CITY BULLETIN.

FATAL ACCIDENT.-A man named Law-FATAL ACCIDENT.—A man named Lawrence Fitzpatrick, while engaged in driving a load of hay along Main street, below Manheim, in Germantown, yesterday afternoon, fell off the wagon. The wheels passed over his head, causing injuries from which he died in a short time. The deceased was thirty-two years of age, and leaves a wife and one child. He was employed by Mr. John A. Woolston, and resided on his place at Gorgas' land and Township Line road, in the Twenty-second Ward.

ROBBERY OF WASHED CLOTHING .- Catha rine Olive was before Alderman Lutz, this rine Olive was before Alderman Lutz, this morning, upon the charge of larceny. She lived with Mary Culbertson at No. 1611 Lombard street. Mrs. Culbertson does the washing for several boarding-school misses, and Catharine, it is alleged, made off with a lot of the clothing, valued at about $150. All the stolen articles were recovered. The accused was committed for trial. cused was committed for trial.

LIFE INSUBANCE.—The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, in another column. Offering, as it does, many new and important features, its claims should not be everlooked by those seeking insurance on the most advantageous terms.

ROXBOROUGH LYCHUM. - Last evening the first lecture of the course was delivered by the Rev. Mr. Washburn, on "True Greatness—Abraham Lincoln." It was a masterly production; every friend of Mr. Lincoln was delighted at the analysis of the modest power of the great commoner.

THE ITALIAN FLAG is raised over the Vice Consulate of Italy in this port to-day, in honor of King Victor Emmanuel's entrance into Venice.

TWELVE STATES!-Yesterday there were Pelections in no less than twelve States, from East to West-intluding Massachusetts and Minnesota vest commotion was caused thereby, and much talk of all kinds; almost as much as that caused in Philadelphia by the excllence of the cheap coal sold by W. W. Alter, 957 North Ninth street, and Sixth and Spring Garden streets.

OYER AND TERMINER—Judges Allison and Ludlow.—The case of William A. Maguire, charged with the murder of Maggie Baer, met with an unexpected check yesterday afternoon. When the Court took a recess at half-past one o'clock until three cases are presented to be purely the witnesses were instructed to be punctual in their attendance in the afternoon. Among the withesses for the Commonwealth were Clara Snyder and Sallie Gibbs. These two had been in attendance every day since the case was called, but yesterday afternoon, when they were needed on the witness stand, they had disappeared. Both had been seen in the neighborhood of the Court-house a few minutes before three o'clock, but the officers who were sent out by the Court, when their absence was discovered, were unable to find them. Bench warrants were insued, and all the officers of the Court were instructed to search every house visited by this class of females. The Court remained in session about an hour and a half, when, the officers being still absent, Judge Allison decided to adjourn. In doing so he explained to the jury the position of the case, and stated that the Court would be comand stated that the Court would be compelled to adjourn from time to time while there was a prospect of securing these witnesses. This morning at ten o'clock the Court reassembled, but the two witnesses were still absent. During last night the tipstaves, assisted by the Mayor's police, made a thorough search of the houses frequented by people of the class to which the quented by people of the class to which the witnesses belong. No tidings of the girls could be had. This morning District Attorney Mann called Officer Ashton, who testified as follows:

I was searching for these girls last night in localities I thought they were likely to be; searched in company with Mr. Barber, Mr. Thomas and Mr. Vanzant; heard nothing of them later than half-past two o'clock, when Clara Snyder left her home; her clothes are still at her house; the places they have been in the habit of frequenting were searched without success. I am satisfied they are concealed somewhere; discovered no trace of them. The Chief of Police was sent for by the Court.

When Mr. Ruggles appeared, Judge Allison said to him—Yesterday two of the witnesses in attendance upon this Court, absented themselves. The officers of the Court were directed to make such search as was possible. They have been unable to find them. We have therefore sent for you to ask the police force of the city with all ind them. We have therefore sent for you to ask the police force of the city, with all the agencies it may possess, to aid us in ascertaining the whereabouts of these witnesses. This is a case of the first importance. It is a homicide case in which two witnesses in attendance either of their own accord, absented themselves or were spirited away to keep them from the Court. A proper regard for the administration of justice requires that every proper effort shall be made to defeat this attempt to interfere with the due process of the law.

Mr. Ruggles, in reply, stated that every thing should be done to aid the Court. Yesthing should be done to aid the Court. I esterday be had sent a general communication over the city in order to secure the arrest, and he had also instructed the officers at the Central Station, who are acquainted with these women, to search for them. These officers had made no return yet. Two officers had also been sent to the New York depot last night to arrest them if they were discovered leaving the city. The Chief pro-mised to renew the exertions to find them to-day.

Judge Allison to the Jury: Gentlemen—
We are embarrassed, as you see, in the trial of this case by the continued absence of these witnesses. The Court cannot consent to go on with the case without first making every effort to procure these parties. Al-most in the very presence of the Court these two witnesses have set at defiance the law, or, with the aid of others, have been assisted or induced to absent themselves. or induced to absent themserves. We do not feel as though we could permit this trial
to proceed before we have exhausted
every effort to discover the whereabouts of the absentees, for if it comes to this that in a trial the process of the Court can be trifled with, that witnesses can be taken away or can go away, we are powerless to administer justice. If we succeed in pro-curing, now or hereafter, these two wit-nesses we will make an example of them. If we can ascertain that any persons have aided, or counseled, or advised these witnesses to absent themselves, every such person shall be dealt with to the full extent of the law.

A SWIMMING CLUB,—In London there is A SWIMMING CLUB,—In London there is a club of swimmers. The members had a swimming match in the Lambeth Baths the other day, in which curious tests were imposed. A silver cup was awarded for the best leaps over hurdles floating on the water; an egg diving contest was won by a diver who fished up thirteen eggs from the bottom; and gold and silver medals were awarded to men who succeeded in performing other difficult feats.

The Court then adjourned until three o'clock.
