

From our Third Edition of Yesterday

From Washington. (Special Correspondence.) WASHINGTON, April 19.—The Pittsburgh nominations will not be acted on for some days. There will be a strong opposition to their confirmation...

The Senate Commerce Committee are considering the question as to what additional legislation is necessary to protect ports of entry against the approaches of cholera. Several appropriations will be made by Congress to this end.

The colored celebration is quite an imposing affair. The utmost order and decorum prevail throughout. The Ways and Means Committee have finally overcome the obstacles which prevented themselves against imposing a tax on cotton of five per cent.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The celebration of the Emancipation of the colored people in the District of Columbia, took place to-day. Five regiments of colored troops and various civic associations, with many others, assembled in front of Executive Mansion...

After the firing of cannon and the playing several martial airs, three cheers were given for the President and his cabinet. The time was spent in the ordinary manner known to you by the colored population of the United States who find out who have selected them as a hobby, and a pretence by which they can be successful in obtaining and maintaining power...

Mr. Whaley (W. V.) rose to another personal explanation in reference to his Latin friend, "Mr. Etal," and said he had read a sarcasm letter from Mr. Boynton, the correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, denying the authorship of the objectionable paragraph.

Mr. Stevens (Pa.) from the Committee on Appropriation, reported a bill making appropriations to supply the deficiency in the appropriation for the public printing, for the year ending June 30, 1866, which was read twice and referred to the Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union...

It is very easy for colored men to have pretended friends encoined in high places who never contributed a sixpence in furtherance of the great cause, while another period of their lives is spent in something sacred and dear to man, and those whom he was raised and who lived with him now enjoy his property, with his content and his aid and support...

There is something for all to do. You are high and solemn duties to perform, and you ought to have to do them, not a mere idea. It must be reduced to practical reality. Men in being free have to deny themselves many things which seem to be embraced in the idea of universal freedom.

It is with you to give evidence to the world, and the people of the United States, that you are worthy of the great boon as it should be and that you are worthy of being freedmen. Then let me thank you sincerely for the compliment you have paid to me by the presence here to-day and paying your respects to me. I repeat again, the time will come when you will know who has been your true friend...

The President, after concluding his remarks, waited some time for the procession passed, and during this time large numbers of the colored people advanced to pay their respects to him and take him by the hand...

The Canadian Confederation Scheme. TORONTO, April 19.—Resolutions in favor of the confederation of the British provinces have passed the Nova Scotia Assembly by a vote of 81 to 19. The question is still pending in the Parliament of New Brunswick...

XXXIXth CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION HOUSE.—Mr. Morris (N. Y.) from the Judiciary Committee, reported a bill to regulate the terms of the United States Courts in the Eastern District of New York, and for other purposes, which was considered and passed.

Mr. Boyer (Pa.) offered a resolution to print for the use of members of the House for distribution 50,000 copies of the testimony of Alexander H. Stephens before the Committee on Reconstruction. Mr. Rogers (N. J.) moved to make the number 75,000.

The resolution was referred, under the rule, to the Committee on Printing. Mr. Washburne (Ill.) desired to object to the instruction of Mr. Boynton, but the Speaker stated that the objection came too late.

Mr. Lynch (Me.) introduced a joint resolution, authorizing the appointment of examiners to examine a site for a fresh water basin for the iron-clad vessels of the United States Navy. Read twice and referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

Also a bill to provide military instruction in the Agricultural College, established under the act of July 2d, 1862. Read twice and referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. Stevens (Pa.) from the Committee on Appropriation, reported a bill making appropriations to supply the deficiency in the appropriation for the public printing, for the year ending June 30, 1866, which was read twice and referred to the Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union...
