Great Meeting of Missouri Fnionists. St. Louis, May 11.—The Radical meeting last night, in commemoration of the capture of Camp Jackson, five years ago, was one of the largest and most enthusiastic gatherings ever assembled in this city. Speeches were made from three stands by Gov. Oglesby, of Illinois, Gov. Fletcher, Secretary of State Rodman, Chas. D. Drake, and several other distinguished persons distinguished persons.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, first, That the question of reconstruction of rebellious States belonging to the people through their Senators and Representatives in Congress, and not to the Executive, we cannot approve of the attempt of the Executive to organize and recognize the existence of State Governments in those States without the consent of Congress.

Second—While we are opposed to the adoption by the General Government of a policy of revenge in its dealings with those recently engaged in rebellion, we highly reprobate the policy of placing the government of the States to be reconstructed in the hands of those who have participated in re-bellion against the Federal Government. Third. We are unalterably fixed in our opposition to the admission to seats in the National Legislature of persons who have actively participated in the Rebellion until all questions growing out of it are settled.

Fourth—That the wisdom and firmness of the Senators and Representatives in Congress, displayed in the passage of the Civil Rights bill over the veto of the President, merits the warm approval of all true friends of freedom and liberal Govern-

Fifth-We regard it as the only true policy not to admit any representative of the late Rebel States into the National Legislature tuntil they have given ample guarantees for a truly Republican form of Government in future, and we are entirely opposed to the repeal or modification of the so-called Congress civil test oath. Sixth—That the National policy known as the Monroe Doctrine, has become a recog-nized principle in the Republic, and the es-tablishment of an Empire on our border, upon the ruins of a Republic, cannot be tol-

Seventh-That we are not opposed to, but in favor of, an amendment to our State constitution that can more perfectly guarantee the citizen in the enjoyment of his civil and religious liberties.

Eighth—That we hold it to be the duty of Congress not to adjourn before the 4th of March, 1867, unless the reconstruction of the Union has been settled before that time in the sense of the principles laid down in the Declaration of Independence.

The Reported Massacre in Arizona. A despatch from Washington, dated yesterday, says: A telegraphic despatch from San Francisco to the Associated Press, states that Fort Goodwin, in Arizona, has been captured by two thousand Indians, and the garrison, one hundred and twenty-five men, massacred, with one exception; also, that the fort was burned. Mr. J. Ross Brown, who has just arrived in this city, direct from Colorado river, and who is tho-roughly acquainted with the state of affairs in Arizona, says that it is scarcely possible this report can be true.

There are not two thousand hostile Indians in the whole territory. The Apaches are the only tribe against whom the Government is now waging war, and the greatest number of warriors they could gather toge-ther would not amount to more than six or seven hundred. At this season of the year when subsistence is scarce, it is almost impracticable for them to keep together in very large numbers. Two hundred in one body is a very large force at any time. Generally, they range in bands of twenty or thirty. A large party of them could not subsist for more than two or three days.

of country, about eighty miles from Tusson, The commanding officer, Colonel Bennett, of the California Volunteers, is one of the most efficient and experienced men in the most efficient and experienced men in the country, and to suppose he would permit two thousand Apaches to enter his stockade and massacre his command is to indulge in a very improbable supposition. Not more than one in twenty of these Indians is provided with fire-arms. How could they capture an armed post of one hundred and twenty men? That there may have been covered fighting in highly probable but this some fighting is highly probable; but this extravagant report needs confirmation before any credit can be attached to it.

HORSE IN A DINING-ROOM.—Mr. McGinnis, son-in-law of Mr. Joseph Watts, of this city, on Thursday, rode to the city, hitched his horse in the yard of Mr. Watts's house, city, on Thursday, rode to the city, hitched his horse in the yard of Mr. Watts's house, ate his dinner, and was quietly talking over matters with the family, when a tremendous clatter was heard in the recently vacated dining-room. Upon going to see what was the matter, they found Mr. McGinnis's horse. He was fairly "into it," and he refused to do anything except in his own way. He kicked over the table with the debris of the dinner, the plates, &c.—turned over the China safe, and smashed all in it—played the wild with the tables, chairs, &c., and finally kicked out one end of the house, and let himself out. We have heard of the "Bull in the China Shop," but this is the only instance which we have known of a horse grazing in a dining-room. — Paducah grazing in a dining-room, — Paducah Herald, 22d.

Herald, 22d.

THE Belfast (Me.) Age relates that a housekeeper in that town, at work in a wine cellar with two companions, in order to put things in order before the arrival of the family from abroad, met with an almost fatal accident. The door of the cellar, which was of plank and fastened with a spring lock, happened to swing to. The lock clicked and at once all three were made prisoners. For five hours they were shut up in this closet, with no persons about the premises closet, with no persons about the premises or within sound of their voices. At length, by their united efforts, they succeeded in wresting the door from its hinges, and getting out of the damp prison, which, in a few hours more, would have become their tomb.

"Don't Belong to Our Ser."-The good people of Panola county, Miss., are in the habit of giving parties, and the ladies are much troubled with the question of what is to be done in the case of ex-federal officers and soldiers living in that section.

The agitation has reached the papers, and the variety of opinions are amusing. One lady, writing to the Star, settles the matter with Spartan brevity—"Southern ladies, received there are in the star of th receive them not,"

MANUFACTURES ATTHE SOUTH.—A large cotton factory, called the "Manassas" manufactory, has been built at Carrollton, Miss, It contains one hundred and eighty thousand spindles, thirteen hundred looms, and will go into operation July 1st. The company owns seventeen hundred acres of land contiguous to the factory, all well wooded.
