CITY BULLETIN.

ANNIVERSARY AT ST. ANDREW'S .- On esterday afternoon, the Sunday Schools of t. Andrew's Episcopal Church, held their forty-second anniversary. It was an occasion of more than ordinary interest. Everything was propitious, the day was sunny without, and sunshine reigned within.

Nearly one thousand teachers and scholars were gethered together and left together and scholars.

were gathered together, and it was with difficulty that the congregation was accommodated with seats. After the opening service a most pleasing address was made by the rector, Rev. Mr. Paddock; he was followed by the Rev. Messrs. Matlack and Durborrow. The selections of hymns were well sung, from the delicate soprano of the infant class to the heavy, though musical notes of the colored schools. One of the most interesting features was the presentation of emblems by the various classes as they handed in their contributions for the year, one would have thought that Flora's domains had been taken by storm, juding from the wealth of flowers weaved into beautiful devices, crosses, wreaths, baskets, stars and many other of similar character. Each ambles imilar character. Each emblem was accompanied by a text of scripture and an appropriate verse of poetry. The contribu-tions amounted in all to over $1,500 dollars. St. Andrew's is, we believe the only church in our city that has a colored school attached. This school occupied the entire south gallery and their good singing was universally remarked. Everything passed off harmoniously, and the forty-second anniversary of St. Andrew's will long be remembered by BURGLARS CAUGHT.—The flour store of Messrs. Levi Knowles & Co., 1218 Market street, was entered last night, at about eleven o'clock, the front door being opened with false keys. The fire-proof safe was drilled and the principal door opened. The safe was ransacked and the papers and books overhauled. The burglar-proof interior chamber of the safe resisted their efforts. efforts. Officer Spence, of the Ninth District discovered the burglars at work, through the window, and with the aid of two of the neighbors, Messrs. Stewart and Buck, effected their arrest, while attempting to escape by the rear of the building. Stewart fortunately had a double-barreled gun, with which the fugitives were brought to bay. They were taken to the Sixth District station. They had not succeeded in reaching any of the valuable contents of the safe. Officer Spence, and the citizens who assisted him, are entitled to much credit for their promptness and courage in making this capture.

The alleged burglars gave their names as John Gaul and William B. Smith. They left behind them a jimmy, a large crowbar and a sledge hammer. They were arraigned this morning before Ald. Jones, and were committed in default of $10,000 bail.

AMERICAN UNION COMMISSION .- An interesting meeting ln behalf of the American on of Pennsylvania and N. Jersey, was held in the Calvary Presbyterian Church, Fifteenth and Locust streets, last evening. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Calkin, presided, and aderesses were made by the Secretary, Mr. Jos. Parker, Rev. James M. Crowell, D. D., and Chas, E. Lex, Esq. The objects of this second commission were fully set forth, by the Secretary; and its claims to public sympathy and support enforced by those who followed him. As this organization becomes better known to our people, it must receive all the aid it requires in its noble work of relieving the destitute and enlightening the ignorant masses of the South. Pennsylvania and New Jersey have stretched out their arms and cleaned their hands so as to allow the and clasped their hands, so as to allow the State of Georgia a place to rest in its time of need, and while she feels that beating heart of Christian charity on either side, the tears of penitence will learn to flow from the melting coals of gospel kindness heaped upon her head

FIRE.—Last evening, about 7 o'clock, a fire broke out in the rear portion of the extensive buildings at 1053 N. Delaware avenue, below Shackamaxon street, occupied by Masses G. A. & E. A. Landell as a seen A. & E. A. Landell as a soar and candle manufactory. The structure contained a number of tanks of oil, candles and material for their manufacture, and the fire spread with great rapidity. Finding this building could not be saved, the attention of the firemen was given to the main building, and by dint of untiring exertion their well directed efforts proved successful. The main building was saved. The loss to the Messrs. Landell is roughly estimated at $15,000, the rear building in which the fire originated and contents having been totally destroyed. They have an insurance of $5,000 dollars upon the building. The fire created a bright light, and people who were along the river front thought that a vessel

