THE SECOND WARD HOMICIDE-CORO-MER'S INQUEST.—Coroner Daniels yesterday held an inquest on the body of Charles Serad, who was shot and killed on Third street, below Wharton, on Christmas morning. The following evidence was elicited: Joseph P. Thackars, sworn—Live at No. 511 Christian street; was going down Second street with Charles Serad, about a quarter mast seven o'clock yesterday morning, when we came up with a number of young men dressed in fantastical attire, among whom we recognized Henry. Ellinger, the accused; we soon got shead of the party of men, and in passing them Ellinger asked what we were going to do; witness turned round, and found that Serad had had his horn taken from him, and that it was in the hand of Ellinger; a dispute arose, during which Ellinger kicked at deceased; after doing so he pulled out a pistol and fired two loads in succession at him; he then fired at him (the witness), the ball grazing his shoulder; the prisoner soon after fired again, and then ran round the corner into a shop in Marion street, after which he passed out of the side door of the house; witness pursued him; he did not know at the time that Serad had been hurt; he did not see him fall; when the ball was fired he was near the prisoner; this was the third shot fired by him.

E. B. Wotson, sworn—Between seven and passing down the atreet, in company with the deceased and, soon after passing Ellip-ger, he saw him with the horn of deceased in his hand; he then threw it at Serad; he then stepped into the street and fired two shots at Serad: the second shot caused him to stagger; the aim was taken directly at Serad or another gentleman just behind him; there were four loads discharged, after which the prisoner ran into a baker shop in Marion street; at the time of the shooting there was no disturbance on the street: he led Serad into a neighboring house, where he died in a few minutes.

William D. Wilson, sworn—Live at No 1224 South Fifth street; the first he saw of the accused was when he had the horn, and just as he was about throwing it at Serad; witness then started after him, when the accused ran into a shop, and through the shop out of a back door; witness saw the prisoner take deliberate aim at the deceased; was sure the prisoner was the man who fired the shots at Serad; at the time the shots were fired Serad was about a yard and a half from the accused.

Christian A. Moseder, sworn—Live at No. 1223 South Second street; keep a bake house at this place; saw a man come into the house; it was the prisoner; he walked fast, but thought he wanted to get his coat, which was up stairs; he thought there was a fire was up stairs; he thought there was a fire at the time; the prisoner lives in the house. William Serad, brother of the deceased, sworn—Live at No. 1207 South Second street; deceased and myself started together down Second street; and just as we got on Peter Kern's pavement the accused turned round and said: What do you mean? the question was prompted by an effort of his brother to pass the young men who were on the side-walk with Ellinger; saw defendant take deliberate aim at deceased; when the second shot was fired ceased; when the second shot was fired Serad staggered and fell; witness was so much excited at the time he did not notice where his brother went after he was shot; he could not tell how soon he died after the firing took place; was settified that the firing took place; was satisfied that the prisoner was the man who did the shooting.

John C. Cowell, sworn—Saw the prisoner fire at the deceased; he also fired at Mr.

Thackara; the prisoner then ran into a store in Marion street.

Mary Jane Griffith, a little girl, was then sworn—Live at No. 1,232 S. Second street; the man who is dead was standing blown when the man (nointing to the his horn, when that man, (pointing to the prisoner) came up and took the horn from him, and fired it at him; he then fired his pistol at him; there was no fighting at the time; saw the man shoot at Serad; am sure that the prisoner is the man who did it.

A.Mr. Field, on being called on by the Coroner, stated that he knew but little shout the matter, as he was drunk at the

Dr. Shapleigh was then sworn-There were abrasions on the bridge of the nose and on both hands; a gunshot wound under the left armpit; the ball passed through the right rib and through the left lung and then lodged in the eighth rib, near the head of the rib; the left pleural cavity was filled with blood; deceased came to his death from hemorrhage, caused by the wound inflicted.

