In the United States Commissioner's Court yesterday, before Commissioner Betts, the further hearing of the case of William McCarthy, who is charged with having assaulted William Berry, Captain of the steamer Guiding Star, on the high seas, was resumed. Evidence was offered by the de-fendant to controvert the statement of the cantain. The Commissioner reserved his captain. The Commissioner reserved his decision until a charge which McCarthy has brought against the second mate of the Guiding Star for assault and battery, shall have been disposed of. Benjamin Miller, a night clerk in the Post Office of this city, was brought before Commissioner Osborne charged with stealing money letters. The defendant waived an examination, and in default of $5,000 bail was committed for trial.

The Grand Jury was empanneled yester-day in the General Sessions, Recorder Hackett, in his charge, spoke of the impor-tance of having the criminal code revised to meet the requirements of the present age. His honor also called their attention to the reckless manner in which buildings are erected in this city, and requested the Grand Jury to inspect the New Opera House now being built, and said that if the old walls, which were subjected to intense heat, did not prove to be sufficiently strong, a fearful catastrophe might result. Edwin M. The Contraction of the Currency.

[To the New York Associated Press,] NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—A special despatch from Washington says that although the new bill proposed by the Committee of Ways and Means inclines to a contraction of the currency, and agrees generally with the views of Mr. McCulloch as expressed to members of the committee, it is still con sidered very doubtful whether Congress will adopt it. The temper of the House upon the subject of interfering with the present status of the national banks was plainly seen on Monday, when it voted down summarily several attempts of the kind that were then made. The proposition to add $25,000,000 to the currency was not approved by the Currency Committee, and the present belief is that neither contraction nor an equitable distribution of the currency can succeed.

MURDERING A CREDITOR -A horrible crime, says the Courrier du Bas Rhin, has been perpetrated at Epfig. A man named Wolff, a creditor of a farmer called Metz, was sent for by the latter under pretext that the amount of a debt of 7,500 francs was to be at once paid to him. He went, and as he did not return, his family became alarmed. The police were communicated with, and a search was made in Metz's house. In the barn, buried seven feet under the floor, Wolff's body was found horribly mutilated. The farmer had also, it was ascertained, forged the murdered man's name to a receipt for the sum due. Both he and a farm servant have been taken into custody. BENBOW'S SOAPS .- Elder Flower, Turtle Lettuce, Sunfower, Musk, Rose, &c. ENOWDEN & BROTHER, Importers, 23 South Eighth street.
