THE GALLERY OF SCULLS AT THE PARISIAN Will be a charming spectacle for moralists and phre will be a charming spectacle for moralists and phrenelogists. An enterprising and patriotic gentleman is negged in making a collection of remarkable American shulls, for that gallery. He was recently so much struck by the development of a young Philadelphian's cranium as to offer him seventy, five dollars for his abil, upon the spot, assuring him that it should have a distinguished place in the Parisian display. The youth was so dull as to reply that he "Could'nt see it!" as if any one could expect to see his own skull, when detached from the body! "A great curlosity has been secured, in the shaps of a skull consisting of a solid mass of bone, without any cavity for brains men gentled, in the shape of a man who had always obstinately refused to purchase his Clothing, at TOWER HALL, EVENING BULLETIN. MONDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1866.

THE ELECTION FROM A LOCAL POINT OF VIEW. Whileswe are discussing the tremendous National concerns that hinge upon the election that is so near at hand, and while we consider the important State interests that are at stake, we must not lose sight of the vital importance of securing good government for our own city. During the eight years that have elapsed since we have been rid of Copperhead municipal rule, Philadelphia has prospered in a degree far greater than during any decade since William Penn granted a charter to the city. The advent of Mr. Alexander Henry to the Mayoralty was followed by the exodus of Mr. Vaux's body-guard of ballot-box stuffers, Pine alley thieves, shoulderhitters, black-legs, dog-fighters and naturalization-paper forgers. It rid us of the kcrew of un-uniformed scare-crows were called policemen, that and it brought much needed reform into the legislative and the executive branches of the city government. During the time named there have doubtless been occasional faults of omission and commission in the city government; but the worst sins of the Union Republican officials have been mole-hills of offence in comparison to the Alpine heights of scoundrelism and mischief that would have been heaped up had the old enemies of order and decency

During this period of Union rule, the city passed through the dread ordeal of the rebellion, and it never failed in any sacrifice of men and means that was demanded of it, the municipal authorities co-operating with the citizens in the good work. While the streets of Baltimore in 1861, and the streets of New York in 1863, ran with blood, Philadelphia had no popular outbreaks in consequence of the war. We had our great uprisings, our expressions of earnest indignation against Copperhead traitors who were among us; and sorrows and jubilations as the events of the war developed themselves; but there were no tumults; none of the public demoralization so usual during a time of great civil commotion. This gratifying result was a consequence of good municipal government; the local authorities being ever on the alert to check disorder, and to prevent men from being run into dangerous extremes by the madness of passion.

During all this time the city has prospered beyond precedent; 'trade has flourished, manufactures have increased, population has multiplied rapidly, and the city has spread its built-up bounds far and wide-Much of these gratifying results is due to good government. There need scarcely be a fear entertained that the Copperhead faction will ever again get control of the city government, any more than that it will regain the influence in national affairs which it forfeited during the war; but we should roll up such majorities on our city and county tickets as to convince the Copper-Johnsonites that in future contests for the control of the government of the city, the struggle will be between opposing candidates in the Union organization; the party of ruin, treason and blackguardism having no more chance of success than an importation of "Dead Rabbits" from Mackerelville, New York, would have; were they to try their hands at carrying Philadelphia in the Copperhead Mackerel interests.

THE ARTFUL DODGER. "WHEN THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT GIVING THE RIGHT TO THE SOLDIERS TO VOTE WAS PRE-SENTED, I WAS IN A TIGHT PLACE; I DODGED THE QUESTION-I DODGED THE chievous demagogues have threatened QUESTION BECAUSE I WAS IN A TIGHT PLACE,"-REPORT OF HEISTER CLY MER'S SPEECH IN PHILADELPHIA, FRI-DAY, OCTOBER 5, IN THE AGE OF OCTOBER 6,

THE PARTY OF ORDER. The events of last week gave new proof, that the Republican party is the party of law and order, and that the Copper-Johnson party is precisely the reverse. While the one was making every arrangement to avoid collisions and to preserve the peace, the other left no expedient untried to provoke hostilities and produce a riot. The great loyal demonstration of the Union League was changed from Saturday night to Friday night, to give the Johnson managers no pretext for the disturbance which they hoped to provoke by calling their meeting at Penn Square. How well the Copperheads appreciated this concession was made manifest by their moving their stands away from Penn Square and planting one of them almost directly opposite the League House. That this was deliberately done to create disturbance is proved by the fact that some of the more respectable Democrats used all their influence to have the stands removed from their unnecessary proximity to the League House, but without success. The chief staple of the speeches from these stands was coarse abuse of the Union League, and had not the Union men in the neighborhood been determined that no breach of the peace should occur, the outrageous efforts of the Keystone Club and its allies, would doubtless have proved successful.

The Mayor of the city deserves great praise for his efficient disposition of the police force, during Saturday night. which checked the riotous tendencies of the Copper-Johnsons and preserved the general peace of the city, in spite of the threats of bloodshed and arson, which were so freely indulged in, during the

On Friday night, the same determination to breed a riot was openly manifested. Although, as we have already said, the time of the Union League demonstration was changed to avoid the possibility of any collision, the Clymerites acted in such grossly bad faith as to erganize a meeting directly on the route of a large portion of the Union torchlight procession. But again the Union men showed their love of law and order by changing their routes to avoid passing this meeting. Their efforts were unsuccessful. At Sixth and Chestnut they were set upon, first with the vilest abuse which language would afford, and then with blows and pistol shots. The disturbance lasted but a few moments, as the police and the "Boys in Blue" quickly routed the rioters; not, however, until many severe wounds had been inflicted upon the loyal men in the procession.

