Important from Mexico. New York, October 17.—Private letters, dated Monterey, Sept. 27th, from Maj. Gen. Lew Wallace, have been received by prominent merchants in this city.

The Liberals were confident of success and were continually receiving munitions of war, and as they advanced were obtaining war, and as they advanced, were obtaining the necessary funds for carrying on the war. At the time of writing, the French were retreating instead of advancing.

Brownsville letters to Oct. 3d have also been received. General Tapia was still in the vicinity of Matamoras.

The attempt made by the Americans who were in the service of the Liberals was to Place Tapla in power.

Canales has issued so many prestimos to support his mountebank, that the merchants of Matamoras are leaving as fast as they can get away.

Gen. Tapia was in great favor among the merchants and all the prominent citizens, and as he is supported by Juarez, he will doubtless be put in power.

The people were unanimously in favor of Juarez, and will stand by him to the last. Gen. Carvajal had retired to private life on his ranche. BROWNSVILLE, Sept. 25.—Since my last letter, the forces under Major-General Hi-nojosa and Brig.-General Ford, of the Mexinojosa and Brig. General Ford, of the Mexi-can army, have joined, and are in camp-near Matamoras, awaiting a supply of arms-and ammunition, as well as a junction of forces under Cortinas and Trevino, which are said to be marching this way. When the organization shall have been completed, they will at once proceed to attack Canales, who is busily engaged in making prepara rations to receive them.

To-day Captain Osbon, of the Mexican may, made a formal demand for the gunhoat Chinaco from General Brown, commanding the United States forces here. The General, who has evidently committed seri-ous blunders in connection with this gunhost question, informed Captain Osbon that he should continue to hold the Chinacountil he received instructions from higher au-thority. General Ford also requested that the arms should be surrendered to him, which was also refused.

There can be but little question if General Brown had allowed the Mexican gunboat, that Captain Osbon would have run the fire of the forts of Canales, and joined the military forces, and together they could have operated to a decided advantage. Captain Osbon has had too much experience under Admiral Farragut in running batteries to have run those of the usurper Canales; yet it is not improbable that before daylight dawns to morrow the legitimate Liberal force will march upon the city of Matamoras. A norther is blowing, and everything is propitious for the success of the undertaking. Hinojosa's forces already hold some of the outer forts, and both parties have thrown out strong picket lines. A large guard is stationed at the ferry, and a of sentinels extends along the river bank from Santa Cruz down to the Cosa Mata, an old casemated work near the lower landing place. It cannot be long before something decisive turns up.

the time of closing this letter has received no reply. The whole matter will, probably, be referred to Washington,

The Late Quebes Conflagration. QUEBEC, Oct. 17.—Temporary sheds are being erected for the victims of the late fire. There is much suffering in prospect, and private individuals are contributing largely to provide the necessaries of life for the sufference of ferers, and several soup kitchens have been established. Another man, named De Foe. has died from injuries received. An appeal has been made to the people of England and France for aid. TRANSFER OF A WOOLEN ESTABLISH-MENT FROM SCOTLAND TO BUFFALO. - Some time since we mentioned the fact that a wealthy British woolen manufacturer, re-moving his establishment to this country, had determined its location in Buffalo, as the most advantageous point for carrying on the large manufacture which he con-templates. We are now able to state that all arrangements are concluded, and that the gentleman in question, Mr. McMillan, who is a Scotchman of large capital and exwho is a Scotchman of large capital and experience in business, has now returned to New York to bring on the machinery which he had left in that city while selecting the location for his factory. It is his purpose to establish the general manufacture of woolen goods here upon an extensive scale, making a specialty for the present of plaid goods and Balmoral skirts.—Buffalo Express.

