SPECIAL NOTICES.

AN APPEAL. We would respectfully call the attention of the public to the following facts in connection with the AMERICAN UNION COMMISSION of Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Soon after the organization of this branch of the Commission, in Ocober, 185, we were solicited to accept the State of Georgia as our field of operations. This request was nunnimously agreed to.

An agent was immediately sent down to ascertain, from personal observation and consultation, where, and in what way, we could labor with the greatest efficiency.

A large quantity of clothing was likewise forwarded for general distribution among the needy, without regard to collect a search which the large country of the property wisit proposed that the along A large quantity of clothing was likewiss forwarded for general distribution among the needy, without regard to color.

The result of our agent's visit proved that the closing of the war had left the poor whites and blacks equally ignorant, destitute and impoverished. He also found a number of societies of the North and Westengaged in relieving and educating the colored people-very little was being done for the amelioration of the sinferings of the poor white population, and nothing whatever for the improvement of their minds. This was a circumstance, lamented alike by him and the agents of these societies; and as the American Union Commission went forth to do good to all, as opt ortunity presented their, our agent was earnestly entreated to interest himself in providing means for the education of the poor white children.

His report was forwarded to the Commission, who, after due deliberation, resolved, in the spiritof genuine patriotism and a true Christian charity, to aid in elevating this class, which it had always been the alm and purpose of the institution of slavery to keep in the dust.

Schools were accordingly commenced in the cities of and purpose of the institution of slavery to keep in the dust.

Schools were accordingly commenced in the cities of Atlants, Macon and Athens. In Atlanta houses for Atlanta, Macon and Athens. In Atlanta houses for the purpose had to be erected. We have now seven hundred children, under the care of teachers principally from the State of Pennsylvania. These children, but for our ald, would now be growing up in the most abject ignorance, subjected to all the evils of neglect and idleness.

Every expense attending this work up to the present time has been met. We are anxious to continue these schools for two years, and, it encouraged, open others in additional places. At the expiration of the time specified, it is believed the State authorities will assume the charge of carrying them on. At present they have not the ability to do it.

With this brief statement of facts presented to the benevolent people of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, we confidently ladulge the hope that prompt and liberal aid will be afforded us in making good the offer extended to the people of Georgia, and by them gratefully accepted.

An act of sympathy and kindness such as this is fully accepted.

An act of sympathy and kindness such as this is needed, as a thank-offering to God for his interposing providence in our behalf, and as furnishing sultable material for the closing chapter in the history of the material for the closing chapter in the history of the war.

This feeling of humanity, this demand of patriotism, is second only to the requirements of the gospel, viz.

'Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good." 'I say unto you, love your enemies bless them that curse you. do good to them that thate you." 'So if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye."

GREENE COUNTY GOLD.—We call attention to the advertisement of the Amber Gold Mining Company of Pennsylvania whose property is in Greene county. Specimens of the ore have been analyzed at the Mint, and the official report of the assayer shows it to be very rich. This is a good deal more convenient to our citizens than California or Colorado.

MISS ANNA E. DICKINSON.-This eloquent vonne ady, who has just returned from the West, after an absence of several months, has been invited by a number of her friends in this city to deliver an address at the Academy of Music, on "My Policy." She has con-sented to do so, and Friday evening, the 18th inst., has een named as the time. She will, of course, have a crowded house. So popular was this lecture in the West, and so great was the demand for its repetition, that she was com-pelled to decline innumerable invitations to repeat it The loyal press of the West have passed glowing enconiums upon this latest effort in oratory of a most glited

The sale of tickets for the lecture on the 18th inst. will commence on Monday morning next, at T. B' Pugh's Book Store, Southwest corner of Sixth and

We are to have another treat from the Handel and Haydn Society next week. The great success achieved in bringing out Elijah," has stimulated this enterprising Society to further efforts, and on Tuesday next we are to have Haydn's master-piece, "The Seasons," performed at the Academy of Music. "The Seasons" was the last great work of Haydn, written in 1800, when the composer was nearly seventy years of age It does not belong properly either to the class of oratorios, operas or cantatas, but is a species of blending of all three. The general tone of the composition is of a light, graceful character, and at the same time more elaborate than either of Haydn's earlier works. It is so long a time since "The Seasons" was last brought out in Philadelphia, that the music will have all the freshness and novelty of an entirely new composition. The Handel and Haydn Society has made every preparation for a fine performance. The leading Soprano part has been assigned to Miss Caroline Richings and, abounding as it does in dramatic effect it could scarcely have been placed in better hands. The Tenor solos will be sung by Mr. George Simpson, who gave so much satisfaction, in his performance of "Elijah;" and the Bass will be admirably sustained by Mr. J. R. Thomas, of New York.

