SENATE. -The reconstruction resolution was taken up. The question was upon Mr. Johnson's amendment to strike out the third section, which disfranchises the late rebels until 1870. Mr. Johnson demanded the yeas and nays, and the third section was stricken out by a unanimous vote—yeas, 43; nays, none; ab-

Mr. Howard rose to offer several amendments to the pending Reconstruction resolu-tion, They are as follows:

Insert at the beginning of the first sec-tion the words, "All persons born in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside." If thus amended, the first section would read: SECTION 1. All persons born in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction there-of, are citizens of the United States and of State wherein they-reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privilege or immunities of any citizen of the United States, nor shall any

State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws. SEC. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But whenever in any State the elective franchise shall be denied to any portion of its male inhabi-tants, being citizens of the United States, not less than twenty-one years of age, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of re-presentation in such State shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens not less than twenty-one years of age in such State. Section three being stricken out, the following is proposed in lieu of it:

No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of Presi-dent and Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same in giving aid or comfort to the enemies thereof: but Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability. SEC. 4. All obligations of the United States incurred in suppressing insurrection. or in defence of the Union, or for paymen of bounties or pensions incident thereto, shall remain inviolate.

Section four in the original will be changed to section five, and it is proposed to change that section so as to make it read: SEC. 5. Neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for compensation for emancipation of any slaves, and such debts and obligations and claims shall be forever held illegal and

SEC. 6 Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article. Mr. Saulsbury (Del.) said this was the first notice the minority had received of the result of the caucuses of the majority. He therefore moved that the amendments be printed, and the subject postponed until to-On motion of Mr. Fessenden (Maine) this order was entered. Ordered to be printed.

Mr. Sumner submitted the following amendment, intended to be proposed as a substitute for the bill: "To provide for restoring to the States lately in insurrection their political rights."

That when any State lately in rebellion shall have ratified the foregoing amendment, and shall have modified its constitution and laws in conformity therewith, and shall have further provided that there shall be no denial of the elective franchise to citizens of the United States because of race or color, and that all persons shall be equal before the law, the Senators and Representatives from such State, if found duly elected and qualified, may, after having taken the requisite oaths of office, be admitted in Congress as such: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be so construed as to require the disfranchisement of any loyal person who is now allowed to vote.

Mr. Sumner introduced a bill to enforce the amendment to the Constitution abolishing slavery, by securing the elective fran-chise to colored citizens, as follows:

Whereas, The Constitution of the United States abolishes slavery in the States and Territories of the United States, so that all constitutions, laws or regulations of any State or Territory in aid of slavery, or growing out of the same, are null and void;

And, whereas, by virtue of the abolition of slavery, all men born in any of the States or Territories are citizens, entitled to all the rights and privileges of citizens, subject only to the legal disabilities applicable to white persons;

And, whereas, also, it is expressly provided that Congress shall have power, by appropriate legislation, to enforce the constiappropriate registation, to enforce the consti-tutional provision abolishing slavery, which cannot be done effectually without granting the elective franchise to citizens who have been slaves, or who are the descendants of slaves, or who have heretofore been deprived of political rights by reason of race or color; And whereas further, it is expressly pro-yided in the Constitution that the United States shall guarantee to every State in the Union a republican form of government. And whereas, all aristocracy, oligarchy or caste is inconsistent with a republican form of government; Now, therefore, be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of American, in Congress as-SECTION 1. That every citizen of the United States, although he may have been a slave, or is the descendant of a slave, or by reason of race or color has heretofore been deprived of political rights, shall in every State and Territory have the right to vote at all elections for members of Congress, for Presidential electors, for Representatives and Senators to State and Territorial Legis-latures, for all State, county, city, town and other officers of every kind, upon the same terms and conditions, and no others, as white citizens are and may be allowed to vote; and every provision of every State and Territorial constitution, statute, resolution and ordinance which is now and may be hereafter energed and every state and territorial constitution. after enacted, and every custom and principle of law heretofore recognized in any State or Territory contrary to the foregoing pro-visions, are and shall be null and void.

SEC. 2. That any person who shall knowingly and wilfulfully debar, hinder or obstruct any citizen who has been a slave, or is the descendant of a slave, or who does not belong to the so-called white race, from not belong to the so-catted white race, from voting at any election where he is entitled to vote, according to the provisions of the foregoing section, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than three thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the common jail for not less than thirty days nor more than one year.

SEC. 3. That any person holding, governing or conducting any election to which the first section of this bill is applicable, who shall knowingly and willingly refuse to receive count return or otherwise give the ceive, count, return, or otherwise give the proper legal effect to the vote of any citizen who has been a slave, or is the descendant of a slave, or who does not belong to the so-called white race, shall be punished by a fine of not less than five hundred nor more than four thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the common jail; for not less than three calendar months nor more than two

