XXXIXTH CONGRESS-FIRST SESSION. [CLOSE OF YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.]

SENATE-At one o'clock the diplomatic appropriation bill was taken up. The question was upon Mr. Sumner's amendment to increase the salary of Mr. Hunter, chief clerk of the State Department, to $3,500 per annum.

Mr. Sumner withdrew the above amendment, and substituted in its stead one creating the office of Second Assistant Secretary of State, at a salary of $3,500, from the 1st of July next. Agreed to. Yeas 18, nays 17.

Mr. Trumbull moved to strike out a section of the bill providing for the office of the office Solicitor of the State Department, at $3,000 per annum.

Mr. Trumbull, in explaining the above amendment, said he believed the legal bu-ainess of all the departments could best be done under the direction of the Attorney General. In the course of a discussion on this subject Mr. Sumner, in opposing the amendment, said there were claims against Great Britain amounting to millions, growing out of the depredations of the Alabama and other rebel cruisers, which must be presented in some legal form under the superintendence of the Secretary of State.

The amendment was agreed to—yeas 18,

Mr. Sumner offered an amendment, that the salary of a minister plenipotentiary or envoy extraordinary shall be that of a minister resident, except in countries now represented by an envoy extraordinary. Agreed to—yeas 18. nays 16.

Mr. Buckalew moved to amend by striking out $80,000 as an appropriation for the contingent fund of the State Department, and insert $50,000.

Mr. Buckalew said the appropriation re-Jerred to was for the secret service of the State Department. The amendment was zereed to. Mr. Trumbull moved to reduce the appropriation for contingent expenses of all the missions abroad from $60,000 to $40,000. Mr. Buckalew moved to reconsider vote on his amendment above given, which was negatived. The bill was then read a third time and

The West Point Academy appropriation bill was taken up. The Finance Committee recommended as an amendment the striking out of the following proviso: Provided, That no part of the sums appropriated by the provisions of this act shall be expended in violation of the provisions of an act entitled 'An act to prescribe an oath of office, and for other purposes, approved July 2, 1862. And provided further, That no part of the moneys appropriated by this or any other act shall be applied to the pay or sub-sistence of any cadet from any State declared to be in rebellion against the Govern-ment of the United States, appointed after the first day of January, 1866, until such State shall have been returned to its original relations to the Union under and by virtue of an act or joint resolution of Congress for that case made and provided." Mr. Wilson asked for an explanation of the above amendment.

Mr. Fessenden said there was no necessity for the first proviso, as it was the law already. As to the second proviso, nearly all the cadets to which the South is entitled had already been appointed from the Northern States. There were but a few vacancies remaining, and the Finance Committee thought it best to leave these open for the few loyal men in the Southern States,
Mr. Wilson said the explanation of Mr.

Fessenden was satisfactory to him, and the amendment was agreed to.

Mr. Ramsey inquired if there was any provision in the bill against the appointment of cadets of men who had been in the rebel army. He understood a case of that kind had occurred in appointing to the Naval Academy.

Mr. Fessenden said there was but a single case of the kind, and that mistake was not knowingly committed. Mr. Wilson offered an amendment pro hibiting the appointment of men who have served in the rebel army or navy as cadets at West Point. Mr. Sherman suggested that Mr. Wilson's amendment be amended so as to exclude those who have served in the rebel army or from the Naval Academy. Mr. Wilson accepted the above as an amendment to his amendment. Mr. Conness suggested a modification so as to make the exclusion applicable to those already in the academies who have been in the rebel army or navy.

Mr. Doolittle said there ought to be a distinction made between those who voluntarily went into the rebel service and those who were forced in. He moved the inser tion of the word "voluntarily."

Mr, Fessenden hoped it would not be so amended. If it was, it would turn out that all were forced in. Mr. Doolittie asked Mr. Fessenden if he meant to exclude those who were forced in.

Mr. Fessenden said he would rather not run the risk of getting rebels into the acade mies.

Mr. Doolittle's amendment to insert the word "voluntarily" was disagreed to—yeas 8, nays 23. Messrs. Buckalew, Cowan, Davis, Doolittle, Dixon, Guthrie, Hendricks, and Johnson voted in the affirmative.

Mr. Trumbull offered an amendment to Mr. Wilson's amendment, that no vacancy in States and districts not represented in Congress shall be filled while said States and districts are unrepresented. Mr. Fessenden said the above was similar to the proviso already stricken out.

Mr. Trumbull's amendment was disagreed Mr. Wilson's amendment was adopted, and the bill was then passed. Mr. Sherman (Obio) wished an under and the bill was then passed.