The jury then rendered the following verdict—That the said Charles Serad came to his death from gun-shot wounds, at the hand of Henry K. Ellenger, on the morning of December 25, 1866, on Second street, below

CONSPIRACY CASE.—Lemuel Braddock had a hearing before Alderman Massey, yes. terday afternoon, upon an alleged charge of defrauding Mr. Benjamin J. Johnson out defrauding Mr. Benjamin J. Johnson out of $2,000. It was testified to that the defendant had said he paid $10,000 to one Mr. Lassell for a right to manufacture and sell a patent lubricating oil. The prosecution alleges that no such money was paid, and that a receipt of $10,000 was given to Braddock for a small sum of money by the party who was in the conspiracy. It was also testified to that the lubricating oil consisted of sperm oil and water. The defendant was held in $1,500 bail to answer the charge.

MAN STABBED.—James Wilson, aged 21 years, residing on Barciay street, between Sixth and Seventh streets, was stabled on Tuesday night, in the side, in a fight which occurred in the cellar of Mr. Cornelius, on Lombard street, between Seventh and Eighth streets. His severest wounds are from kicks about the head. The stab is only a flesh wound.

From Missouri. St. Louis, Dec. 28th.—The Conservatives report that President Johnson declines to interfere in Missouri affairs, on the ground that each State should be left free to preserve peace, and that no interference should be tolerated unless the United States laws are violated, or the State calls for help. This is the supposed ground for General Grant's order withdrawing the troops from Lexington.

THE SUPREME COURT, In a case from Mississippi, decided yesterday morning, the United States Supreme Court held that where a judgment is concluded by a Court in one State, it is equally concluded as to every other State, and so remains until set aside by a superior Court or by a Court of Chancery, on basis of section first, article fourth, of the Constitution of the United States, that full faith and credit shall be given in each State to the public acts, records and judicial proceedings of every

The Supreme Court overruled the judgments of the Supreme Court of Arkansas, and decided that the taxing of swamp and overflowed lands within the period of ten years was a violation of contract between the United States and the State of Arkansas, Congress beging a variety the forther than the state of Arkansas. Congress having exempted them from taxa-cion, for that length of time, with a view to encourage the reclamation of those lands. This decision is applicable to other similar cases pending before the Supreme Court. It was announced that the Court would adjourn on Friday over till January 3d.

THE ALLEGED LOWENTHAL FORGERIES. —A long report on the case of the late Jacob Lowenthal, and his alleged forgeries of bounty claims and final discharge papers of colored soldiers, has appeared in the public press, together with, an assertion that the pay department declined to investigate the charge preferred by the person who caused the arrest of Lowenthal, and that the accused had confederates among the paymasters here in Washington. The Paymaster Gen-eral authorizes the statement that a thorough investigation was made by his order at the time the charge was preferred. The result of the investigation was that no forgeries were proven. Payment had been made on the genuine discharge papers of claimants. Checks, were issued payable to order of the claimant on the Assistant Treasurer at New York. If any fraud has been perpetrated, it must therefore have been in the indorse-ment of the checks, for which the forger is alone responsible. The United States are alone responsible. The United States can-not in any event lose a dollar.

VIRGINIA AND THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.—Letters have been received in Washington from Richmond, Va., taking issue with Colonel Segars' recently published declaration that the Legislature of Virginia is ready at once to adopt the Constitutional Amendment provided the constitutional Amendment provided the constitutional Amendment provided the constitutional Amendment provided the constitutional Amendment and constitut stitutional Amendment, provided they can have the assurance from Congress that this shall be the ultimatum, and that the loyal Senators and Representatives from that State shall be admitted without delay. One of the writers says the Legislature are pearly, if not quite unanimous on the subject in the negative, and the feeling is equally decided among the people. Under no circumstances are the people or the General Assembly ready to ratify the amend-

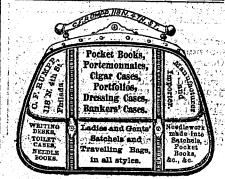

THE CORPOREAL PUNISHMENT QUESTION.—The President, on the 19th inst., through the War Repartment, directed Gen. Sickles to issue an 'order, suspending in his Department until further instructions articles five and six of his General Order declaring that corporeal punishment should not be inflicted upon any person other than a miner, and also interfering with the State law on the subject of vagrancy. In compliance with the request made in the same letter, a copy of the order directed to be issued ter, a copy of the order directed to be issued was yesterday received from Gen. Sickles'
