The Storm at Washington and Baltimore. WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Professor Henry, of the Smithsonian Institute, says that the amount of rain which fell from yesterday morning, at 9 A. M., to this morning at the same hour, was somewhat more than five inches, being the greatest quantity that has fallen within a similar period for a long time. Considerable damage to property is reported along the line of the upper Potomac and the Chesapeake and Ohio canal, as well as in this city and Georgetown. The storm has continued since yesterday with but brief intermissions.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11th.—The storm has caused heavy floods in all the streams, and and considerable damage and loss of life.

A number of bridges and mill-dams have been carried away. The bridges on the Franklin and Frederick turnpikes are gone.
Several houses have been swept away. A family of six persons, and another of three were drowned. Several bodies have been found to-day. The Illchester bridge, on the the Baltimore and Ohio road, were also destroyed.

The bodies of the unfortunate family who were drowned in the flood on Gwynn's Falls, one mile from this city, by their house being swept away, have all been found except the mother and one child. Three of the children were found nearly together at the foot of Ridley street. The body of the father was found in another locality. Their name was Daily. There are reports of the loss of other lives.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11.—The rain has continued to-day without intermission, and is still falling, with a heavy easterly wind; All accounts agree that the quantity of water which fell in this region was most extraordinary. A number of dams and bridges on the Patapsco have been destroyed. The extensive dam at Elysville was swept off, and coming against the turnpike bridge at Ellicott's Mills, destroyed it. The wrecks finally accumulated at the heavy stone bridge at Illchester, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, thisteen miles from Baltimore, which gave way before the tremendous volume of water. This bridge was considered the water. This bridge was considered the strongest on the road, and had successfully resisted all former floods. All the other bridges on the road are safe. A large force of workmen have commenced the repairs, and the treis of the road are safe. and the trains will be running as usual in the course of to-morrow.

There has been considerable destruction of live stock, and it is reported that dead sheep, hogs, cows and horses are strewn along the banks of the river.

Judge Russell, of Boston, BATTIMORE, Oct. 11.—A public meeting was held to-night, at the Front Street Theatre, under the auspices of the American Freedmen's Union Commission and the Baltimore Association for the moral and educational improvement of the colored people. Chief Justice Chase presided. The Hon, Judge Russell, of Boston; Henry Ward Beecher, General O. O. Howard and others addressed the meeting. Mr. Beecher's address was a very eloquent and effective effort, and was warmly applauded. He made a strong appeal in behalf of the education of the colored people.

Horrible Indian Outrages Discovered.... Ransom of the Surviving Victims. ST. Louis, Oct. 11.—Captain Barlow, of General Sherman's staff, arrived here yeserday from Fort Dodge, where he saw two white girls, named Doye, one seventeen and the other thirteen years old, who had been ransomed from the Kiowa Indians. The girls say that on the 27th of August the Kiowas attacked their home in Northwestern Texas, killed, scalped and burned their father; themselves and mother, and sister, eight years old, were carried into captivity and treated in the cruelest and most revolting manner. On arriving at the Indian camp, the captives were knocked about with camp, the captives were knocked about with clubs, and brutally abused. On hearing their condition, the commanding officer at Fort Dodge, not having sufficient force to rescue them, effected their ransom, and will send them to their friends in Texas as soon as they recover from their terrible sufferings. While in the Indian camp, the officer ings. While in the Indian camp, the officer sent to arrange their ransom saw the captives knocked down three times and violated.

A SINGULAR PLACE TO SUP.—The Worcester (Mass.) Spy says that on Tuesday afternoon the chimney—one hundred and fifty feet in height—which the Messrs. Lapham, of Millbury, had erected for their mill, was completed, and a party of some twenty-five or more of the workmen on the premises, nartook of an ovster supper upon the sumor more of the workmen on the premises, partook of an oyster supper upon the summit. The day after the chimney came to the ground, injuring severely, if not fatally, Wm. Spencer, who was employed near the base. The fall is supposed to have been owing in part to the fact that the mortar had not had sufficient time to become thoroughly

A HUNDRED BABIES IN A STABLE,—An English paper says: "An old stable with one hundred little babes nestling in the horse-troughs, is something of a novelty, but the spectacle is daily to be seen in the locality of Union street Brough road locality of Union street, Borough road, London. The work has been somewhat recently undertaken by the Rev. George Aldington, who, at his own expense, secured an old stable to form a nursery, and fitted it up for taking care of the babes of women obliged to go to char or work away from home. The hay cribs remain and serve as cradles."

AN OLD HOUSE.—The Pall Malt Gazette AN OLD House.—The Pall Mall Gazette says: "There are not many noblemen in these days of banking and manufacturing barons who can write themselves down as thirty-third of their title. The marriage advertisements lately set forth the fact that 'John Francis Erskine, Thirty-third Earl of Marr,' had got married. Lord Hailes might well say that the title of Marr was lost in remote antiquity. The heralds begin to count Earls of Marr before the title of earl was known in Scotland."