Mr. Sherman (Ohio) wished an under have lost in this way the only point they standing as to a special order for the consi-held in the State of Tobasco, deration of the funding bill. It was an important matter that the Secretary of the Treasury should know what course to pursue in placing a loan upon the market. The fortification bill, which the Senator from Maine (Mr. Fessenden) desired to take up vould, of course, be passed, and was of no bresent importance. Mr. Fessenden expressed himself opposed to the pending bill, and urged the present consideration of the fortification bill. Without further proceedings the Senate House,-Mr. Wilson (Iowa), from the Judiciary Committee, reported back the Senate bill amendatory of an act to provide for the reports of decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, which was read the third time and passed.

Mr. Price, from the Committee on the Pacific Railroad, reported back the Senate joint resolution to extend the time for the construction of the first section of the Western Pacific Railroad, which was read the Mr. Garfield presented a petition of the citizens of Utica, asking an extension of time for the State banks to retire their circulation. Referred to the Committee on Banks.

Also, a petition of the citizens of Oneida county, New York, asking for a re-adjustment of the tariff on flax. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Laflin presented a petition on the same subject from citizens of Jefferson county, New York.

Mr. Schenck presented a petition of twenty soldiers of Butler county, Ohio, for the equalization of bounties. The House went into Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, Mr. Dawes in the chair, and resumed the consideration of the tax bill, commencing with the clause imposing a special tax on auctioneers.

The paragraph in regard to the proprietors of gift enterprises, was amended by increasing the special tax from $50 to $150. The paragraph in regard to miners gave rise to considerable debate, Messra Stevens, Kelley, Mercur, McRuer, Bidwell, and Hooper taking ground against the tax, and Messrs, Morrill, Blaine and Schenck de-fending it. Finally the debate was closed on the paragraph, and the committee was brought to a vote, which was on a motion of Mr. Stevens to strike out the paragraph. The motion was agreed to, and the para-

The paragraph in regard to express carries was amended by adding the words "and agents," by increasing the minimum limitation of business from $600 to $1,000 per annum, and by exempting teamsters and draymen who own one dray or team.

The following was inserted as a new parameter. "Grindows of offer or spices shall graph: "Grinders of coffee or spices shall pay $100; any person who manufactures or prepares for use and sale, by grinding or other process, coffee, spices or mustard, or adulterated coffee, spices or mustard, or any article or compound intended for use in the adulteration of, or as substitutes for, coffee, spices or mustard, shall be regarded as a grinder of coffee or spices under this act: Provided, That any person who shall roast coffee for use and sale shall be required to pay the special tax herein imposed upon grinders of coffee or spices."

posing the special tax, the following proviso was added: Provided, That the payment of any tax in this act levied or provided, shall not be held or construed to exempt any person carrying on any trade, business or profession herein specified, from any penalty or punishment provided by the laws of any State for carrying on such trade, business or profession within such State, or in any manner to authorize the commencement or continuance of such trade, business or profession contrary to the laws of such State, or in places prohibited by municipal law. Nor shall the payment of any tax be held or construed to prohibit or prevent any State from placing a duty or tax for State or other purposes on any trade, business or profession taxed by this act. On motion of Mr. Thaver (Pa.) the para graph amending section 90 of the present law was amended by adding the following: In any port of entry within which is embraced more than one collection district the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to put all the bonded warehouses in such port under the charge of one collector of internal revenue, to be by him designated, and the collector so designated shall have entire charge and control of all matters connected with such bonded warehouses and the property stored therein. No other material amendments were adopted. The committee, after disposing of twentythree pages of the bill, rose, when the Speaker presented a message from the President of the United State, transmitting a communication from the Secretary of War and a letter from Lieutenant General Grant relative to the necessity for legislation on the subject of the army. The Lieutenant General's letter to the Secretary of War was read, after which the message and letters were referred to the Committee on Military Affairs and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Thay desired to instruct that committee to report back the Senate bill; but the House refused to reconsider the vote referring the message so as to enable him to move to refer with instructions.

