Petersburg.
Yesterday afternoon, at four o'clock, ceremonies appropriate to the occasion took place.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Robbins. Dr. Brainerd then said that he hoped that the duty of doing honor to our noble dead, begun in this church to-day, would be followed by every church in the land. He knew that, if those whose names are inscribed upon that mural tablet had been asked what tribute they would most delight in, if they were to fall in their country's cause, they would prefer to be remembered by their church and henced in the country to the country their church and hence the country to the country their church and hence the country to the country their church and hence the country their church and the country the country their church and the country their church and the country their church and the country the countr bered by their church, and honored just a we have honored them; many of those whose names appear he had baptized in their in-fancy, and he felt still that they were his children. He then introduced Charles Gibnames appear, he had baptized in their infancy, and he felt still that they were his children. He then introduced Charles Gibbons, Esq., who said:

Ladies and Genilemen: I am under great obligations to Dr. Brainerd, the distinguished and honored pastor of this church, for the opportunity of ofering upon this occasion a brief tribute of respect to the memories of the dead soldiers of the Republic. Those whose names are chiseled upon this tablet were personally known to this congregation, with whom, as I am informed, they worshiped. They could not hear the truth preached, as it was, by their loyal pastor, without being inspired with batted for treason and oppression. They gave their lives for the overthrow of both. They fell nobly in the cause of truth and instice, with the armor of righteonsness upon them. "They sleep well." The fullest measure of our gratitude is due, not to them only butte two hundred and eighty thousand more who'fell in battle, died of disease contracted in the public service, or from starvation and findish cruelty in the foul pens and prisons of the South. What can we do for them now that they are dead? Nothing, We can only associate them with the waste for which they died, and honor-them by honoring the cause. We must uphold it as worthy of their sacrifice, and never—never abandon it. They died for their country—for liberty and justice, at war with treason, oppression and wrong. They did their duty well, and it is ours to see that their services shall not be cheapened or their fame imperiled, by putting our trust in traitors, or encouraging a fale sympathy with men whose hands are stained with loyal blood, and whose hearts are as false as their oaths.

Could we insult the memories of our dead soldier more than to permit the enemies who slew them to enter our legislative halls and make laws for the people? Is the nation to be governed now by the men who sought to destroy it? Shall they wipe their bloody swords upon the fing for which the loyal soldier died, and vote in Congress against it. F

Congress.

I am not uttering a political speech, but simply the inspirations of a loyal heart, filled with respect for the memory of the men who died for us, and with gratitude to the Almighty Father for accepting them as his instruments to destroy oppression, break every yoke. memory of the men who died for us, and with gratitude to the Almighty Father for accepting them as his instruments to estroy eppression, break every yoke,
and proclaim liberty to all the inhabitants of the land,
We must secure all that our arms have won. If we lists n to that kind of instruction that comes from the false prophets of the day, who are ready to scourge us for doubting their assumed infallibility instead of naving a Moses for our leader, we shall be like the cedars of Lebanon that accepted a bramble for their ruler, and were destroyed by the fire that came out of
it. We must learn our lessons in a very different school. We had better look into the graves where cities and nations are buried, and inquire why they perished. We shall find that oppression and pride and avarice and corruption and injustice, fostered by false prophets, brought upon them the judgments of the Almighty, and the irrevocable pensity of death?
"Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee Bethasida!"
stands to day as a perpetual warning to all people and nations of the earth. I should tremble for my country now more than ever before, if I had not fattin in the power and will of almighty God to overrule the intrigues of fathless servants, and establish that jusfice whose judgments do not vary with the complexion of its wards.

Let us rejoice that our noble dead have left to us the grateful duty of putting together the grand results of their patriotic sacrifices. We have their honored and living compations to aid us in this sacred work. We have the light of Christianity to cheer us is our labors, and to illustrate and illuminate as we progress the victories of the war. What a glorious work it is to lift up from darkness and degradation into light and respectability an envire race of human beings, and insend responsible manhood.

Can any odd on any citize of the country? Can any west them with the rights and dignity of an intel igent and responsible manhood.

Can anybody complain that such labor as this can work a wrong to any citizen of the country? Can any Christian say that knowledge and Christianity and even-handed justice must be reserved for a particular race of men, and that others must be excluded from the enjoyment of them? Can any loyal man survey the battle-fields of the rebellion, or look into the homes or hearts made desolate by its wickedness, and say that its instigators and abettors, unshriven of their crimes, should be not only the peers, but the rulers of a loyal people? I cannot answer these questions for sthers, but I have answered for myself; and I think I have truly answered for those whose memories you would henor.

onid henor. Hon. Morton McMichael was then intro-Hon, Morton McMichael was men miro-duced. He did not come to make any speech. He had been introduced as the chief magistrate of Philadelphia, and he came in the name of that high position to endorse the action of this congregation in the erection of that monument to their honored dead. He hoped to see the example emulated by every Church in the land. After the conclusion of Mayor McMichael's address the assembly was dismissed with Boston, May 1.—On Wednesday last.Deputy Sheriff Dearborn arrested on a writ of ne exeat. Henry C. Wheeler, of New York wity, on board the steamer Asia, just as she was about sailing from this port, under the following circumstances: Wheeler is President of the Brunswick and Florida Railroad, and also connected with the project of the Atchison and Pike's Peak Railroad Company, in whose favor the writ was issued, and who claim that Wheeler withheld and secreted bonds to the amount of two hundred thousand dollars, and that he was about to embark for a foreign land. Probably he will be brought before the Supreme Court at an early day on a writ of habeas corpus, and his bail will be reduced to enable him to obtain the same.

