Beyond the barrier lay
A green and tempting way, Arched with fair laurel trees, abloom and Their cups of tender snow Touched with a rosy glow, And warm sweet shadows trembling over

The chestnuts sung and sighed. The solemn oaks replied,

And distant pine trees crooned in slumberous tones; While music low and clear

Gushed from the darkness near, Where a shy brook went tinkling over stones.

Soft mosses, damp and sweet, Allured our waiting feet, And brambles veiled their thorns with treacherous bloom; While tiny flecks of flowers, Which own no name of ours,

Added their mite of beauty and perfume.

And hark! a hidden bird— To sudden utterance stirred, As by a gushing love too great to bear With voiceless silenc Burst into passionate song, Filling with his sweet trouble all the air.

Then one, whose eager soul

Could brook no slight control, "Let us thread this pleasant path, If thus the way can be So beautiful to see, How much more beautiful must be the "Follow! this solitude May shrine the haunted wood, Storied so sweetly in romance and rhyme— Secure from human ill. And rarely peopled still By Fauns and Dryads of the olden time.

"A spot of hallowed ground By mortal yet unfound, Sacred to nymph and sylvan deity— Where foiled Apollo glides And bashful Daphne hides Safe in the shelter of her laurel-tree!"

"Forbear!" the other cried-"O, leave the way untried! Those joys are sweetest which we only And the impatient soul,
That seeks to grasp the whole,
Defeats itself by its own eagerness.

The dew-drop from the brake Fringing the borders of this haunted dell; And the delights which are-

Lose half their charm by being known too "And he mistakes who tries

To search all mysteries-Who leaves no cup undrained, no path untracked: Who seeks to know too much Brushes with eager touch The bloom of Fancy from the brier of Fact.

"Keep one fair myth aloof From hard and actual proof; Preserve some dear delusions as they seem; Since the reality, How bright soe'er it be, Shows dull and cold beside our marvelous dream. "Leave this white page unscored. This rare realm unexplored, And let dear Fancy roam there as she will; Whatever page we turn, However much we learn, Let there be something left to dream of still!"

Wherefore, for aught we know, The golden apples grow
In the green vale to which that pathway leads; The spirits of the wood

Still haunt its solitude, And Pan sits piping there amongst the

A Singular Explosion. [From the Providence Journal.] About twenty minutes past 11 o'clock Friday morning, one of the iron heaters (fire-proof chambers fifteen feet square and occupying two stories of the building at the Providence Rubber Works, on Dyer and Dorrance streets, blew up with a loud report, demolishing entirely a triangular portion of the two-story building, about one hundred feet long on both streets and fifty feet across. About one hundred feet more of the same building, on Dorrance street, was unroofed and badly shattered, while the south wall of the four story building was torn so that it will have to be taken down, and the extreme corner of that building demolished. Fortunately there were no persons in the demolished portions at that time. The works were not employing a large force of hands. In the lower building the only person who had occasion to be in the part destroyed, had left a few minutes before. In the third story of the other building, several girls were at work very near the place where the wall was broken in, but they escaped, and none of the help were injured.

The cause of the explosion was the ignition of the vapor of naphtha (in which substance the rubber is soaked in a preliminary stage of the manufacture) within the chamber, perhaps by the taking fire of some portion of the goods, of which a large quantity were destroyed in the heater. That the explosion was a very violent one is shown not only by the amount of devastation caused, but by the distance to which objects were blown, the fifth story windows of a building on Clifford street, upwards of building on Clifford street, upwards of 150 feet distant, being broken by them. The streets were filled with debris, but we heard of only one passer-by who was hurt. Mr. J.W.Briggs, mason, residing at 84 Point street, who was driving by on Dyer street, had his side bruised and his wagon filled with bricks. There was insurance on the buildings for upwards of fifty thousand dollars, in New York and Providence offices. Of the latter, the Commercial, Merchants, Equitable, Gaspee and Narragansett had policies of $3,000 each. The damage by fire, however, was inconsiderable. The engines played upon the ruins and kept them from burning much. The buildings destroyed had just been repaired from the effects of a recent fire.

The noted guerilla, Ellis Harper, has been seen recently in the vicinity of Rich-land station, Tenn. Several of Harper's gang were there, and it is reported that Har-per himself is in that neighborhood, badly

ABBEY OF FECAMP.

This Cordial, which dates as far back as 1510, is an This Cordial, which dates as far back as 1510, is an anti, apoplectic tonic, digestive, and of an exquisite taste. The salutary plants which compose it, gathered on the slopes of the hills of Normandy, saturated with the vivifying emanations of a Northern sea, makes it one of the best cordials and one of the most efficient preventives against epidemic affections.

Of late the Franch medical corns has been almost preventives against epidemic anections.

Of late, the French medical corps has been almost unanimous in prescrib ng its use to the sick who, by their imperfect gastric disposition, were more liable to the attacks of fevers and cholers.

CLEANSE THE BLJOD
With corrupt, disordered or vittated Blood, you are sick all over it may burst out in Pimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your bood is imrure, AYER.S. SARSAPAWilliam Sare the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease, Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scroluta, or Kiv of Evil. Tumori. Ulers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimplet Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire. Bas or Erysichair, Itter or Soit Rheum, Scald Head, Brig Worm, Oncer or Concerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Discause, such as Eduction, irregularity, Suppression, Pales, Scarlity, also Supplies or Venerual Disease; Liver Omplaints, and Heart Disease. Try AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During lais years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Saraparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with importition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the love of obloquy which rests upon it. We think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinery run of the diseases it is intended to cure. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative which we know how to produce, at dwe have reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

the best alterative which we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoursness. Croup, Bronchitts, Incipical Consumption and for the relief of Consumptive Patients is advanced stages of the disease, that is is useless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.
