SENATE.-The unfinished business of yes terday, which was the Post Office Appro-priation bill, was taken up. The pending motion was on Mr. Trumbull's amendment relative to appointment to office, the vote upon which was yesterday reconsidered.

The amendment being open to amendment

Ment, Mr. Morrill (Vt.) moved to strike out the last clause, requiring the case and cause of removal to be reported to the Senate at its The amendment of Mr. Morrill was agreed to—yeas 22, nays 16.

Mr. Trumbull offered the following substitute for the proposition now before the Ssnate, which was adopted—"That no person exercising or performing, or underta king to exercise or perform, any duties o any office which, by law, is required to be filled by the advice and consent of the Senate, shall, before confirmation, receive any compensation for his services, unless commissioned by the President to fill a va-cancy occasioned by death, resignation of expiration of term during the recess of the Senate, and since the last adjournment."

A lengthy discussion followed. The Senate, pending the consideration of the amendment of Mr. Trumbull, at five o'clock P. M., adjourned, HOUSE.—The House proceeded to the consideration of the special order, being the joint resolution reported by the Reconstruction Committee, proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the States. Mr. Stevens made a speech in support of the joint resolution. Mr. Blaine (Me.) called the attention of Mr. Stevens and of the House to an objection to the third section of the amendment, which he deemed serious, if not fatal. That section provided that until July 4, 1870, all persons who voluntarily adhered to the late insurrection, giving it aid and comfort, should be excluded from the right to vote for Representatives in Congress, and for Electors for President and Vice President of the United States. It appeared to him that was not a resolution of good faith in reference to that large class of people in the South who came within the terms of the Amnesty proclamation of President Johnion, and vho were thereby restored to all their civil rights. He asked Mr. Stevens for an explanation of that point. Mr. Stevens admitted that the pardon extinguished the crime. After pardon there was no such crime in the individual. Those who were fully pardoned did not come within the operation of the third section

Mr. Blaine understood, then, the gentleman from Pennsylvania to say that those who came within the terms of the proclamation of amnesty would not be considered as having "voluntarily adhered to the late insurrection."

Mr. Stevens assimilated their condition to that of a person convicted of felony, and thereby rendered incompetent to testiny, and who, if pardoned, and if his testimony were challenged, could produce his pardon, and thereby show his competency. Mr. Blaine suggested that if it was the proper construction to be given to the sec-tion, it should be so amended as that there would be no question about its construction. and he should, at the proper time, move an amendment to that effect.

amendment to that effect. The point made by Mr. Blaine, and vir-tually admitted by Mr. Stevens to be well taken, seemed to create a considerable stir in the Republican ranks. Members drew near and listened to the colloquy with great interest, as if recognizing the possibly fatal character of the objection.

The debate was continued at great length by Messrs. Finck, Smith, and Boyer, in op-position to the measure, and by Messrs. Garfield and Kelley in support of it. The hour of half-past four o'clock having arrived, the House took a recess till half-past seven o'clock, when the Tax bill is to be exclusively the subject of consideration.

sincere admiration: Mr. Bob Sawyer's party, from "Pickwick," was given as the second portion of the Readings, and formed subscriptiol edition to the mission of the a substantial addition to the enjoyment of the evening. From Fortress Monroe. FORTRESS MONROE, May 7.- A gentleman arrived here yesterday from kichmond, with several presents, amongst them a black silk dress and other articles of comfort from the ladies of Richmond, a dona-tion to Mrs. Davis. The casemates in the Fortress which have been selected for the ac-commodation of Mrs. Davis are rapidly being fitted up in a very comfortable though not luxurious manner. General Miles has lately issued an order detailing an orderly or her use, in place of the services of the officer of the day, whose duties since her arrival here have considerably increased, trom his having to escort her, at stated hours, to Carroll Hall, where Davis is confined. Since her arrival, Mrs. Davis has casually Since her arrival, Mrs. Davis has casually remarked the failing state of the prisoner's health, and entertains, it is said, serious fears of his ultimate recovery, should he be attacked during the coming summer by one of his periodical spells of intermittent fever and congestive chills. Mrs. Davis's general health remains good.

