

SECOND EDITION.

BY TELEGRAPH.

THE MARYLAND TROUBLES.

Affairs in Baltimore To-Day.

Swann's Commissioners Not Sworn In.

GENERAL GRANT ALL RIGHT.

The President's Supposed Plan.

The City All Quiet.

The Troubles in Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2, noon.—This city is outwardly quiet, but there is an intense feeling against Governor Swann. His decision was written before the case was decided. The old commissioners stand firm, and will only yield to actual force.

Gov. Swann's new commissioners applied last night to Judge Martin, to be sworn in. The Judge refused to attend to business out of Court, and there has been no application in Court this morning, up to this time. The Clerk, Alfred Mace, is a staunch loyalist, and will not swear them. Judge Martin will probably also refuse, unless Swann's commissioners agree to test the question in court before taking possession.

The old Commissioners will not recognize Swann's appointments under any circumstances, except those of actual military force.

The Union men will not come in conflict with the Federal troops. Three-fourths of the police force will refuse to serve under Swann.

General Grant went to Washington last night. He is all right and will do nothing except under positive orders.

Troops will be sent here from Washington before the end of the week. Leading Republicans believe that the President's scheme is to have a collision with the United States troops in Baltimore, and charge Baltimore with repeating the scenes of April 19th, 1861, as a pretext for assembling troops in Washington before Congress meets.

Whatever proceedings take place before the election, it will be hotly contested by the Union men on Tuesday next.

There is to be a grand Radical meeting at the Front Street Theatre to-night.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2.—The city is perfectly quiet. No disturbance has taken place beyond an attempt to murder a policeman last night by firing at him whilst in Taylor's news room.

The new Commissioners have not yet made their appearance, or made any formal demand upon the old Board, nor have they yet applied to be sworn in.

There is no truth whatever in the report telegraphed from this city that Mayor Chapman has decided to recognize the newly-appointed Police Board. On the contrary, he is outspoken in his determination not to do so.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2.—The latest report is that Mr. Berry has positively declined the appointment of Police Commissioner tendered him by Gov. Swann.

Defence of Secretary Harlan. WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The Hon. James Harlan this morning publishes an elaborate reply to statements heretofore made, impugning his motives in the sale of the Cherokee neutral lands. Being thoroughly convinced that the interests of the Indians required it, he says he sought diligently for a purchaser, and after failing in all other quarters, he ultimately effected a sale to the American Emigrant Company of Connecticut. He claims that the contract was in accordance with the treaty, and that with reasonable diligence, the whole amount except the expenses of survey and sale would be in the Treasury to the credit of the Indians, or at interest, within one year from the date of the contract. By the other mode of sale in drafts, the expenses would be much greater, and judging from past experience it would be a lifetime before the whole could be converted into cash. A few interested parties desired the vacation of the contract for the purposes of speculation. Mr. Harlan concludes by saying, "Not regarding them as disinterested advisers, their advice was not followed by me. I preferred to follow my own judgment of what the true interests of the Indians and the people of Kansas required. I did what appeared to me to be both wise and just, and I neither fear nor doubt the judgment of an impartial public opinion, and if my successor should follow the advice of the Attorney General, set aside the contract, and succeed in making a better disposition of these lands, none of his friends will be more highly gratified than I shall be with his success."

Claims Against the Government. WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—During the month of October 122 claims were filed at the rooms of the Claims Commission, which is connected with the War Department. These embraced claims for almost every description of property impressed, damaged, used or destroyed by the Union troops during the late war. It appears from the records that 17 claims filed during the months of August and September, 15 were rejected; 13 allowed; 34 returned to the claimants' attorneys and the remainder continued for further evidence, or held under advisement.

Fire at Maysville, Ky. CINCINNATI, Nov. 2.—The Commercial reports the burning of a barge, with 200 bbls. of coal oil, at Maysville, Ky. The loss is $250,000.

Price of Gold in New York. New York, Nov. 2.—Gold has been quoted to-day as follows:

10.15 147 1/2 146 1/2
10.30 146 1/2 145 1/2
11.00 145 1/2 144 1/2
11.15 144 1/2 143 1/2

CITY BULLETIN.

