[See Second and Last pages for additional Locals.] Contemplated Improvements.—The large property known as the "Bull's Head," at Sixty-fifth and Sixty-sixth and Vine streets, with the adjoining grounds has been purchased by Robert J. Mercer, and the building, containing eighty rooms, is to be put immediately in order for a first-class boarding house. The Market Street Passenger Railroad passes these grounds. Mr. Power, of the firm of Power & Weightman, has also purchased about 150 acres of ground adjoining the Burd Asylum, and, we understand, intends erecting upon it several mansions in the spring. Mr. Thomas has purchased a large lot on Blockley avenue, or Sixty-fourth and Vine, and will immediately commence erecting a mansion for his own residence. This is one of the best localities near the city for the erection of residences. CONTEMPLATED IMPROVEMENTS. - The COURTS.

QUARTER SESSIONS — Judge Allison.—
Yesterday an attachment was issued to bring in Mrs. Ryan and Mr. Mooney, two witnesses for the Commonwealth. When the tipstave attempted to serve the attachment upon Mrs. Ryan she ran from her house, and Mr. Mooney kept out of the way. This was reported to the judge who directed the tipstave to search again, and if he secured the parties to have them locked in prison until this morning. This morning the two witnesses were in Court. Mrs. Ryan excused her conduct on the ground that she had agreed to meet the prosecutor at Sixth and Chestnut streets, and not finding him there went home. She was fined $10 and costs, for contempt.

Mr. Mooney denied having any subposna served upon him, and therefore he declined to acknowledge the attachment. He was fined $20 and costs.

James Cahill was put on trial, charged with the larceny of a trunk. This case grew out of the transaction in which Joseph White was convicted yesterday.

MURDER IN OHIO.—A horrible murder is reported in Ohio. The wife of a young man named Alexander T. Stewart, living about three miles from Blue Lick Springs, had been in the habit of visiting the orchard of a neighbor to get apples. She had permission of the owner of the orchard, an old gentleman, to take fruit, but on her last visit to his premises she undertook to carry off more than he was willing. Some hard visit to his premises she undertook to carry off more than he was willing. Some hard words passed between them, when the woman went home and informed her husband hat the old man had insulted her. This greatly enraged Stewart, and he armed himself with a butcher knife, and went in search of the owner of the orchard. Finding him eaning back in a chair at his home, Stewart aught him by the head and cut his throat from ear to ear. The murderer was arrested om ear to ear. The murderer was arrested

These ame—a blunder in which would at once ettle one's character as a sportsman. Thus ne ought to say: a brood of grouse, a bevy f qualls, a covey of patridges, a covert of cots, a dropping of sheldrake, a flight of roodcocks, a gaggle of geese (when they are t rest), a skein of geese (when on the wing), herd of swans, a nid of pheasants, a spring f teal, a sege of herons, a team of wild ucks, a tripof dotterels, a wing of ployare ucks, a tripof dotterels, a wing of plovers, and a wisp of snipes.

THREE HORSES DROWNED.—On Saturday last, a young man named Peter Schriver, residing at Conemaugh Station, Cambria county, Pa., undertook to drive a two horse team, with a wagon attached, across the Conemaugh river at that place. A companion was driving immediately behind him, also with a two horse team and wagon, and as the stream was swollen from recent rains and the current wars are him, also with a two horse team and wagon, and as the stream was swollen from recent rains, and the current very swift, they hesitated about entering the water. After consultation they concluded to tie the bridles of the rear team to the tail board of of the forward wagon, believing that this arrangement would add to their mutual safety. When they had reached the deepest portion of the stream the current pressed so heavily against the wagon beds as to carry them down stream, and the horses were unable to keep their feet. The men, finding the horses begin to struggle desperately for their lives, and fearing they might receive serious injury from the animals, jumped from the wagons and with great difficulty succeeded in reaching the shore. The horses were carried down the stream to a bridge, where the first team divided against a pier—one horse being held on one side, and the other on the other side of the pier—the harness keeping them fast until they were drowned. The other team was carried off by the current, but only one of the horses was drowned. Both wagons were lost. The horses belonging to Mr. Shriver were handsome matches, and were worth over $500. They were being driven by a son of the owner, and he was so excited over his misfortune that he almost lost his wits. He should rather have rejoiced that his life was spared.

WILLIAM H. OLIVER, ERQ., Agent for Marvin & Co.:
Dear Sir:—At the late terrible fire on Middle street, which destroyed our Banking House, we had two of your safes. One of them was removed, and we were removing the other, when we were directed to leave the conce, as an adjoining building was about being blown up. The entire row of buildings was consumed, but on opening the Safe we had the astisfaction of finding everything inside perfect.

We can cheerfully recommend them as being perfectly fireproof, as we have examined two others of your make which were in the same fire, both of which preserved the books and papers that were in them.