Some of the lady friends of Mrs. Davis in Baltimore, are making up various articles as presents, which will be shortly forwarded ere for her use during her sojourn in the Fortress.

Murder Trial. HERRIMER, N. Y., May 8.—At the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in session at this place, Judge Bacon presiding, a bill of indictment was found this morning against Asa Fuller, Hill Davis, Irving Vance, Charles Vance, and Thomas Dutcher for murder. The indictment charges them with killing John D. Camp-bell, at Frankfort Hill, on the 6th of February last. The young men were arraigned and plead not guilty. Fuller, one of the prisoners, and charged in the indict-ment as the leading participator, had his right arm off at the time of the alleged murler, about five inches from the shoulder, and the left arm off above the wrist. They were all jointly indicted. It is expected that the trial will commence next Monday. This afternoon the prisoners, Asa Fuller Hill Davis, frying Vance, Charles Vance, Hill Davis, frying Vance, Charles Vance and William Dutcher, pleaded to gailty to murder in the second degree, and were each sentenced to seven years imprisonment in the State prison.

-There was a pretty full attendance of members at half-past seven a'clock, when the House went into Com-mittee on the Tax bill. The first section, imposing a tax of 5 cents per pound on cotton, being under consideration, the ques-tion was taken on Mr. Lynch's amendment. exempting 600 pounds in the hands of the producer from taxation, and it was re-

Mr. Upson (Mich.) moved to reduce the tax to 3 cents per pound.

The question was taken upon Mr. Up-son's amendment, and it was rejected. So the tax on raw cotton was fixed at 5 cents per pound.

The House passed to the consideration of the subsequent sections regulating the de-tails for assessing and collecting the tax on cotton. There were no amendments other than verbal or unimportant offered to the second, third, fourth, or fifth sections.

Mr. Lynch (Maine) moved to amend the sixth section, by striking out the words "when exported," and the words "on ex-ported," so as to allow the drawback on cotton manufactures consumed in this country, as well as on those exported. The question was taken upon Mr. Lynch's

Dickens' New Readings in London. The London Telegraph has the following: Last night Mr. Charles Dickens read for the first time in London that charming story of Dr. Marigold, which formed the introduc-tion to the last Christmas number of All the Year Round. The breathless attention with which every incident in the narrative was followed, the strong feeling of reality which was produced, the vivid impression of each personage described in the printed page coming forth into positive existence, forcibly attested the marvelous dramatic power of the reciter. The form in which Mr. Dickens thus gives his works to the public is indeed that of a recitation rather than a is indeed that of a recitation rather than a reading, for the eye never refers to the book, and the constant change in the expression of voice and feature comes in valuable aid of the effect produced by the keen humor and touching pathos of the story. The "Cheap Jack" is actually seen in his cart as he tempts his rustic auditors with wares of small price and high value, and the political "Cheap Jack," who makes as many pro-mises with equal recklessness of fulfilment, stands forth substantially to view. tands forth substantially to view. The pathetic scene with "Little Sophy," struggle between the wish to conc and the inability to repress the emotions as the child, death smitten with fever, expires in the father's arms as he is uttering pires in the father's arms as he is uttering the laugh-oreating jokes of his craft, went thoroughly home to the hearts of the au-ditors, and might be cited as a marked proof of the real histrionic genius possessed by the gifted novelist. The giant with a good deal too much in him for his joints and his mind must have been visibly present to all within hearing of that voice, which so com-pletely realized a notion of his prominent pletely realized a notion of his prominent peculiarities, and the poor, deaf and dumb girl, bought by the warm-hearted "Dr. Marigold" for a dozen pair of braces, and rducated by him with so much thoughtful are and tender affection as his adopted laughter, became a delightful reality which to auditor would have dared to disprove vhilst under the influence of such potent lusion. In his double capacity of auditor amed Crowley, last night. Hayes died in two hours after being shot.
