XXXIXTH CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION. [CLOSE OF YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.]

SENATE. - Mr. Stewart's reconstruction bill being under consideration, Mr. Stewart said he proposed to amend the first section of the article amending the Constitution, reported by the committee, so as to define the word citizen. Without this the construction of both the first and second section would depend upon the party in power. He also proposed to strike out the third section disfranchising rebels, and make it the first section of a law which he proposed as a substitute for the several bills reported. He would then make the bill reported by committee, excluding rebels from office, the second section, and require each State, in addition to the requirement of the committee, to consent to the proposed ex-clusion from office and disfranchisement. He said the remainder of his proposed substitute gave the alternative to the South to ratify the constitutional amendment with the proposed modifications, conform their constitutions and laws thereto, and extend by amendments to their own constitutions nd laws impartial suffrage, as in his former proposition.

This done by any State, such State is to be admitted at once without waiting for the doption of the amendment to the Constitution by other States: and universal amnests is then to be extended to the people of that State, excepting only the President and Vice President of the so-called Confederate States, heads of departments of United States, and members of the thirty-sixth Congress who went into the rebellion, and who maltreated Union prisoners. propositions submitted were ordered to be

Mr. Sumner moved to take up the bill to facilitate commercial and postal inter-course between the States, known, he said as the Camden and Amboy Railroad bill.

Mr. Morrill moved to take up the bill t prevent smuggling, which motion prevailed and the bill was taken up and read at length. It consists of forty-six sections, and is designed to prevent smaggling on the northern frontier, by providing for a rigid system of search and examination of all ssels plying between the United States and foreign countries.

After a discussion, in which Messrs. Edmunds, Morrill, Johnson, Howe and Conness participated, the further consideration of the bill was postponed till to-morrow. The Senate at four o'clock went into Executive session, and soon after adjourned. House.-Mr. Chanler (N. Y.) offered the following:

Resolved, That the independent, patriotic and constitutional course of the President of the United States in seeking to protect by the veto power the rights of the people of this Union against the wicked and revolutionary acts of a few malignant and mischievous men, meets with the approval of this House, and deserves the cordial sup-port of all loyal citizens of the United tates.

Resolved. That this House believes the Freedmen's Bureau unnecessary and un-constitutional, and hereby directs the Chairnan of the Committee having charge of that Bureau to bring in a bill to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this reso-

Mr. Schenck raised the question of order that the first resolution contained an insolent attack on Congress, for which the member offering it deserved to be dealt with by the

The Speaker decided that the resolution could not be ruled out of order on that ground, and stated that that question came under the forty-first rule of the House, and that the question would be, "Shall the resolutions be received and con-

The question was taken, and the House renays, 82.

Mr. Schenck gave notice that as soon as the morning hour should expire he would move a resolution of censure against Mr. Chanler. Mr. Chanler retorted that he would like to offer a resolution censuring Mr. Schenck. The morning hour having expired, Mr. Dawes, from the Committee on Elections, made a report in the contested election case of Follet against Delano, from the Thirteenth District of Ohio, ending with a resolution declaring Mr. Delano entitled to his seat. Laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Schenck (Ohio), as a question of privilege, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Hon. John W. Chan-of New York, by presenting this day a re-solution to be considered by this House in the following terms (quoting the first resolution), has thereby attempted a gross insult to the House, and is hereby censured therefor.

Mr. Schenck added that he should, perhaps, have proposed a resolution of expul-sion, but that he hardly believed that the gentleman from New York understood the character of the language he had used. He moved the previous question on the resolu-Mr. Rogers (N. J.) intimated that the majority had better expel Mr. Chanler so that they may be sure to have members enough. Messrs, Rogers, Chanler, Ross and others were on the floor at once addressing the Chair, but the Speaker announced that the previous question having been demanded no debate was in order.

The House seconded the call for the previous question, but allowed Mr. Chanler to make a speech in explanation of his course. He said that not a word in the resolution applied to any organization or any set of men. He had taken special pains in draw-ing the resolution to avoid giving offence. Nothing but malignancy of disposition could have prompted the motion of the gentleman from Ohio. If the majority were to show such thin-skinned sensitiveness, there would be no minority worthy of the name in the system of American Government. The main question being put, the House adopted Mr. Schenck's resolution of censure by a vote of 72 yeas to 30 nays.

The Speaker pronounced the Special Committee on the Memphis riots, provided for by Mr. Stevens' resolution adopted to-day.

It consists of Messrs. Washburne (Ill.), Boutwell and Le Blond.
On motion of Mr. Casson, the Senate amendments to the act to authorize the coin age of five-cent pieces were taken from the Speaker's table and concurred in. Mr.Blaine (Me.)offered the following reso lution, which was adopted: Whereas, By the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, the stock of National Banks is make subject to the same rate of tevritor as other makers.

the same rate of taxation as other property by State and municipal authority: Resolved, That the Committee of Ways and Means be instructed to inquire into the expediency of removing all taxes levied by the National Government on said banks, except the half per cent, per annum on the average amount of their deposits.

On motion of Mr. Stevens, the Senate amendments to the Post Office Appropria-tion bill were taken from the Speaker's table, and referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

On motion of Mr. Morrill, the House went into Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, Mr. Washburne (Ill.) in the chair, and resumed the consideration of the Tax bill. The clause under consideration being that amending section 22 of the present act, the clause was amended in the following respects. Providing that the Assessors and Assistant Assessors shall invite bids for stationery and blanks; striking Missouri from and adding Nevada to the States in reference to which the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to fix additional rates of compensation for Assessors, limiting the maximum of such compensation to five sale by J. B.BUSSIER & CO., 188 S. Delaware Avenue thousand dollars per annum; striking out the words "in cities of more than ten thou-sand inhabitants," which restricted the places in which Assistant Assessors were to be allowed not exceeding three hundred dollars per annum for office rent, and inserting in that connection the words "such sum as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue shall approve. On motion of Mr. Allison (Iowa), the following clause was inserted:

Amend section 25 by adding the following at the end of the said section: "Provided further, that in calculating the commissions of assessors and collectors of internal revenue in districts whence cotton or distilled spirits are shipped on bond, to be sold in another district, half the amount of tax received on the quantity of cotton or spirits so shipped shall be added to the amount on which the amount on the control of the shipped shall be added to the amount on the control of the shipped shall be added to the amount on the control of the shipped shall be added to the amount of the shipped shall be added to the shipped shall be added to the shipped shall be added to the shipped shall be shipped shall be shipped shall be shipped which the commissions of such assessors and collectors are collected, and a corresponding amount shall be deducted from the amount on which the commissions of the assessors and collectors of the districts to which such cotton or spirits are shipped are calculated.'' Several amendments of an important character were made to the clause amending section 28 of the present law. The Committee rose after disposing of the bill down to the 29th page.

Mr. Garfield (Ohio) offered a resolution which was adopted, instructing the Committee on Ways and Means to inquire whether any further legislation is necessary n reference to the collection of the direc ax in the States lately in rebellion. At 4 o'clock the House adjourned.
