$100,687 29 A communication was received from F. C. Brewster, resigning his office as City Solicitor. The resignation was accepted.

Mr. Van Cleve, in connection with the

the building, as there will, in all probability, be another police district created in that section of the city.

Mr. Van Cleve urged the necessity of the hall in this neighborhood for school purchall in this neighborhood. poses. The section was growing rapidly.

One manufacturer is erecting a large factory which will give employment to near one thousand workmen. To accommodate these, dwellings are being erected, and this school will be needed. The hall is too large for police purposes.

Mr. Hoogdon said that the improvements

Mr. Hoogdon said that the improvements referred to will require the protection of the police force, and therefore the necessity of this hall for that purpose. The hall is now in the rural section, and none of the streets leading to are paved. A motion to refer to the Committee on Law was not agreed to, and the bill passed. Yeas 16; nays 9.

The same committee reported an ordinance authorizing the acceptance of the building at Milestown for school purposes. Mr. Spering introduced a resolution instructing the Committee on Markets to consider the propriety of increasing the market rents. Referred to the Committee on Mar-The ordinance increasing the pay of poticemen was taken up.

Mr. King opposed the bill, because he was opposed to increasing the rate of taxation. Even if we fund a million and a half of dollars, the city will be unable to increase the pay of policemen and the employes in other departments who would have a claim apon departments who would have a claim upon them. The policemen are as well paid as the mechanics of the city; if they are not, why do they not resume their trades? Many of these men are mechanics; and if workmen at their respective trades, what is to prevent the policemen leaving the force and take the work which pays best. Let us be just before we are generous. He should be glad to increase the pay, but the citizens at large require consideration, in view of the already pressing burden of indebtedness. If this increase is granted, there is no reason why the other departments will not come to why the other departments will not come to Councils and claim the like addition to their

Mr. Barlow favored the bill. He inquired if Mr. King had made a calculation of the number of hours a policeman gave to the public out of twenty-four, and then compublic out of twenty-four, and then compared it with the labor performed in other departments. The policemen works eighteen hours out of the twenty-four, while the school teachers give five and a half hours. In the face of this, to say that the policemen were the best paid of the city employes is preposterous. The amount they ask is absolutely needed by the policemen to support their families and themselves. The city ought to be willing to pay $2 50 per day to men who protect the property of the men who oppose this measure of justice.

Dr. Kamerly said that those who talked about the labor performed by policemen, forgot that railroad conductors and drivers worked harder and got less pay than the policemen. It was also a peculiarity that both on the police force and on the rairroads there are hundreds of mechanics, and yet it is asserted that mechanics receive greater pay, If this be so, why do the men leave their trades to take service in the police force?

Mr. Van Cleve referred to the fact that policemen were compelled to risk life and limb in the performance of their duties, and were therefore entitled to an increased pay. and if this measure of justice involves an increase of the tax-rate, he was ready to vote for a rate that would pay our current

Dr. Kamerly introduced an amendment increasing the pay of the Fire Marshal to $1,700, the High Constables and Detectives to $1,200, the Clerk of the Mayor to $1,500, and the Messengers to $912 50. He explained that he did not originate the amendment, but had presented it at the request of other parties. Mr. Gray advocated the ordinance, and urged that, as citizens desired to see the policemen on the streets well dressed, they should be willing to pay for it.

Dr. Kamerly's amendment was agreed to —yeas 16, nays 7.

Mr. Freeman opposed the bill, because the finances of the sity would not be a second

Mr. Freeman opposed the bill, because the finances of the city would not permit the increase. Those who favor the increase should first provide the means, and thus insure that the warrants issued to the policemen are paid. If Councilmen will vote a sufficient amount to pay this increase, as well as the deficiencies, he would vote for the bill, but if it was proposed to issue a piece of paper to these men, which they can get stamped at the City Treasury and then shaved at the brokers, the policemen will not be benefited. The question is not now fairly before the Chamber. It should be postponed until the tax rate is fixed, and then the friends of the measure can show their poned until the tax rate is fixed, and then the friends of the measure can show their sincerity by voting a rate sufficient to meat the additional appropriation. He believed that the Finance Committee would not hesitate to do its whole duty, but would report in favor of a continuance of $4 as the rate. If this is done, there will be a deficiency of a million and a half without taking into If this is done, there will be a deficiency of a million and a half, without taking into consideration this item to the policemen. The result would be that this pretended increase of the pay of the policemen would be a sham, as the "shave," owing to the involved condition of the finances, would absorb all, if not more, than the increase. The ordinance asamended was agreed to—yeas 16, nays 7.

The ordinance as amended was agreed to yeas 16, nays 7.

Mr. Smith moved to reconsider the vote by which the ordinance to increase the police force was defeated. The motion to reconsider was postponed.

The ordinance from Common Council authorizing the paving of Broad street from Jefferson to Oxford, was concurred in; also the resolution approving the sureties of Jenry Conner, City Commissioner elect; also the ordinance for the protection of in the ordinance for the protection of the great in the city of Philadelphia; also the of Guardians of the Poor, claim of constables for serving certificates of election. The committee was discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

A remonstrance from citizens against the laying of water pipe on Haines street, between Main and Morton streets, Twentysecond Ward, was presented, and referred to the Committee on Water.

