* Mount Calvary, with Meditations on Sacred Places," is the title of a deeply-interesting book, from the pen of Rev. Matthew Hale Smith, which will be sure to attract many thoughtful readers. The idea of all sacred doctrines and duties clustering around Mount Calvary, is admirably worked out, and adhered to; and some of the points in the Old Testament history used as illustrations, are very strikingly treated. "The Ark of God on a New Cart," "The Plain of Zaainaim," "The Plain of Ono," and "Palace Shushan," may be specified in this connection, and we venture to say, many who have passed over the Old Testament history, as of a time entirely gone by, wil be surprised into a new attention to its real meaning and practical bearing even on the daily duties of this present time. Some of the New Testament chapters are admirable "Calvary, and the Church of God," "Cal vary, and the Sabbath of Eden," may be particularly recommended, but we advise a careful reading of the whole treatise, for it will amply repay perusal. "The Letters of Eugénie de Guerin, "edited by M. Trebutien, are so well-known and admired in the literary world, that further remark or criticism is well nigh superfluous. Probably every one who reads the volume will be struck by the simplicity, pathos, and tenderness of Eugénie's character; as it betrays itself in her correspondencel and we sometimes feel that we are allowed to look rather too far into her inmost heart and soul. We cannot, however, often regret this, as the completeness of the character is only thus to be seen; and doubtless, this collection of letters will be read by many who will be grateful to the editor for preserving them for their pleasure and profit. "Vignettes: Twelve Biographica, Sketches," is the attractive title of a beauti-Jul volume published by "Strahan, London and New York." As the title indicates, the memoirs are mere sketches of the twelve women whose lives and characters are here drawn; but they are full enough to give one an excellent idea of the main characteristics of each. The most interesting of the series of "Vignettes" are the sketches of "La Sœur Rosalie," "Madame Luce of Algiers," and "Mrs. Delany;" but in selecting those, we do not mean to intimate that the nine other biographies are lacking in interest. On the contrary a perusal of the whole series will well repay the reader. For sale by Smith, English & Co.

We have received from Smith, English & Co., a copy of one of Herr Björnson's best works, as the translators' preface calls it-"Arne" is a tale of Norwegian country life; and many of the descriptions of natural scenery are especially beautiful. The pre face, by the translators, gives a sketch of the author's life; and in several points, we may trace a similarity between the hero of the story, and the author himself, especially in the aspiration after higher things than a mere country life could afford, and the strong determination to write out the thoughts of the mind, and thus attain to

Mr. James S. Claxton sends us a very ele gant edition of "The Book of Common Prayer, as amended by the Westminster Divines, A. D. 1661. E dited by Rev. C. W. Shields, D.D., with an historical and liturgi cal treatise." It is beautifully printed on the finest paper and is elegantly bound. It will, make a most attractive ornament for the parlor or study library.

Ashmead & Evans have sent us a charming book called "Pastimes with my Little Friends," which, doubtless, will delight many children besides the author's own immediate circle of young friends. It is very prettily and tastefully bound, and the inside pages of reading, will not disappoint the expectation raised by the external dress.

PENNSYLVANIA CENTRAL RAILROAD-CHANGE OF TIME.—By a reference to the advertisement of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, given in another column, it will be seen that the running time of their trains will change on Sunday, the 21st inst. Those Interested will please notice that by the new arrangement the Sunday Paoli trains have been discontinued.

FREAKS OF A MERCHANT.—The wealth of Amsterdam is said to fall much short of what it was during the period of Dutch commercial pre-eminence. It is not long since that strangers, in visiting Amsterdam, were shown the spacious house of a merchant who after having lavished much on furniture and paintings, actually caused the floor of one of his apartments to be laid with Spanish dollars, set on edge.

Whims equally ridiculous, for disposing of an overplus of wealth, appear to have been far from uncommon in former times in Holland.

