OITY BULLETIN.

FIRE IN THE NINTH WARD,-This morning, about half-past ten o'clock, a fire broke out in a three-storied brick building, located at the northwest corner of Twelfth and Market streets. The flames originated in the second story, occupied by J. R. Laughlin, photographer. Owing to the combustible material in the place, and the fact that many fire plugs in the vicinity were frozen, the flames gained considerable headway before the firemen could get into service. The upper part of the structure and roof were destroyed. Every-thing in Mr. Laughlin's establishment was burned.

The first floor was occupied by Robt, Lig. get & Co., dealers in steel and iron. The fire did not reach this apartment, but the stock was damaged by water.
The third story was occupied as a job printing ofice.
The building belonged to Robert Liggett, and is insured. WHITMAN'S (MR. STEPHEN WHITMAN'S) great confectionery establishment, No. 1210 Market street, never was so well-stocked, and never looked so brilliant as it does now, and never looked so brilliant as it does now, and the throngs of purchasers of holiday articles add to its gay appearance. There is an infinite variety of good and tempting things, and a wonderful assortment of fancy things, and a wonderful assortment of fancy boxes for bon-bons; some of them are really artistic, and after their contents are gone, they will be preserved for their beauty and utility by those who may be fortunate enough to receive them. He has added to his establishment an extended factory for fine and table chocolates, which will supersede the necessity of our depending on the Eastern market for our supplies.

SKATING—The lovers of this oxidirection.

SKATING.—The lovers of this exhilarating sport now have another chance. The cold weather of last night has caused all the ponds and small streams in the vicinity of the city to be frozen, and the skating parks are all in good condition. At the Arctic Park, Eighth and Columbia avenue, there was a good attendance of skaters this morning. Mr. E. H. Hayhurst, the Superintendent, has made every arrangement for the comfort and convenience of his visitors.

Another Cold Snap.—During yesterday a strong northwest breeze sprang up and the mercury commenced to sink. Last night the weather was very cold, the ther-mometer in some exposed points about the mometer in some exposed points about the city having got as low as zero. About daylight this morning the thermometer at Germantown, stood at one degree above zero. At noon to-day, on Chestnut street, the mercury denoted 15 degrees.

PERSONAL.-Miss Anna E. Dickinson is expected to reach her home in this city this afternoon. She was taken ill in Illinois with typhoid pneumonia, and at one time her life was despaired of. O'Donald had formerly been employed in the coal yard of Mr. Tyson, and was discharged. When the fire was discovered, the work. men went to the place where the key of the stable was generally kept, and which was known only to those who worked in the yard, but the key was not there. It was afterwards found in the stable door. The sup-osition is that O'Donald took it for the purpose of firing the stable. He was taken be-fore Ald. Good, and was held in $1,000 bail for trial.

MAN STABBED.—This mornin gabout half past three o'clock, Patrick Curtin, aged 25 years, residing on Carlton street, west of Seventeenth, was stabled by John, alias Trotter Boyle. The two men were personal friends and had been together at a dance at Seventeenth and Callowhill streets. Both inbibed pretty freely. On the way home, and when nearly in front of the house of Curtin, they quarreled, and Boyle, it is alleged, plunged a knife into the abdomen of Curtin, causing a serious wound. The assailant was not arrested, and the wounded man expressed a desire not to have him

Interesting Experiments with Pitts-burgh Guns.

A Fortress Monroe correspondent writes as follows: The experiments under the di-rection of Col. T. G. Baylor, commanding Fort Monroe Arsenal, to test the endurance of eight and twolve inch side Research of eight and twelve-inch rifled Rodman guns, pursuant to the recent recommendations of Secretary Stanton, have been com-menced there with determined energy to apply the proposed tests most thoroughly and to accomplish decisive results for the future guidance of the government in the use of heavy ordnance. Thus far the firing has been with the twelve-inch rifle gun, originally known as the Floyd can offer. originally known as the Floyd gun, after that called the Lincoln gun, and afterwards the Union gun which name it goes by at present. This gun was east in Pittsburgh, Pa., and is well known by the thousands who have seen it; it is a more to the same of the sa Pa., and is well known by the thousands who have seen it; it is a monster in size, weighing over twenty-six tons. The charges weigh fifty-five pounds each, and the projectiles used, known as the tiger projectile, weigh about six hundred pounds each. Up to the present time this gun has been fired about four hundred times, and it appears as strong as ever. It is proposed to continue the firing to a thousand times, unless it should explode, or become unserviceable before this number of come unserviceable before this number of shots have been fired. In the eight-inch gun the charge weighs fifteen pounds, and the projectile about one hundred and fifty pounds. The gun of this calibre to be tested has been here several months, and has already been fired some three hundred and fifty times. It is proposed also to fire this a thousand times, if the gun proves equal to the test. The experiments will last several weeks. These proposed tests are connected with the late iron-olad target practice, and comprise part of a series of most interesting.

experiments which the government has wisely inaugurated on the very judiciously defensive maxim, "in time of peace prepare ior war."

