XXXIXTH CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION. WASHINGTON, May 28, 1866.

SENATE.—Messrs. Wilson (Mass.), Henderson (Mo.), Van Winkle (W. Va.), Johnson (Md.) and Buckalew (Pa.) were appointed a committee to investigate the condition of the national banks.

Mr. Grimes (Iowa) presented the petition of officers of the Mississippi flotilla for their share of prize money in the captures made by them during the war. Referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

The bill to revive land grants to the States of Missouri and Arkansas, to construct a railroad from the Mississippi river to the Texas boundary, was passed.

The bill to facilitate railroad communication was taken up.

House.—Mr. Rice (Me.) offered a resolution which was adopted, requiring the Secretary of State to inform the House what progress has been made in completing the mans connected with the boundary survey under the treaty of Washington, with copies of the correspondence.

Mr. Perham (Me.) offered a resolution which was adopted, directing the Secretary of the Treasury to inform the House what amount of gold belonging to the United States, had been sold under his authority since the Istinst., and at what rates.

Also the names of the agents thereof through whom such sales were effected and what rate of commission has been authorized by the department for selling the same. Mr. Williams (Pa.) offered a voluminous preamble and resolution requesting the President to inform the House whether any of the military or civil employes of the Government within the State of Georgia, or any other rebel State, have counter, anded or assisted in the rendition of public honors to any of the traitors, either living

Mr. Nicholson (Del.) objecting, the resolution being a call for Executive communication, went over for a day.

Mr. Stevens (Pa.) introduced a bill to enable the States lately in rebellion to regain their privileges in the Union. Read twice and referred to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

The bill is as follows:

Whereas, The eleven States which lately formed the government called the "Confederate States of America" have forfeited all their rights under the Constitution, and can be reinstated in the same only through the action of Congress, Therefore be it enacted, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, that the eleven States lately in rebellion that the eleven States lately in rebellion may form valid State governments in the following manner.

States shall enact that Conventions shall be called to form legitimate State governments by the formation and adoption of State Con-stitutions, the Governor or Chief Executive shall direct an election to be held on a certain day to choose delegates to a Convention, who shall meet at the time fixed by the Legislature, and form a State Constitution, which shall be submitted to a vote of the people, and if ratified by a majority of the doyal votes, shall be declared the Constitu-tion of the State.

Sec. 4. The persons who shall be enti-tled to vote at both of the said elections, shall be as follows:

All male citizens above the age of twentyone years, who have resided one year in the said State, or ten days within the election district. SEc. 5. The word "citizen," as used in this act shall be construed to mean all persons, except Indians, not taxed, born in the United States, or duly naturalized. Any male citizens above the age of twenty-one years shall be competent to be elected to act as delegates to the said Convention.

SEC. 6. All persons who held office, either civil or military under the Goovernment. civil or military, under the Government called the "Confederate States of America," called the "Confederate States of America," or who swore allegiance to the said government, are hereby declared to have forfeited their citizenship, and to have renounced allegiance to the United States, and shall not be entitled to exercise the elective franchise until five years after they shall have filed their intention or desire to be reinvested with the right of citizenship, and shall swear the right of citizenship, and shall swear allegiance to the United States, and renounce allegiance to all other governments or pretended governments, the said application to be filed and the oath taken in the same Courts, that by law are authorized to naturalize foreigners. Sec. 7. No Constitution shall be presented or acted on by Congress which denies to any citizen any rights, privileges or im-munities which are granted to any other citizen in the State. All laws shall be impartial without regard to language, race or former condition. If the provisions of this section should ever be altered, repealed, expunged or in any way abrogated, this act shall become void and the said State lose its right to be represented in Congress.

SECTION 8. Whenever the foregoing conditions shall be complied with the citizens of the said State may present the said con-stitution to Congress, and if the same shall be approved by Congress the said State shall be declared entitled to the rights, privileges and immunities, and be subject to all the obligations and liabilities of a State within the Union.
