XXXIXTH CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION. [CLOSE OF YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.]

House.—Mr. Washburne (Ill.) offered a resolution, which was adopted, requesting the Paymaster-General of the Army to furnish the House with the names of all paymasters or additional paymasters against whom stoppages are now standing, and the nature and cause of the same.
Mr. Farnsworth (Ill.)moved to reconsider the vote by which the resolution was adopted, on the ground that it would be a great in-justice to drag before the public the names of paymasters having stoppages against them, most of which were owing to the confusion of orders, Mr. Stevens (Pa.) added that paymasters' accounts were only settled down to within three years of this time, and in the meantime the whole balance was charged against

Mr. Schenck (Ohio) suggested that the publication of the facts would alarm the bondsmen of these paymasters, and a general panic would be created while accounts were not actually settled.

Mr. Washburne (Ind.) stated that there was a bill pending for the relief of paymasters, and the House should have the information called for in the resolution, so as to be able to act understandingly on the bill. A memorial from these paymasters was laid this morning on the desks of members, in which it was stated that they had no acs to the records

Mr. Garfield (Ohio) regarded it as an unprecedented proposition to drag up a long list of unsettled, unadjudicated accounts The effect would be to alarm the bondsmen o paymasters without sufficient cause.

Mr. Schenck said that the Military Committee had not gone prying into individual accounts, and if the Committee had had the information it would not have felt justified in spreading it before the House in de-bate, as the accounts had only been parttally settled.

The vote adopting the resolution was reconsidered, and the question referred on the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Wentworth (Ill.) thought it right that the House should know the circumstances under which it was asked to pass a bill for the relief of these paymasters. He found on his desk a pamphlet calling on the House for immediate action, now or never, and he thought these paymasters should be willing to trust the House,

Mr. Chanler (N. Y.) rose for information.
Mr. Wentworth said he would yield to the Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, who was the only person capable of giving information on this subject.

Mr. Schenck (Ohio) declared that it was an entire mistake to suppose that the bill for the relief of paymasters had been brought forward under an organized solicitation of the paymasters. Petitions on the subject had been referred to the Committee on Military Affairs, involving necessarily an inquiry into the whole matter. The first impression of the Committee was rather against the idea of affording relief, but the more the Committee looked into the matter the more it became satisfied that it was a

Mr. Wentworth (Ill.) repeated his unwillingness to legislate without official information. He would like to hear the views of the Chairman of the Committee on Claims on the subject.

Mr. Delano (Ohio), Chairman of the Committee on Claims, stated that the measure as proposed by the Committee on Military Affairs would take two and a half million of dollars out of the Treasury. The sums disbursed by army paymasters during the war amounted to one thousand and twentyeight millions.

Mr. Schenck explained that the allowance was limited to a thousand dollars per year for each paymaster.

Mr. Delanoladmitted that that would take away some of the serious objections to the bill as originally presented. He thought, however, that if a measure of relief was to be passed for any class of army officers quite as meritorious a class as that of pay-masters could be selected. Yesterday the House had passed a bill giving over seven millions of dollars to the State of Missouri. Some days before it had appropriated eight hundred thousann dollars for Pennsylvania. The claims of the States for money paid for bounties, &o., would reach six or seven hundred millions of dollars, and the claims for the equalization of bounties would amount to an equal sum. He thought Congress should wait till a report was made to it, showing the condition of the accounts of these paymasters, and thus Congress could give to honest and faithful paymasters all the relief they needed.

Mr. Wentworth (Ill.) was willing that the bill should be recommitted to the Commit-mittee on Military Affairs, but would prefer its reference to the Committee of Claims, in whose chairman (Mr. Delano) he had great confidence, as he understood the President also had. [Laughter.]
Mr. Washburne (Ind.) said he had introduced the resolution in good faith, and supposed that the paymasters and those who represented them on this floor wished for the information asked for.

After further discussion, the resolution was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

The bill for the relief of paymasters of the army, which was under discussion in the morning hour yesterday, came up as the next business in order.

Mr. Conkling (N. Y.) moved the following as a substitute for the bill: That the proper accounting officers of the Treasury be and they are hereby authorized and directed in the settlement of accounts of pay-masters and additional paymasters of the army for disbursements made by them during the recent war for the suppression of the rebellion, to allow and credit to such paymasters all sums which they may have paid on erroneous muster rolls which they had no means or opportunity to verify previous to payment thereon, evidences of which lack of means or opportunity shall be furnished, according to such rules and regulations as shall be prescribed by such accounting officers.

After some discussion the bill, with the pending amendments, was recommitted to the Committee on Military Affairs. Mr. Rice (Me.) from the Committee on Territories, reported back the joint resolu-tion to facilitate communication with the territories of New Mexico, Arizona and Colerado. The joint resolution provides that whenever any loyal citizen of the United States shall make and establish an arlesian well on the line of any mail route in New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, or the Colorado desert of California, at least ten miles distant from any spring or stream of living water on such route, he shall be entitled to one section of the public lands embracing such well, to be marked out and designated in a compact form.

