THE FIREMEN AND THE PROPOSED FIRE COMMISSIONERS. - Last evening a Convention of Firemen, consisting of two delegates from each company, held an adjourned meeting at the Phonix Hose house, Zane street, above Seventh. The object of the same was to take action upon the ordinance of City Councils creating a Board of Commissioners for the management of the Fire Department. William D. Kendrick, of the Columbia Engine, presided, and Jacob S. Stabl, of the Humane Hose, acted as secretary.

The Committe of Seven on Resolutions, appointed at the last meeting, reported as

To the Honorable the Members elect of Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia:—We, the undersigned, on be-half of a Convention of Firemen from the several fire districts of Philadelphia, respecifully represent, that the firemen of Phi-ladelphia cannot fail to see in the proposed action of your honorable bodies the design ultimately to subvert the volunteer system, which has made and still maintains the character and efficiency of the Philadelphia character and efficiency of the Philadelphia Fire Department as equal, if not superior, to that of any other city in the world.

Therefore, and in defence of that character, and in support of this system which has proved so useful in the past, we protest against any action of the municipal government, tending to change or destroy its place, poutically speaking and supervising to the ment, tending to change or destroy its place, postically speaking, and approximate to a paid fire department for Philadelphia. We do, in the name, and in behalf of the firemen of Philadelphia, enter our solemn protest against any action by your honorable bodies which shall tend to supersede or destroy the volunteer system. We would farther representative supersections ther respectfully suggest that in adopting measures for the government of the men, and the Fire Department, the firemen ought themselves to be consulted. The same manliness that prompts us to sacrifice our lives as firemen, "springs up the bells" of a just and natural pride to govern within our-ourselves our own Department. On behalf of the Department we tender the co-operation of all its members in any honest efforts tion of an its memoers in any nonest entorts, to properly regulate and control its action, if such can be shown as now necessary. We would more especially deprecate any hasty action of the kind now proposed as uncalled for by present emergencies, and we believe that all the objections which are said to exist, arising out of least games can be removed. local causes, can be removed by a strict and impartial enforcement of the rules now established. We would ask leave to suggest that hasty or ill-judged action by Select and

City Councils. J. Gordon Showaker, Chairman. THOMAS McCullough, WM. S. MANN, MATTHEW CLIFTON, JAMES H. CORNLEY, Jos. Young, Chas. K. Miskey.

The report was accepted, and the committee instructed to submit the same to Councils on Wednesday.

Mr. Cook said it would be well for the presidents of the different fire companies

Common Councils, would, in all probability, create more cause for public discontent than

A gentleman present suggested that the reporters present, if they desired, be allowed reporters present, if they desired, be allowed the privilege of making a copy of the re-port of the committee. The President, Mr. Kendrick, objected on the ground, as he stated, that if the report was published the Councilmen would have time to consider the same, and be prepared on Wednesday to speak on the subject.

A motion was made and agreed to, that the committee return the report, and not allow it to be published until presented to

The choir sang an appropriate anthem, when Rev. Heber Newton was introduced to the audience. He made a forcible address, in which he alluded to the temptations which beset young men on arriving in this and other large cities, and advocated the introduction of the gymnasium, and games at chess, as innocent amusements in which all could engage with propriety. At the conall could engage with propriety. At the con-clusion of this address, Rev. Dr. Beadle was introduced to the audience, and made a telling address. He was followed, by Rev. J. THE FINANCES OF THE CITY.—The Committee of Finance of Councils met last even ing for the purpose of considering the annual estimates for 1867. Among the items considered was the appropriation to schools the salary of the Principal of the High School was raised to $2,500, and the salary of all the professors was fixed at $1,800 per annum. After disposing of the items a motion was made to fix the tax rate for 1867. Several motions were made one to continue tion was made to fix the tax rate for 1867. Several motions were made, one to continue the rate at $4, another to make it $3, and a third to fix it at $4 65. Mr. Freeman, who moved the last mentioned rate, urged that if the city desired to maintain her credit she must pay her indebtedness as it is fucured, instead of reserting to funding as in the past. The appropriation for 1867, together with the loans already authorized, will require a rate of $4 65. Before determining the question the committee adjourned,

NEW JEWELRY ESTABLISHMENT.-We are continually reminded of the westward progress of business by the opening of new and elegant establishments in all departments of trade and traffic. Our attention was called yesterday to a really splendid new store, at the southeast corner of Chestnut and Tenth streets. It is the property of the enterprising firm of Kitchen & Co., inwthe enterprising firm of Kitchen & Co., jew-elers, and has been fitted up by them with the utmost taste and elegance, and attracts the warm admiration of the host of people who pass along the south side of Chestant street. Their establishment is also rich in possessing the valuable services of Mr. N. Rulon, one of the best known and most skilful jewelers in the country. He is in attendance at all times and fully prepared to execute all classes of the delicate work of his profession. Messrs. Kitchen & Co. have on hand a remarkably fine and extensive slock of watches, jewelry, silver and plated ware, &c., and their terms are such as will commend their store to a very large class

He was badly cut about the face. The accident was caused by the breaking of the swingle trees, and occurred at Second and Wharton streets.

THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH,-The following statistics of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States for the past year have been prepared for insertion in the Church Almanac for 1867. The compiler was unable to see a copy of the convention journals of California, Florida. Kansas, Mississippi and Illinois. The figures would all have been increased, had these journals been available, with the exception of the number of clergy and parishes. The statistical year of the church is, we believe, generally reckoned from

SUICIDE AT ROCHESTER -A young man, named Thomas Bell, of Youngstown, Ohio, who was stopping at the Johnson House, Rochester, Pa., committed suicide on Mon Rochester, Pa., committed suicide on Monday evening by taking morphine. Bell was about twenty-one years of age, and had been but recently married. He and his wife had been stopping at the Johnson House for some days, he intending to procure a situation at painting, but not meeting with success, he became despondent. On Monday evening he procured some wine, which he took to his room, and in company with his wife they drank it. He died in a few hours, but his wife recovered. He left a note in but his wife recovered. He left a note in which he stated that he had put morphine in the wine, and that he was tired of life. His remains were taken to Youngstown, by his parents, on Wednesday morning. ANOTHER FLOWING OIL WELL.-The Erie Dispatch says: A three hundred barrel well has been struck on Tarr Farm. It was tested about two weeks since, and had been pumping about twenty-five barrels per day until last Saturday, when it commenced flowing, and flowed eix hundred barrels of oil, actual measurement, in forty-eight hours. The well is 591 feet deep, and is on a line with the Bakery. Well, that was producing ninety-barrels until the new one (which has been named the Keystone No. 2) commenced flowing, when the Bakery Well reased producing. The new well is now the largest producer in Pennsylvania. It-is owned by Messrs. Clark & Sumner. The famous Phillips Well, which was the largest flowing well on record, is on Tarr Farm, as is also the Woodford.

BANKING EXPLAINED -Old Mr. Lefevre's illustration of the theory of banking to a custemer, whose account was almost always overdrawn, certainly rivals the best treatise overdrawn, certainly rivals the best dipatise on that subject. Watching the customer, he caught him one day at the counter, and said to him: "Mr. Y., You and I must understand each other something better than we now seem to. I am afraid you don't know what banking really is; give me leave to what banking really is; give the leave to tell you. It's my business to take care of your money, but I find you are always taking care of mine. Now, that is not banking, Mr. Y.; it must be the other way—I'm the banker, not you. You understand me now, Mr. Y., I'm sure you do."

THE SHOE TRADE.—The shoe business of Lynn is unusually dull, even for this season of the year, and it is said that several thou sand workmen have already left the city for their homes, and others, it is believed, will soon follow them. Many of the workmen reside in different parts of the State, some in New Hampshire and Maine, and others in (anada. Probably half of the citizens of Lynn engaged in the Lusiness are out of work at the present fime. Better times, however, are looked for at the glose of the month,

A Ludierous Statue. A leaden equestrian statue of King George II, in Leicester Square, London, was lately made the subject of much amusement. Some person or persons having no reverence for royalty, took occasion during the night to decorate and adorn his Majesty in most fantastic style. They entered the enclosure armed with a pot and brush, with which the horse was covered with black spots—the entire head and tail being coated with the same color. On the head of "His Majesty" was placed a huge hat—extinguisher pattern—and the ears of the animal were enveloped in a kind of horn, the points being particularly pointed. At the side of the statue where the arm is missing, allong spear or lance pole had been fixed to the leg of the royal equestrian, and in the place of the blade there was the head of a birch-broom. The arms of His Majesty which surrounded the pedestal beneath had been painted red, while the initials "A. D. G." on either side had been brough out in bold relief. Altogether the figure occasioned much delight. Every now and then, a number of boys would climb the railings and run across the square. and dance and sing in front of the statue with apparent delight. In the course of the morning an attempt was made to thrust a pipe into His Majesty's mouth, but without effect.

CURIOUS RELIC OF THE WAR.-It is reated by a gentleman from Fredericksburg that a curious relic of the war was recently picked up on the battle-field of Chancellors picked up on the pattie-held of Unancellors-ville, and carried to a junk-dealer in that city. The relic consists of a star formed by two musket balls which collided as they were passing through the air with great velocity from opposite directions. There seems to be no doubt of the star being formed in this way, as the undefaced ap pearance of the basis of the two bullet clearly indicates that they came together in
