DEATH OF CAPTAIN PURNELL HARRING-Ton.—On Sunday morning, at one o'clock, a brig was towed down to Reedy island, in the Delaware, between fifty and sixty miles from Philadelphia, and, having safely lodged her there, the tow-boat lay aside of the yessel for the remainder of the night. Ere norning's dawn, Captain Harrington, who led the tow-boat the well-known C. A. Souder, was seized with cramp in the mach, and went on deck attired only in his underclothes. He is supposed to have overbalanced himself and tumbled into the overbalance filmself and tumbled into the water, nor has he since been heard of. He was a remarkably able, steady and sober gentleman, about 35 years old, and universally considered, not only by the underwriters and merchants who had the opportunity of experiencing the value of his services, but y his brethren in the profession, as one of he very best pilots and "web-footed" men r sailed or steamed on the Delaware ver. He has left a wife and two young vidow and orphans for the loss of a good asband and father. We understand that a reward of one hundred dollars has been offered by Mr. J. H. Hammitt, ship-builder, Kensington, for the covery of Captain Harrington's body.

STABBING AT SMITH'S ISLAND. - On STABBING AT SMITH'S ISLAND.—On Smith's Island yesterday afternoon there was considerable excitement, caused by one of the employes on the island being stabbed. James Moriarty, who is alleged to have done the stabbing, was intoxicated and refused to pay for some beer. This led to a difficulty with the bartender, and Moriarty is alleged to have plunged a large direkting into the breast of the bartender, causing a serious wound. Moriarty and a companion named Joseph Adams were arompanion named Joseph Adams were ared by Officers Benckert, Reading and Hamilton, and were locked up at the Central Station for a hearing. On the per-son of Moriarty, the dirkknife with which stabbing was done, and a small sheemaker's knife, were found.

Moriarity and Adams had a hearing this forning before Recorder Eneu. Officers nckert and Hamilton were examined. Moriarity, it seems, got into a quarrel with John Hoerner, the bartender, in reference to the payment for drinks. He then said to Hoerner "I'll fix you," and left the sland. About two hours afterwards he re-, and watching an opportunity, d Hoerner with a dirk knife which had purchased in Second street. The de struck a rib and glanced off, or the low must have been fatal. As it is, Hoerer is in a critical condition. The accused vere committed for a further hearing on uesday next.

FLAG RECEPTION.—At a meeting of the committee of Arrangements for the reception of the State flags, held in Select Council chamber, yesterday, the sub-committee on parade; route, &c., was instructed to appeal to the citizens of Philadelphia for the use of eir private carriages on the Fourth of July next, for the purpose of carrying in the parade the female orphans of the soldiers. Conveyance will be required for four hun-ired and fifty to five hundred children. hose citizens who have vehicles, and who esire to place them at the disposal of the committee for this purpose, are requested to tify the undersigned by 2 o'clock, P. Canal Lines to the Interior.

To the Editor of the Evening Bulletin:-I noticed with much pleasure your remarks in your issue of yesterday, with reference to the proposed subscription to the Pennsylvania Canal Company's stock, the object being to give greater efficiency and value to that work, by enlarging it from Columbia to Huntingdon. A portion of this canal has, as you state, already been partially enlarged, viz: from Columbia to the mouth of the Juniata, and it is now one of the most profitable links of public work in the State, and the Juniata division, when enlarged as proposed, will become equally profitable. In addition to the inland route to tidewater, through the Union and Schuylkill canals, there is another very important route and work, which you have omitted to mention, and which is the natural outlet for all the upper canals, it being the Tide Water route through the Susquehanna canal. This canal connects at Columbia, 23 miles below Middletown, with canals, there is another very important the Pennsylvania canal, and extends to Havre de Grace, a distance of 45 miles. Steam tow-boat companies take charge of the boats at the outlet-lock, at Havre de Grace, and tow them according to their destination, either to the waters of the Delaware, through the Chesapeake and Delaware canal, which has a capacity to pass boats of 400 tons burden, or to Baltimore, Annapolis or Washington—thus giving to the shippers above the choice of a Southern, as well as an Eastern market, for the great products of our State, coal, iron and lumber. The Susquehama canal has now a minimum depth of 5 feet of water through its entire length, and every lock has double cham-bers, 17 by 180 feet, thus enabling two boats to lock through at one lockage, with a capacity to pass single boats of 200 tons. This canal is ready to pass through safely and speedily any amount of tonnage Middletown to Philadelphia, via the Susquehanna Canal, is 10 miles less than by the Union and Schuylkill Canals, with 875 feet less lockage, with the advantage also of steam tonnage for two-thirds of the distance, with a further advantage of making the trip in four days less ome, and an immense saving in wear and tear of boats and of man and mule power. All that is now required is, that men of energy and enterprise shall take hold and push to completion these upper links of canal to the bituminous coal basins, and when this shall be done the cheapest and best means of transportation will have been secured for heavy bulky articles like coal, iron and lumber.

She lived happily with her husband, but was a believer in Spiritualism. Before her death she wrote a letter to her husband, as follows:

Dear Friend: I will write a few words in regard to what I am about to do. I take poison because I am tired of living. Tell the public it is not caused by ill treatment, the public it is not caused by ill treatment, for you have always been very kind to me. I attempted the same thing several years before I was married, but was discovered and saved, and I have always blamed them for not letting me die then. It is useless for Coroner Didama to make any examina-tion, for this will prove that I killed myself with my eyes open and in the full enjoyment of my senses, and will also prove what I have always said, that I am not afraid to die. SAD DEATH BY DROWNING.—A sad accident by drowning occurred in the Susquehanna river, opposite Marietta, on Sunday. The facts of the case are substantially as follows: During the day five young men of Marietta crossed the river in a skiff, to the York county side, and on returning, were joined by Mr. Cyrus Johnson, a salesman in Bowers & Steacy's store, of Marietta, who asked the privilege of being allowed to cross with them. When about the middle oross with them. When about the middle of the stream, where the water is quite deep, several of the young men commenced rocking the skiff. To this Mr. Johnson protested, alleging that the boat was in danger of upalleging that the boat was in danger of upsetting, and that he was unable to swim. Heedless of his entreaties, the reckless young men continued their (to them) amusement, until the boat upset, throwing all the parties into the stream. Every one intent upon looking out for himself, Mr. Johnson was left to his fate, and soon disappeared beneath the surface and was not again seen.