There is, in Arnheim, an old, fantastical-looking dwelling, the original owner of which was a Jew merchant, who erected the house out of pure revenge. His coffers were so well replenished that he was at a loss to be a supply his superfluors cash know how to employ his superfluous cash At last he hit upon a fanciful expedient. He determined to make a pavement before his residence of large, massive plates of silver, and to surround it with an ornamenta chain of the same costly material. Before carrying this plan into effect, however, it be hooved him to obtain the sanction of the au thorities. But these worthies, void of sympathy, set their faces against a propositio might have compelled them to in crease the town guard. Enraged at their moncompliance, Moses determined to punish them. He ordered his dwelling, situated in the principal street, to be pulled down, and on its site he erected the one now standing. It is literally covered with diabolical figures, amounting, it is said, to three hundred and sixty-five, one for each day in the year, to afford the city worthies both abundance and

THE PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.

October 9th, 1866.

GEARY'S MAJORITY 17,700.

The Total Vote Nearly 600,000.

We give below the full official votes for Governor in every county of the State except Pike, and in that we have the official majority. We have examined and corrected them carefully from the tables printed in the county papers, and believe that the official count at Harrisburg will not vary one hundred in the majority. THE ARCH.-Mr. Bandmann closes his engagement this evening, playing in "Nar cisse." On Monday "The Fast Family" will again be produced, with the excellent cast which marked it when it was first brought out. It is one of Mrs. Drew's great successes, and will draw excellent houses as ong as other engagements will permit of its being kept on the boards.

THE CHESTNUT .- Mr. Owens will appear in "The Cricket on the Hearth" and "Forty Winks" this evening, they being his final performances, we believe. He has given our theatre-goers inexpressible delight, both by his humor and his pathos, and with each evening some new feature has been added We hope often to welcome this super

THE WALNUT.-Mr. Edwin Booth repeate Brutus, in the play of that name, and also Petruchio in "Taming of the Shrew," this evening. On Monday he enacts Shylock in "The Merchant of Venice," Mr. Booth has drawn houses packed to the ut-most extent since the opening of his en-gagement, and his popularity seems to be on the increase. He is capitally supported by Miss Denin, Mr. Hill, Mr. Roberts and the company generally. THE AMERICAN.—"Mazeppa," with Miss Kate Fisher as the star, is the attraction at his popular theatre.

THE CITY MUSEUM THEATRE will not open until the 27th, owing to the repairs, alterations, &c., not being finished. ASSEMBLY BUILDINGS .- Signor Blitz and dispet Canary Birds, with the immortal sobby, will give two exhibitions to-day. Every variety of wonder and mirth will be introduced for the happiness of all present.

The new feats of the Gallant Gardener, and the Shower of Doves, will be performed, besides a large selection of necromantic illustrations and ventriloquism. Parents who love to see their children delighted should take them to see the humorous Blitz. THE ELEVENTH STREET OPERA HOUSE presents a most capital Saturday night's bill, all the company appearing.

THE LINCOLN TABLEAUX are given a National Hall nightly. They will also be exhibited at a matinee to-day.

IN PRESS.—T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, Pa., have in press the following works: "Country Quarters," by the Countess of Blessington; "Saratoga; a Story of 1787. An Indian Tale of Frontier Life;" "The Corsiner Brothers" by Alexander of 1787. An Indian Tale of Frontier Life;"
"The Corsican Brothers," by Alexander Dumas; "The National Cook Book," by a Lady of Philadelphis, a Practical Housewife; "The Freebooters" and "The White Scalper," by Gustave Aimard; "The Family Save-All," a book that every family should own, by the author of "The National Cook Book," and "The Young Hairass," by Mrs. Book;" and "The Young Heiress," by Mrs

THE NEW LEDGER BUILDING

AN IMMENSE NEWSPAPER ES-

A Full Description of the Premises.

To the liberality and enterprise of Mr George W. Childs, the well-known proprietor of the Public Ledger, Philadelphia will be indebted for a very fine improvement, and one of the handsomest buildings in the city. The work on the new Ledger office at the S. W. corner of Sixth and office at the S. W. corner of Sixth and Chestnut streets is progressing rapidly, and already a very good idea of what the structure is intended to be can be formed.

