XXXIXth CONGRESS-Second Session COLOSE OF YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

SENATE.-Mr. Pomeroy introduced a bill authorizing and directing the Secretary of the Treasury to permit the organization and establishment of national banks, in addition to those heretofore established under an ac entitled an act, &c., and acts supplemental thereto, and amendatory thereof, and to issue for the use of said banks hereby authorized currency not exceeding in amount the sum of millions of dollars, and provid-ing that the establishment of said banks and the issue of currency to the same shall be regulated and controlled in every respect as provided in the several acts referred to above. Provided, however, that the whole amount of currency issued for the use of national banks, under the provisions of this act and previous acts, located in each State and Territory, shall sustain the same proportion to the whole amount issued that the population of each State and Territory sustains to the whole population of the United States, as indicated by the census of 1860. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Sumner (Mass.), from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported favorably the joint resolution of thanks to Cyrus W. Field. and said he would call it up for action tomorrow. Mr. Sumner, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported the bill for the punishment of persons who induce free colored persons to emigrate under false promises, with a recommendation that it pass.

Mr. Trumbull (Ill.) presented a memorial from white loyalists of Louisiana, setting forth that the present State government of Louisiana is disloyal; that a large majority of the citizens of that State are as disloyal now as during the war; that Union men are persecuted, &c. It asks for the reorganiza-tion of the State government. It is signed by Governor Wells and others:

Mr. Trumbull, in presenting the above. made some remarks on the grievances com-plained of. He asserted the right of Congress to give protection to the loyal citizens of lately rebellious States under its duty to guarantee a republican form of government It was evident from this memorial that the State government of Louisiana was not re-publican in form. He contended that the whole subject of reconstruction belonged to Congress and not to the President, and that Congress had a right to overthrow the provisional governments organized by the President. Mr. Trumbull said taxes were being raised in Alabama and other States to pay salaries to rebel officers.

Mr. Howard (Mich.) said that the authority for this was in the circular letter of the Secretary of State, issued in June, 1865, to the various provisional Governors of the rebel States, directly giving his opinion that the provisional Governors had authority to levy taxes for the purpose of paying their own salaries and expenses. Mr. Trumbull (Ill.) resumed the floor, dwelling on the general subject of reconstruction, and denying the right of the President to reorganize State governments destroyed by secession or war. It was the duty of Congress, he said, if the facts alleged in this petition be true, to set aside the State governments of the South, and substitute of the state governments of the south, and substitute of the state governments. tute in their stead such governments as will protect loyal men.

Mr. Davis (Ky.)—I have but one word to say to the Senator from Illinois. He has certainly taken a very extraordinary occasion to deliver his speech in op sition to the merits of the petition. presume the honorable Senator, though he has addressed his speech to the Senate, intends it to reach the Legislature of Illinois, to influence a certain election pending there, and shortly to come off, and I hope the honorable Senator will succeed. I have read the names of the competitors of the honorable Senator in his own party for his succession, and I justly believe that he is much the ablest and much the best man of them all, or than all of them together, if they all could be put together in one mass. I therefore hope the honorable Senator, when that election comes off, will be re-elected. I am satisfied he will bring more ability to the seat which he is to vacate on the 4th of March than any one that has been named, and I am equally satisfied that, al-though the modicum of unselfish patriotism he can bring will not be very large, it will be immensely larger than any other claiming the seat can bring. I therefore trust he rill be re-elected. Mr. Trumbull—I regret, sir, that the Senator from Kentucky cannot rise above personal considerations in the discussion of questions in this body. I thank him for his personal kindness to me, and hope to be upon terms of personal friendship with him while we occupy seats here. But I never myself have been guilty of indulging in reflections upon the motives of Senators in the discharge of public duty here, and I am sorry that the Senator from Kentucky is cast in that mould that he supposes that when a brother Senator takes a particular rourse here, it is done in reference to his political and personal prospects.

I think, sir, if I know myself, I have been governed in my action in this body by a sense of public duty, and that there is nothing in my course to warrant the Senator from Kentucky in casting any course transcript. tor from Kentucky in casting any such imputation upon me, as making a speech for the purpose of securing re-election to the Senate. Sir,he may be east in a mould that would do it. I am not, and if my public course, sir, here is not such as to meet the approbation of my constituents, I will take the consequence of their disapproval. I have not shaped my course, sir, in reference to securing the personal approbation of my constituents, further than the discharge of public duty may give it, and the imputation of the Senator from Kentucky, is wholly uncalled for.

Mr.Davis—I would just say a word in explanation to the Senator from Illinois, with the indulgence of the Senate. The honorable Senator best knows—he is the best judge whether he be animated by a desire to secure his re-election. He is animated by honorable motives. I leave the decision of that question to him. I have nothing more

Pending the motion to refer Mr. Trumbull's petition to the Committee on Reconstruction, the morning hour expired, and Mr. Doolittle was about to reply to Mr. Trumbull's remarks on reconstruction. The subject, therefore goes over for one day.

