Fire at Franklin, Pa.
FRANKLIN, PA., May 19.—The Grant House in this city was burned this morning. A lady jumped from a window of the fourth story and has died of her injuries. Two servant girls are missing and it is feared they perished in the flames. The fire is supposed to have been the work.

The fire is supposed to have been the work.

In incendiary, for the purpose of plundering the house. The loss amounted to about $60,000, on which there is an insurance of $31,000. AXXIXth Congress—First Session.

Washington May 1s:
House.—The Speaker presented a message from the President; transmitting, in further, response to the House resolution of the 7th of May, reports from the Becretary of the Navy, Secretary of the Interior and Postmaster General as to the clerks and employes of these Departments; and whether any have served in the vebel army. Laid on the table.

The Speaker announced that by order of the House, no business should be in order to-day, except debate on the President's sanual message, as if in Commistee of the Whole.

Mr. Morris (N. Y.) addressed the House on the sub-level on the sub

Mr. Morris (N. Y) addressed the House on the subpert on reconstruction.

It might well be, he thought, that the Joint Committhes on Reconstruction, was only one of the several instraments essential in perfecting the series of acts in the great drama of events rendered necessary to have the nation, and te restore it to a hangeneous concord and it might also be that these schemes were severally indispensable to check the growth of the poisonous shoots likely to spring from the remaining roots of the recently felled tree of trees onable plandlang. He laid down the following propositions and supported them by argument.

Putst—The incit ents connected with the revolt of the Southern States had to no respect shridged the powers as the jurisdiction of the Government of the United States.

er the jurisdiction of the Government of the United Blates.
Second—These incidents had changed the relations of the revolting States isward the General Government and had affected some of their rights. There—The relations thus changed and the rights thus affected can be restored to their status only by the legislative branch of the Government.
Fourth. These relations and these fights should be restored as speedily as the interests of all parties conserved will permit. To restore the Southern Shates be their normal condition, without any restrictions, would be held to make a distinction between virtue and vice, would be contrary to precedent repugnant to justice, and in opposition to the plain teachings as the Baltimore platform; the repeated and well known sentences of the present Executive of the nation.

THE EXPRESS PACKAGE OPERATION .-A swindler representing himself as the mes-senger of Adams Express Company is said to be daily defrauding the wives of some of our best merchants by means of the old ex-press package operation. The course he pursues is as follows:—He presents himself at the residence of the merchant with an envelope purporting to contain money as per amount marked on the outside directions to him at his house. He asks for the gentle-man, and if not at home inquires for the lady of the house, presents the package and demands freight and insurance on the amount. The lady thinks it strange that the package should be addressed to the re-sidence of her husband, and desires him to take it to the gentleman's place of busi-ness. The swindler in the blandest mess. The swindler in the blandest manner declines, stating that he must deliver as directed. Consequently he then suggests that the lady open the package, which invariably is done; then she discovers a check for the amount marked on the outside, and an Adam's Express Company's themselves Corbit & Co., Memphis, or some place. The lady observing a check for the amount, and the receipt of the well-known Adam's Express Company, at once thinks it all right, and pays him, only to discover when the husband comes home in the evening she has been swindled out of seven or eight dollars. The accoundred appears to single out the residences of our best mer-chants to operate on, and it is to be hoped that husbands will caution their families not to receive bogus packages from bogus expressmen.—N. Y. Herald.

DEATH FROM THE STING OF A-FISH.—Mr. John Myers, residing near New Oxford, Adams county, Pa., died on Wednesday of last week from lock-jaw, produced by a wound from the sting of a fish. It appears that some four or five weeks previous Mr. M. had purchased a lot of fish, and in handling them one of his fingers received a slight prick or wound from the fin of one of the fish. Although painful at the time, he did not pay much attention to the wound, thinking it was a mere trifle, but in a few days afterwards the wound became very painful, his hand and arm swelling fearfully, causing him the most intense agony. He suffered for several weeks in the greatest misery, when mortification set in and death DEATH FROM THE STING OF A FISH .- Mr. misery, when mortification set in and death came to his relief.

DEATH OF A CENTENARIAN.—A colored woman, called old Aunt Biddy Lundy, died mear Macon, Ga., lately, one hundred and twelve years old. She had been in the same family for three generations. She was born in Virginia, and used to describe the march of Cornwallis through that State, She never took a dose of medicine in her life, but drank coffee regularly twice a day, when she could get it. She finally died of pneumonia.
