CITY BULLETIN.

THE AMERICAN BUTTON HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE COMPANY,—The building at the corner of Washington avenue and Twentieth street, Twenty-sixth Ward, for-merly occupied by the American Arms Manufacturing Company, has recently been fitted up by a newly organized corporation, called the American Button Hole and Sewing Machine Company, for the purpose of making the American sewing machine, with button hole attachment. There are also at this establishment a machine for sewing woven stockings, and also another for sewing carpets. These articles will soon be placed in the market. The work performed by this beautiful machinery is really wonderful. The establishment is not in full working order, but everything to this effect will be order, but everything to this effect will be arranged in a short time. Yesterday after-floon a large number of gentlemen were present by the special invitation of the Directors of the Company. Massachusetts, New York and other Eastern places were pretty well represented. A sumptuous banquet was spread in the upper story of the works.

After the inspection of the works, Col. Thomas Fitzgerald, having been called to the chair, read the regular toasts, which were responded to by gentlemen selected for the cocasion. George J. Richardson, Esq., the president of the company, gave a brief though comprehensive history of the establishment. The button-hole making machine is a great quriosity. It is of the establishment. The button-hole making machine is a great curiosity. It is capable of stitching two button holes per minute, the work being very even and beautiful. The machine for sewing stockings is a wonderful piece of mechanism, its work being accomplished without leaving a ridge on the seam. The machine for sewing carpets may really be considered the wonder of the age. One of them has been in use at the establishment of the Mesers. Orne, on Chestnut street above Ninth, for some time. The machinery for producing these machines is very extensive and costly. It is estimated that the works will produce two hundred machines per week. It is the only institution of the kind in the city of Phila-

The several machines made by the company are protected by eighteen different patents, and their simplicity, the efficiency of their operation, as well as the superiority of the workmanship displayed in their construction, show that the highest order of talent has been employed in perfecting them. Some of the machines are so convertible, by means of a slight adjustment of the mechanism that they can produce several varieties of embroidering, binding and sewing machine stitches; one machine may thus be used for a number of purposes.

One of the most serviceable is the family button-hole sewing machine; this is light and extremely simple in its construction, will sew a neat and uniform binding over the edge of the smallest button hole in the finest linen in less than half a minute, while the contract may be easily adjusted so a factor of the smallest button hole. the parts may be easily adjusted so as to make an ordinary sewing stitch.

The carpet sewing machine attracted much attention. This machine is somewhat larger than the button-hole machine, although in many respects similar to it in

A carriage which runs on rails in front of the machine-stand holds the breadths of carpet so that their edges shall be penetrated by the needle. The stitch made by the machine is of such of a character that the sections of carpet are much more securely fastened together than by the ordinary hand stitch; in fact, the breadths will be held to-gether even where those portions of the stitch at the underside of the carpet-are worn away.

An exceedingly valuable machine is one for overstitching, intended mainly for sewing stockings, although it may be so adjusted as to make the ordinary sewing-stitch. Many persons suppose that knitted stitch. Many persons suppose that knitted stockings are produced entire by the machines which form the fabric. This is not the case; the fabric coming from the machine in breadths, and being afterwards cut in sections, which are sewed together by hand. The manual labor required to stitch nd. The manual labor required to stitch the sections together renders it difficult to manufacture the stockings with the desired rapidity, and greatly increases the cost of the same; many attempts have therefore been made to substitute machine-work for the hand-labor, but hitherto without suc-

The stocking stitching machine exhibited by the Company has fully withstood every test which could be applied to it. It is quite small and like all the other machines it is extremely simple and works with great rapidity, while stockings sewed by it are far superior in appearance to those finished by hand. This machine was spoken of in the highest terms by those acquainted with those classes of manufactures in which it could be applied.

At the banquet addresses were made by Mr. Davis, of Boston, Mr. Charles Camblos, Mr. Javis, of Boston, Mr. Charles Camblos, Mr. Joseph Miller, Mr. Casper Souder, Mr. Francis Wells and others. Mr. Camblos eulogized Pennsylvania eloquently. Mr. Souder spoke of Philadelphia and her leading position as a manufacturing city. He alluded to the fact that most of the machinery used in making the better chinery used in making the button-hole machines had been built to make breech-loading rifles. This reminded him of turning swords into plough-shares and spears into pruning hooks. Mr. Wells's remarks were characteristically humorous, and he gave a number of capital puns on sewing machines, &c. His remarks were greeted with great applause. Mr. Davis's remarks were eulogistic of "The Press." Altogether the affair was a very pleasant

We may add that the invention of the principal machine on which the company bases its success is the invention of Mr. George Rehfuss. We must also not forget that to the efforts of Mr. Henry Jones, the celebrated caterer, the splendid character of the banquet was due.

