Opening of Judge Underwood's Court-Impanneling of the Graad Jury-fhe Charge of the Judge.

RICHMOND, Va., June 5 -Judge Under-wood arrived from Alexandria this morn-ing, and spent the forenoon at Gen. Terry's headquarters, in the mansion formerly occupied by Jefferson Davis. Most of the non-resident members of the earnest protest. We ask a speedy trial on any charge that may be brought against Mr. Davis here or in other civil tribunals in the land. We may be now here representing, may it please the Court, a dying man. For thirteen months he has been in prison.

The Constitution of the United States guaran-tees to him not only an impartial trial, which I am sure he will have, but a speedy trial—and we have come no slight distance we have come in all sincerity, we have come with all respect to your Honor, we have come with strong sympathies with our client, professional and personal; we have come here simply to ask that question. I address it to the District Attorney or I ad-address it to the District Attorney or I address it to your Honor, as may be the more appropriate, what disposition is proposed to be made with the bill of indictment against

Jefferson Davis, now pending, for high

Major J. L. Hennessy, Assistant United States Attorney, said that he had been en-tirely unaware of the nature of the applica-ion just made. In the absence of the Dis trict Attorney, Mr. Chandler, he was not prepared to answer the question, but he would immediately telegraph to that genthemen the fact of such an application having been made. Mr. Chandler would probably arrive in Richmond this evening. If he failed to arrive Major Hennessy stated that he would himself be prepared to answer the he would himself be prepared to answer the question to-morrow morning. Judge Underwood addressed the counsel for Mr. Davis, said:—Am I to understand that that will be satisfactory?

The Court then adjourned until to-morrow

Grand Jury arrived this morning and made their appearance during the foreneon at the United States Court Room in the Custom House. Soon after 11 o'clock, the hour at which it was expected the adjourned ses-sion of the Circuit Court would be opened, Messrs. Reed, Brady and Brown, coursel for Davis, entered the Court room and engaged in conversation with prominent mem-bers of the Richmond Bar, and others. Messrs. Van Sickle and Thomas H. Edsall of New York, and Charles Gross, of Phila delphia, junior counsel for Davis, were also

Not more than fifteen or twenty specta Not more than niceen or twenty specta-tors, including two ladies from New York, were in the Court at any time during the day, if having been ascertained by actual count that the legal number of Grand Jurors was not present. Judge Underwood did not appear and oc cupy his seat until one o'clock. At that ur he entered the room, and the Court was formally opened by the crier. By direction of Judge Underwood, the Clerk, W. H. Barry, called the names of the Grand Jury, and fourteen only responded.

