Relief for Suffering Freedmen. Very distressing accounts have recently been sent from the neighborhood of York. town, Virginia, of the dispossession of the freed people from their lands. After the Northern occupation of Yorktown, crowds of celored people, hungering for freedom, came within our lines and were assigned lands to cultivate for their own support Flourishing villages and thriftly cultivated farms sprang up. These people believed the land their own, and after nearly three years of possession bitterly resent the breach of faith which returns it with all their improvements, their cabins and gardens, to their rebel masters and turns them out in mid winter to starve and die. To the slave two ideas former necessarily connected with his conception of freedom-the right to education, and the right of ownership. When these lands were assigned to them, the belief that they were their own became the stimulus to earnest exertion. An anecdote, related by a teacher who has been much among them, will best illustrate their feeling on this point. She savs-"I visited the cabin of Aunt Lyddy, a hopeless cripple from rheumatism, and found her little garden blooming like a rose. She had transplanted blackberry bushes from the wilds and made a hedge; she had roses blooming and sweetbriar, besides potatoes, garden vegetables and "yarbs." I said, 'Aunt Lyddy, how do you manage to do all this and you so lame and suffering?" She answered, 'De Lord helps me, Missus, and when I 'gins to faint, I ses, Liddy, dis your garden, and dat gins me heart to strike de spade deep. And when my arm grows tired, I keep saying, Lyddy, dis your own garden, and dat makes de spade go deeper and deeper.' To-

hands in loyal blood, while old Aunt Lyddy becomes an outcast and a wanderer." The Women's Freedmen's Relief Association, who work especially for the freed people, are straining every nerve to meet the great tide of suffering and sorrow, that this authorized injustice is daily causing. They appeal through our columns for support. We hope our philanthropic public will hold up their hands in so noble a work

CHARLES H. HART, Esq., of this city, corresponding secretary of "The Numismatic and Antiquarian Society of Philadelphia," is preparing a "Bibliographia Lincolniana," to comprise the complete title, viz: every word which appears on the title page, verbatim et literatim et punctatim, the size, the number of pages, the text and the number of copies printed, of every sermon, eulogy, address, etc., etc., occasioned by the death of President Lincoln. It is to be appended to the "Life of Lincoln" by Hon. William H. Herndon, and Mr. Hart is very desirous of having his work complete and perfect, and would feel indebted to authors and others knowing of anything they might deem of interest in the above line to communicate with him. He would particularly ask the attention of State and city governments that have published anything on this subject to his work. Papers, by copying this notice, will confer s great favor on Mr. Hart.

RISTORI.—The sale of subscription seats for the engagement of Mme. Ristori, at the Academy of Music, will commence on Monday next, instead of Thursday, as previously announced. The great artist and her company are having splendid success in Baltimore. They go thence to Washington, and will positively begin here on Monday, December 10th.

New Jersey Matters. ATLANTIC CITY.—On the evening of the 27th inst., the new Council of Atlantic City was organized, and the other municipal officers were duly qualified and entered upon the discharge of their duties.—On Thanksgiving day appropriate ceremonies were had at the M. E. Church, the new Mayor presiding, and an eloquent discourse was delivered by Dr. Thomas K. Reed,— Work has been suspended on the new turnpike connecting the city with the main land at Pleasantville, for want of funds. As this road will, when completed, be of great advantage, the friends of the enterprise should take measures to finish it at once. -Building is remarkably active, and the structures going up are of first-class character. More than fifty carpenters have got work for the winter in that city, and more will be needed before winter closes, in order to complete the improvements contemplated by the time the season next year opens.— The Union League of Atlantic City have made arrangements to give a grand supper on Monday evening next, in honor of their complete victory at the late election. IMPROVEMENTS.—It is understood that another large factory is about to be erected by the Camden Woolen Mills Manufacturing Company, in close proximity to their present one, on State street. These manuacturing establishments exert a greater influence in the building up of Camden than any other single agency. THANKSGIVING.—Yesterday, in Camden, was appropriately observed in all the churches as a day of thanksgiving. In each cnurch a large attendance was present, and the discourses were able and interesting. As a general thing business was suspended, and everything appeared as quiet as a Sab bath day.

A NEW POST OFFICE has been established at Merchantsville, Camden county, and Charles W. Starn appointed postmaster. This postal advantage has been secured through the personal influence and exer-tions of Senator Cattell.

THE FENIANS.

THE PRISONERS AT TORONTO.

Exci ement at Montreal.