The chorus has been thoroughly drilled, and will doubtless maintain the high credit which it gained at the last appearance of the Society in public. The Germania Orchestra, largely augmented for the occasion, will give its powerful aid in producing the beautiful effects which abound throughout the exquisite accompaniments of "The Sea-The whole performance will be unsons." der the direction of Carl Sentz, who demonstrated by his masterly leading of "Elijah" his ability to appreciate and interpret the greatest works of the greatest classical masters. We trust that there will be such a crowded audience at the Academy on Tuesday evening as will encourage the "Handel and Haydn" in its most laudable efforts to cultivate a love for an elevated and classical style of music.

The Organ Concert at St. Clement's Church, last evening, attracted a large and brilliant audience, including most of our well known professional and amateur musicians. It would be difficult to exaggerate the many and varied beauties of this splendid instrument, which is alike a credit to its talented builder, Mr. Stanbridge and to the liberality of the congregation which has rescued it from oblivion and reconstructed it with such complete suc-

It is always difficult to describe musical any adequate idea of the numerous beauties of a great organ, such as the one which we heard, with so much pleasure, last night. The low, bird-like warbling of the "Kalophone" and the lighter Dulcianas: the smooth, melodious tones of the Stop Diapasons and Flutes; the bold, deep Open Diapasons; the fine reedy Clarioneis and Oboes; the shrill Cornets and Sesquialtras; and the clang of the magnificent Trumpet;

Diagnaons; the fine reedy Clarioneis and Sequilatians; and the clang of the magnificent Trumpet; all in turn challenged the admiration of the delighted audience, while under and over and around all, rolled the deep, thunder bass of the superb Double-Open Diapasons of the Pedal Organ.

As for the concert, as such, we have not much to say. The object being to exhibit the Organ and not to illustrate Organ music, we are not disposed to criticise the oharacter of the programme. Everything was well played, and a part of the vocal performance was very good. Mr. Bishop's two pieces were sung with all the delicacy and good teste of which he is so eminently the master, and the last soprano solo, "I know that my Redeemer liveth," was very well done, though we could not but feel that Mr. Stanbridge, in his most pardonable enthusiasm for his perfection, and content, and may justly be regarded as the gen of the evening. It was original, dignified, organ, indicated the old leases on of "go thou and do likewise" to many of his hearers. Mr. Clarke's two selections were appropriate and in excellentiate. The "Hymn of Praise" with the worn-out, frivolous, inappropriate overture from Zampa, Mesers. Getze and Warner did all with it that there is in it, but, after all, it was a sort of wilderness of first-rate form, it was a designed to the old excess of the evening was in following the "Hymn of Praise" with the worn-out, frivolous, inappropriate overture from Zampa, Mesers. Getze and Warner did all with it that there is in it, but, after all, it was a sort of wilderness of first-rate form which they ought to compel an uneducated to the old excuse made that "the peopele love to have it so," but the people will forever continue to love to have it so, as long as those whose privilege and duty it is to direct and control musical taste, are content to come; down to the low level, from which they ought to compel an uneducated the old excuse made that "the people will forever continue to love to have it so, as long as those whose privilege organ, and also in aiding in completing the few details yet needed for its perfection. If we sighed in vain for a noble old fugue or two or wished that the whole programme had been cast in a more classic mould, we still believe that there is a "good time coming" when these things will be more studied by our professional men, and congo to listen and to learn.

Cutler, who, for a long time was the Musical Director at Trinity Church. The Festival is to be given at Irving Hall, on the 15th and 17th inst., and will be a very attractive entertainment. The chorus, entirely of male voices, will comprise over one hundred boys and men, and will undoubtedly be one of the finest ever heard in this country. One feature of this Festival will be a Descripture Lecture on the English Cathedrals, with choral illustrations. Mr. Erben is putting up one of his fine instruments for the occasion. The programme includes selections from Elijah, Samson, and other standard Oratorios. This Festival is attracting much attention both in New York and in this city and we hear of considerable parties who design running over to New York for the purpose of enjoying what is certain to be a fine musical treat.

THE FENIAN HEAD CENTRE IN NEW YORK.

HIS RECEPTION YESTERDAY.

O'Mahony and Roberts Call Upon Him.