SALE OF DEARING'S FURNITURE.-The farniture, &c., belonging to the Dearing family was sold at auction a few days ago. Before the sale took place, the only surviving member of the family, the boy Wiltie, made selections of such articles as took his fancy, after which the remainder was knocked down to the highest bidder. The sale consisted of tables, chairs, bedsteads, carpeting and household goods generally. The articles brought a fair price, with some exceptions. The bedstead on which the murderer Probst slept, was knocked down for the sum of $1.25. A number of persons who attended the sale, farniture, &c., belonging to the Dearing number of persons who attended the sale, learning that the articles to be disposed of belonged to the Dearing family, viewed them with much interest, but did not manifest any disposition to purchase, owing to their association with the late terrible tragedy. CITY MORTALITY.—The number of interments in the city during the past week was 245 against 340 during the same period last year. Of the whole number 112 were adults and 133 children—65 being under one year of age. 134 were males, 111 females, 66 boys and 67 girls. The greatest number of deaths occurred in the First Ward, being 19, and the smallest number in the Twenty-third the smallest number in the Twenty-third Ward, where only two were reported. The principal causes of death were—consumption, 29: convulsions, 14; disease of the heart, 5; debility, 7; inflammation of the brain, 10; inflammation of the lungs, 29, and old age 18

THE FINE ARTS.—Scott's Philadelphia Art Gallery, 1020 Chestnut street, was thronged last Saturday evening with our thronged last Saturday evening with our fashionables, examining the collection of Italian marble statuary, alabaster vases and statuettes, and the gallery was kept open until a late hour. The collection will remain on exhibition all to-day and to-morrow and will be sold to-morrow Tuesday. main on exhibition all to-day and to-morrow, and will be sold to-morrow, Tuesday evening at 7½ o'clock precisely. It is very seldom that as full and complete a collection of objects of art is offered at public sale, and we judge from the number of visitors which are always to be seen at the gallery that the sale will be largely attended.

LECTURE ON NUMISMATICS.—Hon. James Ross Snowden will deliver a lecture before the "Numismatic and Antiquarian Society" the "Numismatic and Antiquarian Society" of this city, to-morrow evening, at the Hall of the University of Pennsylvania, Ninth street, above Chestnut. He has selected as the subject of his remarks "Evidences of Christianity, with some notices of the Coins and Money terms of the Bible which corroborate its authenticity and credibility." Mr. Snowden has had an enlarged experience in this department of science, and his lecture will doubtless abound in interest.

Correction.—By an error of punctuation in our Saturday's edition the receipts of the Seamen's Friend Society were increased to the handsome, but unfortunately very improbable sum of $213,813. It should have read $2,138 13. The difference is quite an important one to the Society.

STORE ROBBERY.-On Saturday three men went into the store of Wm. S. Ring-gold, No. 1540 Market street, and while gold, No. 1540 Market street, and while they were examining some goods, one of the party seized a piece, valued at $10, and tan. He was pursued by some citizens, and after an exciting chase, during which the thief threw off his coat, he was captured at Nineteenth and Locust streets, by Officer McCartney, of the Fifth District. The prisoner gave his name as John W. Thomas and was committed by Ald Tunison.

and was committed by Ald. Tunison. DROWNED MAN FOUND.—The body of an unknown white man was found this morning in the Delaware, at Vine street wharf. The deceased had apparently been in the water about two months. He was about 35 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches in height, and had dark brown hair. His clothing consisted of army blouse and pants, white shirt, red undershirt, white drawers, low shoes and light Kossuth hat.

A CHALLENGE. - That Philadelphia is about the greatest coal market in the world will scarcely be denied by any unprejudiced person, and no well pusted Philadelphian will deny our assertion that at no yard in the city can better or cheaper coal be bought, or more promptly delive ed, than at the yard of W. W. Alter, No. 957 North Ninth street. His branch office is at Sixth and Spring Garden streets. CLOTHING. CLOTHING. CLOTHING.

THE RECONSTRUCTION COMMITTEE. Rumors Concerning New Plans. The Washington correspondent of the N.