Colored Jurymen in Boston.—The Boston Commonwealth says: "It is an interesting fact, and an evidence of the progress of the age toward edual rights for all, white and black, that in the Superior Court of this county for criminal business there is, this term, one colored juryman, and in the Superior Court for civil business, first session, one, and in the second session of the same court there are two. No objection is made to them; but, on the contrary, it is said they are an improvement on many white persons heretofore drafted for this purpose. This is the first term of these courts where colored men have been put on the juries, although in a recent term of the Supreme Court in a trial for murder, as we have recorded, there was one who served."

The receipts from internal revenue have recorded, there was one who served."

THE receipts from internal revenue sources, exclusively to this date, amount to over $115,500,000, which is an excess of $1,000,000 per diem from the beginning of the present fiscal year, namely, the let of July. It is believed that the income from this source will reach to nearly the same figures as those of last year, which will be largely in excess of the amount estimated and required, leaving a heavy surplus to be appropriated to the liquidation of the national debt.

THE FRANKLIN INSTITUTE.—The regular monthly meeting of the Franklin Institute, monthly meeting of the Franklin Institute, last evening, was, as has been usual of late, largely attended. The meeting was called to order with Mr. Coleman Sellers in the chair. After the usual business, which occupied about ten minutes, the Resident Secretary, Professor Morton, read his Report on Novelties in Science and the Mechanic Arts, which, with the various experimental demonstrations by which it was accompanied, occupied about an hour and a quarter.

quarter. In the course of this report a great number of new engineering works and improve-ments in machinery were described, some of these by the aid of diagrams projected upon the screen; among others we were spe-cially interested by the process for manu-facture of artificial stone, known as Ramson's, which is now carried on in this city at 620 Market street, and of which numerous beautiful specimens were exhibited. This process has obtained great success and high commendation abroad, and promises to be of great value to ornamental architecture.

Improvements in pens, in gas engines, in steam pumps, in the electric lamp, in the process for staining woods, in producing oxygen, in the manufacture of iron, cc., cc., were noticed, and there were exhibited a series of beautiful instantaneous photographs taken by Mr. J. C. Browne, of this graphs taken by Mr. J. C. Browne, of this city, showing various moving objects in the act of motion with perfect sharpness and beautiful effect. Steamboats and sailing vessels under full way, rippling waves and moving figures were all depicted with perfect sharpness and precision. These pictures were all shown by projection on the screen, as were also a number of photographs of the moon, made from the negatives taken by Mr. L. M. Rutherford, and of a size never before produced the class posia size never before produced, the glass positive used in the lantern being on a scale of thirtuinches to the moon's diameter. Some striking optical experiments were also shown, in which, among other things, a gigantic hand with all the color, relief and motion of life was projected on the screen, and some beautiful exhibitions of electricity were also made.

At the conclusion of the Secretary's report Mr. Nystrom made some remarks on a new preparation of iron for the journals of machinery, after which the meeting was on motion, adjourned.

The party started at eight o'clock, with a horse and wagon at the head carrying a transparency with the following inscriptions: "In honor of Geary's election, the Clymer men fulfill their wager." Six more dead bodies have been taken from the ruins of the burning shop this evening. It is now thought others still remain buried in the debris. Some of the bodies are so badly burned that they cannot be identified.

The cause of the explosion was the weakness of the boiler, of which the proprietors are said to have been notified by their engineer some days since. The Coroner will investigate the whole matter to-morrow. After the explosion the ruins took fire and burned furiously for some time. Despite the most desperate efforts of the firemen. two dwellings adjoining were consumed.

During this time the scene was appalling.

The appeals for aid of helpless creatures in the ruins, and the frantic cries of their relatives outside, were heartrending in the Up to 9 P. M. no more bodies have been

AN HISTORICAL BELL ON THE STAGE.—A bell which is heard in the first act of "Don Juan d'Autriche," now playing at the Theatre Française, in Paris, is one of those which on the 24th of August, 1572, gave the signal for the massacre of St. Bartholomew. Being put up for sale during the revolution, all the bells of St. Germain l'Auxerrois, were bought by a founder named Flauban, who parted with the smallest of them to the theatre named.
