THE DAILY EVENING BULLETIN; PHILADELPHIA. MONDAY, MAY 21, 1866.

An Enterprising Philadelphia Publisher.

[From the Round Table.] The books published by the firm of Childs & Peterson, now solely represented by Geo. W. Childs, are more important in cost and merit than in mere number. The amount which they realized for their authors has which they realized for their authors has been innusually large, and the position which Mr. (Childs now additionally occupies as newspaper proprietor is another reason why he should receive personal notice in the series of papers to which this belongs.

Mr. Childs, a native of Baltimore, now about thirty-seven years old, came to Philadelphia at the age of fourteen, and entered the bookstore of Mr. P. Thomson, then situated at the northwest corner of Sixth and Arch streets. He continued there for four years, when, though not of age, he began husiness on bis own account in a small place corner of Third and Chestnut streets -one half of the office in the great building now occupied by his own cashier and assist-ants in the business management of the Public Ledger of which he now is proprietor. At that time, nearly twenty years ago, he had made up his mind to own the Ledger, and frankly stated his determination to the proprietors. He never once abandoned this purpose, and the writer of this article has frequently heard him speak of it, years before he succeeded in realizing it. One is reminded in this successful pertinacity of Warren Hastings's resolve, before he left England for India, to reposses, himself of the manor which had passed from his family.

In 1849, being then in his twenty-first year, Mr.Childs was admitted into partner-ship with Mr. Robert E. Peterson (the firm was R. E. Peterson & Co.), at the northwest corner of Fifth and Archstreets. Soon after the firm became Childs & Peterson - a nominal change, for the partners were the same: the principal business management same; the principal business management was undertaken and successfully executed by Mr. Childs. The first book they pub-lished was "Peterson's Familiar Science," of which two hundred thousand copies have been sold. It was adopted, in 1851, as a text-book in the public schools of Philadelphia and also of Brooklyn. It was based upon a book, written by an eminent English scholar, which was not well adapted for this country in many points, and was defectively arranged. Mr. Po-terson, a gentleman of high culture (he had been admitted to the bar, and is now mem-ber of the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia, and graduated M. D. from the University of Pennsylvania), made the necessary alterations and additions, and succeeded so well that the Rev. Dr. Brewer, author of the book, warmly thanked him for the improvements and publicly signi-fied his approbation thereof. In successive editions the book has been made to keep pace with the most recent discoveries in science, and there has lately been incor-porated with it, as a suitable appendix, oc-cupying 150 pages, Professor Pepper's "Scientific Amusements for Young People."

Being a personal friend of Judge Mr. Childs obtained a promise from him that should Dr. Elisha Kent Kane return from the Arctic regions (whither he had gone traces of Sir John Franklin and his crew) and write a book, he-Mr. Childs-should publish it. Dr. Kane did return, wrote the book, and Childs & Peterson published it, selling nearly 70,000 copies within a year and paying a royalty of one dollar on each copy. They autosciently purchased the stereotype plates of the "First Grinnell Ex-pedition," by Dr. Kane, improvingit by the steel portrait of Franklin, and a sketch of his life by M. his life by Mr. Allibone. The three volumes of Kane's "Arctic Explorations" were attractive from Explorations" were attractive from the interest of the subject, the adventurous humanity of those who designed and car-ried out the search after Franklin, and, in a literary point of view, for the earnest sim-plicity of Dr. Kane's journals. The nu-merous illustrations, too, from Dr. Kane's own designs when when the search after the search after merous illustrations too, from Dr. Kane's own designs, were valuable; those on wood were engraved by Van Ingen & Snyder, and those on steel, consisting of finished views by Mr. James Hamilton, the eminent marine painter, from other sketches by Dr. K., were executed under the superintendfurthered my labors by his enterprise and zealous and intelligent interest." In 1860 Mr. Peterson retired from the firm, and Mr. Childs entered into partner-ship with J. B. Lippincott & Co., a business connection which continued for less than a year. Mr. Childs then commenced busi ness, by himself, at Nos. 628 and 639 Chest-nut street. In May, 1863, he purchased the Publishers' Circular and American Literary, Gazette, which had been previously pubished at New York as a mere advertising edited with great care in every department, has become acceptable and appreciated in foreign countries as well as in this, Its Pa-risian correspondence, giving a large and agreeable variety of literary news, anor dotes, biography, and gossip, is full of spirit, and breadth and breadth. On the 3d of December, 1864, Mr. Childs, fulfilling the long cherished ambition of his fulfilling the long cherished ambition of his life, purchased the good will of the Public. Ledger, a daily journal with a very large circulation and a most extensive and lucra-tive advertising connection. The former proprietors retired upon a fortune estimated at $5,000,000. In the purchase were in-cluded the entire "plant" of type and steam presses; and a weekly, entitled the Dollar Newspaper. Mr. Childs has improved as well as enlarged the Ledger since it passed into his hands, and thereby considerably into his hands, and thereby considerably increased its circulation. It is judiciously and ably edited, and has carefully avoided the publication, in peace as well as in war, of sensational news. The Dollar Newspaper, considerably augmented in size and improved into a family paper, is now widely circulated under its new and more appropriate stille of the Home. Weekly; and the American Literary Gazette and Publishers' Circular, published twice a month, has a respectable and remunerative circulation, with no small influence among publishers and pur-chasers. The job printing office connected with the Ledger is very large and highly re-munerative from its great business. Mr. Childs continues as book publisher at Nos. 628 and 630 Chestnut street, but is about erecting a building, 84 by 180 feet, on the southwest corner of Sixth and Chestnut, southwest corner of Sixth and Chestnut, near the State House, at a cost of about $500,000. To this the publication office of his three journals will in due time be removed. Exactly one block more west-wardly, also on Chestnut street, the proprietor of the Press had established his printing and publication office six months ago, and the EVENING BULLETIN was also removed westward.

