Especial Despatch to the Bulletin.]!

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The statement that Secretary Seward had gone to New York, is untrue. He is at the State Departpartment to-day.

In anticipation of the passage of the new thirty year five per cent, loan, Jay Cooke to-day received an order from New York for two hundred thousand dollars, from a private invester.

The Senate Commerce Committee to-day reported favorably upon the nomination of Mr. Smythe, the New York Collector.

The House will probably strike out the third section of the Constitutional Amend-

The vote on it will be very close.

The President has completed his veto of the Colorado bill.

A British Vessel Used by alleged Fenians. New York, May 10.—Capt. McBiune, of the British schooner Wentworth, from Windsor to this port, reports that on the 2d inst. his vessel was seized off Grand Menan by a party of sixty men, under the com-mand of Col. Kelly, who said they were

They scuttled the fishy craft they were in and after keeping possession of the Wentworth about four hours landed at a place called Brady's Mistake. They acted in a very orderly manner, doing no damage either to the vessel or crew. After they left Capt. McBlune resumed command and proceeded on his voyage.

Explosion of a Shell-Loss of Life. Boston, May 10.—In the iron foundry of Davies & Farnum, at Waltham, yesterday afternoon, a shell which had been purchased for old iron, exploded, instantly killing Wm. H. SENATE.—The House bill to authorize the Vice Admiral of the Navy to appoint a Secretary, with the rank and pay of a Lieutenant, was passed.

A resolution calling upon the Secretary of War for information as to the intention of the Government with regard to the Government works at Harper's Ferry, was adopted.

The bill to authorize the coinage of five cent, pieces was assed.

The bill to authorize the coinage of five cent. pieces was passed.
On the expiration of the morning hour the Post Office Appropriation bill was taken up.
House.— Immediately after the reading of the Jonrnal the House resumed the consideration of the Constitutional Amendment, reported by the Reconstruction Committee.
Mr. Randall (Pa.) addressed the House in opposition to the measure. He wished that the colored race in the Southern States were allowed to occupy the same position as they did in his own State; but he was not willing that the general government should interfere with the matter in Pennsylvania; neither was he willing that it should interfere with it in the South. The injustice and animus of the third section had been so thoroughly exposed by gentlemen on the Republican side that he deemed it unnecessary to say anything about it. further than to express his belief that the intention was to prevent the possibility of any Southern State voting for the amendment as a whole.

The scheme was one of procrastination and delay.

The scheme was one of procrastination and delay looking to the exclusion of the Southern States till after the next Presidential election. The President's plan, on the contrary, was plan, and simply just and effectual; and, as he believed, acceptable to the people Nooth and South.

The issue between the President and Congress was made up and the appeal must be made to the people. He believed that nothing could avert the speedy possession of the legislative branch of the Government by the conservative men of the country under the lead of Andrew Johnson.

Mr. Stromse (Pa.) followed on the same side. He definition is the conservative men of the same side. He definition was never intended to be by the conservative men of the country index the lead of Andrew Johnson.

Mr. Strouse (Pa.) followed on the same side. He declared that the Constitution was never intended to be plastered and patched, and that Congress should be exceedingly cantious about tampering with it.

Many Republican members being gathered in groups throughout the hall, and paying no attention to the gentleman who had the floor,

Mr. Le Blond (Obio made a point of order that it was not in order for members of this "harmonious party" to hold caucus meetings during the session of the House. ie House. The Speaker good humeredly sustained the point of The Speaker good humeredly sustained the point of order.
The groups separated and retired to the cloak room, and Mr. Strouse proceeded with his remarks.
Mr. Banks (Mass.) was the next speaker. He regarded this us the most important question that could be presented to Congress or the country. He believed that the reorganization of the governments in the insurgent States could only be safely made by effecting a change in the basis of political society.
He did not believe in theoretical constitutionality, or statutory provisions, or in anything that left the basis of political society in the Southern States un touched, and left the enemies of the country in a condition for renew the war. Therefore no proposition met his entire approval which did not effect a radical change in the basis of political society in these States; but be did not expect the House to adopt his opinions, nor would he insist on any theories of. his own. He had no doubt that the Government of the United States had franchise to the colored people of the South, but he franchise to the colored people of the South, but he country was such at this moment as to make it impossible. He therefore thought is was on the part of the Committee on Reconstruction to waive that matter in reference to public opinion.