Mr. Rice (Me.) explained the object of the joint resolution. Mr. Washburne (Ill.) said it seemed to him as if there was a cat under the meal tub. If the gentleman from Maine would trace this thing to its inception, he would find that it came from some speculators, who wanted to get some town sites. It was a most injurious plan, by which 640 acres would be taked from the public lands, and the title given to some person for doing what he would be likely to do any way, opening an artesian well. There were no proper guards or limitations to the hill proper guards or limitations to the bill.

Mr. Rice stated that the bill originated with the Commissioner of the General Land Office, as an inducement to persons to open wells and supply cool water to travelers over these deserts, a similar joint resolution had passed the House last session, and had failed in the Senate for want of time. The gentleman from Illinois had made a charge against the Commissioner of the General Mr. Washburne (Ill.) disclaimed doing so. Nothing in his remarks could bear that onstruction.

Mr. Rice (Me.) said that the gentleman from Illinois had spoken of "the cat under the meal tub" in this bill. That gentleman very properly considered it his duty to look after all the interests of this broad land, and particularly every interest which did not originate with him or his committee. He found no fault with him for that. He knew the great value of his services to the countricularly every services. But this joint resolution had been reported unanimously by the Committee on Territories, last session and this, and was regarded as important for the development of those territories.

Mr. Washburne (Ill.) declared he had not intended any imputation on the Commissioner of the General Land Office, to whose ability and integrity he was glad to bear

At the suggestion of Mr. Conkling, Mr. Rice (Me.) moved an amendment to except municipal lands from the lands to be so

The amendment was agreed to. Mr. Wright suggested that this was one of the gift enterprises that were affoat. Mr. Rice (Me.) denied that, and defended the general purposes of the joint resolution.

Mr. Conkling suggested that if this became a law, persons connected with artesian wells and who had received a full section of land, might also, under the homestead law take up a quarter section. He subsequently moved an amendment to provide against

Mr. Wright remarked that this well was Mr. Wright remarked that this well was a great bore. The Senate had had up yesterday the whisky question and now the water question was up in this House. He should be satisfied if both took the same direction.

Mr. Chanler (N. Y.) asked whether the gentleman from Maine had considered the effect of this measure on the revenue derived from whisky? That gentleman's section consumed nothing but whisky, stimulated by a little ice. [Laughter.] The development of the Maine Liquor law was not necessary in the West. He hoped the gentleman would offer an amendment, to allow distilleries there, so that the principle of cold water and pure spirit might march across the continent, and show which was the basis of virtue. The people of the West were unaccustomed to the use of water as a beverage, and it was a well known fact that, between the questions of water and whisky, the West was a unit to-day, against water. [Laughter.] He asked the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. Wentworth) whether he would support whisky against cold water.

Mr. Wentworth protested that he was for cold water all the time, and Mr. Paine (Wis.) suggested that there

Mr. Paine (Wis.) suggested that there should be a provision in the joint resolution requiring water to be furnished from these wells graituitously.

Mr. Rice (Me.) suggested that that matter would be in the charge of the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

After further discussion the joint resolution with amountment of the second tion, with amendments, was ordered to be printed and recommitted. Mr.Rice (Me.), from the same Committee, reported back adversely the memorial of the Legislative Assembly of Arizona, asking that the tract of land in the bend of the Colorado be attached to Arizona, and the Comnittee was discharged from its further conideration.

Mr. Marvin (N. Y.), from the same Committee, reported back adversely the memo-rial of the Governor and Legislature of the Territory of Utah for an appropriation for the construction of roads in that Territory.

Laid on the table.

Mr. Moulton (Ill.), from the same Committee, reported back a bill appropriating ten thousand dollars for the survey of the coundary between the Territory of Idaho and the State of Oregon, which, on objection being made by Mr. Stevens, was referred to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

Mr. Starr (N. J.), from the same Committee, reported back adversely the memorial of the Legislature of Utah, for an appropriation for a library at Salt Lake City. Laid on the table. Mr. Hill (Ind.), from the same Committee, reported back adversely the memorial of the Legislature of Dacotah, for an appropriation to codify the laws of Dacotah Ter ritory. Laid on the table,

The morning hour having expired,
Mr. Darling (N. Y.) presented the memorial of brewers in the United States for the reduction of the duty on barley to five cents

Mr. Washburne (Ill.), from the Committee of Conference on the bill authorizing the sale of the Maine hospitals and revenue cut-ters, made a report and stated its substance. The Senate had amended the House bill by a provision limiting the number of hospi-tals to which the bill should apply. The Senate now receded from that amendment, and agreed to an amendment merely pro-viding that the hospitals at Cleveland, Ohio, and at Portland, Me., should not be sold or leased.

The report was agreed to.
The House then, on motions of Mr. Wentworth, proceeded to the business of the Speaker's table, and took up the concurrent resolution passed by the Senate yesterday, prohibiting the sale of spirituous and other liquors in the capitol building and grounds.

Mr. Stevens inquired, with an affectation of gravity, whether this was such a resolution as would require the signature of the President. [Laughter.]

