Much misery has been relieved, but a great deal more could be done. We commend the Commission to the favorable regard of our

AMUSEMENTS.

THE ARCH.—A genuine, hearty tribute to enius is always graceful and should be grateful to the feelings of him who is thus nonored. We are reminded of this in view of the unparalelled magnificence of the audience which collected to enjoy Mr. J. E. Murdoch's Hamlet last evening at Mrs. John Drew's theatre. Neither seat nor standing room could be obtained at the uprolling of the curtain, and throughout the evening the attention of the house was fixed closely upon the stage. Mr. Murdoch's personation of the Prince of Denmark was personation of the Prince of Denmark was as graceful as ever, and his reading was truly exquisite. He was most ably supported by Mr. Tilton as the Ghost, Mr. Wallis as the King, Mr. Mackay as Polonius (he making the part far less of a burlesque than actors generally), Mr. James as Horatio, Mr. Rankin as Laertes, Mr. Robson as the First Grave-digger, Mr. Fitzgerald as First Actor (the "Hegylay" appeals being as the rirst Grave-digger, Air. Fitzgerald as First Actor (the "Hecuba" speech being very ably read by him), Miss Price as Ophelia and Mrs. Worrell as the Queen. Colored Schools in Mississippi. The Mississippi Standard, printed at Jackson, is now published daily. We notice that it very sensibly urges the education of the colored children; though it is a little amusing to find one of the Standard's arguments for colored education to be that if Southern for colored education to be, that if Southern men do not attend to this good work "the Yankees" will. The Meridian Messenger, Yankees" will. The Meridian Messenger, another Mississippi paper says:

"We must divest ourselves of the false notion that it is disreputable for a white man to teach a negro school. The moral sense of the world is opposed to such a prejudice, and in the end we shall fail to sustain ourselves in it. It results from the later and in the end we shall fail to sustain ourselves in it. It results from the late system of slavery, which doomed the negro to ignorance of letters, and even the commonest branches of education, that there are, as yet, but few of their own race competent to teach. They must be taught by whites now, or not at all. After a while it will be different. There will be blacks enough competent to teach their own color, and it is probable they will do it. Southern white men who engage in the own color, and it is probable they will do it. Southern white men who engage in the occupation of teaching negroes should be encouraged rather than discountenanced, for the obvious reason that a Southern teacher would instill into the young Southern ideas of the relative social relations, rights and duties of the races. Now we can think of nothing so wall calculated to rathe the duties of the races. Now we can think of nothing so well calculated to make the two races live side by side pleasantly and comfortably, as for Southern teachers to take hold of the negro schools at once. Entertaining these views, it is with regret that we hear that some Southern that we have attempted it have not teachers who have attempted it have met with contempt, persecution and even violence. In our deliberate judgment this is all wrong. In a neighboring county a Southern man was put under arrest, as presented to us, in a spirit of persecution, on account of teaching. We will not say that the crime alleged against him is of a frivolous nature, but it is probable that the least said the hetter. At all events we respect teachers who have attempted it have met said the better. At all events, we respectfully suggest that unless the man's morals be decidedly too bad to be tolerated, he be permitted to go on with his school, which otherwise will probably be taught by a Yankee, who could not well fail to teach the young a lesson of hate every day for Southern people. After a while those who are wrong upon this subject will get right, and then all will be right with us." By-and-by it will become possible in Mississippi, we suppose, to advocate a right cause without abusing "Yankees;" but meantime the "Yankees;" can well afford to be used as bugaboos.

The Malden Murderer.

From the Boston Herald of yesterday.]

Edward W. Green, the Malden murderer, has been confined in East Cambridge jail for twenty-six months, up to yesterday. He spent his last Sunday upon earth yesterday, and as the time draws near for his executable for the second state of the structure in the state of the structure is restricted. and as the time draws near for his execu-tion, he feels deeply the situation in which he is placed. Green was born in Malden, October 16th, 1837, and consequently will be 29 years old in October next. He is only 5 feet 14 inches in height, very light weight, and, in fact, may be called quite dwarfish. He has no parents living, with the exception of a stepmother. High Sheriff Charles Kimball, assisted by Captain Adams, the keeper of the jail, and Mr. Wade, the turnkey, are making all necessary preparations to have the execution carried out with quietness and solemnity. out with quietness and solemnity. No doubt many will visit East Cambridge in hopes of seeing the execution from the outside of the last ward. That they may not be disappointed. seeing the execution from the outside of the jail yard. That they may not be disappointed, we may as well inform them that the gallows will be so situated that no view of it can be had from the outside.

