

BUSINESS NOTICES.

JUVENILE EDUCATION. Pop, may I read the newspaper to you, this morning... I thought it did. So I bought it for you.

RAISING HEAVY WEIGHTS. When looking at the heavy stones of top of ladders, constructed before the invention of modern contrivances for the raising of heavy weights, tourists have wondered how such immense blocks of granite could have been raised to their positions.

STREET RACING. It is becoming very common to hear of serious accidents in our streets, resulting from a practice, which we presume is as contrary to law, as it is dangerous to the community.

JOHNSONIAN MOSAICS. In his assumed character of Moses, President Johnson made another speech yesterday to a crowd of colored people who were rejecting over their freedom.

THE PRESIDENT ON HISTORICAL PARALLELS. President Johnson was particularly unfortunate Wednesday evening in an attempt to draw a parallel between some rows of greater or less importance that have taken place in the States of Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, and the late rebellion of the South.

JOHNSONIAN MOSAICS. In his assumed character of Moses, President Johnson made another speech yesterday to a crowd of colored people who were rejecting over their freedom. It consisted chiefly of the remark that it was the negro's best friend, and that time would come when they would find it out.

THE BOSTON MONTHLIES. Mr. T. B. Pugh, corner of Sixth and Chestnut streets, is agent for the Atlantic Monthly and Our Young Folks, the May numbers of which are before us.

Rabbit riots in New York, in 1863, had to do with putting the Empire State out of the Union, and keeping it out until the Gothamites had learned better manners. We are equally at a loss to know what the "rebellion" in Pennsylvania has to do with the question at issue.

THE CARL WOLFSOHN TESTIMONIAL. The services rendered to the cause of classical music in Philadelphia, by the eminent artist, Carl Wolfssohn, are about to receive a handsome and appropriate acknowledgment.

Public Sale of Valuable Real Estate. Messrs. Thomas & Sons' sale on Tuesday evening two properties in Germantown: two country seats with extensive grounds, and a building of desirable city residence, small dwellings and building lots.

JOHN GRUMP BUILDER. Mechanic of every kind for erecting and fitting promptly furnished. RAVEN & BALCON PLANO. Mechanical drawing and engraving.

1866 HAIR CUT TO PLEASE. At KOPPE'S, 101 N. 2d St. Hair and whiskers cut and shaved on Saturday and Sunday. DICK OF CHIEF PUBLIC HIGHWAYS.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS. SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at the office of the Chief Commissioner of Highways, until 10 o'clock, on Monday, 23d inst., for the construction of a new road.

YELLOWSIDE FLOORING BOARDS. 18,000 feet yellow pine flooring boards, select, for sale by E. A. BOUDER & CO.

THE WIDOW MACREE. The Widow Macree, who as happy as she, As she sat in her kitchen, a drinking her Tea! The miser may gloat o'er his guttering store, And feel keen delight as he counts it all o'er, But I envy the bliss of the widow far more, As she sits at her Tea Table.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY AND OUR YOUNG FOLKS. FOR MAY, 1866. The Atlantic Monthly contains a sketch of the Communist village of Economy, on the Ohio, founded by the followers of Rapp; continuation of the account of the "Last Days of Landor," including the poet's opinions of Shelley, Milton, and Dante; interesting glimpses of Hawthorne's life; a striking paper, by Miss Stowe's theory of "Sources of Beauty in Dress"; a fine criticism of Edwin Booth; and chapters of great interest, containing "Doctor John's" and "Griffith Gaunt." James Russell Lowell contributes the "Speech of Hosea Biglow, at March Meeting," commenting, in his familiar and pleasant style, on the recent action of the President, and expressing the feelings of all loyal men concerning the situation. Besides these, and other interesting prose articles, there are poems by J. G. Whittier, Mrs. Akers, and E. W. Longfellow.

OUR YOUNG FOLKS. Has the first of a series of sketches, by "Carleton," of places and incidents connected with the war; the second "Bird" article on the "English Redoubt" and the excellent little piece by Mrs. Diaz, "Miss Kitty-Didd" at March Meeting; another of Mrs. Stowe's charming stories; another day of "A Summer in the Tropics;" another of "The Golden Rule;" and other very attractive stories and poems by T. B. Aldrich, Mayne Reid, Mrs. Anna J. Warren, Sewall, Jr. This number contains also, and capital variety of Characters, Romances, and Fables, and Twenty Illustrations.