RESIGNATION OF O'MAHONY.

Reconciliation of the Factions Expected.

[From to-day's N. Y. Times.] The Metropolitan Hotel swarmed yesterday with gratified Hibernians, who flocked in crowds to pay their respects to James Stephens, Chief Executive of the Irish Re-public, and to extend to him a warm wel-come to the "Land of the Free," His movements yesterday were somewhat cir-cumscribed, he being in the hands of the Fenian Executive Committee. The greater part of the day was given up by him to receiving visitors at his room, No. 232 Metropolitan Hotel.

Mr. Stephens is a thick-set, wiry-looking man, about 5 feet 3 or 4 inches tall, and is dressed in a plain, simple business suit. His head is quite bald, revealing a bold, prominent forehead. What hair he has is of a light color, wavy in appearance and very fine. His complexion is florid, his eye keen and penetrating. The expression of his face is mild, and when lit up with smiles, his eyes beaming with mirth, is very pleasant to look upon. His manners are exceedingly affable and agreeable, and his language betokens the true Irish gentleman. The words which flow from his mouth are tinged with that "sweet Irish brouge" which is so pleasant to hear when spoken by persons of cultivation. Mr. Stephens's appearance and courteous manners make a pleasing impression upon outsiders, while admiring Fenians rave with delight at his ur-effects in words, and it would be quite imbanity. banity. The O'Mahony faction, having long a go recognized by him as the true Feniau Brotherhood, received him on his arrival here, and he still remains in the hands of their Executive Committee, of which Capt. John Rafferty is Chairman. Early in the John Rafferty is Chairman. Early in the day Col. John O'Mahony called upon Mr. Stephens, and was speedily closeted with him in another room. A long consultation followed, which was frequently interrupted by Mr. Stephens being called into the reception room to be welcomed by new visit tors. At length Capt. Rafferty thumped upon the table, and spoke as follows:

the fallen, while Roberts and Stephens enter the chamber from which he has been so coldly shouldered.

There will be a mass meeting of Feniaus at Jones' Wood on Tuesday next. in the cause of Ireland, under the auspices of James Stephens. An admission fee of fifty cents will be charged, the proceeds to be appropriated to the use of the embroyo Republic. Mr. Stephens will, on that occasion, explain, the position of Irish affairs, and his plants and ideas in regard thereto. Other speakers will be in attendance. All Fenian circles and all Irish societies in New York and vicinity are invited 'to attend, Such as accept the invitation are requested to signify their intention to D. A. Sutton, Egg., at the Metropolital Hotel, in order that places may be provided for them.

B. Doran Killian called on Mr. Stephens during the day, and solicited an interview. This being granted, he proceeded to complain of the treatment he had received at the hands of Colonel O'Mahony, and denied his authority to remove him from his position as Secretary of the Treasury. The belligerent raider of Campo Beilo attempted to bluster somewhat, but was speedily ard quietly squelched by Mr. Stephens, who informed him that the action of Colonel O'Mahony was approved not only by himself but by the Rocher-hood.

We have above given Mr. Stephens's Various title sequently more appreciated by those who and designations, by all of which he is popularly known and addressed, and all of which are erroneous. His colicial little is "Central Organizer of the Irish Republic." All Fenian Brotherhoods and all Head Centres are subordirate to him.

At 9 o'clock last evening Mr. Stephens attended Niklo's Garden, in company with the Executive Committee. The party occupied the stage box on the right hand side of the theatre, which had been adorned with the national flags of America and Ireland, the ftars and Stripes and the Harp of Erin blending together harmonicusly in graceful folds. The audience, on perceiving Mr. Stephens, greeted him with rounds of applause, the orchestra playing "Fall to the Chief," "Hail Columbia" and other national sirs. The performance for the evening was "Romeo and Juliet." The Fenian party remained through one act, witnessing the balcony scene, and at its conclusion retired. While Mr. Stephens was passing out the audience again became enthusiastic, saluting him with three cheers, and pressing close upon him to receive a view of his person. He was compelled from a press of business, to return to his botel at an early hour.

At 10 o'clock a large crowd assembled in front of the and designations, by all of which he is popularly known and addressed, and all of which are erroneous.

nim with three cheers, and pressing close upon him to receive a view of his person: He was compelled from a press of business, to return to his hotel at an early hour.