Y. Tribune says; "The statement telegraphed to New York on Saturday evening that the Reconstruction Committee had prepared various propositions for report is incorrect. There was a meeting of the Committee held yesterday, and more fully attended than usual, and it is understood that various Constitutional amendments and separate measures of legislators were proposed and debated, but that no comprehensive or complete propositions were discussed, and certainly nothing definitely concluded upon to report to the "The statement telegraphed to New York were discussed, and certainly nothing den-nitely concluded upon to report to the Houes. The committee will meet again at 10 o'clock to-morrow, when the separate pro-positions submitted by different members may be embodied in form, preparatory to a subsequent report." The correspondent of the Times says:
"The Reconstruction Committee had an

"The Reconstruction Committee had an interesting session yesterday, and discussed several propositions relating to a plan of restoration. Nothing was decided upon, and another meeting will be held to-morrow morning. It is known, however, that the Committee are beginning to realize the necessity of closing up the work on their hands, and of making their final report. The sub-committees have therefore been directed to make their reports, and the Chairman will soon present reports, and the Chairman will soon present the final report of the Committee, summing up the results arrived at by its investigations, and recommending some general policy of restoration. It is possible also that this report will be accompanied by a that this report will be accompanied by a bill or joint resolution relating to the qualifications and status of Federal office-holders in the rebellious States, which shall embody the idea of prohibiting the political power of that section from ever being controlled by those who were active in the rebellion. It is understood that two members of the committee are engaged in considering and mamittee are engaged in considering and ma-turing the several propositions relating to this branch of the subject."

The correspondent of the World says:
"It has been given out in confidential circles for some days past, that the Radicals were maturing a general plan of reconstruction of the Santham Catalantian of the Santham tion of the Southern States. But few were initiated into the mysteries of this scheme. It appears that it emanated from Robert Dale Owen, who, it is said, submitted it to the President. Yesterday the Reconstruc-tion Committee met at an early hour, when the plan was unfolded to the Committee by Thaddeus Stevens. It is understood that the committee agreed to it. It is more radical than anything that has heretofore come from that direction. It is in the shape of a joint resolution to amend the Constitution, and professes to provide for the restoration to the Southern States of all their po litical rights.

"Article first of the amendment says that there shall be no discrimination made by any State nor by the United States as to the any State nor by the United States as to the civil rights of persons because of race, color, or previous condition of servitude. Second That from and after the fourth day of July, in the year 1876, no discrimination shall be made by any State nor by the United States as to the enjoyment by classes of persons of the right of suffrage because of race or color. Third—Until July 4, 1867, no class of persons, as to the right of any of whom suffrage discrimination shall be made by any State because of race or color or previous condition of servitude shall be included in the basis of representation. Fourth—Debts or obligations already incurred, or which may be hereafter incurred, in aid of insurrection or war against the Union, and claims for compensation for loss of the received. war against the Union, and claims for com-war against the Union, and claims for com-pensation for loss of the service of persons, held to involuntary servitude or labor, shall not be paid by any State or by the United States. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States. It is then further to be provided by act of immunities of citizens of the United States. It is then further to be provided by act of Congress, that whenever the above amendment shall have become part of the Constitution, and any of the Southern States shall have ratified it and modified its constitution and laws in conformity thereof, the Southern and Rappenentatives from such Senators and Representatives from such State duly elected and qualified, and taking the usual oath of office, be admitted; provided, that no persor who having been an vided, that no persor who having been an officer in the army c. navy of the United States, or having been a member of the Thirty-sixth Congress, or of the cabinet in the year 1860, did take part in the late insurrection, shall be eligible to either branch of the national Legislature until after July 4, 1876. The above will probably be reported to the House to-morrow. The statement that this scheme is approved by the President is without any s approved by the President is without any is approved by the President is without any foundation in fact. It was submitted to him several days ago by Robert Dale Owen, but he gave no indication, by word or action, that he looked upon it with favor. There is authority for stating that the President not only disapproves of it, but regards it as a most dangerous and revolutionary scheme against the rights and privileges of the States, North and South. It remains to be seen whether Congress can be made to accept it."