HOUSE ROBBERY.—The dwelling of Mrs. Yeager, No. 87 North Eleventh street, was entered at an early hour this morning, through a back window which had been left open by parties who had moved out of the house yesterday. The thief made his way to the second-story room, where Mrs. Yeager was asleep, and got out of the bureau drawers a shawl, a cloak and several dresses, the whole valued at $100. About $75 in greenbacks were also taken.

VESSELS ROBBED.—The sloop Boxer, of Smyrna, Delaware, and the sloop Sarah Fisher, of Philadelphia, were robbed on Wednesday night while lying at Cooper's Point. From each, a lib valued at $75 was taken. A yawl boat was also stolen. The stolen property was afterwards recovered at Almond street yesterday by Lieut. Edger of the Harbor Police. The thieves were not captured.

LOST HIS MONEY.—A young woman named Jennie Manderfield, was arraigned before Alderman Titterton this morning, on the charge of larceny. It is said that she enticed an individual into a lonely spot, near Seventh and Fitzwater streets, last night and relieved him of all his small change, amounting to about $3. Jennie was sent to prison to await trial.

LARCENY.—This morning, before Alderman Shoemaker, James Wallace was charged with the larceny of a wheel-barrow and a set of harness. He was endeavoring to sell the articles at almost one-third of their value yesterday in the neighborhood of Third and Beaver streets. The harness is awaiting an owner at the Tenth District Police Station. Wallace was held for trial.

AGED DRUNKARDS.—The police reports from Manayunk, this morning, contained the name of a man seventy-five years of age, who had been committed for drunkenness, and German town reported one eighty years of age who was sent to prison on a similar charge.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.—Martha Elliot was before Ald. Allen this morning upon the charge of malicious mischief. It is alleged that she disfigured the front of the house of Henry Leach, near the Cord Horse Tavern, in the Twenty-seventh ward. She was committed to answer.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—A dummy engine on the Fifth and Sixth street Passenger Railway, ran into a freight train at Berk street about half-past ten o'clock this morning. The dummy was demolished. A passenger was slightly injured.

BEAT HIS WIFE.—Jerry Hurley, aged 52 years, residing at No. 1048 Ward street, was before Alderman Lutz this morning, upon the charge of beating his wife. He was committed to answer to Court.

WHAT'S IN A NAME.—Andrew Jackson was committed yesterday by Ald. Toland for the larceny of a pair of shoes. Patrick Henry was sent below for drunkenness.

THE CHOLERA.—The reports of the cholera at the office of the Board of Health to-day showed two new cases.

THE VIRTUES OF BOWER'S INFANT CORN.—This is a most extraordinary medicine, and is sold by Bower & Co., No. 1048 Ward street.

DRUGGISTS' SUPPLIES AND FANCY GOODS. BOWEN & BROTHER, Importers, 23 South Eighth street.

5-20 COUPONS. Due November 1st. Wanted by DEWEY & CO., 34 South Third street.

"DR. FITLER'S" great "Rheumatic Remedy." For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout, Asthma, Sciatica, &c. &c. &c. BOWEN & BROTHER, Importers, 23 South Eighth street.

MUJAVIRO!—The most elegant and delicious perfume for a lady's toilet. It will not stain hands, clothing, &c. &c. BOWEN & BROTHER, Importers, 23 South Eighth street.

LADIES' SPECIAL NOTICE.—Dr. Banning's Broom, Light French Trusses, Improved Shoulder Caps, Supporters of the Neck, Admiration Bandages, &c. &c. BOWEN & BROTHER, Importers, 23 South Eighth street.

BENBOW'S SOAPS.—Elder Flower, Turle Oil, Glycerine, Lintase, Safflower, Musk, Rose, &c. BOWEN & BROTHER, Importers, 23 South Eighth street.

COMMERCIAL. SALES OF STOCKS.

AMERICAN GOLD. Reading Railroad, 114 1/2; Erie, 114 1/2; Hudson River, 114 1/2.

FINANCE AND BUSINESS.—Nov. 2, 1866. There was a firmer feeling at the Stock Board this morning, and rather more disposition to operate.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT. WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—During the month of October 122 claims were filed at the rooms of the Claims Commission.