At 10 o'clock a large crowd assembled in front of the hotel, it having been announced that there would be a serenade at 11 o'clock. Several Fenian Circles marched to the spot in good o der, and formed line on the opposite side of the street, while the intermediate space was filled with a crowd of other persons eager to see the great Irish leader. Some misunderstanding had occurred in reference to the hour at which the band was to be in attendance, the crowd was kept in waiting a long time. The assemblege relieved the tedium of the hour and itself by vociferous cheering, but retaining its good burnor throughout. By the time the music arrived the entire street in front of the botel for nearly the whole block was packed with human beings like sardines in a box. Mr. Stephens at length appeared on the baicopy, and was greated with cheering propagation several minutes. Mr. Stephens meantime remained uncovered, and bowing his acknowledgments. Quiet having at length been ebtained, Mr. Stephens appeared on the baicopy, and was greated with cheering propagate in substance as follows:

My Country way: I look upon this demonstration as an honor to Ireland. I thank you in the name of Ireland, and on my own behalf, for some pertion of the rejoing falls to my shareas the representative of our country. As I said last night, I do not intend to address you until I have investigated the affairs of our Brotherhood in this country and fully understand them. It is my intention to spare no efforts to effect a reconciliation of all parties. There are many good men and furtue Irishmen who are now at variance, and I shall make every concession compatible with the honor of Ireland and myself, to bring about a united Brotherhood. I wish to impress upon your minds the necessity of united action on our part—this we must heep or a mass meeting on Tuesday next, and there I exp made to say anything two values proceedings of might.

Mry Stephens then retired, and after Monahan's hand I ad treated the crowd to some good old Trish airs, it dispersed.

The following is Colonel O'Mahony's letter of resignation.

airs, it dispersed.

The following is Colonel O'Mahony's letter of resignifiation:

Headotabetes F. B. New York, May 11, 1855.—
James Stephent, C. E. F. B.—Brother: I feel it to be imperatively incumbent upon meat this momentous crisis in Irish affairs, to tender you my resignation as Head Centre of the Fenian Brotherhood, and Agent of the Irish Republic.

My reasons for this step are two-fold. The first is my consciousness of the fact that in consenting to the recent disastrons attempt to capture Campo Bello, I yiolated my duty, not alone to the Fenian Brotherhood and the Irish Republic, but to the best interests of the Irish race, as also to my previous unvaried policy. It matters little now to recapitulate what were the arguments and what the pressure brought to bear upon me in order to force me to depart from my settled pian of action. Enough that the attempt has ended in disaster—that the energies of the Brotherhood have been paralyzed, and that, unless you can restore it to hope and vigor, its object will have been defeated and its long years of hopeful trial will have ene defeated and its long years of hopeful trial will have ene defeated and its long years of hopeful trial will have ene defeated and its long years of hopeful trial will have been defeated and a common Irish platform, under your guidance, among all of my countrymen that are true and sincere in the recent quarrels among the American Fenians many good Irishmen may, regard me with feelings of personal hostility with which they cannot regard you.

Trusting that your advent to America, at the present juncture, may be productive of all the good to our race that the Fenian Brotherhood and myself expect of it, and that it, may promote unity of plan and concert of action, fraternal harmory with steadfast hope and firm resolve in the Fenian ranks, I have the honor to remain in frateraity. Your obed't servit.

Like the dying Swan, the last notes of the decapitate of the decapita action, fraternal harmony with steadfast hope and firm resolve in the Fenlan ranks, I have the honor to remain in frateralty. Your obed't sery't.

JOHN O'MAHONY, H. C. F. B.

Like the dying Swan, the last notes of; the decapitated Head Centre are the sweetest, It will be observed that he make, no mention of the large sums of money entrusted to him. Fenicarically speaking the great O'Mahony has departed to that bourne whence no moriburd Head Centres return no more—at least such is the belief and the hope of the Brotherhood he has so grossly misdirected.

Alt. Stephens acceptance of the resignation is couched in the following language:

METROPOLITAN: HOTEL, New York, May 11, 1868.—

IN JANO JIMONY, Esq.: BROTHER: In my opinion you have acted wisely and patriotically in tendering your resignation under actual circumstances. No man worth that name questions your honor and devotion to Ireland. But the united action we desire so much, and to effect which I have left Ireland, at your invitation, would be impossible while you directed affairs here. If must be needless to tell you why. I feel bound, however, to say that, in sanctioning the late most deplorable divergence from the true part, you not only gave proof of weakness, but committed a crime less excusable in you than in any other man. For you should have known that your project, however successin, would have recollected how I supported you at a critical moment, because I believed you were opposed to every project that would lead the true Irishmen of this continent from the original aim and boliest duty of the Fenlan Brotherhood—direct sasistance to the "men in the gap," Everything considered then, I feel imperatively called on to accept your resignation. But while accomplish what I ame for; and so, in good cheer and unswerving faith, I am yours, fraternally.

