BY THOMAS LOVE PRACOCK.

I played with you mid cowslips blowing, When I was six and you were four;
When garlands weaving, flower-balls throwing,
Were pleasures soon to please no more.

Through groves and meads, o'er grass and heather, With little playmates, to and fro, Ye wandered hand in hand together;

But that was sixty years ago. You grew a lovely roseate maiden, And still our early love was strong; Still with no care our days were laden,

They glided joyously along;
And I did love you, very dearly—
How dearly, words want power to show;
I thought your heart was touched as nearly;
But that was fifty years ago.

Then other levers came around you, Your beauty grew from year to year, And many a splendid circle found you The centre of its glittering sphere. I saw you then, first vows forsaking, On rank and wealth your hand bestow; Oh, then I thought my heart was breaking, But that was forty years ago.

And I lived on to wed another: No cause she gave me to repine; And when I heard you were a mother, I did not wish the children mine. My own young flock, in fair progression, Made up a pleasant Christmas row: My joy in them was past expression:— But that was thirty years ago.

You grew a matron, plump and comely,
You dwelt in fashion's brightest blaze;
My earthly lot was far more homely;
But I too had my festal days.
No merrier eyes have ever glistened
Around the hearth-stone's wintry glow,
Than when my youngest child was christtened: But that was twenty years ago.

Time passed. My eldest girl was married. And I am now a grandsire gray; One pet of four years old I ve carried Among the wild-flowered meads to play In our old fields of childish pleasure, Where now, as then, the cowslips blow, She fills her basket's ample measure— And that is not ten years ago.

But though first love's impassioned blind Has passed away in colder light, I still have thought of you with kind-

And shall do, till our last good-night. The ever-rolling silent hours Will bring a time we shall not know, When our young days of gathering flowers Will be a hundred years ago.

From Fortress Monroe.

FORTRESS MONROE, Oct. 27.—The schr. Arlington, Captain W. J. Halsey, arrived in the harbor this morning from Savannah, bound to New York with a cargo of lumber. As she came to anchor it was observed that her colors were at half-mast and union down, causing numerous surmises as to the difficulty on board. She was boarded by Dr. T. E. Wilcox, Quarantine officer, who ascertained that all her crew, with the exception of the captain and two sailors, had been taken down with the remittent fever, and that two of the array had died dever. and that two of the crew had died during the passage. Captain Halsey stated that he left Savannah on the 15th inst., his crew all well, and with a favorable wind and wea-

On the fifth day out the wind blew around to the north and east, and one after another of his crew were taken with the remittent fever until they were reduced to only three fit for duty. With these he managed to work his vessel into the Gulf Stream, and drifted to the northward. Last night he was ninety miles west of Cape Henry, and striking an easterly breeze she steered for this harbor, which she reached this morning. Two of the crew died from the fever, ing. Two of the crew died from the fever, which was contracted at the place they loaded their cargo, and in the immediate vicinity of large rice fields, which were in the process of having the water drawn off, leaving an intensely malarious soil exposed to the hot rays of the sun.

One of the crew, George Parr, belonging to New York, was buried at sea, and the other, a colored steward, named Stephen Scroggins, was landed here, and buried this Scroggins, was landed here, and buried this morning. The remainder of the crew are getting along finely, since their arrival here, and will recover.

The brig Prairie Rose, with a cargo of lumber; the schooner Stephen Tabor, with lumber, for New York; the schooner Margaret, for Richmond, Va., with a cargo of iron, and three others, loaded with lumber, for New York, all sailed from Savannah at the time the Arlington did. The Stephen Tabor had to put back at once with her crew sick with the same fever, and ship an almost entirely new crew.

Bishop William O. Lynch, of Charleston, S, C., and probably one of the most learned men belonging to the Catholic Church in men belonging to the Catholic Church in the South, preached here yesterday morning. He is on his way to his home in Charleston, after the Catholic Plenary Council in Baltimore having just concluded its labors, and of which he had been in constant attendance. Bishop Lynch, as an old friend of Davis and his family, stopped here yesterday to make a friendly visit. In the morning he officiated at the Catholic Chapse here, and delivered an eloquent sermon here, and delivered an eloquent sermon upon Christ's Disciples, taking his text from the fitteenth chapter according to St. John. He became the guest of Brigadler-General He became the guest of Brigadier-General H. S. Burton, commandant of the fort, and during yesterday was seen frequently in company with both Mr. and Mrs. Davis. He paid a farewell visit this morning, and took his departure for Norfolk, intending thence to take the inland route to Charles-

Early this morning a fresh gale sprung up from the east southeast, and has continued all day, increasing as the sun went down, and bringing with it a citzling rain. Bad and bringing with it a drizzling rain. Bad weather is prognosticated for several days. Arrived at Norfolk yesterday, steamers Saratoga and Albemarie, from New York. Schooner R. M. A portion of the stern of the schooner Belle Barnard, of Philadelphia, as it was deciphered, was found a few days ago, on the beach near Body Island, N. C. A short time afterwards, another portion of the same vessel, with rigging and sails attached drifted ashore at Nag's Head. The bodies of a colored man and one of the crew were also washed ashore, and buried by the naof a colored man and one of the crew were also washed ashore, and buried by the na-tives theregbouts. It is supposed the schoon-er must have been wrecked in the late gale, and, perhaps, all on board perished. No other particulars in relation to her could be assurationed.