James E. Lepscomb and H. L. Wigand of Richmond, who had been summoned to make up the requisite number, were then called to the Clerk's desk to qualify as jurors. The former declined to take the jurors. The former declined to take the prescribed oath and was excused. Mr. Wigand took the oath and occupied a seat with the other jurors. Another long pause was caused by Mr. Lepscomb's refusal to qualify. Finally Gilbert C. Walker, of Norfolk, appeared and took the oath. The Noriols, appeared and took the oath. The panel being thus complete, the Judge, at two o'clock, delivered the following charge: Gentlemen of the Grand Jury: I am happy to meet you again and to know that you are to meet you again and to know that you are still living, notwithstanding the assaults that have been made upon you. Little need be said in addition to the instructions given at Norfolk. Your last session has made yeu historical, and I trust that the efforts which have been made to intimidate you and to impede the course of justice will not make you less faithful and earnest in the discharge of your public duties. We ought not to be surprised that the treasonable and licentions press of this State and city should wince and rage and become furious when where and rage and become furnous when treason and licentiousness are exposed and arraigned for trial and punishment. Nor should we be surprised at the enormity and desperation exhibited when we remember that this city has long been the centre and cost of the greatest treffic in human being that this city has long been the centre and seat of the greatest traffic in human beings that has ever disgraced the world—a traffic which has annually employed many hun-dreds of moral monsters and many millions of capital, subsidizing the press, pulpit and politics of the State, rendering Richmond more infahious among men for its partici-pation in this great erime than all the cities along the coasts of Senegambia, Upper and Lower Guinea, Congo, Loango, Angola and Landmesser s...... Wilkesbarre..... Warrior Bun..... Parrish & Thomas... Other shippers...... Lower Guines, Congo, Loango, Angola and Benguela combined. The wonder then is that so many traces of kindness, humanity and Christian civilization should have survived such de-basing and brutalizing influences, and let us thank God and take courage that, more fortu-pate than the devoted cities of antionity, we nate than the devoted cities of antiquity, we can count more than ten men who have stood fathful among the faithless. The complaints of threatened violence and intimidation which have been forwarded to me by several which have been lorwarded to me by several of your members, for your late heroic and patriotic actions, have been submitted to the highest legal and military authorities of the Gevernment, and I, can assure you of the earnest sympathy and firm support of all the officers of the law, not excepting the President, whom the treasonable now flatter and fawn upon, but whom they will proba-bly soch curse as heartily, as they did two years aco. But genflemen 1 are cled to withdrawn? If so, justice and humanity seems to us to prompt, that we should know it. Is it to be suspended, postponed 2. If so, may it please the Court, with all respect to your Honor and the gentlemen who con-duct the public business here, your Honor must understand us as entering our most earnest protest. bly soon curse as heartily, as they did two years ago. But, gentlemen, I am glad to call your attention to a law of Congress which puts your own vindication, as well as that of the country, into your own hands. In 1831, Congress enacted, as you will find on page 488 of the fourth volume of the stat-utes at large; as follows: "SEC, 2. And be it further enacted, That if any person or persons shall, corrupily, or by threats, or force, endeavor to influence, in-timidate, or impede any juror, witness or timidate, or impede any juror, witness or officer, in any court of the United States in the discharge of his duty, or should corrupt-ly, or by threats or force, obstruct or imby in present on the province of the province of the prosecution of justice therein, every person er persons so offending; shall be liable to prosecution there, or by indictment; and shall, on conviction thereof be published by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment and available to prosecution thereof be published by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment and available to prosecution the public dollars, or by imprisonment and available to provide the public dollars, or by imprisonment and available to provide the public dollars, or by imprisonment and available to provide the public dollars, or by imprisonment and available to public dollars. by imprisonment not exceeding three months, or both, according to the nature and aggravation of the offence. Approved, March-2, 1831.3

You will thus have it in your own power to exercise a wholesome restraint upon licentious tongues and pens, and upon a press which, as a blind leader of the blind, press which and still is, one of the chief auses of past, present and prospective calamity and misfortune, the murders, duels, assassi-nations; violent and ungoverned passions, ending in self-conflagration and self-immo-lation, unparalleled in any heathen could try. The moverture shiftering in and try. The poverty, suffering, agony and degradation which have given this sity, of almost, unequaled natural capabilities, its bad eminence, are the legitimate fruits of the teachings of its public press; and any thing you can be able to contribute towards its reformation will, in the highest degree, be serviceable to the cause of the country and of humanity. But; gentlemen, let us act with moderation and discrimination, for thougho approximitated press is one of the greatest coalamities; a free and virtuons press, isione of the greatest public blessings —the great ornament and support of public virtu

William B. Reed, of Philadelphia, then addressed the court as follows: "May it please your honor, I beg to pre-sent myself, in conjunction with my col-leagues, as the coursel of Jefferson Davis, a prisoner of State at Fortress Monroe, and under indictment for high treason in your Honor's Court under indictment for high treason in your Honor's Court. "We find in the records of your Honor's Court an indictment charging Mr. Davis with a high offence, and it has seemed to us due to the course of justice, due to this tribunal, due to the feelings of one sort or another, which may be described as crysta-lizing around the unfortunate man that we another, which may be described as crysta-lizing around the unfortunate man, that we should come at the very earliest day to this tribunal and ask of your Honor, or more properly the gentlemen who represent the United States, the simple question, What, is proposed to be done with this indictment? Is it to be tried? Is it—and this is a juestion perhaps that I have no right to ask—is it to be withdrawn, or is to be suspended?. If it perhaps that I have no 'right to ask-is it to be withdrawn, or is to be suspended?. If it is to be tried; may it please your Honor, speaking for my colleagues and for myself, and for the absent client. I say with em-phasis and I'say it with earnestness that we come here prepared instantly to try that thonor's hands further than is necessary to bring the prisoner to face the Court, and to enable him, under the statute and in such cases made and provided, to examine the bill of indictment against him."