PRICE OF GOLD IN NEW YORK. New York, Nov. 2.—Gold has been quoted to-day as follows:

10.15 147 1/2 146 1/2
10.30 146 1/2 145 1/2
11.00 145 1/2 144 1/2
11.15 144 1/2 143 1/2

JAMES F. CALDWELL & CO.

822 CHESTNUT STREET.

POCKET KNIVES, TABLE CUTLERY.

BEST ENGLISH AND AMERICAN Plated Wares.

Jas. E. Caldwell & Co. 822 CHESTNUT STREET.

VIENNA FANCY GOODS.

MUSICAL BOXES.

WHOLESALE STOCK OF Watches, Jewelry and Silver-Plated WARE.

AT RETAIL.

WOODWARD, LOVETT & CO., 712 Chestnut Street.

HOSIERY GLOVES, UNDERWEAR.

GENTLEMEN'S WRAPPERS, ETC., THE LARGEST VARIETY.

JOHN C. ARRISON'S, Nos. 1 and 3 N. Sixth Street, PHILADELPHIA.

SHIRTS! SHIRTS! SHIRTS!

J. C. A. Also continues to make his "IMPROVED PATTERN SHIRTS."

J. C. STRAWBRIDGE & CO. Bargains Open This Day.

1 case BALMORAL SKIRTS, black and gray, &c. 2 cases very superior SHIRTS, at 25c. 1 case HOUSEHOLD BRIDAL QUILTS, &c. 1 half yard wide SEAKER FLANNELS, &c. Heavy red-welted FLANNELS, &c. Good Scotch FLANNELS, &c.

Silks! Silks!! Heavy Black GROS GRAINS for 2. 10 pieces POULTE DE SOIE, all the new shades, &c. MOIRE ANTIQUE SILKS from auction, a great bargain.

Cloaking Cloths, Largest Stock in the City.

Elegant French CLOAKINGS, from late auctions. Handsome CLOTHS, medium prices. Single and double width CLOTHS, from 25c to 50c.

BLANKETS. HAVE NOW OPEN SOME GREAT BARGAINS.

Fine BLANKETS, cheaper than at any time during the season. Twenty-five cases all sizes and weights, from 50c to 20c per pair.

J. C. STRAWBRIDGE & CO. N. W. cor. Eleventh and Market.

FOR HAVANA. THE UNITED STATES MAIL STEAMSHIP, under the command of Capt. Wm. H. R. MANN, will sail for HAVANA on SATURDAY MORNING, November 3d, at 8 o'clock.

PARIS POPLINS IN CHOICE GRADES. PRICES REDUCED. CURWEN STODDART & BROTHER, Nos. 450, 452 and 454 North SECOND STREET, Above Willow.

BLACK DRESS GOODS. PARIS POPLINS, FINEST CLOTHS, MOUSLINE DE LAINE, &c. &c. &c. CURWEN STODDART & BROTHER, Nos. 450, 452 and 454 North SECOND STREET, Above Willow.

REDUCED PRICES. CURWEN STODDART & BROTHER, Nos. 450, 452 and 454 North SECOND STREET, Above Willow.

THIRD EDITION.

8:30 O'Clock.

LATER NEWS FROM BALTIMORE.

INTERESTING FROM WASHINGTON.

The Assessorship in the Second Pennsylvania District.

Movements of Governor Swann, of Maryland.

THE PACIFIC EXCURSIONISTS.

FIRE AT LEAVENWORTH.

A Block Nearly Destroyed.

Further From Baltimore. BALTIMORE, Nov. 2.—Mr. Berry has declined Gov. Swann's appointment as Police Commissioner.

No application has yet been made to swear in Swann's Commissioners. The registration lists are withheld from the Union men, and will probably not be made public until Tuesday.

Mayor Chapman stands firmly with the Commissioners, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

From Washington. [Special Dispatch to the Bulletin.] BALTIMORE, Nov. 2.—There is trouble about the Assessorship of the Second Internal Revenue District of Pennsylvania. Secretary McCulloch has notified Mr. Sweeney to continue in the discharge of the duties of the position. A large delegation of the friends of Mr. Calhoun M. Deringer have therefore appeared here.