The Baltimore Police Commissioners. ANNAPOLIS, Oct. 30.—The trial of the Police Commissioners was continued today. The witnesses summoned for the dese were present in large numbers. The fense were present in large numbers. The examination was continued up to three o'clock, when the Court adjourned till five o'clock, the purpose being to hold a night session. It is expected that the case will be brought to a determination to morrow night. The evidence to day went to prove that the boxes used at the last election were the same as used for several years page. that the loxes used at the last election were the same as used for several years part; that boxes for rejected votes were sent to all the Wards, and that twenty-seven were returned with rejected votes.

Visitors to Jeff. Davis.

FORTRESS. MONROR, Oct., 26.—Hon. Wm.
B. Reed, of Philadelphia, one of the counsel of Jeff. Davis; accompanied by Mrs. Robert J. Ould, of Richmond, wife of the ex-rebel Commissioner of Exchange, and another lady and gentleman; reached here late this afternoon, from Richmond. They were landed at Newport News; by the Richmond steamer Georgians; and conveyed here by

The visit of Mr. Reed is not supposed to possess any importance beyond one made for business purposes directly bearing upon the interests of his client.

This is the second visit of Mr. Reed to this place, and immediately after landing he entered the fortress, and will remain there to-night, returning in the morning to Richmond. According to the judgment of the well-informed, there is very little effort being made of concealment respecting the anxiety of all the counsel of Davis of his present rather gloomy prospects of a trial or release from confinement. All the interviews of O'Connor, Reed, and personal and influential friends of Davis with President influential friends of Davis with President Johnson, sought with the view of securing the interposition of Executive olemency for a parole or release, have proved unavailing, and demonstrated that the President, just at this critical period of public sentiment, feels indisposed to assume the responsibility and political danger of such a step. The various actions of Congress and the judicial authorities, relative to the terms of the Circuit Court, and the legal obstacles which have arisen in the way of holding the term next month in Richmond are too well known to be recapitulated, and as the time for its month in Richmond are too well known to be recapitulated, and as the time for its session rapidly approaches, serve to establish the certainty that this term of the Court will be passed by without the long-expected trial of Davis for treason taking place, and that this event will be postponed for an almost indefinite period. The next term of the Court will not be before spring, and until then it is presumed that Davis will be held as a prisoner in the Fortress.

In the conversation which occurred be-

In the conversation which occurred between Davis and Bishop Lynch, during his visit here, it is said Davis remarked that he did not look for any action to be taken in his case by Mr. Johnson, either in the way of a private release from confinement, or any measures on his part that would be transported. any measures on his part that would hasten his trial until the New York and Maryland elections were decided.

FORTRESS MONROE, Oct. 30.—The ex-rebel General Dick Taylor arrived this morning from Washington, on a visit to Jeff. Davis Davis. He remained in the Fort all day and went North to-night.

Colonal James Worrell Commissions.

Colonel James Worrell, Commissioner ap-pointed to secure the improvement of dams in the Susquehanna for the passage of fish has announced that the dam at Columbia has been thus improved, and that the corporations owning dams lately purchased from the State have as yet failed to comply with the law. It is anticipated that some important litigation will be had before the immense fisheries heretofore existing in the Susquehanna can be restored.

Indian Right-Battle in Japan. SAN FRANCISCO, October 30.—An Oregon letter dated October 12th, says a scotting party from Fort McDowell, killed and wounded fifteen Indians, and captured two squaws and seven children.

Japanese advices via Shanghai, September 5th, confirm the previous reports of considerable successes which Chosin had obtained over the Tycoon, who made a descent on the Chesin based as the chosin based of the Chesin b scent on the Chosin territory, but was caught in a defile, and routed with heavy loss. Chosin has retrieved the losses suffered at the beginning of the struggle, and had crossed into Division in the struggle, and fered at the beginning of the struggle, and had crossed into Dkokuni, gaining a signal victory over the forces under the command of Keshin, mate of the Tycoon.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 30.—The heavy S. W. wind which had prevailed here for 12 hours, increased to a furious gale between 12 and 1 o'clock to-day. The tide rose unprecedentedly, filling the cellars with water. Six or eight vessels broke adrift in the harbor, and were more or less damaged. Two buildings were unrocfed, and three unfin-buildings were unroofed, and three unfinished ones were blown down.

In Lonsdale the roof was torn off the storehouse of the Lonsdale Company, and large trees were prostrated. In Newport the tide swept over Long Wharf. The wall of the Old Colony Railroad depot was blown down. The embankment of the Bristol, R. I., Railroad was washed away so badly as to stop the trains for two or three hours. No loss of life is reported.
