A Word in Behalf of Jeff. Davis.

To the Editor of the Evening Bulletin:-I see it stated in the papers that the health of the National Guest at Fortress Monroe has become so seriously impaired in his present quarters that a change is regarded as imperatively necessary. Permit me to suggest through your columns that, in case that measure should be decided upon, the per-sonage in question be removed to the salabrious atmosphere of Anderson ville or Salis-bury. A brief residence at either of those noted resorts for invalids could hardly fail to have a most salutary effect upon his sys-tem, and the associations and moral influtem, and the associations and moral innu-ences by which he would there be sur-rounded would likewise be highly condu-cive to his restoration. It is probable that one of those comfortable habitations which his tender care provided for the suffering soldiers of the Union could readily be fitted up for his reception, and the provision for medical attendance and the comfort of the sick at either post is undoubtedly as ample now as it was in the autumn and winter of 1864. In all these respects we have the as-surance of Mr. Davis's friends and admirers, both at the North and at the South, that neither Andersonville nor Salisbury left any-thing to be desired by the most exacting invalid, and it would certainly be a blot upon the national character of the individ-ual of whose humanity and tenderness of disposition, the history of those places will be an eternal memorial, should be denied the fullest enjoyment of their advantages, and that too, by the people for the benefit of whose kindred and friends they were originally designed. By all means, if the hardships of Fortress Monroe are too much for Mr. Davis's constitution let him for Mr. Davis's constitution, let him be removed to a place fitted up in accordance with his own ideas of the needs of the sick and suffering. I intrude upon your space no farther than barely to throw out the sugges tion, and express the hope that it will be duly weighed by the proper authoritie TENTH CORPS.

A HEAVY CASE OF SWINDLING,

[From to-day's N. Y. Tribune ]

On Thursday last, Detective Golden of the Metropolitan Police, arrested in Rochester, N. Y., a young man named Albert E. Howe, he has been in search for some of whom months past.

months past. The prisoner is alleged to be one of a party who, by means of forged warehouse re-ceipts, succeeded in swindling various persons in this city out of sums amounting in of this immense sum young Howe re-ceived but a very small portion, his accomplices, while using him as a catspaw, retaining almost the entire sum secured, The first indication of the swindle was discovered in January last, but the principals finding that their netarious schemes discovered, fled from the city. Young Howe went to live with some relative in Rochester, and under the assumed name of George C. Beck, has remained quietly there ever since.

After a protracted search, detective Golden inally learned where he was located, and, armed with a warrant for his arrest, pro-ceeded thither. He called at the office of the Chief of Police of that city, and on stating his business was promised all the assistance he might require assistance he might require. Officer McLean, of the Rochester force was sent in search of the culprit, and found him at the house of the relative with whom he was stopping. He was told that the Chief of Police wanted to see him at the Police Court, as he was wanted as a witness in a neighborhood quarrel. Not suspecting the real object of his arrest, young Howe readily accompanied the officer.

On his arrival at the station-house he was met by Detective Golden, who called him by name, very much to his astonishment. He was informed by Golden of the nature of the charge against him, and the fact that he must prepare to accompany him to New York. Within 20 minutes after the arrest the officer and his prisoner were on the way, and yesterday they arrived in this city. The prisoner was committed to a cell at Police prisoner was committed to a cell at Police Headquarters, and to-day he will probably be taken before one of our police magis-trates and the necessary complaints made against him by the injured parties. Howe is a quiet, ineffensive sort of man, and up to the time of the forgeries was looked upon as a very straightforward, honest person. He enjoyed the confidence of the firm by whom he was employed in the highest degree. During his stay in Ro chester he claimed to be a New York pilot, enjoying a few months' leave of absence.

and it was placed in the hands of the clergy-man until after that event transpired. The following is a copy of the document: I, George Washington Sage, was born in Smyrna township, Jefferson county, Ind., May 29, 1831. I lived in the vicinity of my birthplace until the year 1860. The cause of my removal may be learned from a brief history of an event which occurred about a year before. On one moonlight night, before I had retired to rest, at my father's house, some one knocked on the window of the room in which I slept, to which I answered, and on going out found a company of my and on going out found a company of my acquaintances, who said they were going after apples. The company consisted of Henry Vaughn, Daniel Duncan and the two Dunham boys, one named Henry, the other's name I have for-gotten. James McCartuly was with me, and as they wished him togoalong, I awoke him and he went with us, under the impres-sion that we were going after apples. I am confident McCartuly knew of no other ob-ject, neither did I. On our way we stopped for John Lowe, who went with us. As we ject, neither did 1. Mr. Cartuly and I remonstrated with him and did all we could to stop him; but he went on and set fire to them. We were charged with it and arrested, and when McCertuly was tried Vaughn survey that McCartuly was tried Yaughn swore that McCartuly and I set fire to them, and Mc-Cartuly and I set fire to them, and Mc-Cartuly was sent to the Penitentiary. Lowe and I consulted together, and, knowing what Yaughn had sworn to, feared that we mipht share the same fate as McCartuly

weran away. Lowe, I think, went to Ken-tucky, and I to Kansas. This was what they waited, as we found during the trial, for they were afraid McCartuly, Lowe and myself would tell about their plot to kill Dr. Hall, at Kent. They had told us all their Hail, at Kent. They had told us all their plans, and invited us to go with them, but we' all refused. They then told us that if we ever divulged they would kill us. We tried to go to Kent to tell Dr. Hall, but they way-laid and shot at us. They failed to kill Dr. Hall, and then fearful we would tell, hired us to go away. We want as far as Missenvi us to go away. We went as far as Missouri, changed our minds, returned and gave the money back to the father of some boys who were concerned in the plot, and had fur-nished it. In the spring of 1865 we moved to near Paris, Indiana, where I was arrested for the mur-der of Wm. Todd's child. I had been working for Mr. Todd work or three days, for which he paid me when we settled, which was a few days before the murder was committed. Soon after this settlement I learned that our property in Illinois was sold, or about to be. I knew if we could get there it would be saved; but we had no money to pay our way. I was very much troubled abont it, and was thinking every day how I could raise the money go. On the even-ing of March 7th I went over to Mr. Todd, who lived about one-fourth of a mile from us When I came to the house I found no one at home except the children; they were out in the yard, some distance from the house, playing. Having learned, while working for him where he kept his money, I was tempted to take it, and at once commenced to search for it. Just as I found it the chil-dren came into the house, and knowing who I was, came to me apparently without fear. Something suddenly came over me and I seemed almost beside myself, and while in this state of mind f determined to kill them. I gathered a piece of brick