So far the efforts of the friends of Mr. Deringer have totally failed, and Mr. Sweeney's removal is so far off as ever.

Five negroes were hung to-day at Marlboro', in Maryland, about twenty miles from Washington, for the murder of a white man named Lyle, some four months ago.

Governor Swann left here this morning for Baltimore, with the assurance from the President that he should have all the force required to enforce his action in the removal of the Police Commissioners, if the municipal authorities attempted to interfere.

The Pacific Excursionists. [Special Dispatch to the Bulletin.] LEAVENWORTH, Nov. 2.—The excursionists reached this point this morning, and after a few days' entertainment given by the city authorities, they will go to Kansas City to-morrow, and from thence to Fort Riley.

Fire at Leavenworth, Kansas. LEAVENWORTH, Kansas, Nov. 1.—A fire this morning on Shawnee street, between Fourth and Fifth, destroyed a whole block with the exception of the corner of the block. The total loss amounted to from $100,000 to $500,000, on which there is a small insurance. Two men were seriously injured by falling from a building.

Marine Intelligence. HOLMES' HOPE, Nov. 2.—The schooner Isaac Baker, from Georgetown, D. C., for Boston, was in contact last night off Hatteras, and lost her bowsprit, and sprung her foremast. She was towed into port by the steamer Franconia. The Fairwind was filled with water and was taken in tow by a fishing vessel.

Markets. NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The Cotton market is quiet; sales at 20c for middling. Four cent. sales of 400 bbls. at 75c for State; 81c for Ohio; 82c for Western; and 83c for Southern. Wheat dull; sales of 1000 bushels at 81c for Michigan; 82c for Western Union; 83c for Ohio; 84c for Pennsylvania; 85c for New York; 86c for New Jersey; 87c for New England; 88c for New York; 89c for New Jersey; 90c for New England.

COIN. OVER AND UNDER.—James Allison and Ludlow, the case of a certain Champion, charged with the murder of Mary Carney, on the 10th of August, was commenced yesterday.

Another witness testified that for a few months before the murder Champion asked Mary Carney to marry him, and threatened to kill her if she did not. She refused, and that on one occasion he begged for God's sake for a few minutes' interview, and threatened her if she did not do what he desired. He could not tell what would be the consequences, as both would come upon him very soon.

This evening the case was resumed. Champion was more composed and quite than yesterday. He had been threatened to attend the prisoner, saw him in a house, Calhoun street west of Fifth; it was about one o'clock; he was in the parlor, lying on the sofa, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Miss Gibbs testified that she had heard the prisoner two months before the murder threaten to kill the deceased, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Another witness testified that for a few months before the murder Champion asked Mary Carney to marry him, and threatened to kill her if she did not. She refused, and that on one occasion he begged for God's sake for a few minutes' interview, and threatened her if she did not do what he desired. He could not tell what would be the consequences, as both would come upon him very soon.

This evening the case was resumed. Champion was more composed and quite than yesterday. He had been threatened to attend the prisoner, saw him in a house, Calhoun street west of Fifth; it was about one o'clock; he was in the parlor, lying on the sofa, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Miss Gibbs testified that she had heard the prisoner two months before the murder threaten to kill the deceased, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Another witness testified that for a few months before the murder Champion asked Mary Carney to marry him, and threatened to kill her if she did not. She refused, and that on one occasion he begged for God's sake for a few minutes' interview, and threatened her if she did not do what he desired. He could not tell what would be the consequences, as both would come upon him very soon.

This evening the case was resumed. Champion was more composed and quite than yesterday. He had been threatened to attend the prisoner, saw him in a house, Calhoun street west of Fifth; it was about one o'clock; he was in the parlor, lying on the sofa, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Miss Gibbs testified that she had heard the prisoner two months before the murder threaten to kill the deceased, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Another witness testified that for a few months before the murder Champion asked Mary Carney to marry him, and threatened to kill her if she did not. She refused, and that on one occasion he begged for God's sake for a few minutes' interview, and threatened her if she did not do what he desired. He could not tell what would be the consequences, as both would come upon him very soon.

