The bank panic in this city continues. A Karnes, private banker, who did not do a large business in banker, who did not do a large business in deposits, suspended to day for want of currency. His friends are confident he will soon resume payment. A run was made all day on Powers' banking office, but no impression was made. He has plenty of money and will keep open until 9 o'clock to-night, and will open again at six to-morrow morning to satisfy timid people.

New York, April 6th.—It appears that Beatty Brothers & Co., who suspended yesterday, were not defaulted by a member of the firm, but by an uncle of one of the memthe firm, but by an uncle of one of the mem-

Marine Disasters.

Boston, April 6.—The schooner Cornucopia, at this port from Barbadoes, March 15, reports that a large steamer had arrived there, having on board Captain Hatfield and the crew of the British ship General Williams, from Liverpool, December 24, for Boston, which vessel was abandoned in a sinking condition. The wreck was set on fire before the crew left her. The General Williams had an assorted cargo of valuable merchandise, and was consigned to Warner & Co., of this city.
