The Union Pacific Railroad Excursion.

[Special Despatch to the Bulletin.]

ALLIANCE, Ohio, Oct. 30.—The Excursionists who are about to take a run along the Union Pacific Railroad have arrived here. They had a very pleasant run from Philadelphia to Altoona.

Below Altoona a freight train met with an accident, which delayed the party five hours. The excursionists, however, started on their way rejoicing, and so far have had a good time. At Pittsburgh the party was joined by Capt. John McCoull, Elias D. Kennedy and Josiah Copley, of the Pittsburgh Gazette. The trip so far, has been exceedingly pleasant. C. S.

From Canada.

HAMILTON, C. W., Oct. 30.—A grand dinner was given to the English Confederation delegates last night. Speeches were made by the Hon. J. A. McDonald, Mr. McDougall and others, all in the interest of the Confederation. The speeches were remarkable for the absence of any allusion to the Fenians and to Secretary Seward's letter.

A Yellow Fever Ship at New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30th.—The United States steamer Bienville, from St. Thomas, is lying at quarantine, with eighteen of her crew sick with yellow and intermittent fever. Fourteen others died on the passage.

Railroad Accident.

PEEKSKILL, New York, October 30th.—The Albany train, due at Peekskill about nine o'clock this morning, ran off the track when two miles south of Peekskill, owing to the washing away of the track by the storm.

Three cars were thrown from the track, but none of the passengers were seriously injured. Both tracks will be obstructed for several hours.

Obituary.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30th.—Jacob Lowenthal, well-known as a claim agent of this city, died here last night after a very few hours' illness.

CITY BULLETIN.

SCALDED.—Wm. Jones, aged twenty years, was badly scalded this morning by the explosion of a boiler at his father's silk dyeing establishment, No. 2132 North Front street. No damage was done to the building by the accident.

COURTS.

OYER AND TERMINER.—Judges Allison and Ludlow.—Yesterday afternoon James Monaghan, charged with the murder of James T. Moore, on the 19th of August, 1865, was arraigned for trial. After eight jurors were obtained the panel was exhausted and a special venire was issued returnable this morning. The jury was then selected and the trial proceeded.

The death of Mr. Moore resulted from a fight at Eleventh and Sansom streets on the night of a delegate election.

Dr. Atlee testified that he attended Mr. Moore; first visited him on the 15th and found a wound in the front part of the abdomen; there was also a wound in the back over the region of the kidney. Moore died on the 19th; witness informed Moore that he could not live, but he made no declaration as to the manner in which he received the injuries.

Dr. Shapleigh testified to the post mortem examination and finding two wounds, one in the back and one in the abdomen. The deceased came to his death from hemorrhage in consequence of the wound in the abdomen.

James McLaughlin testified to the occurrences at Eleventh and Sansom streets; a meeting of delegates was being held, and he saw Moore present as a delegate; a row occurred, but the witness didn't see Moore receive his wounds, inasmuch as witness was attacked at the time; he believe Monaghan was there, but could not swear positively that he is the man; Moore was stabbed about the same time the witness was attacked; didn't see any one with a knife.

Alderman McMullin testified that he saw Moore after he was stabbed; saw him at his house; went there to take his dying declarations; nothing was said upon the subject of his dying; the night before his death saw him, and he could not speak to witness; that was the first the witness thought he was going to die, and then it was too late to examine him.

Jane Flaherty testified that she was the wife of Moore, the deceased; he was sensible until within five minutes of his death; he was conscious that he was dying; he said he was dying; the clergyman visited him at half-past seven and he died about eight o'clock; the clergyman bade him good-bye, and told him he would never see him again; at that time he had performed the last rites of the church; Moore said nothing that morning about the manner in which he had received his wounds; he did before that; he spoke about it on Thursday and Friday.

The case is still on trial.

DISTRICT COURT—Judge Sharswood.—W. H. Larned & Co., vs. John Clendenning. An action to recover for yarn sold and delivered to defendant. The defence alleged that the yarn was defective in quality. Jury out.

Anthony Remmert vs. George Kurtz. An action to establish the ownership of certain regalia.

DISTRICT COURT—Judge Hare.—Amelia Pollock vs. Kessler & Co. A feigned issue. Verdict for plaintiff.

Whitney & Son vs. E. F. Prentiss & Co. An action in a book account. Verdict for plaintiff for $1,870 96.

James M. Gillian vs. John Hunff. An action on a promissory note. Verdict for plaintiff for $299 25.

Annie Rhoads, widow of Wm. T. Rhoads, deceased, and Alexander Rhoads, minor child, &c., vs. the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad Company. An action to recover damages for the death of Wm. T. Rhoads, who was run over and killed at Sixteenth and Washington, on the 26th of March, 1865, by a train of cars. The plaintiff alleges that the defendant's agent neglected to signal by whistle or bell. The defence alleged that the deceased could have seen the approach of the train had he used the ordinary caution. On trial.