This evening the case was resumed. Champion was more composed and quite than yesterday. He had been threatened to attend the prisoner, saw him in a house, Calhoun street west of Fifth; it was about one o'clock; he was in the parlor, lying on the sofa, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Miss Gibbs testified that she had heard the prisoner two months before the murder threaten to kill the deceased, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Another witness testified that for a few months before the murder Champion asked Mary Carney to marry him, and threatened to kill her if she did not. She refused, and that on one occasion he begged for God's sake for a few minutes' interview, and threatened her if she did not do what he desired. He could not tell what would be the consequences, as both would come upon him very soon.

This evening the case was resumed. Champion was more composed and quite than yesterday. He had been threatened to attend the prisoner, saw him in a house, Calhoun street west of Fifth; it was about one o'clock; he was in the parlor, lying on the sofa, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Miss Gibbs testified that she had heard the prisoner two months before the murder threaten to kill the deceased, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Another witness testified that for a few months before the murder Champion asked Mary Carney to marry him, and threatened to kill her if she did not. She refused, and that on one occasion he begged for God's sake for a few minutes' interview, and threatened her if she did not do what he desired. He could not tell what would be the consequences, as both would come upon him very soon.

This evening the case was resumed. Champion was more composed and quite than yesterday. He had been threatened to attend the prisoner, saw him in a house, Calhoun street west of Fifth; it was about one o'clock; he was in the parlor, lying on the sofa, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Miss Gibbs testified that she had heard the prisoner two months before the murder threaten to kill the deceased, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Another witness testified that for a few months before the murder Champion asked Mary Carney to marry him, and threatened to kill her if she did not. She refused, and that on one occasion he begged for God's sake for a few minutes' interview, and threatened her if she did not do what he desired. He could not tell what would be the consequences, as both would come upon him very soon.

This evening the case was resumed. Champion was more composed and quite than yesterday. He had been threatened to attend the prisoner, saw him in a house, Calhoun street west of Fifth; it was about one o'clock; he was in the parlor, lying on the sofa, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Miss Gibbs testified that she had heard the prisoner two months before the murder threaten to kill the deceased, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Another witness testified that for a few months before the murder Champion asked Mary Carney to marry him, and threatened to kill her if she did not. She refused, and that on one occasion he begged for God's sake for a few minutes' interview, and threatened her if she did not do what he desired. He could not tell what would be the consequences, as both would come upon him very soon.

This evening the case was resumed. Champion was more composed and quite than yesterday. He had been threatened to attend the prisoner, saw him in a house, Calhoun street west of Fifth; it was about one o'clock; he was in the parlor, lying on the sofa, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Miss Gibbs testified that she had heard the prisoner two months before the murder threaten to kill the deceased, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Another witness testified that for a few months before the murder Champion asked Mary Carney to marry him, and threatened to kill her if she did not. She refused, and that on one occasion he begged for God's sake for a few minutes' interview, and threatened her if she did not do what he desired. He could not tell what would be the consequences, as both would come upon him very soon.

THIRD EDITION.

8:30 O'Clock.

LATER NEWS FROM BALTIMORE.

INTERESTING FROM WASHINGTON.

The Assessorship in the Second Pennsylvania District.

Movements of Governor Swann, of Maryland.

THE PACIFIC EXCURSIONISTS.

FIRE AT LEAVENWORTH.

A Block Nearly Destroyed.

Further From Baltimore. BALTIMORE, Nov. 2.—Mr. Berry has declined Gov. Swann's appointment as Police Commissioner.

No application has yet been made to swear in Swann's Commissioners. The registration lists are withheld from the Union men, and will probably not be made public until Tuesday.

Mayor Chapman stands firmly with the Commissioners, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

From Washington. [Special Dispatch to the Bulletin.] BALTIMORE, Nov. 2.—There is trouble about the Assessorship of the Second Internal Revenue District of Pennsylvania. Secretary McCulloch has notified Mr. Sweeney to continue in the discharge of the duties of the position. A large delegation of the friends of Mr. Calhoun M. Deringer have therefore appeared here.