COURTS. COMMON PLEAS—Judge Ludlow.—Price vs. The City of Philadelphia. This morning Judge Ludlow delivered the following opinion in the above case:
This is an application for a special injunction avainst the City Commissioners and the City of Philadelphia, to restrain the defendants from "entering into a contract with Samuel M. Smith to furnish to the Department of the City Commissioners" certain articles of stationery specified in the schedule annexed to the bill filed in this stit.

It is too late to question the installation. Injunction, Against the City Commis cract with Samuel M. Smith to furnish to the Department of the City Commissioners' certain articles of attionery specified in the schedule annexed to the bill filed in this suit.

It is too late to question the jurisdiction of this Court in a cause like the present. We have exercised the power now invoked in more than one instance, and nearly a year ago we were called upon to express an opinion in a contest then pending between the same parties who are now before the Court, and, in a case very similar to the present, the late President of the Court then delivered an opinion upon the aubject, in which I concurred, and it is useless now to repeat what was then said; or to attempt to overthrow the principle upon which that judgment was jounded, and we therefor proceed at once to determine this controversy by the evidence in the cause.

It cannot be doubted that the City Commissioners were bound by the ordinance of 50th December, 1885, to open the proposals in the presence of the Committee of Finance, and to award the contract to the lowest bidder. The question is—Did they do this? If theyfild not, and the bid of Samuel M. Smith was not opened in the presence of the Committee of his bid.

The solution of the question at issue depends upon the testimony of Mr. Marcer, the Chairman of the Committee, and of Mr. Eckstein, the clerk.

Mr. Marcer identified a paper purporting to be the bid of Mr. Emith by writing his name and the day of the month and year at the end thereof, but he declares that he did so after the bids he and the read, and merey for the purpose of identification. Hefurther says: "We depended upon our clerk for taking a memorandum of the bids." And again. "After all had been read I put my name on such as lay upon the table." The clerk makes a record of the bids, and it was not worth while for me to sign each bid as it wesseparately presented and read." The wind of the committee, I have here the original notes; I did not hear any bid of samuel M. Smith read off, I shink if therefind been one read I would all."

This witness was re-called, and he again said, "I made a memorandum of the bids as presented, they were read aloud by Mr. Hamilton; the bid of Mr. Smith don't appear on the paper (memorandum); I don't think the bid of Mr. Smith could have been read without my hearing it; I did not hear Mr. Smith's name at all; I would have heard it, I think, if it had been read?" read."
When we remember that the bid in question consisted must this conclusion force itself upon the mind, when we further remember that Mr. Eckstein did not copy the bids, but noted them down as read by Hamilton, that he did not see the originals, and that his memorandum contains the names of the bidders, and the various items of each or the several bids then and there read and yet this paper does not contain the name of S. M. Smith, nor a single item representing an one of the seventeen distinct bids said to have been n ade.

The affidavit of the Committee of the seventeen distinct bids and the said to have been n.

an one of the seventeen distinct bids said to have been nade.

The affidavit of the City Commissioner does not, when closely examined, contradict this state of facts.

"I will produce the bids which were opened in the presence of the Committee of Finance, as attested by it eir Chairman, Joseph F. Marcer, at that time," says the affidavit, but it does not declare that the bid was read with the other bids, and at the same time, and Mr. Marcer simply identified papers handed to him after the proposals had been opened and read; he depended upon the clerk of his committee to make a note of the proposals, and has no knowledge of the contents of the various papers before the Committee and the Commissioners, and does not remember that Mr. Smith's hid was read at all.

With this evidence before us it is clearly our duty to restrain the defendants from entering into this contract, and we therefore grant the special injunction upon a bond being, executed by complainants in the sum of $300.

New Jersey matters.