4. That the District Courts of the United States, within their respective districts, shall have exclusive jurisdiction of all offences committed against this act, and the district attorneys, marshals and deputy marshals of the United States, the commis sioners appointed by the Circuit and Terri-torial Courts of the United States, with powers of arresting, imprisoning or balling offenders against the laws of the United States, the officers and agents of the Freedmen's Bureau, and every other officer who may be specially empowered by the President of the United States, shall be, and they hereby are, specially authorized and required, at the expense of the United States, to institute proceedings against all and every person who shall violate the provision of this eat and cause him or them to be are of this act, and cause him or them to be arrested and imprisoned, or bailed, as the case may be, for trial before such Court as by this has act cognizance of the offence. SEC. 5. That any citizen who has been a slave or is the descendant of a slave, or who does not belong to the so-called white race, that may hereafter be unlawfully deprived of his vote by any person, may maintain a suit or suits, and recover damages of any such person in any District Court of the United States for the district in which such person may be found. Ordered to be printed. On motion, the joint resolution in regard to railroad communication was taken up as t passed the House. It reads as follows: That any railroad company of the United States whose road is operated upon by steam, its successors and assigns, be, and it is hereby authorized, to carry upon its road, connections, bridges, boats and ferries, all passengers, troops, Government supplies, mails, freight and property on their way from any State to another State, and to receive any contraction transfer and to receive compensation therefor and to connect with other roads of other States, so as to form continuous lines for the transportation of the same to the place of destination!

Provided, that this act shall not affect any stipulation between the Government of the United States and any railroad company for transportation or fares without compensa-tion, nor impair or change the conditions imposed by the terms of any act granting lands to any such company to aid in the construction of said road.

Mr. Clark (N. H.) moved to strike out the word "connections." Agreed to, Mr. Clark moved to amend by adding at tha close of the bill the following-"Nor shall it be construed to authorize any railroad company to build any new road or connection with any other road without authority from the State in which said road or connection may be proposed." The above was adopted—yeas 24, nays 15.

The bill was then taken out of the Committee of the Whole and reported to the Senate. Mr. Cresswell (Md.) renewed his amendment, defeated yesterday in the Committee of the Whole, to provide that Congress shall have power to alter, amend or repeal this act at any time. Agreed to.

The bill, as amended, was, after discussion by Messrs. Sherman, Sumner, Cowan, Johnson and Davis, passed by—yeas 22, navs 19. The Senate, at 3.30 P. M., went into Executive session, and soon after adjourned.

House—The bill to continue in force and to amend the Freedmen's Bureau bill being under discussion, the first question was on the amendment offered by Mr, Scoield, to strike out of the seventh section the following words: "And shall provide sites and buildings for purposes of education," down to the end of the section, and to insert down to the end of the section, and to insert in lieu thereof the words, "And shall hire, or provide by lease, buildings for purposes of education, whenever such association shall, without cost to the Government, prowide suitable teachers and means of instruc-tion; and shall furnish such protection as may be required for the safe conduct of such schools."

The next question was on the amendment offered by Mr. Shellabarger, to add to the sixth section the following: "Provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed to affect the right of any person to recover, in the proper courts, any title or right of possession which such person may have in any of the lands held un-der said Field Order." The amendment was agreed to.

The next question was on the amendment offered by Mr. Davis, to add to section two the following:

"And the powers conferred and the duties enjoined by the act hereby amended, shall be applicable to all persons named or referred to in this section, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed," and to strike out all the remaining sections of the bill.

The amendment was rejected—nays 35, veas 86

The bill then passed—yeas, 96; nays; 32 On motion of Mr. Schenck, the Senate amendment to the bill relating to the appointment of cadets to the Military Academy were taken from the Speaker's table and non-concurred in. and non-concurred in.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the bill reported from the Committee on Reconstruction, on the 30th of April, to provide for restoring to the States lately in insurrection their full political rights.

Mr. Ashley (Ohio) addressed the House in support of the bill. Mr. Latham (W. Va.) next addressed the House in reference to the Disqualifying bill reported by the Reconstruction Committee.

All that he asked was an opportunity of voting for it. He did not see, however, that that bill added anything to the existing disqualifications. As to the third section of he proposed constitutional amendment, he regarded it as utterly impracticable, and as calculated, if not intended, to defeat the whole measure.

As to the bill before the House, it contained two principles to which he could not give his assent. These were, first, that the approval of three-fourth of the States now epresented in Congress is sufficient to ratify the Constitutional Amendment; and, second, that its ratification by each of the late rebel States is required as a condition precedent to the right of representation. These principles were necessarily based upon the presumption that the late rebel ates were not now States in the American Union. He proceeded to argue that the pre-sumption was unfounded.

On the conclusion of his speech, on motion of Mr. Stevens, the further considera-tion of the bill was postponed until to-

The House, at 4 o'clock, adjourned. THE MISSISSIPPI SHIP CANAL.—The bill THE MISSISSIPPI SHIP CANAL.—The bill now before Congress, authorizing the construction of a ship channel from Pas a l'Outre, at the mouth of the Mississippi, provides for the incorporation of a dredging company, who are to keep this pass open not less than twenty feet deep and a hundred feet wide at high water, and are authorized to charge all vessels drawing over fourteen feet from thirteen to twenty-five cents per ton passage through to the river.

CARRYING (COALS TO NEWCASTLE.— United States Consul Dudley, in a lettler to the Secretary of State, dated Liverpool, May 4th, says: "The steamer City of Dublin will sall to-morrow for New York, with fifteen thousand bushels of wheat as cargo. I am told it is American wheat, imported here, and now being sent back to be sold in the States. It is now being leaded on the the States. It is now being loaded on the steamer. This is semething like 'carrying coals to Newcastle.'"