So far the efforts of the friends of Mr. Deringer have totally failed, and Mr. Sweeney's removal is so far off as ever.

Five negroes were hung to-day at Marlboro', in Maryland, about twenty miles from Washington, for the murder of a white man named Lyle, some four months ago.

Governor Swann left here this morning for Baltimore, with the assurance from the President that he should have all the force required to enforce his action in the removal of the Police Commissioners, if the municipal authorities attempted to interfere.

The Pacific Excursionists. [Special Dispatch to the Bulletin.] LEAVENWORTH, Nov. 2.—The excursionists reached this point this morning, and after a few days' entertainment given by the city authorities, they will go to Kansas City to-morrow, and from thence to Fort Riley.

Fire at Leavenworth, Kansas. LEAVENWORTH, Kansas, Nov. 1.—A fire this morning on Shawnee street, between Fourth and Fifth, destroyed a whole block with the exception of the corner of the block. The total loss amounted to from $100,000 to $500,000, on which there is a small insurance. Two men were seriously injured by falling from a building.

Marine Intelligence. HOLMES' HOPE, Nov. 2.—The schooner Isaac Baker, from Georgetown, D. C., for Boston, was in contact last night off Hatteras, and lost her bowsprit, and sprung her foremast. She was towed into port by the steamer Franconia. The Fairwind was filled with water and was taken in tow by a fishing vessel.

Markets. NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The Cotton market is quiet; sales at 20c for middling. Four cent. sales of 400 bbls. at 75c for State; 81c for Ohio; 82c for Western; and 83c for Southern. Wheat dull; sales of 1000 bushels at 81c for Michigan; 82c for Western Union; 83c for Ohio; 84c for Pennsylvania; 85c for New York; 86c for New Jersey; 87c for New England; 88c for New York; 89c for New Jersey; 90c for New England.

COIN. OVER AND UNDER.—James Allison and Ludlow, the case of a certain Champion, charged with the murder of Mary Carney, on the 10th of August, was commenced yesterday.

Another witness testified that for a few months before the murder Champion asked Mary Carney to marry him, and threatened to kill her if she did not. She refused, and that on one occasion he begged for God's sake for a few minutes' interview, and threatened her if she did not do what he desired. He could not tell what would be the consequences, as both would come upon him very soon.

This evening the case was resumed. Champion was more composed and quite than yesterday. He had been threatened to attend the prisoner, saw him in a house, Calhoun street west of Fifth; it was about one o'clock; he was in the parlor, lying on the sofa, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Miss Gibbs testified that she had heard the prisoner two months before the murder threaten to kill the deceased, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Another witness testified that for a few months before the murder Champion asked Mary Carney to marry him, and threatened to kill her if she did not. She refused, and that on one occasion he begged for God's sake for a few minutes' interview, and threatened her if she did not do what he desired. He could not tell what would be the consequences, as both would come upon him very soon.

This evening the case was resumed. Champion was more composed and quite than yesterday. He had been threatened to attend the prisoner, saw him in a house, Calhoun street west of Fifth; it was about one o'clock; he was in the parlor, lying on the sofa, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Miss Gibbs testified that she had heard the prisoner two months before the murder threaten to kill the deceased, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Another witness testified that for a few months before the murder Champion asked Mary Carney to marry him, and threatened to kill her if she did not. She refused, and that on one occasion he begged for God's sake for a few minutes' interview, and threatened her if she did not do what he desired. He could not tell what would be the consequences, as both would come upon him very soon.

This evening the case was resumed. Champion was more composed and quite than yesterday. He had been threatened to attend the prisoner, saw him in a house, Calhoun street west of Fifth; it was about one o'clock; he was in the parlor, lying on the sofa, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Miss Gibbs testified that she had heard the prisoner two months before the murder threaten to kill the deceased, and on one occasion he met her on the street, and after a short conversation, attempted to choke her, and was prevented by the interference of passers-by.

Another witness testified that for a few months before the murder Champion asked Mary Carney to marry him, and threatened to kill her if she did not. She refused, and that on one occasion he begged for God's sake for a few minutes' interview, and threatened her if she did not do what he desired. He could not tell what would be the consequences, as both would come upon him very soon.