The property contains a front 84 of feet on Chestnut street, and extends 79 feet? inches on Sixth street. To this is being added a building similar to the corner structure. The addition comprises 91 feet 2½ inches, making the entire depth on Sixth street, 171 feet. At the lower end there is a wing 36 feet in width extending to George's court. The entire building is five stories in height, with a basement and sub-cellar, and is to be covered with a Mansard roof. From is to be covered with a Mansard roof. From the sub-cellar to the roof is 95 feet. The first story is of iron and the upper stories of brown

The Ledger establishment will occupy but a portion of the building. The main feature will be the press room. This will be at the lower end, and will have a front of 90 feet on Sixth street. It will extend back to George's court, a distance of 131 feet, and will be 20 feet 3 inches in height. The boilers and engine will be at the rear end, where there will be ample room for folders, car-riers and newsboys. The boilers will be of the Harrison make, and will be of sufficient capacity to supply the whole concern with heat and steam power. It is the design of Mr. Childs to make the press-room one of the finest in the world. Those who are curious to witness the workings of an immense newspaper press will be gratified. At the Sixth street entrance to the basement there is to be a gallery where the public can see the operations without interfering with the employes. The press room is to be located wholly in the new part of the building.
The first story, at the corner is to be handsomely fitted up with black and white wal-nut panels, for the publication office. It will be 21; feet on Chestnut street and 62 feet deep on Sixth street. There will be ample accommodations for the transaction of the husiness of the percent of the business of the paper.

The second story on Sixth street, and in the rear wing and portion of the new building on Sixth street, will be rented as offices; there being about forty in all. They will be heated from the Ledger boilers.

The third story on Sixth street, and on the southern wing, running through to George's court, will be used as the editorial rooms and the job printing establishment. All the presses used will rest on flooring supported by wrought iron beams. 17514 The fourth story will be rented for manu-

> The fifth story will be used as the composition room. It will be 22 feet wide, 122 feet long, and 20 feet high, with a double row of windows, affording plenty of light and ven-tilation. It is to be made a model "workshop" for the printers. Connected with the composing room will be the stereotype foundry 35 by 80 feet, with a brick floor so as to make it fire-proof.

On Chestnut street the building covers Nos. 600, 602, 604 and 606. No. 600 is to be occupied as the Ledger office as before stated. Nos. 602 and 604 have been thrown into one publishing with an outlet on Size that the state of the building, with an outlet on Sixth street, and when the necessary alterations are completed, and the building finished, this portion will be occupied entire by Mr. A. T. Stewart, of New York, as a wholesale house. No. 606 is also to be occupied by Cadbuy & Rhydes a dry goods from The Street and Rhedes, a dry goods firm. The first floor and basements of these stores have been extended through to George's court. A steam hoisting apparatus will be provided for each store.

The walls of the entire building are to be tied with wrought iron beams to prevent their falling in case of fire. The body of the new portion of the building is supported by fifteen wrought columns, in addition to the exterior walls. Each olumn was tested to the extent of 150 ions before it was supplied. This will tend to show the substantial character of the tructure.

The work of alteration was commenced on the 1st of May, and it has been carried on vigorously since that time. It is expected that the front of the new building on Sixth street will be up in about six weeks, and that the whole establishment will be finished in the carly part of part year. in the early part of next year.

The cost of the whole concern, including alterations and additions, when completed, will be at least $500,000. The iron work alone costing over $70,000.

Mr. John McArthur, Jr., is the architect.

and his assistant, Mr. George Summers, is now superintending the work. Mr. R. J. Dobbins is the contractor and builder.

The Ledger establishment, when removed to its now location will be a few of the force. to its new location, will be one of the finest and most complete of its kind in this country or in fact in the world.

