ST. GZORGE AND THE DBAGON.

AN ANCIENT MYTH MODERNIZED.

What, weeping, weeping, my little son, Angry tears, like that great commander, Alexander—

Because of dragons is left not one To be a new Cappadocia's scourge For your bold slaying, Without delaying-

On Shetland pony So bright and bonny A knight all mounted-a young St. George?

Come, sit at my feet, my little son, Sit at my feet, and mend your wagon! Full many a dragon You'll have to fight with, ere life be done, Stay—and I'll tell you of three or four (Villanous cattle) You'll have to battle. When mother's sleeping Where all your weeping

Will not awaken her any more. First comes a creature whose name is Sloth,

Looks like a lizard, creeping on sleekly, Simple and weakly, Who couldn't harm you, however wroth, But slay him, my lad, or he'll slay you; Crawling and winding, Twisting and binding, Break from him, tramp on him, And as you stamp on him,

You'll be St. George and the Dragon anew.

Then there's a monster, most fair at first, Called Ease, or Comfort, or harmless Pieasure; Born of Smooth Leisure.

On scented cushions luxurious nursed, Who'll buy your soul, if you'll sell it, just To catch one minute With joyance in it, Or ward off sorrow Until to morrow.

Trample him-trample him into dust!

And one, a replile, yclept false Shame, Who silently drags its fettered length on, And tries its strength on

Many a spirit else pure from blame, But up and at it your courser urge ! Smite, smite, I trow, hard, The moral coward,

By throne or altar, And never falter,

And be my own son-my brave St. George ! St. George and the Dragon ! ah, my boy,

There are many old dragons left—world And few St. Georges! There's mickle labor, and little joy! But on with you—on to the endless fight! Your sword tight buckling, To no man truckling, Beer your bricht flag on.

Bear your bright flag on, And slay your dragon. St. George forever! God shield the right! Author of "John Hallfax, Gentleman,"

EXPLOSION AT THE ASTOBIA GAS WOBKS.

The Buildings Completely Destroyed-No Lives Lost.

At 11 o'clock on Friday morning the vill-age of Astoria was startled from its usual quiet by a sudden explosion which shook Quiet by a sudden explosion which shook every building in the town, and for a short time created no small alarm among the res-idents. The sound was not unlike that oc-casioned by the discharge of a heavy colum-blad, and gave rise to a variety of rumors as to its cause. It was heard with great dis-tinctness on the New York side of the river by residents in the vicinity of Ninety-second street, and was by them supposed to prostreet, and was by them supposed to pro-ceed from the large kerosene oil works located immediately opposite that section of the city. Great consternation was created in the public school in Astoria, the scholars and leachers all leaving the school building in consequence of the severe shock which it sustained. The school-house is situated not very far from the scene of the explosion. Instead of the kerosene oil works, however, it was soon ascertained that the explosion came from the gas house of the town, which is situated at the foot of Franklin street, and distant from the Ninety second street ferry about four hun-dred yards. The cause of it was the igdred yards. The cause of it was the ig-nition of gas, which had by some means escaped from the "purifier," and com-pletely surcharged the purifying room; but how this escaped gas became ignited is a mystery. The purifying room was looated in the rear end of the building, furthest from Franklin street, and the rear wall was forced completely outward. and fell to the ground a heap of crumbled bricks and mortar. The explosion seems to have also expended a good part of its force on the side walks and on the roof. Of the former but little is left standing, while the former but little is left standing, while the latter was completely carried away. Bricks and broken timber were thrown into the air to a considerable height, and came down to the ground in a perfect shower, the debris being scattered around in all directions. being scattered around in all directions. Fortunately no person was injured by this accident. There was no one in or very near the building at the time of the explosice, as, the works be-ing small, but few persons are employed in them, and during the morning no necessity exists for their being at work. The machinery of the works, except the purifier which exploded, is but slightly damaged, and, were it not for the intense frigidity of the weather, gas manufacture could be immediately resumed. The build-ing, however, is a complete wreck, and will have to be erected anew, as the portions of have to be erected anew, as the portions of the front and side walls left standing have been too severely shaken to admit of being further built upon. The purifying room was 40 by 20 feet in size and the entire struc-ture was about 70 feet long by 35 feet wide, It was as are all buildings used in the manufacture of gas—only one story in manufacture of gas—only one story in height. The damage done by the explosion is estimated at about $2,000. There was no insurance on the property. The works were owned by Stephen A. Halsey & Son, of Astoria. Temporary buildings will be at once erected, and it is contemplated to re-sume the work within a week at farthest. sume the work within a week at larthest. The town of Astoria has enjoyed the conve-nience of gas light for about thirteen years, the building destroyed yesterday having been erected about that time. The works came into the possession of the present owners about six years since, they having purchased them from the corporation which originally erected them. Notwithstanding the explosion there was fortunately gas suffi-cient in the reservoir, or "holder," as it is technically called, to supply the consumers until about half-past nine o'clock last evening, after which time they necessarily had to resort to the more primitive mode of lamps and candles, in order to dissipate the semi-darkness, the moonlight preventing total gloom. Mr. John Clarke, superinnt of the works, had a narrow escape from injury when the explosion occurred. He was at that time on his way to the building, and had arrived within thirty yards of the main entrance when he heard the report and noticed the wall bulging outward. He immediately retraced his steps and escaped without being hurt by any of the falling debris.

CASTOR WHEELS.

FOR HEALTH AND STRENGTH USE CAPE WELL & CO.'S PATENT GLASS CASTOF WHEELS.

DOB HEALTH AND STRENGTH USE CAPE WHELL & CO.'S PATENT GLASS CASTOR. These wheels are designed for Pianos, Bedsteads, &: We claim that they give to Pianos a greatly increase force of sound, without detracting from the harmony and melody of the instrument, rendering every note more disliked to the esr. This is so apparent that they are now being applied by many to these valuable mu-sical instruments. Dr. Valentine Mott, previous to hi death, pronounced the Glass Castor Wheels and in valuable invention for bedfast invalids, who are guarded against the damp foors after undergoing the process of cleaning, or where dampness is produced from any other cause. Aside from this. Housekeeper are, relieved from the dread of having their carpeta en or torn, as frequently happens from these now in use often caused by a rust, which adheres with glue-like tenacity. No such annoyance can possibly proceed from the Glass Castor Wheels, as we all know that is non-corroive. There are no rough or unfin-ished edges to the Glass Wheels, such as we often find in those of from, and the latt-r, though amoothing fin inshed edges to the Glass wheels you retain all the flass phere, if nothing else, producing rough armothy fin ished, will soon rust, from the dampness of the atmos where, if nothing elses, producing roughness on thesur-hee morthus gelas, just as they are finished. By elseping upon glass, wheels you retain all the else producting source the dampness of the atmos as young maa. Glass being a fresh and active sa s young maa. Glass being a fresh and active sa s young maa. Glass being a non-conductor, the else tricity gained while in ed cannot puss off. Ask your doctor what he thinks of the Glass Castor Wheels as the in fail disestes, with the atmost of the atmost proved past curing with the infiammatory frien-matism. The wheels cure chim in fees than four weeks. He is to day a stout healthy man. These are facts which can be groven on application at our files.