TORONTO, Nov. 29.—As it was generally expected that judgment would be delivered in the Court of Queen's Bench or Common Pleas on the application of Mr. McKensie, on behalf of the Fenian prisoners for a new trial, a large number of people attended, and at the time the court opened scarcely a seat could be obtained. They anxiously waited until near two o'clock, when it was inti-mated that the judges would give no deci-sion, those in the Queen's Bench differing in toto with the opinion of their brethren in the Common Pleas,

At Osgood Hall it is said that the judgment in the Common Pleas will be adverse to the applicants, while in the Queen's Bench, Judges Hagarty and Morrison are of the opinion that the grounds urged jus-tify them in granting the rule. Only two days new remain for them to express their views. If adverse to law they may possibly satisfy public opinion; but it is doubtful whether it will prove of ultimate benefit. As regards the Rev. Mr. McMahon's case, it would amount to nothing short of murder if they carry out the sen-tence. The evidence against him was of a nature which would convict no man in a free country, and it is much to be deplored that religious and party motives ave so much to do with influencing a jury. and McKensie have been unceasing in their efforts to do all in their power on behalf of their unfortunate clients. Not a stone has been left unturned; and if their discharge depends upon legal acumen, better men could not be found. To my own knowledge McKensie has not been in bed for two nights devoting the entire time to searching authorities for his clients' defence.

MONTREAL, Nov. 29, 1866.—The dspatches to the Herald by the Atlantic cable, announcing the outbreak in Ireland, is the only topic of conversation in the province, The Canadian government are willing to discharge the Fenian prisoners confined here, if the United States government will guarantee that Roberts shall not attempt to make another reid on the province. make another raid on the province.

The sixty witnesses for the Crown arrived to day and were ordered to Sweetsburg. The Hon. B. Devlin, Queen's counsel, intends to make an application on the opening of the court to have the prisoners discharged on the grounds of some informality in the indictments.

MONTREAL, C. E., Nov. 28, 1866.—This morning an excited crowd gathered about the Post Office corner, Great St. James and St. Francis Xavier streets, on receipt of the news from Ireland, and the general opinion was that Canada, would now have to look was from Ireland, and the general opinion was that Canada would now have to look out for trouble with the United States, as the British Government will not pay the claims for the Alabama damages; and it is now thought that the late telegram to the Governor General was to warn him of the coming danger. The hope is expressed among the English party that France may be involved at the same time in a war with e involved at the same time in a war with the United States. An effort will now be made to revive the old entente cordiale of 1854-56, that the two old nations may fight as one against the young giant of the New World. Major-General Stisted is to come out here to replace General Lindsay. These two officers are "six of one and half a dozen of the

As to France sending troops to Canada, the English would be too jealous of it; for they (the French) might do as at Rome—that is, occupy Canada, in the east of which they would be received with open arms and encouraged to stay. In such a case the acquisition of Canada would be a good set off against the loss of Mexico: Indeed, a leading man in Canada has advised that Lower Canada has devised that Lower Canada be given to the French, and Upper Canada to the Americans, that there might e perpetual war between the two people over the Ottawa river.

Great Floods and Loss of Life in England. A great flood, caused by two days' incesant rain, took place in Yorkshire and Lancashire, England, a fortnight ago. The Leeds Mercury says: It is long since Leeds presented scenes so eingular as those which were to be witnessed resterday in the streets adjoining the river and the becks flowing through the town. The appearance of the streets adjoining the river last night was very remarkable. Adventurous passengers seeking to advance along them were constantly stopped by poalong them were constantly stopped by po-licemen carrying flaming torches, from whom they received an intimation that their further progress was arrested by the water. Then, when they peered out into the darkness beyond they saw broad sheets of water, smooth and black, in place of the uneven pavement. Occasionally, a resident in the neighborhood might be seen seeking his home wading bareforded through the his home, wading barefooted through the flood until he reached his door. At the junction of Hunslet Lane and Meadow Lane, the water was about two feet deep, Lane, the water was about two feet deep, and was therefore impassable to foot passengers. But as that was the principal approach to Hunslet, the traffic could not be entirely stopped on account of the flood, and a system of ferries was consequently established, the ferries consisting of carts and omnibuses, which plied to and fro across Leeds Bridge and through the lake which lay beyond. It was a singular sight to see the crowd of working men hanging about the bridge and waiting for their turn to cross to their homes in this novel turn to cross to their homes in this novel manner, and equally singular was it to see the carts and wagons entering the sheet of water, the legs of the horses churning it into foam as they passed onward, and the vehicles leaving a broad track in their wake, not unlike that left by a steamer. An accident of a serious nature occurred at one of the buildings erected by the side of the dam. A large chimney connected with the corn milloccupied by the executors of the late Mr. Edward Hudson, suddenly fell.

