THE DAILY EVENING BULLETIN ; PHILADELPHIA, SATURDAY JUNE 23, 1866.

The congregation of citizens of the Fourth Congressional District, connected with the Postoffice, is holding a protracted meeting of great interest. It will be remembered that the services last Sunday morning were postponed on account of the non-appearance of the officiating clergyman. An adjourned meeting was held on Wednesday evening, in the Lecture Room of the edifice on Chest-nut street, next door above the Custom House, and was well attended. In the absence o the regular incumbent, the meeting was ad-dressed by Rev. D. J. Driscoll, A. C. C. His text was from Acts, X, 24. In brief, but eloquent language, Dr. Driscoll told his hearers that there had been a mistake about the meeting of Sunday morning lost on to the meeting of Sunday morning last, as to the hour. It was not necessary for him to say what that mistake was, or how it originated. They had assembled for their own good and the good of their party, and what higher motive could possibly bring together such a congregation of earnest, intelligent such a congregation of earnest, intelligent and enlightened citizens of the Fourth Con-gressional District? [Sensation.] He had rarely addressed such an audience, but he must tell them that they had been basely betrayed. [Immense sensation.] Yes, basely betrayed! [immenser sensation]—and he was authorized to say that he would go as high as Twenty Dollars [applause] for the detec-tion of the miscreant [shudder throughout the congregation] who had given the infor-mation to the reporter of the EVENING BUL-LETIN. [Ugh!] He was a traitor, whoever he might be. A traitor to the old man! [Oh! oh!] Yes, gentlemen, to the old man! [Audiblesobs.] Here the speaker's emotions entirely overcame him, and he sat down, with his handkerchief to his eyes, first in-troducing the Rev. Mr. Goodwin to the con-gregation.

THE MYSTERIOUS SUNDAY SERVICES.-

gregation. Mr. Goodwin remarked that he was not accustomed to addressing such large congre-gations, but he would cordially endorse the sentiments of Brother Driscoll. We live in perilous times. Who can tell what may befall us before the next election? We must protect ourselves. "Self-preservation," as Milton says, "is the first law of nature." If that atrocious reporter of the EVENING BULLETIN was present [reporter dodges behind a pile of leather bags that happened to be there] he wished to say that he would subscribe One Dollar [Hear! hear!] to purchase a cowhide to thrash him with. [Hi! h! and reporter shakes in his shoes.] The speaker was a calm person. He was not easily excited. But we must protect ourselves. The reporter, or the miscreant or the traitor, or whoever he was, must be cowhided. [The miscreart bided] must be cowhided. [The miscreant hided, two of the congregation clapped their hands and the rest didn't.] Mr. Goodwin conclu-ded his remarks by exhorting his brethren to repair to their respective wards and or-ganize "for their own good and the good of the party." The meeting then adjourned without taking up the usual collection. The reporter of the BULLETIN, who was con-cealed in one of the back pews made his es-cane in sefety. He desires to sore that part cape in safety. He desires to say that not-withstanding the large attendance, so per-fect is the system of the Philadelphia Post Office that there was no interruption of the public duties of the congregation—worth speaking of. Due notice will be given of the next meeting. Since the services on Wed-nesday evening one of the congregation has been deprived of membership by the ruling elders, under suspicion of having been unfaithful to his vows. Unfortunately for "their own good and the good of the party," they have dealt with the wrong party.

INSPECTION OF THE POINT BREEZE GAS WOBKS.-The annual visit of City Councils to the Point Breeze Gas Works took place yesterday afternoon. About one o'clock a special train, consisting of two of the richly ornamented directors' cars, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, conveyed them by way of the junction road. Mayor McMichael and General John W. Geary, the Union candi-date for Governor of this Commonwealth, there is include the party. mence. there joined the party. At 31 o'clock the company sat down to a cold collation, and after due attention had been given to the choice good things lavishly provided, the usual series of toasts was enacted. Mayor McMichael presided; and addresses were delivered by several gentlemen. After the conclusion of the toasts and responses, the party visited the various gas works at Point Breeze. The various departments were in-spected, and the details of the multifarious operations were examined. All the works were in excellent order, and great satisfac-tion was expressed at the efficient condition of the many departments. About six o'clock the company returned to the city.

Don't forget to take it with you to the country or sea shore. Every lady now uses it for preventing and removing the discolorations caused by the sun or sait air. It is perfectly harmles, pro-duces the daintiest complexion and the fairest kind of a skin. Of course, there are many cheap, vulgar and injurious pastes jand washes, but the public must be obtained from E. JOUIN, 111 South TEN IH street, and at the leading Druggists and Perfumers.

ANTIQUABIAN.-The origin of coats of arms is not prior to the twelfth century-that is to say the time of the erosades. As noblemen from all the variable ous nations of Europe were collected in the Holy Land, and as they had no names but their baptisma ones they agreed in order to distinguish each other, to assume armorial ensigns, which, in general, ex-pressed the name and this of the bearer, as John de is Cour, by a tower, &c. THE CHURCH FAIRS .- The Fairs in the THE CHURCH FAIRS.—The Fairs in the different churches in Camden, which have been held during the past two week, have been attended with more than the usual success. Some of them have realized as high as $700, clear of expenses. A hand-seme State Council regalia of the Order of United American Mechanics was voted for by the different Councils in Camden, and was won by a Mr. Middleton, of Council No. 7. This ceremony took place at the fair held by the Broadway M. E. Church. THE CAMPEN BOSTMASTREEUE. The re DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HIGHWAYS -Office S. THE CAMDEN POSTMASTERSHIP.-The refusal by the Senate to confirm the appoint-ment of Mr. Goldsmith, as Postmaster of Camden, has created quite an excitement among the Democratic admirers of James M. Scovel. It is known that he nominated Mr. Goldsmith, hoping thereby to secure the removal of the present efficient incumbent, Mr. Lee, who served in the army of the United States during the entire war.

THE FARMING BUSINESS .- Many of the farmers in Camden county are now en-gaged in gathering in their hay and clover crops, which are remarkably good in quan-tity and quality. The rye and wheat crops are also well advanced, and will soon be ready for gathering. All the other crops are could be fine. equally fine.

A GOOD YIELD.—A gentleman, residing near the town of Progress, in Burlington county, raised, the present season, on an acre and three-quarters of ground, straw-berries to the value of six hundred dollars. MAD Dogs,-Several mad dogs have re-cently been killed in Cumberland county, after they had bitten a number of other animals and one little child.