More Indian Depredations The following letter from W. J. Hill, ferryman at Owyhee, Oregon, to the Owyhee Avalanche, and published in that paper of the 17th ult., gives an interesting account of a fight between a party of Indians, and an overland store growth which feels also fought the red devils, and keeping them at hav for a distance of two at bay for a distance of two miles, until one of the wheel horses was shot dead and two others badly wounded. This, of course, stepped the stege. When the first volley was fired, Wilcox, who was sitting on the front seat irside the coach, received his death wound by a bullet, which entered his breast near the right ripple and presidents. by a bullet, which entered the breast house the right nipple and passing out at his back, also striking Wash in the side, inflicting a slight though rather painful wound. Will also striking Wash in the side, inflicting a slight though rather painful wound. Wilcox exclaimed, "Oh, my God, I'm killed," and his head sank over and rested on Harrington's knee, where he breathed his last. Harrington wasshot in the left hip, the bullet ranging up and passing out at his side going through some six inches of muscle, producing a bad flesh wound, but it is not considered dangerous, When the horse fell dead the boys unhitched the other three one of them getting away from them. They of them getting away from them. They then started for the ferry, about two miles distant, leaving Wilcox dead in the stage, together with the mail, baggage, etc. The Indians seemed determined to prevent their escape, and continued shooting at them; but Harrington, with great difficulty, hobbled along, and they reached the ferry about 12 o'clock, completely tired out. Four of us from the station, with Sergeant Brown and eleven men, who are stationed here, immediately hastened to the scene of action, but the red devils had already completed their work and escaped. They dragged Wilcox from the stage, stripped, scalped him and out his heart out; also taking with them the blankets, etc., belonging to the passengers, and cutting the mail sack and scattering the letters, etc., among the sage brush. We took the body of Wilcox down to the ferry where it was decently interred by the river side. Harrington is bessend his all the party were, in all probability, saved, all the party were, in all probability, saved. The stage is running all night, and the indefatigable Charley Barnes, Beecher's division agent, is here to-night with a new lot as at any time during the season. CHARLES HAMILTON, Eugene Hamilton alias Professor Lewis, DrLivingston and the DeForrest brothers, were arrested on the 26th uit., at El Paso, by detectives, on a charge of robbing the bank of Rockwell & Co., of Eikhorn, Wiscnosin, $180,000 a year ago.

On the 8th inst., about 10 o'clock A. M., the Humboldt stage, on its way to Virginia, when within four miles of the Owyhee Ferry, was attacked by Indians. There were six persons on board—Wash Waltermire, driver; James McRae, guard, and four passengers, named J. Holland, P. Casey, D. Harrington and W. Wilcox. They did not suspect danger near, when they were fired into by a party of Indians, who lay concealed among the rocks and behind a fortification which they had erected so as to completely screen themselves from the sight of pletely screen themselves from the sight of those in the stage. Wash put his favorite mustangs down to their greatest speed, and would have succeeded in reaching the Ferry without more injury than what was caused by the first volter but there was supther by the first volley, but there was another party of Indians on horseback, further along, who kept shooting at them and striving to head them off and surround them, while the party that first fired at them were coming up behind. At the NEW ENGLAND and VERMONT STATE FAIR, held at Brattleboro, Vt., Sept., 1868, the Committee on Sewing Machines submitted the following report: THE FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE "We consider the perfect finish and successful worke ing of the Florence Sewing Machine deserves morthan a passing notice. This machine combines all the ercellengies, but none of the defects of other Sewing Machines with which we are acquainted. The great warlety of work that can be accomplished by its four different stitches, the reversible feed motion, the self-sejuncting tension, the rapidity and quality of the work done by it, clearly demands of us the award of the Society's highest premium—its silver medal,"

At the NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE FAIR, held at Nashua, Sept. 1886, the "FLURENOR" was awarded the highest premium given to Sewing Machines.

At the MRCHANICS' ASSOCIATION FAIR, held in Boston, September, 1885, the "Florence" received a Silver Medal and Diploma together with all other bewing Machines on exhibition.

At the late STATE FAIRS of Pennsylvania, Onic and California the Florence was awarded the highest premium over all competitors. The verdict of the people is unanimously in favor of the Florence on account of its many advantages over all others. Must be seen to be appreciated. Cadi at the office,
