EVENING BULLETIN.

THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1866.

Persons leaving the city for the summer, and wishing to have the EVENING BULLETIN sent to them, will please send their address to the office.

COMPLICATIONS.

The European war now impending will place the royal family of Great Britain in a very embarrassing position. All the married children of the Queen are united to the reigning families of parties that will be involved in the war.

THE TRIAL OF JEFFERSON DAVIS.

The fact that Jefferson Davis is to be tried for treason in that city, must be considered a prime joke in Richmond. The proceeding must strike the duller of the chivalry as an exquisite jest, and speculation is doubtless rife as to whether they shall not laugh the case out of court, or, if there is insufficient gravity obtainable under the circumstances to follow the trial to proceed, whether the jury shall not render a verdict of not guilty without leaving the box.

pass judgment upon the crimes of the "heroic and unfortunate martyr" must be drawn from among these same "fifty thousand fearful and pitying men, women and children." Jefferson Davis is getting ahead finely. The Copperhead press and orators of the North, from ceasing to censure have taken to puffing and praising the arch-traitor; while in the South he is looked upon as a sainted, heroic martyr.

THE NEW TRIED SECTION.

The debate in the Senate yesterday on Mr. Howard's substitute to the Constitutional Amendment developed the intense anxiety of the copperhead wing of that body, in behalf of their dear friends and allies of the South. They cannot bear the idea of anybody being kept out of Congress who has had a hand in the rebellion; but as they see that it is impossible to get them all in, their efforts are turned to the exclusion of as few as possible.

force of this sentiment when he sought an asylum and found contempt in England. The distinguished apostate who succeeded the lamented Harrison in the Presidential chair discovered when it was too late that he had bartered away honor and principle for a shadow, and Mr. Scovel may take what comfort he can from these prominent examples of official treachery and what came of it.

REBELS AND DESERTERS AS VOTERS.

The copperhead and rebel newspapers are much exercised about an election in West Virginia, at which an amendment to the State constitution, disfranchising those citizens who were rebels in the late war, has been adopted. They are equally troubled about the disfranchising, in Pennsylvania, of deserters from the Union army.

SCOTT'S PICTURE SALES.

The sale of foreign pictures, at the Art Gallery of Mr. B. Scott, Jr., 1020 Chestnut street, attracted a goodly number of competitors. The prices obtained were, however, very low, with a few exceptions, the fifty or sixty pictures sold bringing only about three thousand dollars.