THE HIBERNIA'S TRIP TO PARIS.-We learn that the Paris Excursion Committee of the Hibernia Steam Fire Engine Company have had a full meeting. The project of the visit to Paris was amply disgussed, but no definite details as to the route were absolutely settled on. It is probable that the excursionists will go from this city to New York; thence to Havre; from thence to Paris to remain three or four weeks Leave Paris to remain three or four weeks. Leaving France they will proceed to Liverpool, London, Queenstown, Dublin, Cork, Belfast, Limerick, etc. The trip will take about three months, and will cost, it is supposed, about $700, or $800, for each participant. The Hibernia will be the only Pennsylvania Fire Company reported at Paris. The members of the company reported at Paris. bers of the company think, that as the New Yorkers are subscribing liberally to send out the 7th Regiment, that the opulent out the 7th Regiment, that the opulent people of Philadelphia should aid them in the same manner. THE NEW WATER WORKS,-Workmen are now busily engaged in completing the reservoir, engine-house, &c., to supply the districts of Germantown, Manayuak and Roxborough. The reservoir is located at Green Tree Station, on the Norristown Railroad. It will hold 12,000,000 gals. The engine road. It will hold 12,000,000 gals. The engine and boiler-house presents a picturesque appearance; it is constructed of gray stone, mined in the neighborhood and will be one story in height, with pointed roof. The engine will be of 200-horse power. The water will be taken from the Schuylkill at Flat Rock Dam. These works will be completed about the last of this year. about the last of this year.

A FINE ESTABLISHMENT.—The changes and improvements in the dry goods and fancy goods establishments along Eighth street have been really wonderful recently, and those familiar with the street a few years since would scarcely know it now. The most prominent and recent improvement made is that of Mr. E. R. Lee, No. 43 North Eighth street. Mr. Lee has earned a high reputation for his dry goods establishment, and he will increase it by the changes he has made. The store is one of the largest, lightest and most airy on the street, and it is fitted up and ornamented with excellent taste. The goods are tastefully displayed, and the attendants take the greatest pains to show them. The stock, comprising all varieties of dry goods, hoop-skirts, &c., cannot be surpassed in the city, and Mr. Lee will continue in the footsteps of Mr. Warnock, his predecessor, adopting for his motto, "quick sales and small profits," a motto which was wonderfully successful under Mr. Warnock's administration. We suggest to our readers that they cannot do better than lock in at Mr. Lee's, when passing along Eighth street, between Market and

ALLEGED BURGLARS.—William Donnelly alias Dunn, Charles Lechler and George Ellison were before Alderman Beitler yes-terday afternoon upon the charge of having been concerned in several house roberies in the city during the past summer. There was evidence to connect them with the robberies of the dwellings of Mr. Thomas Clyde, No. 1710 Arch street; Mrs. Margaret Vaux, No. 1148 Arch street; Mrs. Elizabeth J. Sharpless, No. 1315 Filbert street; Mrs. Gough, Seventeenth and Summer streets: and Mr. Edmund Smith, No. 1504 Arch street. Leonard Duford, otherwise Miller, implicated in several of the robberies, was called to the stand, and testified that he and Lechler and Donnelly robbed the house of Mr. Clyde, but he said he did not know anything about the robberies at the residence of Mrs. Vaux and Mrs. Sharpless; all he knew about was the robberies at Mr. Clyde's and Mr. Frishmuth's. The defendants were all committed for trial. THE taste for art in this city is increasing The gallery of B. Scott, Jr., 1020 Chestaut street, was crowded to excess this week on account of the great special sale of the Messrs. Viti Bros., and it was impossible for most of the company to get near enough to pass in their bids. For this reason the Viti Bros. will offer the contents of 5 cases of fine Alabaster Vases, Statuettes, French Bronzes Bisquet Figures, &c., which arrived too late for the special sale of the 17th, on Tuesday morning next, at 11 o'clock, at which time we advise all lovers of art to attend, as this will be the last opportunity afforded for some time. We would also recommend our friend Scott to open a gallery large enough to accommodate all the connoisseurs of art in this city.

ILLEGAL DISTILLATION.—Before United States Commissioner Smith, yesterday afternoon, William Murphy and Edward O'Gorman were charged with carrying on the business of distilling without a license. Defendants were arrested on the complaint of Henry A. McCalmont, Deputy Collector of the Second District, who made a seizure of the stills, two in number, in the rear of Seventh and Catharine streets, a few days ago. The accused were held to answer at Court. OBITUARY.- Mr. Thomas S. Crombarger died suddenly yesterday at his residence, No. 1322 North Thirteenth street. The de-ceased was well known in the city. He was ceased was well known in the city. Lie was formerly connected with the Gray Reserves, and served during the war as a Commissary of Subsistence, having been commissioned August 2, 1862. More recently he has been acting as one of the deputies of Col. Peter C. Ellmaker, U. S. Marshal.

