Pennsylvania Anti-Slavery Society.

IVESTERDAY AFTERNOON'S SESSION. The meeting was called to order shortly after three o'clock by Robert Purvis, vice president. Mr. Kitteridge, assisted by Joshua Hutchinson, sang a beautiful song, called "The Slaves Refrain; or Down in the Lowlands," and were loudly applauded.

Mr. Purvis said that he desired to make an explanation relative to remarks made by him during the morning session about the colored race; that he wished it under-the colored race; that he wished it under-derstood that he quarreled with no man's prejudice, nor did he ask for the colored men social intercourse; that was a mrtter that regulated itself. He had heard Fred. Doug-lass say that he represented half-and-half of two races, and so far as he was concerned he believed that he represented six races.

Miss Mary Grew, from the Business Committee, offered the following:

Resolved. That the legally emancipated alaye needs the right of suffrage to complete and secure his personal freedom; that without it the constitutional declaration of freedom and carefully-framed laws for his pro-tection will be powerless to defend him, tection will be powerless to defend him, and, therefore, as his representatives and advocates before the nation, we claim for him that badge and shield of our American freemen—The Ballot.

Resolved, That the adoption of any plan of reconstruction which leaves the regulation of suffrage in the hands of the Southern States will prove fatal to the colored man's freedom and the nation's safety, and that we therefore demand that the negro's right to the ballot shall be protected by constitutional provisions. stitutional provisions.

Resolved. That the work of the Abolishionists will not be done until the spirit of slavery is so far exorcised from the nation that the colored man of the South can assert and maintain his actual freedom in the presence of that dominant class who, deeated on the battlefield, are now striving to win their cause by diplomacy, and to put the negro under their feet. Resolved, That the citizens of Philadelphia, in the Church and out of it, furnish the lamentable evidence that they are not repentant for the national sin of oppression in the disgraceful fact that forbids our colored citizens to ride in our street cars, and allow them to be ejected therefrom with insult and violence. Resolved, That we hold the churches of this city especially responsible for this meanness and wickedness, inasmuchas they set the example of such exclusion by establishing negro pews in their houses of worship, and inasmuch as their moral power is amply sufficient to open our cars to the col-ored man whenever they shall choose to exercise it in that direction.

Resolved, That as the Anti-Slavery Societies are the only organizations in this country which uncompromisingly demand suffrage for the negro, we earnestly recom-mend to all the friends and advocates of this claim to extend to these societies and their organ, the National Anti-Slavery Standard, their liberal support. Resolved. That we hail with joy every triumph of freedom over slavery, of right triumph of freedom over slavery, of right-eousness over injustice, and give hearty thanks for the moral growth of public sen-timent touching the rights of the colored man. Encouraged and strengthened thereby, we will persevere in our labors until our work shall be accomplished and the slave fully transformed into a man.

Resolved, That in the name of our millions of betrayed and outraged black men, whose liberty we have sold; in the name of a betrayed and insulted nation, whose laws whose fundamental principles he has assaulted, we demand the impeachment of Andrew Johnson, President of the United Adopted. After reading the resolutions, Giles B. Stebbins, of Rochester, New York, Wendell Phillips and Henry Peterson made speeches. Adjourned until this morning.

Visitors to Jeff. Davis. Visitors to Jeff. Davis.

FORTRESS MONROE, Nov. 21.—Robert Ould, formerly the rebel Commissioner of Exchange, accompanied by a niece of Jeff. Davis, arrived here this morning, from Richmond, by way of Norfolk. They entered the fort shortly after arriving here, and were received by Mr. and Mrs. Davis in their handsomely fitted-up apartments in Carroli Hall. Judge Ould had a lengthy interview with Davis, and left here this afternoon, on the steamer Eolus, for Norfolk.

Three Methodist ministers, Rev. Drs. Duncan, Edwards and Burroughs, the latter formerly of Philadelphia, but now located in Richmond, arrived from there this morning, on a visit to Davis. They also entered the fortress, and had an interview and breakfasted with Davis. In the course of conversation dropped by these gentlemen, after leaving the fort, it was learned that since the recent changes and additions made to the former quarters of Davis in Carroll Hall and the removal of Mrs. Davis and har sister into the rooms arranged for the reception of his family, he has become remarkably cheerful, his health has very much improved, and that he speaks very confidently of being released. Relatives and friends from all parts of the South are constantly arriving antering the Fourt etc. constantly arriving, entering the Fort at pleasure and departing without being scarcely observed, and now that his rooms in Carroll Hall have been fitted up, and the accommodations for his visitors improved, it is presumed their numbers will be greatly

The Adams Express Company are in the daily receipt of numerous packages, presents to Davis from sympathizing friends, of every description that will conduce to his comfort or minister to his pleasure or appe-tite. Coal and wood for the use of his family are furnished ad libitum to his servants, and should his confinement be lengthened into spring it is not likely he will suffer from any of the discomforts or deprivations or any of the usual concomitants of a prison or any of the usual concomitants of a prison life.

The funeral ceremonies of Sylvanus Hartshorne, an aged and respected citizen of Norfolk, and his wife, who died within an hour after her husband's decease, took place to day, in the Presbyterian church, in Church street. The sermon was preached by the Rev. George Armstrong, and their remains were followed to the grave by three generations and members of the Masonic fraternity and Mechanic Association. fraternity and Mechanic Association.

A Triple Murder in Missouri. LEAVENWORTH, Nov. 21.—A quarrel has long existed between a man named Elgin, keeper of an inn at Missouri City, and the Titus brothers, five in number, residing near Platte City. The Titus brothers were in Missouri City on Sunday last, when a violent altercation took place between them and Elgin, in which the latter shot and and Eigin, in which the latter shot and killed two of the brothers, and succeeded in making his escape, and in reaching the house of his father-in-law, a few miles from Platte City. During the following night he was traced to his hiding place and the house was surrounded. Eigin attempted to evade his pursuers, but they were too many. He was killed by a ball in the back while fleeing, about 200 yards from the house.

NEW HAVEN HISTORICAL SOCIETY.—The New Haven Palladium says that "Professor Silliman has presented to our Historical Society a bronzed bust of his father, the late distinguished Prof. Silliman, of Yale. It will be placed by the side of the busts of Judge Daggett, Prof. Jonathan Knight and Admiral Gregory. The society is taking measures to enclose the grave of Adjutant Campbell, the British officer who fell at the time of the invasien of New Haven, July 5tb, 1776, with a solid iron fence with stone base, and intend to erect a granite shaft over base, and intend to erect a granite shaft over his grave, and to cut a road to the grave. His grave is on the Allingtown Heights."
