

NABBY. The October Elections.—Mr. Nabby's Opinion on the Cause of the Defeat of the President.

(From the Toledo Blade.) CONFEDERATE X ROADS (which is the title of an article in the State of Kentucky, October 14, 1866—) was called in haste in the morning of the 14th at a Cabinet meeting called to consider the causes of the unparalleled loss of the Southern Union Johnson Democratic party in the year 1860... The President was gloomy. He hadn't anticipated the defeat. He speculated that he should have himself through all the Northern States...

The Treasury Department has just issued additional regulations concerning the transportation of cotton in bond, to the following effect: It having been represented that much difficulty was experienced by the smaller planters and farmers in the interior counties of the cotton-producing districts, in consequence of the enforcement of the laws relating to the removal of cotton in bond, and that the removal of cotton in bond, and the collection of the same, had become a great source of annoyance and trouble to the planter and farmer... The regulations are as follows:...

These regulations are to be considered additional to the regulations which are contained in series 2, No. 5, of the additional regulations published under date of September 23, 1866.