The House, at half-past four, adjourned. Missouri-Address of the Badical Com-A St. Louis despatch to the Cincinnati Gazette, under date of May 15, says: The Radical Union Executive Committee of this State have issued an address to the Radical Union men of Missouri, in which, among other things, the committee give the people the following wholesome advice: Effect without delay county and township organizations; revive at once throughout the State the leagues and associations which proved of such essential service during the war; make sure that every radical voter's name is on the registry of voters, and that no man's name gets there who is by the Constitution disfranchised; let every radical feel that he has something to do in this conflict for every officer, and especially for members of the General Assembly. Bring out your strongest men. Be sure that every candidate is an out-and-out radical, who has not been false or fickle in the past, and who has backbone enough to stand up fearlessly and uncompromisingly to radical principles and measures. Stand up fearlessly to the main issue, which is the old battle between loyalty and disloyalty. Don't avoid it, or go around it, or parley over it, but meet it openly, bravely, manfully, and with the full determination of fighting it out on that line. Exclude all side issues, drop local quarrels, and go to work for the public good. Make a fair and square fight for the maintenance of the Contitution and laws. Be not discouraged by the bragging and clamor of our adversarie but go resolutely to work to protect what it has cost so much blood and treasure to win In national politics stand by Congress, which is but carrying out the will of the people who elected it. Remember what is at stake. The battle is not over. The physical conflict for the time, at least is ended, but the moral in the conflict of arms. MEXICAN NEWS-A LIBERAL VICTORY-SUBRENDER OF THE FRENCH GARRISON OF Jonita.—The Mexican minister received yesterday official despatches from San Juan Baptista, the capital of the State of Tabasco, containing the official report of Colonel Mendez, the Governor of the State, of a victory which he obtained over the French at the town of Jomita, on the 17th of April. After a short bettle the general of Jewite. After a short battle the garrison of Jomita surrendered to Colonel Mendez, with their tinues, and a victory here for the right is necessary to preserve all that has been won Important Letter from General Grant-He holds the speedy Reorganization and Increase of the Regular Army a Matter of Necessity, &c.

The President sent a message to the House enclosing the following communication from Lieutenant General Grant: HEADQUARTERS ARMIES OF THE UNITED STATES, WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16, 1866.

Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War: SIR: In view of the long delay in the lower House of Congress, in agreeing upon a plan of reorganization of the army suitable to our present requirements, and the argent necessity for early action, I am induced to present the matter to you officially, and to ask the attention of Congress to it, believing ask the attention of Congress to it, believing that when they have the matter fairly be-fore them, they will do what should be done apeedily.

At the present time settlements are springing up with unusual rapidity in the district of country between the Missouri river and the Pacific ocean, where heretofore the Indians were left in undisputed possession. Emigrants are pushing to those settlements and to the gold fields of the Rocky Mountains by every available highway. The people flocking to those regions are citizens of the United States, and gions are citizens of the United States, and entitled to the protection of the Govern-ment. They are developing the resources of the country to its greatest advantage, thus making it the interest as well as the duty to give them military protection. This makes a much greater force west of the Mississippi necessary than was ever heretofore required.

A small military force is required in all the States lately in rebellion, and it cannot be foreseen that this force will not be required for some time to come. It is to be hoped that this force will not be necessary to enforce the laws, either State or national But the difference of sentiments engendered by the great war which has raged for four years, will make the presence of a military force necessary to give a feeling of security to the people; all classes disposed to obey the laws of the country will feel this alike.

To maintain order the Government has been compelled to retain volunteers. All white volunteers have become dissatisfied and claim that the contract with them has been violated, by retaining them after the war was over. By reason of dissatisfaction they are no longer of use, and might as well The colored volunteer has equal right to claim his discharge, but as yet he has not done so, How long will existing laws authorize the retention of this force, even if they are content to remain?

The United States Senate passed promptly a bill for the reorganization of the army, which, in my opinion, is as free from objection as any great measure could possibly be, and it would supply the minimum requisite force. It gives but a few thousand additional men over the present organization, but gives a large number of additional batteries and companies. The public service, guarding routes of travel over the plains and giving protection in the Southern States, demands the occupation of a great number of posts.

For many of them a small company is just as efficient as one with more men in it would be. The bill before Congress or the one that has passed the Senate gives increased number of rank and file of each company. It is an exceedingly appropriate measure in this particular, for it provides for the increase when occasion requires more men. The company is the amallest unit of an organization that can be used without materially injuring discipline and efficiency.

The belief that Congress would act promptly on this matter if their attention was called to it, has induced me to respectfully ask your attention to it. If you agree with me in this matter, I would also ask, if you deem it proper, that this, with such en-dorsement as you may be pleased to make, be laid before Congress through the Speaker of the House.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
U. S. GRANT, Lieutenant General.

MASSACRE OF INDIANS.—The Governor of Idaho has addressed a letter to the Commissioner of Indian Affiairs, informing him of the massacre of some 16 friendly Indians on the 11th of March, near the mouth of Moore's creek, on the Boise river, by a party of citizens of Ada county. Heconcludes by saying that there were but two grown males —the rest were Indian women and children. The immediate settlers, miners, protested against the murder, and their statements I shall send you in a few days, showing that the Indians were defenceless and peaceable. If anything will serve to bring en a general Indian war, it is such acts as these. I have gathered the rest of the tribe and placed them under the protection of the military of this post. The excitement runs high, and I have all I can doto carry out my instruc-tions against the deprayed moral sentiment evinced towards the poor savages. Things look stormy just now, but when the road to the Indian country becomes passable, I shall quiet the troubled waters. In no case that I have examined have I found the "red man" the aggressor, but invariably the trouble springs from some fiendish outrage of bad white men."