The same thing occurred with the Republican Invincibles. For the special purpose of avoiding any collision with the Clymer meeting, they passed down Walnut street, instead of Chestnut street, but only to meet with the same reception. From Ninth to Eighth streets they were greeted with groans, shootings and the most degrading epithets, which were received with silent contempt by that well disciplined club. Finding that they could not provoke a fight by words, the Copperheads resorted to bullets, and a volley was fired into the ranks from the sidewalk, in close proximity to the Copperhead club-rooms. Then they got the fight they craved so much. It was of very short duration, but appeared to be sufficient to satisfy the rioters, who beat a speedy retreat before the sudden onslaught of the "Invincibles," leaving their demolished headquarters in the hands of the victors. We are never disposed to justify private citizens in taking the law into their own hands, but there has rarely been a similar case, where the provocation was so flagrant and outrageous, where it met so comparatively slight a punishment upon the spot. Other efforts were made to incite riots in our streets on Saturday night, and in one case, volleys of brick-bats were hurled at the police from the same headquarters that had been the centre of the disturbance on the preceding night. We refer to these pro eedings as reflecting the deepest disgrace upon the Copperheads who originated them, and as proofs that the Republicans of Philadelphia constitute the party of law, peace

THE PARTY OF DISCORD. There never was a more transparent sham than the Copperhead pretence that they are anxious for conciliation and concord. The reverse is the real state of the case. The leaders of the party know perfectly well that they encouraged the South to begin the war, that they encouraged them to continue the struggle after it had become hopeless, and that now, when the question of re-construction comes up, they encourage the rebels to exact terms so preposterous, that no intelligent Northern man of any party, supposes they will ever be granted. If this is the party of conciliation and concord, let us, by all means, go for the party of estrangement and discord, if names and actions are so little in accord. The entire Copperhead party from Andrew Johnson, up, or down, have been engaged for months in the work of breeding discord. They have not only in a great measure undone the work performed in the South by the armies of the Union; but they have tried to instigate mob violence against leading men in the North, the President of the United States in a maudlin speech, having asked a disorderly crowd, why they did not hang certain leading statesmen; while he denounced the entire majority in Congress as usurpers and interlopers. These miso set up a bogus Congress in the event f their defeat at the ballot-box, and in every way, from Presidential utterances o the invocations to riot and disorder in he Copperhead organs of the North, they have striven to keep alive the flames of discord and to promote disorder and confusion. The people of three States have already passed judgment upon these mischievous agitators, and to-morrow four great States will thunder out their denunciations of this selfish and wicked faction.

SPECT OF BESTELLING STATES OF THE SPECIAL CONTROL OF THE SPECIAL CON

EIGHTH LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT. A desperate effort is made in the Eighth district to defeat the able and upright nominee of the Union party, Mr. James N. Kerns, who has so faithfully represented it for a number of years. A regular avowed Democrat could not be elected, so the few disaffected Republicans have brought forward a candidate who is supported by the Copperheads and Johnson men of every shade, and who is pledged to vote for the renegade Cowan for the United States Senate. We have no idea that they will succeed. But we exhort all true Republicans to vote for Mr. Kerns, and, by giving him a rousing majority, rebuke the mischief-makers who are trying to carry the district for a Johnson policy man.

BRASS, The modern Copperhead is as brazen n his composition as was the serpent of Moses. Mr. Clymer glories in his shame, acknowledges that he dodged the question of giving the soldiers a vote. "because he was in a tight place." Mr. Buckwalter, makes no attempt to deny or qualify the disloyal speeches which he has made at various times. during and since the war. A moderate amount of brass may be tolerated in men who are heading a forlorn hope, but when it reaches the point of making a boast of disloyalty, decent men are apt to become disgusted with it.

FOLLOW YOUR LEADER. The loyal men of Pennsylvania go heart and soul with General Grant when he declares that

"TO ASK ANY SOLDIER TO VOTE FOR SUCH A MAN [Hiester Clymer], OF AT ONE TIME KNOWN DISLOYALTY, AGAINST ANOTHER WHO HAD SERVED FOUR YEARS IN THE UNION ARMY WITH CREDIT TO HIMSELF AND BENEFIT TO HIS COUNTRY, WAS A GROSS IN-SULT."

TENDERNESS FOR DESERTERS. The Copper-Johnsonites are very anxious concerning the rights of that very estimable class of men known as deserters and bounty-jumpers. They claim that they cannot be excluded from the ballot-box. This concern is very natural, in view of the fact that these precious scoundrels all vote the Copperhead ticket. It would be the height of inconsistency for a party that supports Andrew Johnson to refuse to stand by ordinary deserters.

HOW TO VOTE. Vote Early. The polls will close at Vote Solid. The whole ticket must be elected, without a scratch.

Vote Surely. You have no business important enough to interfere with this business. "VOTE ONLY FOR SUCH MEN AS WERE
