

seek an alliance with America that her valuable possessions in Canada may be saved from the MUCH-DREADED FENIANS! Countrymen, if our organization has accomplished so much under difficulties al. complished so indich under difficulties al-most insurmountable, what may we not ac-complish, now that we know our own strength and resources and England's weak ness? The destiny of a nation is in the hands of its own people-if true to themselves, no matter how rich and powerful the spoiler, they cannot be held in slavery-but nation-alities, like individuals. must pass through a fiery ordeal; as gold they must be pur-fied to wipe away the stains of their political degradation, and to fit them to take their place in the great family of nations.

The work of reconstructing ancient natienalities is going on around you, and, while the legions of humanity are marching on to the music of liberty, will you alone be satisfied to lie on the highway among the English robbers, waiting for some good Sa-maritan to pour the balm of freedom on the bleeding wounds of your country? No, countrymen, the hour of Ireland's relemp tion is now at hand. Listen no longer, then, to the cant of false friends, who tell you that they would be with you if they saw an opportunity, for Ireland; tell them that an opportunity, for freishous; tent them that you have made the opportunity, and are going to reap the benefit of it for your coun-try; tell them, too, that when the Irish gained the victory at Fontenoy it was for a French King, in a French cause, but the victory at Limes one Ridge was for Ireland; it was Irishmen fighting in their own cause -nerved by the wrongs of seven centuries; and if the flag of St. George is to day floating where our green flag was unfurled England may thank the United States. Retaining, ss you do, the vitality that proves the it destructibility of your na tional character; with five millions of your race on this continent that were born in Ireland, independent of more than a third of the American people who have Irish blood in their veins; with five millions in Ireland and five millions more scattered through and five millions more scattered through England, Scotland and Australia, what is there to prevent you perfecting the glorious work so gloriously begun? Yes, country-mes, when the news of Nell's victory flashed over the wires, not the Fenian brotherhool only, but the whole Irish race, from Canad 4 to the Gulf, and from the Atlantic to the golden shores of the Pacific, fait the shock golden shores of the Pacific, felt the shock, goiden shores of the racing, left the shock, and with one impulse, joined the grand army of liberation, that will never falter till the independence of Ireland is achieved. In the face of these accomplished facts, we would say to our countrymen in Ireland, have nothing to do with the English Parlia ment; turn your face from that pest house of iniquity, whose breath is worse than poi son, whose smile is the sting of the serpent Trust not your enemy in a new dress. She may come to you with the old palaver of Parliamentary Reform; but the wos, the ruin, the desolation of your country is an evidence that the voice of the stranger pre-valled in your councils and reformed us out of Ireland.

Trust not the Irish patriot that solicits seat in the midst of a conclave of your ene-mies; his first act in that conclave is treason mies; his nest act in that constant is a go-to Ireland, by swearing to support a go-verment, whose throne is camented with verment, whose throne is commented with the blood of our people. You are now able to do your own reforming; and England can promise you nothing that you are not able to take.

Remember that God's truth and providence are always in harmony, and the right has never been delegated by Divine authoto the English Government to exterminate a whole people. No! it is God's providence that the Irish race shall live; the "hand-writing is on the wall;" nor will the eloquent inconsistency put forth by the crafty tools of that Government save her of the blood-stained robe from the ven-1 10 1

Washington News. It has been ascertained that Maximilian's tenacity in holding on to Mexico has been due to the expectations, encouraged by the reports of his late agent in the United States, Manano Degollado, just returned to Mexico, that a new civil war is on the eve of break-ing out in the United States, and that this much desteining he the case if the value would certainly be the case if the radicals carried the fall elections. It is expected that all such visionaries are now disappointed. The fact is known here that Degollado could not obtain andiences either from Fresiden Johnson or Secretary Seward while in the United States, all bis efforts in that direction having failed, his statement to the contrary