Mr. Wentworth replied that it was not, and he called for the reading of a joint rule of the two Houses, directing that no spirituous liquors shall be offered or exhibited ous inquors shall be offered of exhibited within the capitol or public grounds adjacent thereto. That rule he said was adopted in 1837, and had been rigidly enforced by the presiding office of the House all the time. [Laughter.] He had frequently been in the Senate and wondered that the presiding officer of that body had not enforced the rule. It seemed that the revisible the residence of the time of the there is the residence of the time of the residence of th the rule. It seemed that it would be better if that body had the presiding officer and some of the members of this body. [Laughter. He moved to amend the concurrent resolution, by making it apply also to all the public buildings or grounds of the city of Washington.

Mr. Schenck (Ohio) said he noticed that the term "exhibited" was used in the rule, and wished to know in what sense it was employed. Mr. Stevens (Pa.) suggested that it meant the exhibition of members with liquor in them. [Laughter.]

Mr. Wentworth (Ill.) said he so understood it. Mr. Randall (Pa.) said that action on the part of the House was entirely unnecessary as the Speaker permitted no violation of the rule and had rooted out all those "holes in rule and had rooted out an inose mores in the wall," and the House had subsequently approved of his action in that respect. He thought, therefore, that the resolution had better be returned to the Senate, where, perhaps, there was a necessity for its adop-Mr. Washburne (Ill.) suggested that it should be amended so as to make it a joint instead of a concurrent resolution.

Mr. Stevens remarked that he knew what the gentleman from Illinois was about. He wanted to kill the measure by making it require the signature of the President. The Speaker stated that it could not so be amended.

Mr. Chandler suggested that it should not be made to apply to all the public buildings for spirituous liquor was much used in the Smithsonian Institute for the preservation of animals. Besides, it was known as a specificfor the bite of the Copperheads, which seemed to have so much terror for some peo-

ole. [Laughter.] Charges had zeen made against members not only of intemperance in the use of liquor, but of intemperance from lust, and he thought the principle of the resolution should be carried out so as to have a physician's inquiry as to the habits of members in public buildings. He thought it unfair to use public prejudice against liquor for the purpose of keeping down genial excitement and good fellowship, which he knew the gentleman from Illinois never intended. Mr. Thayer (Pa.) remarked that during his service in the house he had seen no indications of any necessity for the adoption of the concurrent resolution. He had read the debate which took place in the Senate yes-terday, and was led to believe, from some of the sentiments there expressed, that the passage of the resolution might be necessary to preserve the decorum, dignity, and self-possession which should characterize a body o venerated as that. He had observed, for example that one member of that distinguished body had concluded a long oration in defence of drunkenness with this sentiment, "I believe in women, wine, whisky, and war." [Laughter.] He did not think that either of these articles should be thrown unnecessarily in the way of a gentleman holding such sentiments, and, therefore, he hoped the concurrent resolution would

After some further discussion, the amendment offered by Mr. Wentworth was agreed to, and the concurrent resolution, as amendd. was adopted.

Mr. Stevens (Pa.), from the Committee on Appropriations, reported back Senate joint resolutions for the transfer of funds appropriated for the payment of salaries in the Post Office Department to the general salary account of that Department, with an amendment, providing that it should not be construed to increase the appropriations already made for the service of the Post Office Department. The amendment was agreed to and the joint resolution was passed.

Mr. Stevens, from the same Committee, also reported back the Senate joint resolu-tion authorizing The Secretary of the Treasury to adjust the claims of Beals & Dixon against the United States, which, on motion of Mr. Washburne (Ill.), was referred to the Committee on Claims,

The Senate bill making an additional grant of funds to the State of Minnesota in alternate sections, to aid in the construction of a railroad in said State, was taken from the Speaker's table, read twice, and referred to the Committee on Public Lands. The Senate bill to authorize the Secretary of War to settle claims of the State of Kansas for services of the militia called out by the Governor of the State on the requisition of Major General Curtis, commander of the United States forces in that State, was taken from the Speaker's tabje, read twice, and referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

The next business in order was the Senate oill appropriating $25,000 for the temporary relief of destitute people in the District of Columbia, to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau.

Mr. Ingersoll (III.) moved the previous Mr. Rogers (N. Y.) wished it amended so is to read "without distinction of race or olor."

Mr. Ingersoll replied that that was unecessary as no class legislation was per-Mr. Rogers then wanted the distribution of the money to be left with the municipal authorities of Washington.

Mr. Ingersoll declined to agree to that. Mr. Shanklin (Ky.) rose to discuss the merits of the bill, but Mr. Ingersoll insisted on the previous question.

The House seconded the previous question and passed the bill by a vote of 100 to 21. Here a message was received from the Senate, announcing that after listening to the eulogies of the character and public services of Senator Foot, lately deceased, it had, out of respect to his memory, voted to

Messrs. Woodbridge, Banks, Washburne
(Ill.), Dawson, Grinnell and Morrill spoke in enlogy of the late Senator Foot. The House then, as a mark of respect, ad-