The cope stone, a huge piece of masonry, was projected across the dam, and striking the rcof of one of the buildings in Schoolclose, completely demolished it. The building was at the himographical by the mining was at the time occupied by the wife and son of Mr. Thompson, one of the con-tractors for the new railway works. They were both buried in the ruins of the house, and when rescued were conveyed to the Infirmary. The son's injuries were found to hrmary. The son's injuries were found to be of a very slight nature, but Mrs. Thompson was suffering from a fracture of the right arm and from concussion of the brain. She is, however, expected to recover. At Wakefield several persons were drowned. In the Wigan district scores of acres were submerged, and along the banks of the river for miles, and more particularly in the precipits of the town miles. cularly in the precincts of the town, mills, factories, shops, foundries and other buildings, including dwellings, were flooded, and although the damage has not been considerable, the alarm created is great. It was found prudent to call out the colliers in one of the chief pite of the Tree-ball Cost of the chief pits of the Ince-hall Coal and Cannel Company, to guard against any irruption of water into the workings. Nineteen years ago this month a dire catnstrophe was caused by the breaking in of the river to some of these workings.

The judges were: Lieutenant Ziegler, U.S. A., Lientenant Vansciver, and Joseph

Barton. CHURCH MUSIC.—Some progress is mak ng in the improvement of church music in this city, as was seen by the singing of at least two of our choirs yesterday. At Arch Street Presbyterian Church the trio from Belisario was beautifully sung by members of the choir; while after the sermon the grand anthem "The Lord is Great," by Righini, was given splendidly by the combined choirs of the Arch Street and St. Stephens Church, led by Mr. Taylor. At the Clinton Street Church a double quartette composed of the fine choir belonging thereto, augmented by four superior voices; gave as an opening piece a "Jubilate" by Lloyd, and after the sermon an arrangement to sacred words of the grand chorus which terminates the third act of Ernani. Both pieces, especially the opening bass solo, in the latter, were sung with telling effect.

Inciting to Riot.-Last evening, shortly after eight o'clock, a wagon containing four men was driven down Main street, Frankford. The parties were engaged in singing. On reaching Unity street some one standing on the corner made some opprobrious remarks which excited the ire of one of the occupants, named Jesse Williams, who jumped out of the vehicle and created, for a short time, quite an excitement, by making use of threatening language. Just as he was getting the crowd in fighting trim he was captured by Officer McClintock, of the Fifteenth District. He had a hearing before Ald. Holme this morning, and was held in $500 bail upon the charge of inciting to riot INTERESTING LECTURES-The opening lec ture of the course before the Social, Civil and Statistical Association of the Colored People of Pennsylvania, takes place this evening at the National Hall. The speaker is Hon. G. S. Boutwell. Frederick Doug-lass will be the next lecturer. He will be followed by Major General O. O. Howard, Major General Benjamin F. Butler, Senator J. W. Nye, Mrs. F. E. W. Harper, Hon. W. D. Kelley, Theodore Tilton, Esq., Hon. John A. Bingham and W. W. Browne, Esq.

SHAMEFUL ASSAULT.-Yesterday after noon Officer C. Edgar of the Eighth District arrested a young man named John Charles, aged 22 years, at Eighteenth and Montgomery avenue, upon the charge of committing an indecent assault upon a female. It appears that John Taylor, to dance. It appears that Patrick Dollard, John Hamill, Hugh Mc-Intyre, George Bagley and Michael Bagley, employes in the mill at that place, were having a good time of it on the bridge leading from that place to Frankford, when Dollard requested the colored boy to dance. Taylor declined on account of frosted feet. Dollard was not to be put off in that way. He accordingly pinned a paper to the jacket of Taylor and set it on fire, intending, no doubt, to accelerate his locomotion, after the manner of placing a lighted coal on the back of a turtle. Taylor objected to this fiery proceeding. tle. Taylor objected to this fiery proceeding, and called upon the bystanders for protecand called upon the bystanders for protection. No one heeding him, he ran towards his home, and was met by Mr. and Mrs. Hogan, with whom he was living. Repairing to the scene of conflict, the boy, Taylor, arming himself with a pistol, fired at the crowd. A running fight was now kept up by the parties; Mr. Hogan escaped escaped uninjured. Not so with Mrs. Hogan, for Dollard planted a well directed blow on the face of Mrs. Hogan, closing up one of her face of Mrs. Hogan, closing up one of her eyes, felling her to the ground. Dollard and his friends then kicked her in a shameful manner. The parties were arrested and held to bail in $600 each, by Alderman Holme, of Frankford, to answer.