As a publisher, Mr. Childs has shown tact, enterprise, and liberality, and every-thing he has put his hand to seems to flourish. In fact, he is prudent as well as bold, never putting his hand so far forward that he cannot safely withdraw it when and how he pleases.

ence of J. M. Butler, of Philadelphia. The work is still in demand—the more so, per-haps, because the author died, a martyr to humanity and science, not long after the publication of the second and concluding publication of the second and concluding journals of his "Arctic Explorations." Uni-form with this publication was a splendidly illustrated volume, "Brazil and the Brazil-ians," by the Rev. J. C. Fletcher, who had been U. S. Chaplain at Rio Janeiro, and for a time acting secretary to the American Le-gation there, and assisted by the Rev. Dr. Kidder, long a resident in Brazil. Of the first edition of this costly work 5,000 copies were sold.

were sold. "Bonvier's Law Dictionary," of which the twelfth edition, revised and much en-Ine twenth entron, revised and much en-larged, is now in the press, was another successful publication, on which $40,000 have already been paid for copyright. Another original publication by Childs & Peterson, which has justly obtained the highest reputation, is thus noticed in Trüb-neya "Bibliographical Guide to American ner's "Bibliographical Guide to American Literature:" "In this list [of eminent American scientific writers] we must not omit mention of a remarkable American woma who has ashieved signal success in the science of astronomy, who, in fact, may be justly termed the Mary Somerville of the United States. Hannah M. Peterson, the only child of the late Judge Bouvier, received her early training from her father was first infroduced to the study of mathe matics by her very accomplished husband [spoken of above], and has since cultivated the study of astronomy with success. Her great work, entitled 'Familiar Astronomy,' has won her the applause of leading men of science on both sides the Atlantic

Mr. Childs suggested and planned Judge Sharswood's edition of "Blackstone's Com-mentaries," two volumes royal octavo with very valuable notes, emphatically the American edition, which is now a text book in all the law schools of the United States He planned and published "The National Almanac and Annual Record," and edited the first volume for the year 1863. This is a work of great merit, on account of the accuracy and great fullness of its statistical information. A forthcoming work, on which he has spared no expense, also undertaken at his suggestion and on his pecuniary outlay, is Lossing's "Illustrated History of the Civil War," in the preface to which the author warmly ac-knowldges his obligations to Mr. Childs. Indeed, that gentleman's relations with his authors have been uniformly tions with his authors have been uniformly agreeable, for he never has had dispute or difficulty with any of them, and retains their friendship to this day. One of them, certainly, ought to feel grateful to Mr. Childs—we allude to the present governor of Tannessee—for whom, in kindness, he published "Parson Brownlow's Book," which by great and inexplicable good inckwhich, by great and inexplicable good luck -for it has small literary merit-obtained a great sale, and put $20,000 into its author's whethe when he was a fugitive driven by pockets when he was a 'ingitive driven by force out of his own State. The magnum opus of this firm, how-ever is, Allibone's "Dictionary of Authors," more accurately to be named as "A Critical Dictionary of English Literature, and British and American Anthors, living and deceased, from the earliest accounts to the middle of the nineteenth century, containing upwards of thirty thousand blographies and literary notices; by S. Austin Allibone, LL.D." Of this, the first volume, pp. 1006 super-royal octavo, complete from the let-ters A to J, inclusive, has been before the public for some time, and there is every prospect that the geord and concluding prospect, fast the second and concluding volume will be published this year. It is all that it professes to be, and a great deal more. Dr. Allibone, much to his credit, dedicated this great work to his publisher, George William Childs, "who has greatly prospect, that the second and concluding volume will be published this year. It is