FINE OYSTERS.—Those who are fond of good bivalves will always find an ample upply at Glenn's oyster bay, at the N corner of Sixth and Chestnut streets. Mr. Glenn has the reputation of always having on hand the very best stock, comprising Saddle Rocks, East River, Princess Bay Tuckerton Bay, Absecom, Morris Coves and Chincoteague. A HOSPITAL REMOVED.—The hospital at Fourth street and Girard avenue, managed moved to the new property at Frankford road and Palmer street. The improvements at the new location cost $30,000.

SERIOUS FALL.-William McConeghy, aged thirty-six years, was admitted to the Hospital yesterday having received a severe dislocation of one of his legs, caused by falling from a ladder in St. John's Church, Race street, above Fifth. The unfortunate man was engaged in fixing pipe in the building, when he lost his footing and fell.

A DWELLING in Sixteenth street is for sale cheap. Possession can be given soon, as will be seen by the advertisement in another column.

[From a Religious Paper.]

Mr. EDITOR-"The Deaf Hear."-Before and since the time our blessed Lord opened the ears of and since time our blessed Lord opened the ears of the deaf, the curse of deafness has been on the earth, and in later days science has been laboring to remedy the evil. No small degree of success has attended these efforts. No touch indeed opens the closed portals of sound—but instruments have been contrived to aid the disordered organ, and the ingenuity manifested in their construction is predeficially a prefested in their construction is wonderful We locking over the collection of Mr. Madeira, and were impressed with the endless variety of instruments deimpressed with the endless variety of instruments devised for this object. To our well-opened "auricles" the application of any one of these instruments was anything but pleasant. It seemed as if a door abut between us and b lagars Falls in full roar was seddenly opened, and the clamor of the rushing terrent broke in upon our brain. But to those hard of hearing the effect is very different. To them the sounds before lost are collected and carried distinctly to the sensorium the aliant universe becomes full of pleasant, intelli-gent sounds. Art ficial drums even are provided for the shilted, and among the twenty-five varieties of instruments exhibited, it seems scarcely possible that any deafness should fail of finding relief, if not a proany deamess should rail of inding relief, if not a pro-per remedy. Many cases of relief are known to us, and we carnestly commend all who are afflicted with defect of hearing, to examine the large collection ex-hibited at the depository, 115 South Tenth street, below

FRESH CONFECTIONERY.—The having of FRESH CONFECTIONERY.—The having of confectionery fresh every day is an idea that would have astounded a past generation of Pailadelphians. E. G. Whitman & Co. No. 318 Chestnut street, oclow Fourth, virtually accomplish this with all their mannfactures for their huge business, and their enormous iacillities for prosecuting it preclude the possibility of, or the necessity for, keeping a stale stock on hand. Their delicious caramels, of which they have a very large variety of flavors, are literally furnished fresh every day. The lovers of good things know how to appreciate these toothsome dainties, as the large sales of them abuvdantly testify. Among others of the new specialties of the firm is Maple Eugar Taify, a native American confection in every respect, that will commend itself to every lover of the dainty and the wholesome.

RENEWING ITS LAURELS. - There is REMEAURUM IN IMAURELS, — There is exarcely a day that does not elicit some new encomiums upon the virtues of the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machines. The agents for their sale in this city—Means. Peterson & Little- are constantly in receipt of letters in confirmation of this. Indeed, so thoroughly are the people in favor of the Wheeler & Wilson over all other machines, that multitudes are throwing their others aside to get this instead.

SUPERB FINE CONFECTIONS, of the very best manufacture and unex eptionable in eyary part cular, carefully manipulated, finely finished and deliciousy fisvored, can be procured in great variety at the establishment of Mr. Stephen F. Whitman, No. 1216 Market street. Strangers visiting the city should make a selection of some of these choice goods before returning home, as they can get them fresh and in the finest order.