The writ was issued by the Supreme Judicial Court was assued by the Supreme Judicial Court was a supreme Ju dicial Court, before which tribunal Wheeler was taken, and in default of furnishing bonds to the amount of $200,000 for his future appearance, he was committed to jail. A fire occurred this afternoon, in South Boston, on the wharf, which destroyed two one-story buildings leased by the Government for storing bonded goods. Among the property destroyed were from four thousand to five thousands hogsheads sugar and one hundred hogsheads molasses. Messrs. Atkins & Co., Nash & Spalding, and Burzess and Sons are among the principal own. gess and Sons are among the principal owners. The loss is estimated at $200,000 mostly Cabinet Meeting on Reconstruction. It is understood that at the Cabinet meet-ing yesterday the President invited an ex-pression of opinion from the Heads of Depression of opinion from the Heads of Departments respecting the propositions reported on Monday last by the Congressional Committee on Reconstruction. An interesting and adimated discussion is said to have ensued, in the course of which, if rumor be true, Secretary Seward declared himself in very decided and emphatic terms against the plan of the committee and in force of the plan of the committee, and in favor of the immediate admission of loyal representatives from the lately disloyal States.

Secretary McCulloch was as positive as the Secretary of State in hisopposition to the plan recommended by the committee and Secretary Stanton was equally decided in his opposition to the committee's proposi-tions, and was for adhering to the policy which had been agreed upon and consistently pursued by the Administration. He was gratified that the President had brought the subject to the consideration of the Cabinet.

the Cabinet.

Secretary Welles was unaquivocally against the committee's scheme, and was earnest in his support of the President's policy comprehending the instant admission into Congress of loyal Representatives from the States lately in rebellion.

from the States lately in rebellion.

Secretary Harlan was rather reticent, and expressed no opinion.

Postmaster-General Dennison was in favor of carrying out the restoration policy of the President, but expressed some doubts as to the precise time at which loyal representatives fram the Southern States should be admitted to seats in Congress.

Attorney-General Speed was not present at the meeting, being on a visit to his nome in Kentucky.

in Kentucky.
The President was earnest in his opposition to the report of the committee, and de-clared himself against all conditions precedent to the admission of loyal representa-tives from the Southern States in the shape of amendments to the Constitution or the assage of laws. He insisted that under the passage of laws. He missied that under the Constitution no State could be deprived of its equal suffrage in the Senate, and that Senators and Representatives ought to be at once admitted into their respective. at once admitted into their respective Houses, as prescribed by law and the Constitution. He was for a rigid adherence to the Constitution, as it is, and remarked that having sustained ourselves under it during a terrible rebellion, he thought that the Government could be restored without a resort to amendments. He remarked, in general terms, that if the organic law is to be changed at all, it should be at a time when the States and all the people can participate

New Haven, May 1.—General Hawley, Governor elect, and staff, accompanied by
the 3.30 P, M. train in a special car, and were met at the city limits by the horse guards, and escorted into the city amid the firing of cannon and ringing of bells.

night nominated John F. Wait, of Norwich, for President, pro tem, and John R. Buck, of Hartford, for Clerk. The Republican caucus in the House nominated David Gallup, of Plainfield, for Speaker; John Morris, of New Heyen for Clerk and Morris, of New Haven, for Clerk, and James V. From Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, May 1.—General John F. Hartranft, the new Auditor-General, and Colonel Jacob M. Campbell, the new Surveyor-General, were both inducted into office to day, having given the usual office bonds.

In the Auditor-General's Department Mr. J. W. Maurer has been appointed Chief Clerk, Mr. Theodore K. Babcock, formerly of the Cambria Iron Company, is the new Chief in the Surveyor-General's office.

Colonel William H. Armstrong to-day resigned his position as Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth, the clerks of the State Department presenting him with a hand-some and costly silver set. He retires to his house at Easton. W. W. Hays, Esq., who has served creditably for five years past as the Chief Clerk of the Secretary's Office, has been appointed as Deputy Secretary in the place of Colonel Armstrong. He assumed his duties to-day.

THE CASE OF JEFF. DAVIS.—It appears from the records of the War Department that, with the exception of the President's proclamation, none but verbal orders were given for the capture of Jefferson Davis, Major-General Wilson says that Lieutenant-Colonels Harnden and Pritchard are enti-tled to great credit for the zeal and activity with which they conducted the pursuit, and hat it is but simple justice to these worthy officers to remark they were ignorant of the reward at the time of the capture. Colonel Pritchard says it was so dark he could no distinguish the uniforms, and in the course of his narrative says:

"On my return to camp I was accosted by Davis from among the prisoners, who asked if I was the officer in command, and upon my answering him that I was, and asking him who I was to call him, he replied that I might call him what or whoever I pleased when I replied to him that I would call him Davis, and upon a moment's hesitation he said that was his name, when he suddenly drew himself up in true royal dignity and exclaimed:—'I suppose that you consider it bravery to charge a train of defenceless women and children, but it is theft—it is vandalism.'"

Nothing is said in the narrative about his being disguised. Coal Statement.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarraparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which ided the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. We think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative which we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.