The Nebraska bill was taken up. The unfinished business was upon Mr. Brown's (Mo.) amendment, which is a pro-viso that the act shall not take effect except npon the fundamental condition that there shall be no denial of the elective franchise or of any other rights, to any person, by reason of race or color, &c.

Mr. Wade (Ohio) took the floor in opposition to the amendment. He expressed himself as strongly in favor of the principle it contained as anybody could be, but he did not believe Congress should exact such conditions after having admitted Tennessee without them. Nebraska would ratify the amendment, and he could ask no more. In the course of shis remarks Mr. Wade adverted to his position on the subject of reconstruction. He would admit the South-ern States if they ratified the amendment, but he was afraid they would not ratify it. If they rejected it he would go as far as anybody when new terms were to be proposed. Mr. Sumner asked Mr. Wade if the rebel governments were, in his opinion, competent to act upon constitutional amend-

Mr. Wade replied that he had no better opinion of the governments set up by Presidential authority in the South than Mr. Sumner had, but he believed Congress had the power to breathe the breath of life into it should seem proper to make a change, the these dead States, and it purposed to do this committee would, at the proper time, make by the pending amendment. the power to breathe the breath of life into

Mr. Cowan (Pa.) took the floor at the conclusion of Mr. Wade's speech, and made a lengthy speech on the status of the laterebel States. He denied the doctrine that the State governments were destroyed by the act of secession, and asserted that it was subversive of the principles upon which the Constitution was formed. Citizens of the Southern States could not be punished for treason because they yielded obedience to their State governments when the general government afforded them no protection or means of resistance. All talk about the State suicide was Calhounism, secessionism and State sovereigntyism in its worst form. Referring to the bill to admit Nebraska, Mr. Cowan said there were no reasons why the new State should be admitted; while in his judgment, there were a good many reasons why it should not be admitted.

There was no reason why a State with so small a population as Nebraska should be given equal power in the Senate with the State of New York, and be permitted to cast two votes against two from Ohio or Pennsylvania on a tariff or other great questions. In conclusion, Mr. Cowan proposed to amend Mr. Brown's amendment by adding, that it is hereby distinctly un-derstood that the people of the Territory of Nebraska, when admitted as a State into the Union, shall owe a direct and personal allegiance, each and every one of them, to the government of the United States, and that the satd State of Nebraska shall not hereafter claim authority to convert the citizens of said State into foreign or alien enemies, so that they may be held as such by the United States. Something of this kind, he said, was necessary to prevent for the future what had recently occurred in the South.

Mr. Doolittle (Wis.) opposed Mr. Brown's amendment. It would be of no constitu-tional force if adopted, for the pending constitutional amendment, which would pro-bably be ratified, gave to the States the very right which the amendment to the pending bill denied. It gave the right to exclude persons from the right of suffrage on account of color. Besides this, Mr. Brown's amendment, if adopted, would give to all the In-dians in Nebraska the civil and political rights of citizens and voters. He was opposed to it on this account also.

Mr. Doolittle then gave his reasons for opposing the bill. He would be glad to welcome a new State into the Union, but he could see no record of valid and legal proceedings, by which the people of Nebrosky. ceedings by which the people of Nebraska had adopted a State constitution. The population of the Territory was too small, also, to warrant her admission as e State.

Pending the consideration of the bill and amendment, Mr. Fessenden moved an Executive session, which was agreed to, and the Senate soon after adjourned.

House.—The Speaker laid before the House certain Executive documents, which were laid on the table, as follows:

From the Secretary of War, transmitting astatement of the naves of persons employed in the coast survey, with the expenditures of the office. The annual report of the Superintendent of Public Printing.
Statement of the Secretary of the Navy as to ordnance and ordnance stores, in reply to a House resolution of the 6th instant, offered by Mr. Broomall. The Speaker announced the Select Committee on Direct Taxes and Forfeited Lands, ordered by the House yesterday, as follows: Mesers, Conkling, Donnelly, Dawes, Scofield, and Harding (Ky.) Mr. Stokes (Tenn.) presented a petition from the colored people of Tennessee for the removal of all political inequalities on account of race or color. Referred to the Committee on Reconstruction. Mr. Maynard (Tenn.) introduced a bill to amend the laws of the Dirtiet of Columbia. Referred to the District Committee, Mr. Warner (Conn.) introduced a joint resolution to pay a pension of $25 per month to the widow of Surgeon James W. Fitz-patrick, of Middlesex county, Connecticut, he having died of wounds received while acting as surgeon in the army. Referred to the Committee on Invalid Pensions, The House went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Lawrence (Pa.) in the Chair, and proceeded to the consideration of the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropria-tion bill. A considerable debate arose on the items for the reporting and publishing the proceedings of Congress in the Globe.

Mr. Lafin (N. Y.), Chairman of the Committee on Printing, suggested as an amend-ment that all the items scattered through the bill for the Congressional Globe should be put into one item, showing the aggregate appropriation for that purpose, and amounting to $206,049.