Mr. Miller, of the Highway Committee, reported a resolution authorizing the paving of Broad street, from Jefferson to Oxford sts, with the Nicholson patent paving. Mr. Miller explained that the pavement would be ownood, and the cost would be about $3 per foot. The citizens would pay all the expenses, except for intersections. The contractors were anxious to put it down this fall to see how it would be affected by frost. The resolution would be affected by frost. The resolution was agreed to. The same gentleman offere a resolution giving notice of the intended opening of Montgomery avenue, from Broad to Eighteenth streets. Adopted.

A communication was presented from a number of citizens protesting against the erection of a bridge over the Schuylkill, at South street. Mr. Miller moved that the ordinance providing for the erection of a bridge at South street, which was made the special order for the present meeting, be postponed for the present. or the present.

Mr. Harper opposed any postponement: he thought Councils were prepared to act now, and they should do so, and take the matter from the hands of the commission appointed by the Legislature.

Mr. Miller hoped the matter would be referred. He believed that if a bridge was built at South street, without a draw, the Panssylvania, and Philada, and Baltimore Raiload Companies would take the draws out of their bridges, and thus interrupt the commerce of the city. He was satisfied that the bridge was only intended to benefit the Lombard and South streets railroad.

Mr.Little denied that the bridge was for the barefit of the realroad but their two for the benefit of the railroad, but that it was for the accommodation of the people, and particu Mr. Krupp was opposed to building the bridge while the finances of the city were in their present condition.

Mr. Dillon was opposed to building a bridge at South street, unless provided with Mr. Hetzell thought it would be better to get the Legislature to repeal the act appointing the commission, because the city was not in condition to bear the expense.

The motion to postpone was agreed to.

The supplementary ordinance to reor ganize the Fire Department, submitted on Thursday last, was taken up. Mr. Staunton presented from a Committee of Firemen a resolution against the passage of the ordinance. Mr. Little moved that the ordinance be indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Harper opposed the motion, and adwhich any good firemen could object to. He referred to the frequent riots among the adherents and runners of the fire comparies and contended that there should be a contended that there are contended that there are contended to the contended t nies, and contended that there should be a better system of controlling the Depart-ment. He believed that all the good firemen were in favor of the bill.

Mr. Wolbert was opposed to the ordinance, and said that it would lead to a paid Fire Department. He also referred to the patriotism of the firemen.

Mr. Evans was not in favor of a paid Fire Department and for the treasen he had in Department, and for that reason he had introduced the bill now before Councils. He contended that in the present condition of the Fire Department a reorganization was necessary. The ordinance would save the the Fire Department a reorganization was necessary. The ordinance would save the city money, because if companies behaved disorderly, their pay would stop until they were again allowed to go into service. He thought it was the men hanging about the fire companies that created fights, and they would be compelled to get rid of them if they desired to stay in the Department.

Mr. Little was in favor of indefinitely postponing the ordinance, because he believed it to be unjust to the Fire Depart-lieved it to be unjust to the Fire Department. All the firemen should not be blamed because adherents of companies may steal occasionally or create fights.

Mr. Simpson was a friend of the Fire De-

Mr. Simpson was a friend of the Fire Department, but seeing the reckless way in which property is destroyed, he felt there was a necessity for a change in the organization of the Department. He said that the rate of insurance in Baltimore was one percent, before the paid Fire Department was established, and now it is 50 per cent, less. The rate in New York had also been reduced since the paid Department was introduced, while in Philadelphia the rate of insurance is constantly on the increase.

Surance is constantly on the increase,
Mr. Dillon was opposed to the ordinance, and said the reckless destruction of property could be avoided by re-districting the Fire Department.

Mr. Willits said it had become necessary to place the Fire Department under some better control than the present, and he thought the plan proposed by the ordinance a good one.

The motion to postpone indefinitely was voted down—yeas 15, nays 23.

Mr. Palmer moved to refer the bill to the Committee on Fire and Trusts.

The motion was discussed until the hour of adjournment.

Snow Storm on the Hudson.—There was a very severe snow squall on the Hudson River, in the vicinity of the city of Hudson son fiver, in the vicinity of the city of flui-son, on Sunday morning about 2½ o'cloc x. The wind had the force almost of a hurri-cane, and a large quantity of snow fell in a short time. The pilot of the steamer Dean Richmond, when the squall was at its height, lest control of the vessel, and she was driven ashore on the flats near Athens. She remained on the flats for four hours, at the end of which time she was taken off by the propeller John Taylor and the tug Wynants with only the loss of an anchor.

Last night a despatch was received by Gen. Grant from Gen. Sheridan, stating that the latter had been informed that Gen. Sedgwick contemplated such a movement, and that orders had been immediately for warded by telegraph to arrest it, as an unauthorized and unwarranted proceeding. Gen. Sheridan stated that if the movement was made before the telegraphic order reached the officer in command he should nstantly relieve the latter from duty. It is believed that Gen, Sedgwick was induced to take this step by the importunities of parties in Matamoras who had compromised themselves by affiliation with the Imperialists, and desired protection. The proceeding is totally disapproved by the military and civil authorities here.