The executions which have taken place at the East Cambridge Jail are those of Daniel H. Pearson, of Wilmington, July 26th, 1850, for the murder of his wife and children, and Thomas Casey, of Natick, September 29th, 1854, for the murder of hisemployer. Father Taylor was the spiritual adviser of the former, and a Catholic priest of the letter mer, and a Catholic priest of the latter.

There was no religious services held in Green's cell yesterday. To-day Rev. Mr. Twist will visit him, on Tuesday Rev. Mr. Andrews, on Wednesday Rev. Mr. Greenwood; and on Thursday and Friday Rev. Mr. Twist.

THE OATH OF OFFICE.—The message of the President, inclosing communications from the Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster General, suggesting a modification of the cath of office, has been printed. A synopsis of these documents was given in a former despatch, but the following extract may be interesting:

The Secretary says, "In regard to future appointments, I have to say that I am well satisfied that it will be difficult, if not impossible, to find competent men at the South to fill the revenue offices, who can qualify under the statute. Especially will it be so in regard to the subordinate positions. In the progress of the rebellion very few persons of character and intelligence, in these States, failed in one way or the other to participate in the hostilities, or to connect themselves with the insurgent Government.

"This is almost universally true of the young men who are expected to fill clerk ships and other inferior places in the revenue service. I deem it my duty further to remark that I do not consider it advisable or the Government to attempt to collect taxes in the Southern States by the hands of strangers. After having given the subject careful consideration, anxious as I am to increase the revenue, and to lighten by dis-tributing and equalizing the burdens of the people, with no party interests to promote, and with nothing but the good of the Government at heart, I have come to the deliberate conclusion that it would be better for the country, politically and financially, to suspend the collection of internal revenue taxes in the Southern States, excepting in commercial cities, for months if not for years to come, rather than to undertake to collect them by men not identified with the tax-payers in sympathy or interests. LAND GRANTS TO SOUTHERN AND SOUTH. WESTERN STATES.—The President has sent to Congress a message, inclosing a communication from the Secretary of the Interior, with accompanying papers in reference to grants of lands made by acts of Congress in the years 1850, 1853 and 1856, to the States of Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas, Florida and Louislana, to aid in the construction of railroads. As these grants will expire by limitation on the 11th of August next, leaving the roads for whose benefit they were conferred in an unfinished condition. it is recommended the time within which they may be completed be extended for a period of five years.

period of five years.

Judge Edmunds, the Commissioner of the General Land Office, in his letter to the Secretary of the Interior, urges the accomplishment of these important works, which, he says, cannot fail to add to the prosperity not only of the several States named, but of the entire country. The letter of the Secre-ary is in accord with the views of the Commissioner. The roads embrace the Mobile and Ohio, the Southern Railroad, the Gulf and Mississippi Islands, the Mobile and Ohio, the Alabama and Flerida, the Pensacola and Georgia, the New Orleans, Ope-ousas and Great Western, and other roads. The estimated quantities inuring under these grants are over eleven million acres.

THE UNION DEAD IN VIRGINIA .- By direction of the Quartermaster-General, Brevet Major James Gleason, Quartermaster vet Major James Gleason, Quartermaster United States Army, will start in a day or two to make a tour of inspection of all the battle fields of Virginia fon the purpose of ascertaining as far as possible the number and location of all the Union dead that have been buried on the fields. It is the intention of the Government to have all intention of the Government to have all these remains brought to the Arlington Cemetery for interment, where a monument will be erected to their memory. A Convention of the colored people of Jeorgia was held at Augusta on the 4th Georgia was neid at Augusta on the 4th inst., each county sending a delegate. The design of the meeting was to investigate the condition and forward the interests of the freedmen of the State of Georgia. A colored man was appointed to go to Washington to advocate their rights and see justice done in their bahalf tice done in their behalf.

QUEER ACCIDENT.—A queer accident oc-curred at the Reed well on Cherry run, one day last week. A team of horses attached o an oil wagon became frightened at the loomotive of the Reno railroad, and ran away The wagon tongue came in contact with an oil tank, broke through it, and about 600 barrels of oil were thus lost.