HIS OCCUPATION'S GONE.—It is now carrently reported that, through the instrumentality of Hon, William A. Newell, ex-Governor of New Jersey, the influence of James. M. Scovel with President Johnson, so far as the removals and appointments for the First Congressional District are concerned is at an end. The President has been made to understand the character of the man who vaunts so extensively, and who assumes to carry the State of New Jersey on his shoulders, and has in consequence, suspended his appointments on Mr Scovel's recommendation. Nevertheless, Scovel is still, active, and is now engaged in writing letters to different public officers in the district, plainly informing them that, if they wish to retain their situations, they must pledge themselves to his (Scovel's) support for the next Congressman, a member having to be chosen the coming election. It is evident, therefore, that James has a penchant for that position, and if he cannot get the Republican or Democratic nomination, he will run as an independent candidate. Should he even do this, a position which he thinks will force one of the parties to accept him, he will be as much of a disappointed man, as he is now, condemned by every an ember of the Republican party.

New Bridge.—The workmen are busy HIS OCCUPATION'S GONE.—It is now

NEW BRIDGE.—The workmen are busy in a rying pliesecrost he thorough fare at atlantic City, on which to build a new bridge for the turnpike now being constructed from Pieasantyllie to the City, over the meadows. The bridge will be about a quarter of a mile from the railroad crossing. This road, it is said, will be completed at an early day during the coming season, and will afford one of the most pleasant drives be ween Atlantic City and the main land, to the sciourners at that sea-side city.

RAILROAD EXTENSION—The Camden and Atlantic Bailroad Company are contemplating soon to extend the track of heir road at Atlantic City down the beach a distance of several miles. This will be a convenience which the residents and settlers there have long needed, and one that will be of great benefit to the place, particularly set it will have a tendency, to invite extensive improvements at the west end of that already rapidly improving city.

ATLANTIC COUNTY.—The new Board of New Bridge.—The workmen are busy :

ATLANTIC COUNTY.—The new Board of Chosen Freeholders, for Atlantic county, was organized on Wednesday. A new clerk, in place of O. A. Douglas, democrat, was elected. The new Board has a majority of Republican members. The usual business was transacted, and the annual Standing Committees expenieted.

WOODS BURNED.—A few days ago a seri-ous fire occurred in the woods, near the Mullics river, below Egg Harbor City, which destroyed three or four dwelling houses and much other property belore it was CRIMINAL BUSINESS.—The criminal business for the May term of the Camden County Courts, will commence on Monday next, that day having been fixed by J. H. Jenkins, Esq., Prosecutor of the Pless.

AMUSEMENTS.

The benefits last evening passed off in a manner pleasing to the recipients, at the Academy of Music, the Walnut, Arch and Chestnut, and none have cause to complain of the pecuniary result, so far as we are aware. The Ravels close their engagement to-night, and we join heartily in the enlogy of a cotemporary on Mr. I. A. Einmerman, the business manager of the lessee, and Mr. George Hood, who dominates over the ticket effice of the Academy. Much of the success of the Eavels is due to their exertions. Miss Price's bonefit at the Arch was a real trimmh. "The Silver ticket effice of the Academy. Much of the spacess of the Eavels is due to their exertions. Miss Price's benefit at the Arch was a real triumph. "The Silver Lining" was cast in a manner equal to that of any theatre in the country, and Miss Price read and acted with wonderful grace, treling and power. Mr. Frank Mordaunt, as the hero, acted splendidly, giving the andience an excellent sample of his very best style. Mr. Marlowe was seperb in the genial jolly character he represented, and Mr. James, Mrs. Creese, Mrs. Henri, Miss Beeves and Mrs. Worreil all acted as if inspired. We hope to see this admirable piece enacted meny times at Mrs. Drew's theatre. Mr. Mordaunt reclied "Sheridan's Ride" in mintably, and made a graceful speech on being called out in "The Lean of a Lover" and "Robert Macaire" Miss Cornelia Jefferson and Mr. Sam. Hemple delighted everybody, and in fact the entire entertainment was a perfect success. We hope the organization of the company at the Arch will remain as it was last evening. To-night "Waiting for the Verdict" will be given here, with Miss Fannis V. Tilton as the heroine, with Miss Jefferson in her unrivalled character of "The Good For Nothing." On Monday Mrs. Henri has her benefit. At the Wainut "Hamliet" will be repeated till further notice. At the Chestont Edwin Adams appears in "The Robbers" with "My Wife's Bonnet" for an afterpiece. On Monday "The Dead Heart" will be grandly brought out. This afternoon and evening are the final Ravel performances at the Academy. At the American we have "Maseppe" and other attractions. At Assembly Building Sixtor Blitz is lord of the Sphynx and other marvels. Howe's Circus give two final performances this afternoon and evening. We learn that Miss Lucy Rushton will shortly appear at the Arch Street Theatre for a brief engagement.