THE GAS INVESTIGATION.—The Select Council Committee, appointed to investigate the management of the Philadelphia Gas Works, met yesterday afternoon and last evening, and examined several witnesses in reference to the quality of coal used, its cost, &c.. Mr. Charles Thompson Jones, the President of the Board of Trustees was also examined, and during the investigation he stated that the "loss by leakage at the works in 1864 was 83,390,575 cubic feet, less 1,654,800 furnished Sanitary Fair. THE GAS INVESTIGATION.—The Select age at the works in 1864 was $3,390,575 cubic feet, less 1,654,800 furnished Sanitary Fair, consumed in offices, &c. The loss from the same cause in 1865 was 112,179,849 cubic feet. He also stated that the greatest loss in any one year was when the greatest amount of street main was laid. In 1863 the pipe laid amounted to 126,873 feet; in 1864 to 39,045, and in 1865 to 90,170. In 1864 there was made 794,676,000 cubic feet of gas, and 85,211 tons of coal used. In 1865 the gas made amounted to $44,516,000 cubic feet, and the cost of the coal carbonized in feet, and the cost of the coal carbonized in 1865 was $11 40 per ton of 2,240 pounds.

STEAMSHIP LAUNCHED.—A substantially built steamship, called Wyoming, of one thousand tons, was launched yesterday afternoon, from the National Ship Company's Yard, at Kaighn's Point. The steamer is two hundred feet languages. two hundred feet long, thirty-one feet beam, twelve feet lower hold, seven feet ten inches between decks. She will be furnished with between decks. She will be furnished with one direct vertical propeller engine, forty-inch cylinder and thirty-six inch stroke. This steamer was built for Mr. Henry Simons, who has sold her to the New Southern Steamship Company. She will be completed and ready for the Southern trade early next month.

CHARGED WITH STORE ROBBERY .- Bofore Recorder Eneu yesterday, Thomas Dillon had a hearing on the charge of stealing two pieces of merino from the auction store of John B. Myers & Co., Market street. The theft was committed, as alleged, five months ago. Defendant was identified by Hannah Roach, who keeps an apple-stand near the action store, as the man she saw pick up the goods and run off with them. When pursued he threw down the mering and succeeded in getting away. Being and succeeded in getting away. Being asked what he had to say, Dillon denied the charge, and declared he could show he was in prison five months ago: that he had been sentenced to six months' imprisonment for carrying concealed weapons, and was only released a week or so since. [For the Philadelphia Evening Balletin.] Franklin Institute—Professor Morton's Second Lecture.

Mr. Editor: This time I was among the numberable to get into the lecture-room of the Franklin Institute and witness the experiments and hear the lecture on Galvanism. By going half an hour before the appointed time I procured a very nice standing place in a corner of the building behind the lecturer, and had a fine view of the back of the lecturer and the andience Still the lecture was so clear, the explanations made everything so plain, and what I could see of the experiments was so novel and beautiful that I was quite willing to stand an hour and a quarter, and only sorry to notice so many persons anxious to at-tend, turned away from the impossibility of getting in. The side rooms, used as laboratories, the steps of the stairs behind the table, every vacant space among the apparatus—all were filled with attentive hearers and eager gazers. And I felt that after all my corner was not so bad a place, considering.

I presume a full account of this lecture will be given by some one more scientific than myself, in which its details will be presented to your readers. My own im-pressions are mainly of a very clear exposition of the nature of Electricity, Galvanism and Magnetism, and some exceedingly beautiful experiments made with a power-ful Galvanic battery. No words of mine can describe the effect of the Galvanic pile on pieces of carbon and a globule of sliver ex-posed to the current. The wonderful light—the beautiful colors which played around the burning chargest and gloving given the beautiful colors which played around the burning charcoal and glowing silver, the wonderful dew-drops of the precious metal which gathered thickly around the carbon points, all presented a speciacle of surpassing brilliancy and wonder.

To tell the truth, I rather congratulated myself on my corner, for though inconvenient it was close to the screen, and ena-nient, it was close to the screen, and ena-bled me to see all the surpassing details of bled me to see all the surpassing details of these splendid experiments, many of which must have been less clear to those who were seated at the further end of the room. Once more we would suggest to the directors of the Franklin Institute, so long and so justly regarded as the warmest patrons of all true science, that a larger lecture room should be provided for the accommodation of the crowds who show their desire to attend the popular lectures delivered by its several professors and members.

ROCHESTER, Nov. 14.—The break in the Eric Canal is so far repaired that the filling of the level will commence to day. Commissioner Alberger has been on the ground all day, and the work has been done with great expedition. Boats will probably begin to move to-morrow. There is a fleet of about 300 boats waiting to go east, laden with produce. Fifty thousand barrels of apples are afloat, and a like quantity of potatoes west of the break. The weather is fine and the boatmen are in good spirits. The Eric Canal Break.

- James McHenry, Esq.—DEAR SIR: I have been instructed by the Board of Directors of the Union League, of Philadelphia, to thank you on behalf of the League, for your tasteful liberality in presenting our association with an admirably executed marble bust of the great English Liberal, Richard Cobden, which was presented to us through Mr. Lewis H. Redner. Cobden's name is as widely known and as deeply reverenced in America as though he had been one of our own statesmen. Every American, who looks into the sculptured face of Cobden, feels that he is looking into the face of a friend; and it would not have been within the ability of any one to have presented us with a work of art for which we could have been more truly grateful than that which you have so generously bestowed. We shall never forget how firmly Cobden advocated the theories and the practices of our form of National Government while we were testing their merits through a long and presperous peace, nor how staunchly and hopefully he threw the powers of his vast intelligence on our side, when our popular institutions were endurour popular institutions were endur-ing a trial of civil war that few monarchies of Europe could successfully have resisted.