CHURCH MATTERS.—The new church edifice at Longacoming, which is designed for the Methodist congregation at that place, is advancing quite rapidly. It will be a fine and commodious church. At Waterford the Presbyterians are also building a convenient house of worship, which is well advanced towards completion. The Center sdvanced towards completion. The Cente-nary Methodist congregation, of Camden, are contemplating soon to begin erecting for themselves a new building, with all the ne-cessary conveniences. The new structure of the Catholics at Sixth and Market streets or the Carnolics at Sixth and Market streets is almost finished, and is an ornament to that section of the city. The congregation of the First Presbyterian Church, under the pastoral charge of Rev. Dr. Reed, will begin a new edifice in the spring, their present one, though large, being inadequate to accommodate all who attend, so great has been the increase within the past few years. The Cooper's Point Baptist church is nearly completed, and is an imposing edifice. completed, and is an imposing edifice. There seems to have been a commendable spirit exhibited recently in the matter of erecting new churches, for, as near as we have been able to ascertain, about twenty are now in course of erection in the First Congressional District alone. Large subscriptions and donations have likewise been made, showing the liberality and willingness of the people to aid in the dissemination of moral influences, not only through the churches but also through the agency of the public schools and other reformatory appliances.

Adding to Health.—The new system of constructing culverts in Camden, by which the expenses of each culvert are borne by the citizens of each culvert district, is contributing greatly to the sauitary condition of the people. An important sewer has just been constructed in Second and Mickle streets, and provisions have been made for some six or seven others in streets which have long needed them. The expense of constructing them are also comparatively light to each property-holder, in comparison with the former property. with the former system.

ENCOURAGING.—The indications of a grand and complete success on the 6th of grand and complete success on the old of next month give increased encouragement to the Union Republican party. In Camden county, Hon. Edward Bettle, for State Senator, will have an increased majority, and the members of Assembly will all be elected. The ticket is a strong one, and every gentleman on it is popularly known

BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS. - For tenyears past building enterprises were never more active in Camden than at the present time. A very large number of buildings are going forward, some of which are tasteful and imposing, and of the first class.

What a Spider Eats per Diem. In order to test what a spider could do in In order to test what a spider could do in the way of eating, we arose about daybreak one morning to supply his fine web with a fiy. At first, however, the spider did not come from his retreat, so we peeped among the leaves and there discovered that an earwig had been caught, and was now being feasted on. The spider left the earwig, rolled up the fly, and at once returned to his "first course." This was at half-past 5 A. M. in September. At 7 A. M. the earwig had been demolished, and the spider, after resting awhile and probably enjoying a nan ing awhile and probably enjoying a nap, came down for the fly, which he had finished at 9 A. M. A little after 9, we supplied him with a daddy-long-legs, which was eaten by noon. At one o'clock a blow-fly was greedily saiged and o'clock, a blow-fly was greedily seized, and then immediately, while apparently no worse for his previous indulgence, he commenced on the blow-fly. During the day and towards the evening a great many small green flies or what green flies, or what are properly termed midges, had been caught in the web; of these we counted 120, all dead, and fast prisoners in the spider's net. Soon after dark, provided with a lantern, we went to examine whether the spider was suffering from indigestion, or in any other way from his previous meals; instead, however, of being thus affected, he was employed in rolling up together the various little green midges, which he then took to his retreat and ate. This process he repeated, carrying up the lots in little detachments, until the web was eaten, for the web and its contents were bundled up together. A slight rest of about an hour was followed by the most industrious was followed by the most industrious web-making process, and before daybreak another web was ready to be used in the same way. Taking the relative size of the spider and of the creatures it ate and applying this to a man, it would be somewhat as follows: At daybreak a small alligator was eaten; at 7 A. M. a lamb; at 9 A. M. a young cameleopard; at 10 clock a sheep, and during the repart; at 10 tooks a sneep, and during the night one hundred and twenty-one larks. This we believe would be a very fair allowance for a man during twenty-four hours; and could we find one gifted with such an appetite and such discretized. appetite, and such digestion, we can readily comprehend how he might spin five miles of web without killing himself, provided he possessed the necessary machinery,
