DEDICATED TO THE UNION LEAGUE BY REV E. E. ADAMS, D. D.

"Andy" is out on the open sea In his dear little boat, "My Policy;" The waves are sunny, the sky is blue; Says "Andy," "I'll paddle my own cance, And over the main goes the shrill refrain, "I'll show you what I can do; I'll put 'My Policy' through !"

Away he glides on the willing tide, With a Se(a) ward look on either side: "Haul up the canvass and let her go; 🦠 I am a tailor and I can sew; If the sail files in twain I'll mend it again: Hurrah for something that's new; I'll put 'My Policy' through !"

Away he rides this "merry Andrew"-On the heaving flood, with his staggering crew: And they noisily sing in their dizzy ring, Who cares for Congress? Let it swing! We've bread and butter, our foes may mut-

We'll paddle our own canoe, We'll put 'MY Policy' through !"

They feel the rush of a sudden gale; They hear, o'er the waters, a troublous wail The voice of brave Vermont has spoken; A note from Maine's great heart has broken The "old" Keystone repeats the tone-"Ay! paddle your own cance! Yes! put 'My Policy' through!"

From Indiana's broad domains. Ohio's hills, Iowa's plains, The tones of Destiny go past! They rend the canvass, bend the mast! O. Seward and Doolittle, what can we do Sure, Raymond and Beecher, you Can put 'My Policy' through."

But Raymond leaps o'er the dipping wale, Yields to the billows, is borne by the gale Creeps to the shore with panting breath, Thanks Heaven he has escaped the death; Then waves adieu to the laboring crew, Who know not what they can do,

To "put 'MY Policy' through." They are swept along on the angry sea, This drenched and phrenzied company: The storm is fiercer, the waves are high; The lights are darkened along the sky; While, on the sand, the dripping band i Have paddled their crushed cance,

Have put 'My Policy' through. NEWS FROM EUROPE.

The Eastern Question.

The London Morning Post "City article" says: "Advices from Paris state that frequent interviews are taking place between the representatives of the various European powers and the French Foreign office, relative to Eastern affairs, but more espe-cially between the French Foreign Minister and the representatives of England and

and the representatives of England and Russia."
Official accounts from Candia, published in Alexandria, state that the news of the defeat of the Egyptian troops by Candiotes is inaccurate. The Egyptians, not expecting the commencement of hostillities, were temporarily separated from the Turkish troops. Immediately on the arrival, however, of Ishmael Pasha, he succeeded in reuniting the Egyptian troops with the Turkish troops with the loss of only tenmen.

The Paris Moniteur says that in Candia, unfortunately, blood has been shed, but the insurrection has not progressed. The arrival of the Turkish Commissioner appears to have produced a favorable impression, and up to the present time all hopes have not been abandoned of the success of the mission with which he is intrusted.

Proclamation by the President-Day of Thanksgiving Appointed.

WASHINGTON, October 8th.—The following Proclamation has just been issued by the President of the United States:
Almighty God, our heavenly Father, has been pleased to vouchsafe to as a people another year of that national life which is an indispensable condition of peace, secu-rity and progress. That year has, moreover, been crowned with many peculiar blessings. The civil war that has so recently closed among us, has not been anywhere reopened. Foreign intervention has ceased to excite alarm or apprehension. Intrusive pesti-lence has been benignly mitigated. Domestic tranquillity has improved. Sentiments of conciliation have largely prevailed, and the affections of loyalty and patriotism have been widely received. Our fields have yielded quite abundantly. Our mining industry has been richly rewarded, and we have been allowed to extend our railroad system for into the interior recesses of the country, while our commerce has resumed its customary activity in foreign seas.

These great national blessings demand a national acknowledgment.

Now, therefore, I, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do hereby recommend that Thursday, the 29th day of November next, be set apart and be Served everywhere in the several States and Territories of the United States by the peo-ple thereof, as a day of thanksgiving and praise to Almighty God.

With due remembrance that "in His temple doth every man speak of His honor," I recommend also that on the same solemn occasion, they do humbly and devoutly im-plore Him to grant to our National Councils and to our whole people, that divine wisdom which alone can lead any nation into the ways of all good. In offering these National Thanksgiving praises and supplications, we have the Di vine assurances that "the Lord remained seal. and saxty-six, and of the Independence of the United States, the ninety-first. ANDREW JOHNSON.

By the President:
WILLIAM H. SEWARD,
Secretary of State.

From Mexico.

New York, Oct. 8.—Advices from San Antonio, via Galveston, Texas, say that quite a number of Santa Anna's agents are at work recruiting for a raid on Matamoras. But little sympathy was shown them there, it being fully understood that Santa Anna had pledged to Napoleon to acknowledge the French debt if he succeeds in gaining a faction on the Movies sail footing on the Mexican soil.

Very few have signified their intention of joining his standard, as he is known to be inimical to the Liberal cause, and his ante cedents with the Texans having always been of a questionable character from his Quite large quantities of arms, ammunition, and supplies have lately reached the Mexican frontier, designed for Juarez' army at Monterey and other places.

The forces under General Escobedo are now in excellent condition, and will soon be fully equipped for the coming winter campaign.

The latest advices from Chihuahua of September 17, state that Juarez was then at that place, preparing for an early departure for Monterey, where General Escobedo was at present in command. The Liberal forces were in excellent condition, and sanguine of success, and await the presence of their President, who, for five years, has upheld their cause.

A CLERICAL JOWE.—Some time since one of the most popular clergymen in this vicinity had an exchange with the pastor of a church some dozen miles away, and feeling the need of exercise, started on Saturday, to his appointment. He was well on his way at noon, and feeling an unusually good appetite, he halted at a wayside farmhouse and asked the good lady if she could give him a dinner. She very prudently referred him to her husband, who was digging potates in a field near by, and in applying to him the clergyman said he was willing to work to pay for his dinner, and picking up a hoe did his row in good style till they were summoned to the house. The farmer had observed that the stranger could handle a hoe, and being short of help he suggested, after dinner, that he would be glad to hire him to help complete the harvest. The clergyman said he did not know as he could leave other engagements, but if no one else A CLERICAL JOKE.—Some time since one clergyman said he did not know as he could leave other engagements, but if no one else was engaged, the farmer might write to him in a week or so, and he should have an answer. The farmer agreed, and asked for his address, and was told to direct to Rev. Mr.—, of——. The astonishment of the worthy couple can be imagined, and their apologies were far more profuse than coherent. The dergyman declared no apology necessary, and, after inviting his new friends to attend church and hear him preach next day, he went on his way.—Worcester Spy.
