BY TELEGRAPH. LATE FROM WASHINGTON. A PRESIDENTIAL PROGRAMME ATTEMPT TO FLANK GEN. GEARY.

THE PRESIDENT'S CONFIDANTS.

The President and Pennsylvania Politics. (Special Despatch to the Bulletin.)

WASHINGTON, April 27, 1886.—It is understood a movement is on foot here among the Johnson men and the Democrats, to bring out a military man as a candidate against Geary, or, failing in this, they propose to induce some well known soldier, such as General Meador General Hancock, to become a candidate, and withdraw Clymer, which event is not at all improbable at any moment.

Before the arrival of the van a strong body of policemen took possession of the sidewalk, on Walnut street, and kept a passage clear from the centre of the carriage-way to the inside of the square. When the van drove up, the police, with much difficulty, surrounded it and kept the away-going crowd at bay.

When the prisoner made his appearance at the door at the rear of the van, there was a furious yell of execration uttered that rung for squares through the clear morning air, and that must have struck dismay to the soul of the blood-stained wretch. We watched him closely as he faced the excited crowd, while yells burst from their lips. His countenance showed that stolid and unimpressive as he is by nature, he keenly felt the weight of the manifestations of popular fury and indignation.

Chief Ruggles escorted Probst to the western door of the rear of the Court House. This brought him face to face and within a few feet of the excited crowd that clustered about the railing on the outside, and which filled the street. Here there were renewed shouts and yells, and the miserable prisoner seemed glad to find a retreat inside the Court room.

During the large crowds were gathered in the vicinity of the State House, while the different ways of ingress to the square and to the Court House were besieged by persons who were anxious to gain admittance. Every person who was supposed to possess influence was beset with applicants for their favor to enable them to get inside. Proceedings in Court.

Yesterday, during the examination of the female who testified to being in Probst's room on the night of the murder, the prisoner was greatly amused at her evasive answers. While being taken to prison in the evening, he explained to one of the officers that he laughed because the woman asked questions that he could not answer. He said that he had a plan to get out of the city, but that he had not time to do so.

CHOLERA.—"NINE" COMPASS CALAMITY.—The cholera epidemic is still present, and it is believed here nothing will be done with them till after the October election, to keep the present incumbents in office. PRICE OF GOLD IN NEW YORK.

PROBST!

THE TRIAL OF THE MURDERER PROGRESSING.

THE EVIDENCE THIS MORNING.

The Popular Feeling Unabated.

The trial of the butcher, Probst, was continued in the Court of Oyer and Terminer this morning. [The close of yesterday's proceedings will be found on the inside pages of the BULLETIN of to-day.]

The curiosity of the public to see the prisoner is undiminished, and the popular feeling against him continues unabated. Long before the hour for the opening of the Court, the crowd began to gather, and by half-past nine o'clock, at which time the prison van with the murderer arrived, thousands of persons surrounded the square. Not only were there great throngs in the streets, but the windows of the surrounding dwellings and offices were filled with curious spectators. As usual, the greatest rush was at the Walnut street entrance to the square, and about Sixth and Chestnut streets.

THIRD EDITION.

BY TELEGRAPH. LATER NEWS FROM WASHINGTON. EQUALIZATION OF BOUNTIES. SAFE-GUARDS AGAINST CHOLERA. The Pennsylvania Appointments. LATEST FENIAN NEWS.

From Washington. (Special Despatch to the Bulletin.) WASHINGTON, April 27.—The friends of the bill to equalize bounties look upon the letter of Commissioner Wells to Secretary McCulloch upon that subject as fatal to that important measure.

Secretary Seward has been requested to call attention to Congress to the fact that steamers arriving at different ports which are largely overcrowded with passengers is the most fruitful source of cholera. He will therefore immediately call the attention of Congress to the matter with the view, if possible, to prevent, during the cholera season, this frightful evil.

The Senate, in executive session, yesterday, did not have under consideration any of the Pennsylvania appointments. They have not been acted upon in committee.

The Judiciary Committee had another session, to-day, but did not come to any conclusion in regard to the Jeff Davis affair.

The Fenians. PORTLAND, Me., April 27.—The steamer New Brunswick arrived from Eastport, this morning, with two hundred Fenians. On leaving for Boston, several who had gone ashore were left behind. At the entrance of the harbor the Fenians, who were spoiling for a fight, manifested their pistols on their officers, and obliged the captain to put back. Some of the ringleaders were put ashore and sent on by rail, and the boat proceeded at nine o'clock.

From California. SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—The California State Telegraph Company to-day served an injunction on the United States Pacific Telegraph Company, to prevent the latter from doing business between certain points in California.

Fire in Detroit. DETROIT, April 27.—The passenger and freight depot of the Detroit and Milwaukee and Michigan Southern Railroad, and the ferry steamer Windsor, were destroyed by fire last night.

From Fort Monroe. FORT MONROE, April 27.—Arrived steamer Rapidan, New Orleans, with Company B, 2d U. S. Colored Artillery, and sailed for New York.