PICKING POCKETS.-Philip Carlin was arraigued before Alderman Jones this morning, upon the charge of picking peckets under the following circumstances: Yesterday afternoon a citizen, while passing through Penn Square, noticed Carlin taking something out of a man's pocket, who was sitting upon one of the stools and apparently laboring under the stools and apparently laboring under the influence of liquor. He notified Mr. Thompson, Supervisor of the Ninth Ward, who watched the fellow's movements, followed him and took him into control Particular Parti him into custody. By this time the man in the square discovered that his watch and chain had been stolen. Upon searching Carlin the missing property was found upon his person. He was held to answer. ROBBED WHILE ASLEEP.—On Wednesday last, the captain of a canal boat, while lying asleep in the cabin of his vessel, at Bristol, Pa., had his pocket picked of a wallet containing eighty-four dollars. Soon after his money had been stolen, he ascertained that one John McWilliams had been seen by one John McWilliams had been seen by some parties hanging around the boat. McWilliams came to this city, and was arrested at Franktord road and Hanover street, yesterday, by Officers Myers and Murray, of the Eleventh District. About $70 of the money stolen from the captain were found upon his person. Defendant was taken to Bristol, where he was committed for trial by Justice Pennington. FALL OF A NEW BUILDING.-About four o'clock this morning, the western wall of a new three-story brick building, on the south side of South street, below Nineteenth, gave way, from the effects of the heavy rain which occurred about an hour previous. The other walls soon followed, and the whole structure was reduced in a short space of time to a mass of ruins. The building was being constructed by Massrs, Mc-Farland & White, for Alderman Dallas, The loss on the same will probably reach $1,500. Fortunately no one was about the premises at the time, or the result would have probably been much more serious, DISHONEST HELP. - A young mulatto girl, aged about twenty years, named Sarah Jenkins, employed as a domestic in house No. 711 Green street, was arrested yestarday morning by Officer Harrar, of the Eighti District, upon complaint of her employe who charges her with the larceny of clothing valued at fifty dellars, from his house. Surah was held, indefault of seven hundred dollars bail, by Alderman Massey for a furher bearing.

CAUGHT AT LAST .- David Mumber had a hearing before Alderman Massey, this morning, charged with stealing ar overcoat from a man with whom he was formerly employed. The garment was taken nearly year ago. Since that time Mumbar has a year ago. Since that this muthout he kept himself out of the way. Yesterday he was discovered passing Randolph and Jefferson streets, when Officer Miller was notified. He took him into custody. Mumbar was held in $800 bail to answer.

LARCENY FROM THE PERSON.-William Moore was before Alderman Jones, this morning, charged with larceny. He is alleged to have stolen a watch and chain from the vest pocket of a gentleman, who was attending the performance at the Chestnut Street Theatre on Wednesday night. The stolen property was found upon the person of Moore, who was held in $800 bail to answer at court.

MRS, J. C. CROLY (Jennie June), in her examination before the Commissioner of Patents, teatities as follows:

Q-Do you, or not, prefer the Grover & Baker Machine for family sewing, and if so, why? State the reasons folly.

A-I prefer lis to any machine. Hike the Grover & Baker & achine in the first place, because if I had any other I should still want a Grover & Baker; and having a Grover & Baker, it answers the purpose of all the rest, I todes a greater variety of work, and it is easier to learn than any other. I like the stitch because of its beauty and strength, and because, although it can be taken out, it don't rip, not even by cutting every other stitch.

Q-Amongyour acquaintances state whether this machine and its work is preferred to other machines?

A-Yes, it is, especially within the last two years. I know three other ladies who have sold off other machines. All the recently, and they are very enthusiastic about their new machines.

COURTS.

QUARTER SESSIONS-Judge Allison.-James Patton and John McNevil were acquitted of a charge of larceny.

John Welsh was charged with larceny as bailee. It was alleged by the prosecutor that he engaged the defendant to sell coal upon commission, he agreeing to give him 50 cents for every ton of coal sold. It is alleged that the defendant sold the coal and collected $40, but didn't pay it over to the prosecutor.

The defence set up that the prosecutor was indebted to the defence about $100 before the money in question was collected.

On trial. A FACT FOR GEOLOGISTS.—A Cornish journal in England says: In sinking a shaft at the Garden Tin Mine, in Morvah, the men have met with a perfect pillar, about eight inches in diameter, standing in the solid rock, and very different in its composition from the surrounding granite; and, what is stranger still, at the base of this pillar they have come upon what they say is a fly wheel of the same material. Large pieces, both of the pillar and wheel, were arbibled to the adventual. exhibited to the adventurers at the account meeting on the 2d, and some portions of both are still left unbroken in the rock. THE HERDIC HOUSE, at Williamsport the largest and most costly hotel on the lin of the Philadelphia and Eric Railroad, is t be sold by the Sheriff.