Mr. Maynard said that this subject of printing debates in the Globe had attracted considerable attention in former years, many members had supposed that the publication of the debates ought to be performed in the public printing office. The Globe establishment was a fungus on the government which should be removed. He trusted the amendshould be removed. He trusted the amendment would be adopted, as it would show the entire expense of the Globe to Congress. The publication of these proceedings should be made under the immediate direction of Congress and at the public printing office. Anything looking to that nitimate change would meet his approval.

Mr. Stevens did not know that there was anything materially objectionable in the amendment, except that it was desirable to keep the expenses of each house under its own heading.

own heading.
Mr. Laflin declared that the Committee on Printing had no intention of interfering with the bill further than to gather up all the items for the Globe and put them into one aggregate sum. That would simplify the bill, and would not operate against the interests or convenience of any party concerned.

Mr. Hale (N. Y.) opposed the amendment as tending to lead only to confusion, and being unproductive of any good.

Mr. Laffin thought these items should at least be consolidated into two, one for the House and one for the Senate. He withdrew his amendment. Mr. Maynerd moved to strike out the appropriation of $21,250 for Senate Globe reporting. He argued that the Globe was a newspaper having a regular subscription price; and that Congress should not be called upon to pay more than the regular price for such copies as were furnished to members. This would not amount to one-tenth the sum appropriated. The whole subject should be re-examined. He knew that a proposition had been made at the com-mencement of this Congress to do that, but it had got the go by. The Globe had been the fugientum metallum of legislation for a number of years, and it was time the matter number of years, and it was time the matter should be overhauled.

Mr. Stevens explained at some length, how the publishing of congressional debates in the Globe had grown up.

Mr. Laftin concurred, to some extent, with the remarks of Mr. Maynard, but remarked that there was a contract, written or implied, with the publishers of the Globe.

Mr. Maynard asked what evidence was there of any such contract. He had heard a good deal of it; but had never seen it. and good deal ofit; but had never seen it, and

Mr. Washburne (Ill.) suggested that the contract, if there was one, should be pro-

Mr. Laffin stated that the Joint Committee on Printing had had a meeting this morning, when it became necessary to look up and examine this contract. Proper meaup and examine in scontract. Proper measures had always been taken to unearth it fany such existed. He was very much disposed to agree with Mr. Maynard, that no such written contract did exist. Without attempting to prejudice the interests of the publishers of the Globe, it was the interest of the Committee on Printing to property of the Committee of tention of the Committee on Printing to examine thoroughly into this matter, and if

The amendment was rejected. Mr. Farnsworth (Iil.) moved to add the ollowing proviso to an item appropriating $9,375 for a complete set of the Congressional Globe for Senators of the Fortieth Congress who were not Senators of the Thirty-ninth Congress, provided that no further appro-priation shall be made supplying complete sets of the Congressional Globe to members of any succeeding Congress. He showed how this thing was increasing year after year, and said that unless it was checked it supply Congress with back sets of the Globe. Mr. Spalding (Ohio), and Mr. Maynard (Tenn.), spoke in favor of the amendment, and Mr. Hall against it.

Finally the proviso was adopted by a vote of 53 yeas to 45 nays.

When the corresponding item for the House was read, Mr. Cook offered the following amendment as a provise: Provided, That notice is hereby given that at the close of the Fortieth Congress the United States will terminate the purchase of one complete set of the Congressional Globe and Appendix for each Senator, Representative and Delegate, provided for by the act approved July 4th, 1866.
After further discussion the amendment was agreed to—yeas 52, nays 46. Mr. Harding (Ill.) moved to strike out the items giving twenty per cent. additional compensation to employes of the House. Negatived.

Mr. Washburne (Ill.) moved a proviso to the appropriation for the Court of Claims that nothing should be paid under its decisions till such decisions were approved by Congress. Rejected. Yeas 13, nays 82.

Without disposing of the bill, the committee at 3 30 years mittee at 3,30 rose.

On motion of Mr. Deming (Conn.), the Committee on Commerce was instructed to inquire into the expediency of making au appropriation for the improvement of the navigation of the Connecticut river. Mr. Dennison (Pa.) was excused on account of illness from service on the Com-mittee on the New Orleans Riot, and Mr. Boyer (Pa.) was appointed in his stead. On motion of Mr. Julian (Ind.), the Committee of Ways and Means was instructed to inquire into the propriety of reporting a measure for the employment of female clerks in the several departments of the government, with definite instructions as to the number and qualifications, and giving pre-cedence to the widows, daughters, mothers and sisters of soldiers who fought for the United States during the late rebellion.

A message from the Senate, announcing the proceedings of that body in connection with the death of Senator Wright (N. J.), was laid before the House. Appropriate remarks were made by Messra. Newell and Sitgreaves. Resolutions of condolence were adopted; and the House at 9.45 ad journed.
