Circular Letter from the President. The President has just issued the following circular to heads of Department in reference to appointments to office:

It is eminently right and proper that the Government of the United States shall give earnest and substantial evidence of the just appreciation of the services of the patriotic men who, when the life of the nation was imperfled, entered the army and navy to preserve the integrity of the Union, defend the Government and maintain and perpetuate unimpaired its free institutions

It is therefore directed— First. That in appointments to office in the several Executive Departments of the General Government, and the various branches of the public service connected with said Departments, preference shall be given to such meritorious and honorably discharged soldiers and sailors, particularly those who have been disabled by wounds received or diseases contracted in the line of duty, as may possess the proper quali-

Second. That in all promotions in said Departments and the several branches of the public service connected therewith, such persons shall have preference, when equally eligible and uslified, over those who have not faithfully and honorably served in the land or navai forces of the United States. ANDREW JOHNSON.

Executive Mansion, April 7, 1866.

SUICIDE OF Ex-Gov. BIGLER'S SON.—The Clearfield Journal of yesterday says: "In-telligence reached this place yesterday (Tuesday) evening of the death of Reed Bigler, eldest son of ex-Gov. Bigler. Some two weeks since he went down the river on a raft, as far as Lock Haven, where he arrived sick of fever, but was getting better. For several days previous to his death he showed signs of mental wanderings, superinduced by his disease, yet no fears were entertained of his speedy recovery, as he was going about. On Monday, between 1 and 2 P. M., about. On Monday, between 1 and 2 P. M., be went to his room, opened a trunk, took out some clean clothing, and it would seem, after having done this, being attacked with mental aberration, he took his pistol and shot himself—the ball entering the mouth and lodging near the brain in the back part of the head. The record of the nistel every defeated. of the head. The report of the pistol aroused the inmates of the house, who hastened to his room, where they found him sitting on the bed—the pistol lying in the trunk. He asked several persons, as they entered, what was the matter—all the while bleeding profusely. He soon became faint from loss of blood, and expired some fifteen minutes and expired some fifteen minutes after the occurrence. This sad event cast a gloom over the entire community, which sincerely sympathizes with the afflicted family on account of their sudden and unexpected bereavement." PROPOSED IMMIGRATION FROM MADEIRA. —The Department of State has received a despatch from the United States Consul at Funchal, stating that a vast number of poor but honest and hard-working laborers of the Island of Madeira, who are skilled in the raising of cereals, the vine, sugar cane, and in gardening, are desirous of emigrat-ing to the United States, but have not the means for accomplishing that object. He expresses the belief that if one-half of their passage could be advanced to them by par-ties in this country, on a contract under the act to encourage immigration, to repay it in labor, at least one hundred thousand of them would be prepared to leave immedi-

The Late General Williams HEADQUARTERS MILITARY DIVISION OF THE ATLANTIC, PHILADELPHIA, PA., March 30, 1866—General Orders, No. 7.—The Major General commanding, with deep grief, an-nounces the loss of Brevet Major General Seth Williams, Assistant Adjutant General of this division, who died at Boston, Massachusetts, on the evening of the 23d of March. General Williams was born in Maine, appointed a cadet to the Military Academy in 1838, graduated in 1842, became First Lieutenant of Artillery in 1847, and served through the Mexican war, winning the bre-vet of Captain for gallant and meritorious conduct in the battle of Cerro Gordo. In September, 1850, he was appointed Adjutant of the Military Academy, where he remained until 1853, when he received the appointment of Captain in the Adjutant General's Department, in which he was successively raised to the rank of Major and Lieutenant Colonel. In 1861 he was appointed Brigadier General of Volunteers, and in 1865 brevetted Major General.

The public services of the deceased, in connection with the Army of the Potomac, from its organization to within a few months of its mustering out, at the close of the war. are too well known to require recital. There was hardly an engagement in which he did not take part; there is not a portion of its records or written history that does not bear witness to his ability and fidelity; and to its officers and soldiers he was especially endeared by a never-failing patience and kindliness of heart, that made no labor irksome that could promote their interests and welfare.

The General Commanding feels that this official notice is due, not only to the public career, but to the private virtues of this distinguished soldier, and that in him the country has lost a faithful servant, and the army a valued associate and friend. The officers of the Adjutant General's

Department of this command, will wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty By command of Major General Meade.
